SAINT ANYTHING by Sarah Dessen

Peyton, Sydney’s charismatic older brother, has always been the star at the center of the family. When he is involved in a drunk driving accident, Sydney searches for her place in the family and the world. Enter the Chathams, a warm, chaotic family who run a pizza parlor, play bluegrass on weekends, and pitch in to care for their mother, who has multiple sclerosis. Here Sydney experiences unquestioning acceptance. And here she meets Mac, gentle, watchful, and protective, who makes Sydney feel seen, really seen, for the first time. Once again, bestselling author Sarah Dessen explores her signature themes of family, self-discovery, and change in her twelfth novel.

THE SACRED LIES OF MINNOW BLY by Stephanie Oakes

The cult known as the Community has taken everything from seventeen-year-old Minnow: twelve years of her life, her family, her ability to trust. When she rebelled, they took away her hands, too. Now their Prophet has been murdered and their camp set aflame, and it's clear that Minnow knows something—but she's not talking. As she languishes in juvenile detention, she struggles to unlearn everything she has been taught to believe. When an FBI detective approaches her about making a deal, Minnow sees she can have the freedom she always dreamed of—if she's willing to part with the terrible secrets of her past.

LIKE IT NEVER HAPPENED by Emily Adrian

Landing the lead in her school’s play is the best thing that ever happened to Rebecca Rivers. She’s finally able to distance herself from her unsavory reputation, she has an ardent supporter in director Mr. McFadden, and she even gets to kiss the extremely handsome Charlie Lamb onstage. Though the five tightly-knit cast members vow never to date each other, the pact is quickly broken by Charlie and Rebecca, leaving Rebecca both guilt-ridden and love-struck. But the on-and-off-stage drama of “The Essential Five” is quickly eclipsed by an accusation that threatens to destroy everything, even if some of it is just make believe.

STONEWALL: BREAKING OUT IN THE FIGHT FOR GAY RIGHTS by Ann Bausum

The first history of gay rights for teen readers, written by award-winning non-fiction author Ann Bausum. Not long ago, laws in the USA criminalized homosexual behavior. The medical community viewed being gay as a sign of mental illness, and coming out could lead to being fired, shunned, and disowned. Then came the Stonewall riots of 1969, and things began to change. Ann Bausum introduces teen readers to the decades-long struggle for gay rights. With archival photographs, this revolutionary book demonstrates how far the battle has come in the past four decades and yet how universal the struggles remain as young people of any era grow into their sexualities.

THE FELL OF DARK by Patrick Downes

Written in searing prose, this is the story of two mentally ill boys, Erik, who believes he's a saint, and Thorn, who believes he's a demon. As their minds devolve into hallucinations, their worlds intersect, culminating in a final stand-off in a school playground where one boy has brought an automatic weapon and is intent on killing the children in the school, and the other vows to stop him, even if it means sacrificing himself. This debut novel offers a raw, insightful look at mental illness and the forces that compel us to act against our will. Even more so, it captivates and dares us to look away, knowing full well we can't.

ROLLER GIRL by Victoria Jamieson (Graphic Novel)

For most of her twelve years, Astrid has done everything with her best friend Nicole. But after Astrid falls in love with roller derby and signs up for derby camp, Nicole decides to go to dance camp instead. So begins the most difficult summer of Astrid's life as she struggles to keep up with the older girls at camp, hang on to the friend she feels slipping away, and cautiously embark on a new friendship. As the end of summer nears and her first roller derby bout (and middle school!) draws closer, Astrid realizes that maybe she is strong enough to handle the bout, a lost friendship, and middle school... in short, strong enough to be a roller girl.

UNLOCKING THE TRUTH by Unlocking the Truth with Charisse Jones

When not in school, thirteen-year-olds Malcolm, Jarad, and Alec spend their time as rock stars opening for the likes of Guns N' Roses. Their impressive accomplishments are the result of impressive hard work, dedication, passion, and focus on their art. Part guide book and part memoir and part inspirational story about the Brooklyn-bred heavy metal band, this book will focus on the essential truths and guiding principles, such as determination and friendship, that have brought the boys this far and continue to drive them.

THE BOY WHO HARNESSSED THE WIND

by William Kamkwamba & Bryan Mealer

Adapted for young readers from the original bestseller. When a terrible drought struck William Kamkwamba's tiny village in Malawi, his family lost all of their crops. With the family starving and without money, William was forced to drop out of school. He began to explore the science books in his village library, and came up with an idea. Made out of scrap metal and old bicycle parts, William built a windmill bringing electricity to his home and helping his family pump water to farm the land.

THE ODDS OF GETTING EVEN: A MO & DALE MYSTERY

by Sheila Turnage

The trial of the century has come to Tupelo Landing! Dale's daddy is going before a judge for his crimes in THREE TIMES LUCKY, but before the judge even bangs his gavel, Mr. Johnson disappears! Following his escape, a rash of crime hits Tupelo Landing and people think he's to blame. Dale is convinced his daddy isn't behind the crime spree and puts the Desperados on the case. Meanwhile, Queen Elizabeth II is about to have puppies (Dale does not take this calmly), Miss Lana is organizing a town-wide Thanksgiving Dinner at the Inn (Miss Lana does not take this calmly), and the Attila Celeste family is stirring up trouble (Mo definitely doesn't take this calmly). But when Mo digs deeper into the investigation, she realizes there's a lot more going on than she thought—there's even a chance Mr. Johnson might be innocent. Book 3 of 3.

JACK & LOUISA: ACT 1

by Andrew Keenan-Bolger & Kate Wetherhead

Twelve-year-old Jack Goodrich was a Broadway star, with two shows under his belt and a third in rehearsals. But when his voice changes suddenly, Jack and his parents leave the spotlight and move from New York City to a small town. Louisa is a self-proclaimed "musical theater nerd" and can hardly believe it when an actor moves to town. What's more, the local theater has announced auditions for her favorite show, "Into the Woods." As the audition date looms nearer, the two are faced with difficult choices. Should Jack risk humiliation and return to the stage? Will Louisa have confidence to go it alone? And can friendship survive all those complicated octave leaps?

by Ammi-Joan Paquette

With rumblings of unrest in the Kingdom of Torr, Princess Juniper's father grants her wish to have a country of her own. He sends her to rule a quiet corner of Torr in the mountains, just until the trouble blows over. There, Juniper learns that ruling – even just for the summer – is a bit harder than she'd expected. When Juniper discovers that Torr is at war, the only way to stay safe is to remain in the sheltered country much longer than planned. Juniper may have her own country after all...but what will that mean for Torr?

8th CONTINENT #3: BORN TO BE WILD by Matt London

Rick and Evie Lane believe that the eighth continent will be theirs to rule forever. There's just one problem: global rule-maker Winterpole won't let anyone move there! Now, the Lane family must rush to create hospitals, homes, schools, and (shocker!) government buildings to prove that their continent is fit for human habitation. But the Lanes aren't the only ones engaged in this race for space. Condo Corp secret CEO Vesuvia Piffle recognizes this as her opportunity to finally snag the eighth continent for herself. If she can knock down enough of the Lanes' buildings and construct perfect, pink, plastic ones in her image, the eighth continent might just finally be hers to make all sugary sweet and spider-free. The Lanes will need to use every resource at their disposal to ensure that their precious eighth continent remains as natural—and wild—as they are. Just as it was born to be. Book 3 of 3.

ALL FOUR STARS #2: STARS OF SUMMER by Tara Dairman

With her first published review under her belt, Gladys Gatsby is looking forward to a quiet summer of cooking and reviewing. But her plans quickly go awry when her friend delivers Gladys's birthday gift: a free summer at Camp Bentley. As Gladys feared, camp life is not easy: she struggles to pass her swim test and can't keep the other campers happy while planning lunches. The worst part is she can't seem to get away from the annoying new "celebrity" camper and sneak away for her latest assignment—finding the best hot dog in New York City. But when it turns out her hot dog assignment was a dirty trick by a jealous reviewer, Gladys's reviewing career may be over forever.

EDGAR & ALLEN #3: THE PET AND THE PENDULUM

by Gordon McAlpine, illus. by Sam Zuppardi

In THE TELL-TALE START, twins Edgar and Allan Poe foiled the nefarious Professor Perry, who wanted to use them in his deadly quantum entanglement experiment. In ONCE UPON A MIDNIGHT EERIE, they took on his equally evil mother and daughter. Now, in THE PET AND THE PENDULUM, it's time for the real showdown, set in an old mansion right outside Baltimore. As with the first two books, this installment is filled with codes, brain-teasers, smart (not snarky) humor, and cameos by the actual Edgar Allan Poe, who is watching over his great-great-great-nephews from the Great Beyond. Readers won't want to miss the end! Book 3 of 3. 160 Pages, Ages 8-12, April 2015

HAMSTER PRINCESS #1 by Ursula Vernon

Harriet Hamsterbone is not your typical princess. She may be quite stunning in the rodent realm (you'll have to trust her on this), but she gets bored just trailing around the palace looking ethereal and sighing a lot. Then one day, Harriet's parents tell her of the curse placed on her at birth, dooming her to prick her finger on a hamster wheel when she's twelve and fall into a deep sleep. For Harriet, this is most wonderful news: It means she's invincible until she's twelve! After all, no good curse goes to waste. So begins a grand life of adventure with her trusty riding quail, Mumfrey...until her twelfth birthday arrives and the curse manifests in a most unexpected way. LAST STOP ON MARKET STREET

by Matt de la Peña, illus. by Christian Robinson

CJ asks his grandma why his life is different than his friend's – they don't own a car, he doesn't have an iPod, and they get off in a more run-down part of town – so she helps him to appreciate the spirit of the bustling city, the music in everyday life, and the magic of their often-overlooked neighbors.

STONE ANGEL by Jane Yolen, illus. by Katie May Green

In this emotionally rich story, a little girl and her family live happily in Paris until Nazi soldiers arrive. She and her family must flee or risk being sent to a concentration camp, so they run into the woods, where they meet resistance fighters. But they're still not safe. They must cross tall mountains and sail in a rickety boat to England. As they struggle to survive, the little girl thinks of the stone angel near their apartment in Paris and imagines it watching over her family.

LOOK! by Jeff Mack

Using only two words -- "look" and "out" -- Jeff Mack relates an entire story about an attention-loving gorilla, a television-loving boy, and a friendship that develops over books. Simple yet richly creative, cleverly and colorfully illustrated with textures and creative type designs, and surprisingly funny and tender given the sparsity of text, LOOK! is the type of book that captivates everyone who sees it.

PICTURE BOOKS | WORLD ENGLISH

ORDINARY PEOPLE CHANGE THE WORLD

by Brad Meltzer, illus. by Christopher Eliopoulos
Kids always search for heroes, so we might as well have a say in it," Brad Meltzer realized, and so he envisioned this friendly, fun, New York Times best-selling approach to biography. Each book tells the story of one of America's icons in an entertaining, conversational way that works well for the youngest nonfiction readers, those who aren't quite ready for the Who Was series. Each book focuses on a particular character trait that made that role model heroic.

I AM LUCILLE BALL

Lucille Ball's heroic quality was that she could make any situation funny. By making people around the world laugh, she proved that humor can take on situation, big or small.

I AM JACKIE ROBINSON

Jackie Robinson's heroic quality was that he led by example, and bravely became the first African American to play major league baseball in the time of the Civil Rights Movement.
