SPIEGELKING - SPIEGELRISS/ MIRROR CHILD

Alina Bronsky

Publication : January 2013

Young Adult, Romantasy

Juli comes home from school to find her mother gone. When no one else is willing to help, Juli sets out to look for her. The order of Juli's world, populated by 'normal' people and the 'freaks' who are kept safely at bay, is shattered when she discovers a despised third caste to which her mother belongs, the 'phairies' who have magical powers. With the help of a strange new girl, Juli also finds out that her mother is an artist. Her pictures are said to act as mirrors, revered by 'freaks' and feared by the 'normal', and they prove to be doors into a parallel world.

DAS LABYRINTH ERWACHT / THE MAZE AWAKENS

Rainer Wekwerth

Publication : January 2013

Young Adult, Thriller

THE MAZE AWAKENS is an entertaining mystery thriller opener about 7 teenagers trapped in a strange world. The second volume of the trilogy will be published in autumn 2013. You have never read Rainer Wekwerth like this! The author of successful fantasy novels has written an extra classy mystery thriller: multi-dimensional characters, unique locations and a deep emotional entanglement in the plot are guaranteed. No one has ever studied and mixed the trendy topics and genres, such as dystopia, romantasy and mystery, as well and intelligently as Rainer Wekwerth does in this novel. There are 7 youngsters but only 6 gates lead to freedom. And the maze they are caught in is intelligent. It is evil. They do not know who they used to be. But the maze knows them. It hunts them down. There is only one message: They have seventy-two hours to reach the next gate – or they will die. A deadly fight over the gates ensues – but they are not alone there.

Ruben's executor is found dead and Ilka finds herself at the centre of an incredible media circus. Jette and Merle start investigating, but it is a race against time, for the murderer has cast an eye on Ilka herself...

Eagerly awaited : the 6th volume of Monika Feth's "Strawberry Picker" thrillers.

TIAMAT – LOVE BETWEEN THE WORLDS

Tanja Heitmann

Publication : April 2013

Young Adult, Romantasy

16-year-old Anouk Parson lives in the old manor house of "Sky High", in the vaulted cellar of which there is a fearsome maelstrom going round and round in circles. Both her father and the self-willed Sander belong to the guardian circle protecting the world from an eruption of the mass of water. Anouk doesn't realise that Sander – who she has been telling everyone is her brother – is hiding a far greater secret that has something to do with her mother's disappearance. When Sander kisses her one day, Anouk not only discovers his secret love for her but also finds out about the dangerously beautiful world lying behind the maelstrom. But it looks as if the guardian circle will fail in its efforts, and if Sander and Anouk don't immediately split up the maelstrom will swallow everything...

DER ATEM DER ANGST / THE BREATH OF FEAR

Alexa Hennig von Lange

Publication : Mars 2013

Young Adult, Thriller

Seven years of fear are now lying behind the sleepy little town of St. Golden. It was seven years ago that Louis's little sister went missing, and when she was found she was dead. The murderer was never caught. And now he seems to be back again, for the little sister of Louis's girlfriend Michelle disappears without trace. Shortly afterwards, Michelle also goes missing. While the police are looking for the girls, Louis sets out on his own desperate search. In the vast woods, he meets Maya, a strangely wild girl who seems to know more about the criminal. Louis and Maya decide that they have been in hiding long enough and in this game are no longer prepared to be hunted.

GEIST WANDLER / CREATURES OF THE NIGHT – Spirit Shifters Vol 1

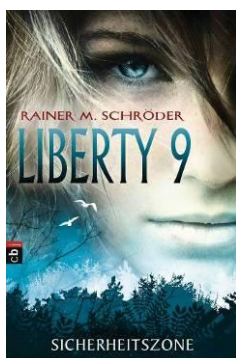

Brigitte Melzer

Publication : March 2013

Young Adult, Fantasy

While on her way home one day, 16-year-old Serena is assaulted by a young man and dragged into a car. She can save herself in the nick of time. Shortly afterwards, she can hear a voice in her head – a familiar voice, one she had for a long time successfully ignored. She gradually begins to understand: Cale, the supposedly "invisible friend" from her childhood, is in reality a very attractive being from another world. He is in danger and she alone can help him. She sets out on the spur of the moment to rescue him, without realising what a dangerous game she is getting involved in.

To begin with, Amber finds the magnificent city only bleak and dismal. Everything is strange for her, she feels alone and abandoned. One evening she gets lost, ends up in a dangerous part of town and is attacked by a gang. She manages to escape and finds refuge in an empty old building. Here she meets a good - looking and oddly dressed boy called Nathaniel. He comes from the past and is long since dead. Amber can see him, but when she tries to touch him all she can feel is a cool breath of air. So the two of them pin all their hopes on Halloween – the night when the borders between life and death become blurred...

LAURA DAIL AGENCY

DELIA'S SHADOW

Jaime Lee Moyer

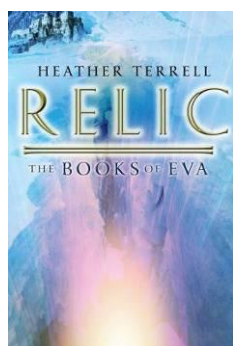

Publication : September 2013 - Tor/Macmillan

Young Adult, Historical Fantasy

Sequels in 2014 and 2015.

It is the dawn of a new century in San Francisco and Delia Martin is a wealthy young woman whose life appears ideal. But a dark secret colors her life, for Delia's most loyal companions are ghosts, as she has been gifted (or cursed) with an ability to peer across to the other side. Since the great quake rocked her city in 1906, Delia has been haunted by ghosts clamoring for her help. Delia flees to the other side of the continent, hoping to gain some peace.

After several years in New York, Delia believes she is free until one determined specter appears and she realizes that she must return home in order to put this tortured soul to rest. It will not be easy, as the ghost is only one of the many victims of a serial killer who was never caught. A killer who is active again, thirty years later. As Delia and the police lieutenant assigned to the case, Gabe Ryan, try to unravel the mystery of who the ghost is and who the serial killer is, they become more than just partners. But the serial killer is determined to hurt Gabe in any way he can, and the ghost is growing more demanding and violent.

THE BOOKS OF EVA, RELIC

Heather Terrell

Publication : October 2013 - SoHo Teen

Young Adult, Dystopian series

In a futuristic society, where technology is outlawed and the whole of civilization is confined to a frozen medieval compound, Eva volunteers to compete in The Testing after her twin brother dies suddenly.

Eva is the first girl to compete in The Testing for as long as anyone can remember. Her competitors don't want her there--especially Jasper, the man her parents want her to marry. But she is determined to prove her worth, no matter the cost. Which, in the frozen wasteland that is the competition grounds, could be her life.

As the competition progresses, Eva learns more and more truths about her society--truths that no one is supposed to know. And at the end, she will have to decide her future: the Maiden she was raised to be or a leader; the husband chosen for her or the boy she loves.

DYSTEL & GODERICH LITERARY

THE VINCENT BOYS THE VINCENT BROTHERS

Abbi Glines

Publication : October 2011 - June 2012 – Simon Pulse

Young Adult, Contemporary Romance

In THE VINCENT BOYS, being the good girl isn't all it's cracked up to be. Ashton Gray has grown weary of playing the part to please her parents, and to be worthy of the town's prince charming, Sawyer Vincent. Maybe that's why she's found herself spending time with Sawyer's cousin, Beau, while he's away for the summer. Beau is nothing like her perfect boyfriend. He's the sexiest guy she's ever seen, dangerous in ways she's only day dreamed about. Beau never envied Sawyer his loving parents, his big nice home, or his position as quarterback. He loves him like a brother. Which is why he's tried everything in his power to keep his distance from Sawyer's girlfriend. But when Sawyer leaves for the summer, Ashton, the one girl Beau would move Heaven and Earth for, decides she wants to get into trouble. Is she worth losing his cousin over?...Hell Yeah.

THE VINCENT BROTHERS picks up where THE VINCENT BOYS left out: He may have given her up without a fight, but Sawyer Vincent is far from over losing the girl he's loved all of his life.

COLD SPELL

Jackson Pearce

Publication : November 2013 - Little, Brown Books

Young Adult, Paranormal Romance

Kai and Ginny grew up together--best friends since they could toddle around their building's rooftop rose garden. Now they're seventeen, and their relationship has developed into something sweeter, complete with stolen kisses and plans to someday run away together.

But one night, Kai disappears with a mysterious stranger named Mora - a beautiful girl with a dark past and a heart of ice. Refusing to be cast aside, Ginny goes after them and is thrust into a world she never imagined, one filled with monsters and thieves and the idea that love is not enough. If Ginny and Kai survive the journey, will she still be the girl he loved--and moreover, will she still be the girl who loved him?

RIVERMAN (3 titles)Aaron Starmer*Publication : book 1 Winter 2014; book 2 in 2015, book 3 in 2016 - Farrar, Strauss & Giroux*Children, Fantasy

Alistair is the kid you can trust--a kid who can keep secrets. Fiona is not the girl next door. With her crooked nose and voice that creaks, Alistair hardly knows she exists, until she shows up on his doorstep on his 13th birthday with a proposition: she wants him to write her autobiography. It all seems like a silly game, at first.

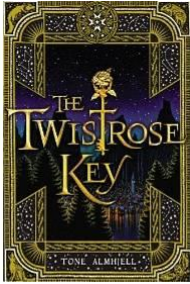

This odd vanity projects takes an unexpected turn and soon becomes a glimpse into the mind of a troubled girl. Fiona tells Alistair her secret, that in her basement is a gateway to the magical world of Aquavania, where children create worlds from their imagination. Even more troubling, Fiona says that a creature called the Riverman lives there, stealing the souls of children, and that she fears her soul is next.

Though Alistair is incredulous, he becomes enchanted with her as they spend more time together. Ultimately, he must choose whether to believe her tales of Aquavania and the Riverman, or to believe something more logical--but much more terrifying and real--is happening.

THE PROGRAMSuzanne Young*Publication : Spring 2013, Spring 2014 - Simon Pulse*Young Adult, Paranormal

In the near future, teen suicide has become an epidemic. No one is quite sure why—whether it's resistance built to anti-depressants, an environmental factor, or something yet undiscovered. But the cause is not as important as figuring out how to make it stop. To that end, the government has implemented The Program, a mental reconditioning for at-risk teens that removes parts of their memory that may provoke suicidal thoughts. Sloane is at risk—her brother killed himself the year before, her best friend Lexie just got out of The Program, and her boyfriend James is also under watch. But Sloane and James want to avoid The Program no matter what—losing their memories of each other and of Sloane's brother would be a price too high to pay just to stay alive.

Free in the jungle for the first time, Pia meets Eio, a boy from a nearby village. Together, they embark on a race against time to discover the truth about Pia's origin--a truth with deadly consequences that will change their lives forever.

NO SAFETY IN NUMBERS TRILOGY

#1 No Safety in Numbers

#2 No Easy Way Out

#3 Wasteland

Dayna Lorentz

Publication : May 2012 ; July 2013 ; Summer 2014

#1 Life As We Knew It meets Lord of the Flies in a mall that looks just like yours. A biological bomb has just been discovered in the air ducts of a busy suburban mall. At first nobody knows if it's even life threatening, but then the entire complex is quarantined, people start getting sick, supplies start running low, and there's no way out. Among the hundreds of trapped shoppers are four teens. These four different narrators, each with their own stories, must cope in unique, surprising manners, changing in ways they wouldn't have predicted, trying to find solace, safety, and escape at a time when the adults are behaving badly. This is a gripping look at people and how they can--and must--change under the most dire of circumstances. And not always for the better.

#2 It's Day 7 in the quarantined mall. The riot is over and the senator trapped inside is determined to end the chaos. Even with new rules, assigned jobs, and heightened security, she still needs to get the teen population under control. But someone is working against the new systems, targeting the teens, and putting the entire mall in even more danger. The virus was just the beginning.

#3 First, they were quarantined only to suffer and die from an incurable virus, then just as the body count was dropping, the virus mutated: And yet the inmates of the Shops at Stonecliff have yet to discover how bad things can get. The healthy adults and families are holed up in the HomeMart with a majority of the food and independent light sources. The mall belongs to roving gangs of teens. The adults, including security, soon retreat to defend their safe haven. Once the adults retreat to the HomeMart, ceding control of the majority of the mall to the teens, the teens are left to fight each other for what little resources remain in the mall...

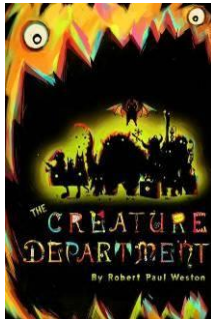

THE FANTASTIC FAMILY WHIPPLE

Matt Ward

Publication : September 2013 - Razorbill

Children, Fiction

The Whipple family is known far and wide for having Broken More World Records Than Any Family on Earth. The only blight on the family name? Eleven-year-old Arthur. Unlike his twelve brothers and sisters whose achievements range from “Most Accomplished Four-Year Old Painter” to “World’s Largest Button Collection” and “Most Crème Brulée Eaten in One Minute,” Arthur hasn’t won a single, solitary world record. But that’s not for lack of trying! Arthur desperately wants to see his name in the pages of Graelby’s Guide to World Records and Fantastic Feats [like the Guinness Book of World Records]; and he’s attempted such feats as “Longest Time Without Blinking” and “Longest Time Spent Hopping on one Foot.” But after years of trying his very hardest, Arthur still hasn’t done anything extraordinary. All of that changes when the Whipples suffer a series of catastrophes—and the toughest competition of their lives from the Goldwins, another world-record-breaking family. Suddenly, Arthur might be the only one who can save his family from defeat—or worse. Rumor has it that a mysterious family curse is to blame for the Whipple’s recent misfortunes, but Arthur suspects it has more to do with a pair of irregularly sized and unusually menacing clowns who always appear right before things go wrong. No one will listen to Arthur’s theories, other than Ruby Goldwin, the alarmingly friendly daughter of his father’s archrival. So with the help of his new partner, Arthur takes it upon himself to solve the mystery behind the catastrophes, save the Whipples from impending doom, and maybe, finally, prove that he too deserves the family name.

THE CREATURE DEPARTEMENT

Robert Paul Weston

Publication : November 2013 - Razorbill

Fiction, Children

There will be interior illustrations by Framestore who also provided the cover. FRAMESTORE: For this project, Razorbill is teaming up with the animation studio that made many beloved characters from recent films and commercials come alive. Framestore created Dobby in Harry Potter as well as the interactive bears from the Super Bowl CocaCola commercials. For The Creature Department, they are working closely with us to create dynamic visual assets including original animations and inventive creature imagery that we will be able to use across marketing, advertising and publicity channels.

No one in Bickleburgh really knows much about the Creature Department although there are rumors that it is hidden deep inside the impressive DENKI-3000 headquarters. But when Elliot and Leslie visit their Uncle Archie at the looming glass and steel compound, he finally agrees to give them a glimpse inside the Research and Development facility where the creatures work. And wow, are they in for a treat! The creatures are unlike anything they’ve ever seen before—from jutting jaws and upturned teeth to tangles of tentacles and comically tiny spectacles—everywhere Elliot looks there is something amazing to see. But not everything is stupendous as it seems. Uncle Archie suddenly takes off for an important meeting in the big city and mysteriously disappears. That same day, the menacing Chuck Quickweather arrives with orders to streamline the company and discover its secret. Elliot and Leslie team up with the ringleader of the creatures—a perceptive Parisian fairy-bat with sartorial flair named Jean-Remy—to create the ultimate invention that will save the creatures and the factory too. But can the creatures get their hilarious inventions right before it is too late?

THE GERNERT AGENCY

THE MEMORY KEY

Liana Liu

Under submission

Young Adult, Thriller

In the near future, a disease is wiping out people's memory. To counteract the epidemic, a corporation - Keep Corp - designs a memory key that is implanted in people's brains and enables them to retain memories, while also allowing other memories to fade. Our hero, Lora Mint, is a 17-year-old girl who has the key installed in her head. Lora's mother used to work for Keep Corp, but then she disappeared one night mysteriously when Lora was a child, and Keep Corp said that she had died in a car accident. Lora had never questioned her mom's death, but then she takes a bad tumble, and the key starts going haywire and she starts to remember everything. Perfectly. She is haunted by a specific memory of her mother the night before she disappeared, and when she attempts to find out what happened, discovers there are people who will do anything to make sure she does not uncover the truth.

TRUE TRILOGY

Kieran Scott

Simon & Schuster

Young Adult, Fiction

When Cupid is banished to Earth, falling in love will never be the same. As punishment for betraying her family by going out with the wrong guy, a female, teenaged Cupid is turned mortal and sent to Earth. Once there, she must successfully pair three high school couples without her powers in order to save the love of her life from the wrath of the Gods. But helping teens fall in deep, lasting love when they're used to break-up-by-text and prom dates found on Facebook is tougher than she could have imagined. Without the help of her trusted golden arrows, Cupid is forced to match-make the old-fashioned way: through scheming, mischief and general dumb luck. She takes on the first name "True" to remind herself of her mission—to save her one true love by helping others find their own.

THE FORBIDDEN LIBRARY

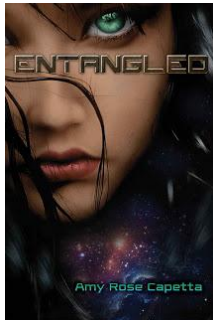

Django Wexler

Publication : January 2014 - Dial Books

Young Adult, Fantasy

Fourteen-year-old Alice Creighton used to think the world was normal and life followed a simple, if not particularly exciting, routine: do your studies, help around the house, and be in bed by 9 pm. But then strange and mysterious things begin happening. She hears her father having an argument late one night with a fairy (though not one of the beautiful kind of fairies; this one is bald, with warts and needle-like teeth). The creature is threatening her father, insisting he accept a mysterious offer or else. The next day, Alice's dad goes off on a business trip and his ship sinks off South America, leaving Alice all alone in the world. She is convinced that something is wrong about her father's disappearance though: if fairies exist, then maybe it's possible that her father did not die. Alice is sent, meanwhile, to live with Mr. Geryon, an eccentric old man who was an associate of her father and possibly a relative. She becomes convinced that to find her father, she'll need to find out who these creatures are and who gives them their orders...

ENTANGLED

Amy Rose Capetta

Publication : Fall 2013 - Houghton Mifflin

Young Adult, Fantasy

Cade is alone in the far reaches of space—. Her only contact with other humans comes when she plays her guitar in a seedy, alien-run bar. But when a man in a lab coat crashes one of her shows to inform her she's quantum entangled—one of two humans to be connected on the particle level—Cade's quiet life is over. She has to launch herself across space to save Xan, the boy she's entangled with. She agrees to help with their dangerous pro-human trade in return for passage to the black hole field where Xan is being held. By the time she faces his captors, Cade has discovered that her entanglement could change the fate of every human in space.

ALMOST SUPER

Marion Jensen

Publication : Spring 2014 - Harper Children's; Sequel planned for 2015

Middle Grade, Fiction

SAVVY meets THE INCREDIBLES, in this debut about two brothers in a family of superheroes who must team up with the girl they thought was their enemy to defeat the real super villains in town, despite having new powers that are total duds.

Born into a family of superheroes, thirteen-year-old Rafter Bailey dreams of being Super. But on the day he and his little brother Benny are supposed to receive their superpowers, something goes terribly wrong. Rafter and Benny receive worthless powers. Together they must return to school and face their own arch nemesis, Juanita Johnson, with nothing more than their wits and a couple of sack lunches. With the hope of being Super slipping away, a new villain emerges, and Rafter discovers that he and his brother might be the only ones who can save the day.

THE EIGHTH DAY TRILOGY

Dianne Salerni

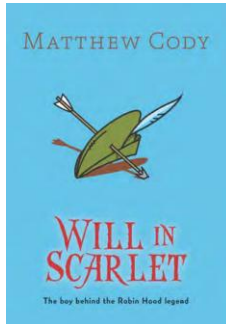

Publication : 2014 – HarperCollins

Young Adult, Fantasy

When Jax Aubrey wakes up the morning after his 14th birthday to a world empty of people, he does what anyone would do: assumes it's the apocalypse, ransacks the local Walmart, and fortifies his guardian's house against zombies. When he wakes up the next morning to a normal Thursday, Jax wonders if he's lost his mind. But his 18 year-old guardian, Riley Pendare, also experiences Grunsday, an extra day squeezed between Wednesday and Thursday. Jax learns that some people exist only on Grunsday, including the teenage girl who's been hiding in the house next door for the last 35 years -- her life skipping over seven days at a time like a stone skimming across a pond.

A beautiful, reclusive girl who knows nothing of the regular world? Jax can't think of a better way to spend his extra 24 hours than trying to befriend her. But Evangeline Emrys is the key to a 2000 year-old spell with its roots in Arthurian legend. Jax's guardian is her reluctant jailor, sworn to keep her out of the hands of those who would use her – and kill her if he can't. When Jax accidentally leads a pack of human bloodhounds to their door, it comes to a terrible choice: face a real apocalypse or sacrifice Evangeline.

WILL IN SCARLET

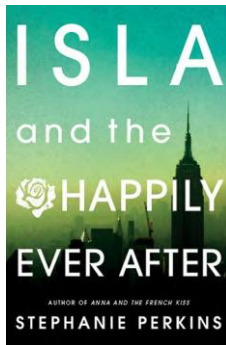

Matthew Cody

Publication : Fall 2013 – Knopf

Middle Grade, Historical Fiction

Will Scarlet is on the run. Once the sheltered son of nobility, Will has become an exile: while his father, Lord Shackley, has been on the Crusades with King Richard, a treacherous plot to unseat Richard has swept across England, and Shackley House has fallen. Will flees the only home he's ever known into the neighboring Sherwood Forest. A dark, cursed place, Sherwood is home to a notorious band of outlaws known as the Merry Men. Among them are Gilbert, their cruel leader; a giant named John Little; a drunkard named Rob; and Much, an orphan girl disguised as a bandit boy. When Will is captured by these brigands, Much takes a shine to him and convinces the troop to spare his life. Will hides his true identity and persuades them to storm Shackley Castle with the promise of treasure that they'll find there. But Will isn't out for treasure. He seeks revenge against those who wronged his family, whatever the consequences. But as he'll soon discover, revenge is never easy when loyalties are in flux and the enemy is not as certain as once believed.

MENDEL MEDIA

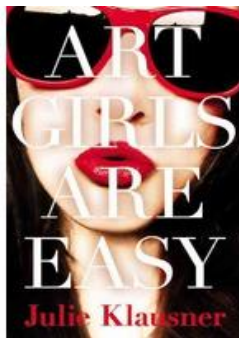

GREAT.

Sara Benincasa

Publication : 2013 - HarperCollins

Young Adult, Fiction

This young adult novel, the author's first, is inspired by F. Scott Fitzgerald's classic The Great Gatsby, a novel still read by just about every American student in middle school or high school. In this novel, there are parallel stories of deceit and tragedy—one between the narrator and her celebrity, nouveau riche mother; the other concerning one mysterious young woman's campaign to insinuate herself into the life of a beautiful ingénue. Set in the Hamptons over the course of one tragic summer, the novel's narrator witnesses and becomes fascinated by the efforts of the mysterious young woman, and becomes partly implicated in a tragedy that shakes the summer community and probably punctuates the end of her adolescence and the beginning of her adulthood.

ART GIRLS ARE EASY

Julie Klausner

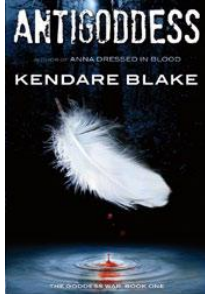

Publication : June 2013 - Poppy /Little, Brown

Young Adult, Fiction

Forget everything you think you know about summer camp, and step into the exclusive world of Silver Springs Fine & Performing Arts Camp for Girls. These young women have big aspirations: Broadway. SoHo Galleries. Julliard. They've got more to do with their precious time than worry about hanging your panties on the flagpole, and their idea of "roughing it" is setting the AC in their cabins to "low." Fifteen-year-old Indigo Hamlich is a teenage art prodigy looking forward to her last summer at Silver Springs. But her model/actress BFF, Lucy Serrano, is a CIT this year, and that means everything's different. Lucy can hang out with the counselors now-including Indigo's crush, paint-splattered art instructor Marc Estep. But it's not like anything is going to happen between them. Lucy would never do that to her best friend... right? Bright, bold, and seriously funny, Art Girls Are Easy is a scathing comedy of errors filtered through the eyes of Indigo: a girl who's been there, done that, and looking for a little inspiration.

FELLOWSHIP FOR ALIEN DETECTION

Kevin Emerson

Publication : January 2013 – HarperCollins

Middle Grade, Fiction

Haley and Dodger don't have much in common. Haley lives in Greenhaven, Connecticut; Dodger lives in Port Salmon, Washington. Haley has a family who loves and supports her; Dodger can't seem to ever get his dad's approval. Haley is well adjusted and passionate; Dodger hears strange voices in his head. But they both want something: a new map, a path away from home –or, perhaps, a path towards it. Of course this was all before they heard about the missing people, the untraceable radio signals, the unexplained phenomena. Before they both became the first recipients of a summer research grant from a certain mysterious foundation. Before they discovered that their fledging theories about extraterrestrial life were all too accurate. Now Haley and Dodger are the only ones who can figure out what is happening in towns across America, who can give voice to the people whispering "Alien Abduction."

FORGIVE ME, LEONARD PEACOCK

Matthew Quick

Publication : August 2013 - Little, Brown Books

Young Adult, Fiction

In addition to the P-38, there are four gifts, one for each of my friends. I want to say good-bye to them properly. I want to give them each something to remember me by. To let them know I really cared about them and I'm sorry I couldn't be more than I was--that I couldn't stick around--and that what's going to happen today isn't their fault. Today is Leonard Peacock's birthday. It is also the day he hides a gun in his backpack. Because today is the day he will kill his former best friend, and then himself, with his grandfather's P-38 pistol. But first he must say good-bye to the four people who matter most to him: his Humphrey Bogart--obsessed next-door neighbor, Walt; his classmate Baback, a violin virtuoso; Lauren, the Christian homeschooler he has a crush on; and Herr Silverman, who teaches the high school's class on the Holocaust. Speaking to each in turn, Leonard slowly reveals his secrets as the hours tick by and the moment of truth approaches. Also by Matthew Quick at Little, Brown : BOYS 21 (March 2012), SORTA LIKE A ROCK STAR (May 2010).

THE INCARNATIONS OF MIRANDA BLAKE (5 Books)

David Stahler Jr.

Under submission

Young Adult, Fiction

Miranda Blake wakes from a mysterious coma to confusion. First come the voices, mere whispers just days after returning to the world. Then the girls' faces—a mournful visage peering from a crowd, a lonely figure looking down at her from an upstairs window—each face different, each an expression of pain. Miranda Blake is being haunted, but not by strangers. She is being haunted by the spirits of her own past lives—five in all—forced from her by some mysterious trauma. Now they have scattered across the world, leaving her hollow. In each book, Miranda must track down one of her past lives and reclaim her; and together they must fight Nargul, their demonic nemesis.

WITHERWOOD: A TALE OF HOPE AND ABHORRENCE

Obert Skye

Publication : Spring 2014 - Henry Holt; Sequel planned for 2015

Middle Grade, Illustrated Fiction

A new series dark with humor and mystery. Tobias and Charlotte Eggers live with their distraught widowed father and their horrible nanny Martha. When the children play a prank on Martha their father has no choice but to take drastic measures. In an attempt to scare his children he drives them out to a remote foreboding school, Witherwood. His intention is to let them sweat it out a few minutes and then return but, as he drives off, his car flies from the road and he is left for dead. Forced into Witherwood, the Egger children try as hard as they can to break out while discovering that something sinister and unusual is happening behind the school walls. Witherwood has a secret that does not bode well for them ... or for children anywhere. Can they break free and put an end to Witherwood's sinister secrets before it's too late?

ZAC AND MIA

A.J. Betts

Publication : August 2013

Young Adult, Fiction

WINNER, TEXT PRIZE FOR YOUNG ADULT AND CHILDREN'S WRITING, 2012

Mia's not your typical patient—Zac can hear her fighting with her mum and the nurses through their shared wall and wishes she'd get over herself. Then she turns up the volume on her stereo. Lady Gaga on repeat. His knock on the wall to tell her to keep it down, prompts a tap back, which turns to mixed messages that evolve into a friendship neither sees coming. Apart from the obvious, they have little in common: she's a gorgeous Perth girl with an entourage of perfect friends; he's a footy-playing farm boy from down south. In the real world, these seventeen-year-olds would have little to say to each other, but in hospital, the usual rules no longer apply. Is it possible to fall in love with someone you've never actually seen? By the time Zac's discharged, Mia's gone too. He knows he's supposed to forget about hospital, but he can't forget her. Where is she? Is she okay? Is she better? He can't find out. She's gone from Facebook and won't answer his texts. Completely erased...until one night there's a tap at his window.

JULIUS AND THE WATCHMAKER

Tim Hehir

Publication : June 2013

Middle Grade, Historical Fantasy

Julius swayed, as if he was about to swoon. Springheel's fingers beat time like the ticking of a clock. Tick-tock, tick-tock, tick-tock. Julius wanted to run but his legs were rooted to the spot. Then, there was silence. All the clocks stopped. Before Julius Caesar Higgins meets the mysterious Mr Springheel, his life revolves around hiding from the school bullies and delivering books for his grandfather's secondhand bookstore. But once he meets the cane-wielding, clock collecting Springheel, nothing will ever be the same again. Julius is catapulted from the life of a nineteenth-century London schoolboy to that of a globetrotting time traveler in this rollicking tale of parallel universes, time machines, sharptoothed creatures called Grackacks, Tibetan monks, gyrofliers, carts of offal, potential and possible futures, and pushy little street urchins. In this world-, time- and mind-bending adventure, Julius just doesn't know who to trust—and neither will you.

THE BRIDGE

Jane Higgins

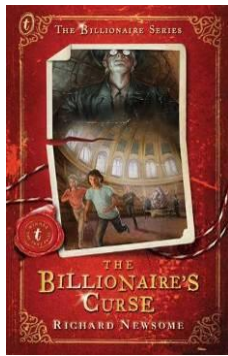

Publication : August 2011

Young adult, Dystopian fiction

WINNER, TEXT PRIZE FOR YOUNG ADULT AND CHILDREN'S WRITING, 2010

The city is divided. The bridges are gated. In Southside, the hostiles live in squalor and desperation, waiting for a chance to overrun the residents of Cityside. Nik is still in high school, but destined for a career with the Internal Security and Intelligence Services, the brains behind the war. But when ISIS comes recruiting, everyone is shocked when he isn't chosen.

There must be an explanation—but no one will talk about it. Then the school is bombed and the hostiles take the bridges. Buildings are burning, kids are dead, and the hostiles have kidnapped Sol. Now ISIS is hunting for Nik. But Nik is on the run, with Sol's sister Fyffe, and ISIS hot on their trail. They cross the bridge in search of Sol, and Nik finds answers to questions he'd never dared to ask. The Bridge is a dystopian adventure set in a future world where fear of outsiders pervades everything.

HAZE

Paula Weston

Publication : June 2013

Young adult, Paranormal fiction

"I almost wish I was still having the dreams. It's the quiet moments like this that get me; when it's impossible to pretend I've got a grip on everything that's happened in the past week. In the daylight, in this bungalow, I can fool myself into thinking I still have control over my life. But here in the dark I know that's a lie. And my life already has too many lies." Gaby Winters' nightmares have stopped. The suffocating blackness is gone. But she still can't remember her old life. Still can't quite believe she is one of the Rephaim—the wingless half-angels who can shift from place to place, country to country, in the blink of an eye. That Rafa is around, still driving her crazy. That demons exist. That she was once the Rephaim's best fighter. But most of all, she can't quite believe that her twin brother, Jude, might be alive. And Gaby can't explain the paralysis that overcomes her when she realises what looking for him might reveal. A hesitancy that sidetracks the search, infuriates Rafa, and sends them, again, into the darkest danger.

WRITERS HOUSE

ATLANTIS RISING

T.A. Barron

Publication : September 2013 - Penguin

Young Adult, Fantasy adventure

Promi is a young thief who lives in Ellegandia, a peninsula jutting off the coast of Africa. One day, he is caught and thrown in the dungeons by the high priest Grukarr. There, he learns about the legend of the Starstone, an ancient stone that is the source of Ellegandia's magic. And, as Promi learns, Grukarr has stolen it from the nearby Great Forest. Promi then meets Atlanta, a young woman who expertly practices the magic of Ellegandia. She shows Promi that the Great Forest is decaying as a result of the Starstone's removal, and Ellegandia's magic is fading. Out of love for their land, the pair set out to find Grukarr and stop him in a battle that will involve Seers and demons, wraiths and mortals, and the eventual creation of a land doomed to destruction.

THE METAMORPHOSES TRILOGY

ALL OUR PRETTY SONGS

Sarah McCarry

Publication : July 2013 - St. Martin's

Young Adult, Fiction

A young woman must protect those she loves against an ancient evil.

In Sarah McCarry's brilliant debut YA novel, set against the lush, magical backdrop of the Pacific Northwest, two inseparable best friends who have grown up like sisters—the charismatic and beautiful Aurora and the devoted, watchful narrator—find their bond challenged for the first time when a mysterious and gifted musician named Jack comes between them. Suddenly, each girl must decide what matters most: friendship, or love. What both girls don't know is that the stakes are even higher than either of them could have imagined. They're not the only ones who have noticed Jack's gift; his music has awakened an ancient evil—and a world both above and below which may not be mythical at all. The real and the mystical; the romantic and the heartbreaking all begin to swirl together, carrying the two on journey that is both enthralling and terrifying.

THE PRINCE OF VENICE BEACH

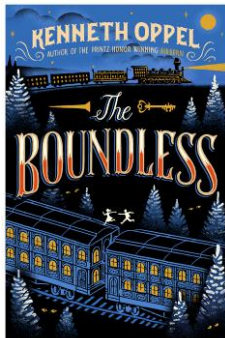

Blake Nelson

Publication : Spring 2014 - Little, Brown

Young Adult, Mystery

A thrilling and fresh YA mystery, centering on the lives of teenage runaways.

Robert "Cali" Rasmussen is a teenage runaway who spends his days skateboarding, playing basketball, and eking out a living on the streets of Venice Beach, California. He exists on the fringe of society, which makes him the perfect candidate to assist private investigators in finding other runaways—everyone from spoiled, privileged kids who have no idea what they are getting into to lifelong bums with secret pasts. But when Cali is hired to find Reese Abernathy, a beautiful young girl who is hiding from much more than just her family, he soon finds out that some runaways are better off unbound. As the hunt for Reese turns from routine to downright dangerous, Cali finds himself caught in the middle of a struggle far larger than a father's desire to find his daughter. Right now, Cali is wondering who he can trust—the girl, who might be mentally unstable, who says her dad is the bad guy, or the upstanding, rich father who claims he's just trying to help. But when things go horribly wrong, Cali is going to wonder if there is anything he could have done to stop it.

THE BOUNDLESS

Kenneth Oppel

Publication : Spring 2014 - Simon & Schuster

Middle-grade, Fiction

The day William Everett hammers the golden spike into the last bit of track on the Canadian Pacific Railroad he has no idea that one avalanche and three years later he will be riding the Boundless, a seven mile long train that's like a moving city, across these very tracks. When Will's father works his way up from building the railroad to running it, he brings Will along for the maiden voyage of the longest train in the world, which happens to be pulling the funeral car of the magnate who built the railroad, rumored to have bricks of gold and other treasures stashed inside. Left to his own devices, Will takes his sketchbook and pencil and wanders the train, meeting the odd members of the Zirkus Dante and strolling through the shantytowns that pop up at each stop, selling everything from sticky buns and cider to sasquatch repellent and spectacles that will keep you from falling prey to the spell of the muskeg hag. A misstep in the woods leads Will to witness a murder that has him running for his life – to get back on the Boundless and make it from the caboose to the engine before the murderer catches up with him. With the help of the Mr. Dorian, the mysterious ringmaster of the Zirkus Dante, acrobatic Maren and his skills as an artist, Will manages to stay hidden but gets himself caught up in a plot almost as dangerous as the murderer he is hiding from.

In the game, she and a team of other teens are sent on missions to eliminate the Drau, terrifying and beautiful alien creatures. There is no practice run, no training, and no way out. Miki has only the guidance of secretive but maddeningly attractive team leader Jackson Tate, who says the game isn't really a game, that what Miki and her new teammates do now determines their survival and the survival of every other person on this planet. She laughs. He doesn't. And then the game takes a deadly and terrifying turn.

COUNTING BY 7s

Holly Goldberg Sloan

Publication : August 2013 - Little, Brown

Young Adult, Fiction

Willow Chance is a twelve-year-old genius, obsessed with nature and diagnosing medical conditions, who finds it comforting to count by 7s. It has never been easy for her to connect with anyone other than her parents, but that hasn't kept her from leading a quietly happy life...until now. Suddenly Willow's world is tragically changed when her parents both die in a car crash, leaving her alone in a baffling world. The triumph of this book is that it is not a tragedy. This extraordinarily odd, but extraordinarily endearing, girl manages to push through her grief. Her journey to find a fascinatingly diverse and fully believable family is a joy and a revelation to read.
