Into the Storm (World War II Book #1)* by Lisa Bingham

A romantic World War II saga of two women fighting for the loves of their lives, set against the backdrop of an unforgettable era. When RueAnn Boggs's new husband hastily departs for an assignment in England, she eagerly awaits news from the front. When weeks go by and she hears nothing, RueAnn becomes determined to find out if she's a wife in name only, and she travels to London for answers. But what she finds there is not at all what she expects... Susan Blunt has spent her life in the shadow of her vibrant twin sister, Sara. When Sara pressures Susan into switching places and going to a dance with Paul, a handsome RAF pilot heading for the front, Susan reluctantly agrees. Little does she know that one night is more than enough time to fall in love with Paul—who returns her ardor, even though he thinks she is someone else...When the Blitz begins and bombs start raining down on London, RueAnn and Susan form a friendship out of the city's ashes, one that helps them weather the storm as they wait for news—from the men they love, have lost, and hope desperately to find once more. (Diversions Books, Fall 2015)

After the Fall (World War II Book #2)* by Lisa Bingham

This World War II epic reminiscent of the novels of Barbara Cartland showcases big canvas storytelling at its best. December 1941, The Phillipines. Four lives are thrown into turmoil by the swift invasion of Japanese troops. Rosemary Dodd, a nurse at the US Army base, had been experiencing the first flutters of new love—a flirtation with striking young officer Riley Gilhouley—but love seems frivolous now that she's triaging the mounting numbers of wounded. Glory Bee O'Halloran, pregnant following an affair with a US Senator, had just arrived on base to perform her striptease for the troops...and to hide with the Senator's friends until her pregnancy could be "dealt with." The Japanese attack sends her running into the jungle with her host's plantation foreman, John Macklin, a handsome former priest. After the Fall follows the two couples as they struggle to survive the chaos swirling around them...and the pains and joys of true love. (Diversions Books, Summer 2015)

Bride of a Distant Isle (Daughters of Hampshire Book #2)* by Sandra Byrd

Like Wuthering Heights or Jane Eyre, this haunting and atmospheric Gothic Romance will have readers falling in love. Miss Annabel Ashton fights to save her family home and her mother's honor while trying to figure out if the man she loves wants her—or just wants to use her to achieve his own ambitions. When Annabel takes a brief visit to her family home, Highcliffe Hall at Milford-on-Sea, she believes her stay will be short but soon learns that she will have to remain at Highcliffe, at the mercy of her cousin, Edward Everedge. Annabel protests, but as the illegitimate daughter of a woman who died in an insane asylum, she has little say. Edward is running out of money and puts the house up for sale to avoid financial ruin. But as the house gets packed for sale, it begins to reveal disquieting secrets, suggesting that Annabel may be the true heir of Highcliffe. She has only a few months to prove her legitimacy, perhaps with assistance from the handsome but troubled Maltese Captain Dell'Acqua. Will Annabel regain her life and property—and trust her heart—before it's too late? (Simon & Schuster/Howard Books, Spring 2016)

The Last Midwife* by Sandra Dallas

It is 1880 and Gracy Brookens is the only midwife in a small Colorado mining town where she has delivered hundreds, maybe thousands, of babies. Most women in Swandyke couldn't even imagine getting through their pregnancy and labor without Gracy by their sides. But everything changes when a baby is found dead...and the evidence points to Gracy as the killer. Gracy knows she didn't commit the crime. But her innocence isn't quite that simple, either. Invited into her neighbors' homes during their most intimate times, she can't help what she sees or hears. She knows things and that's dangerous. With her friends taking sides and a trial looming, Gracy must decide whether it's worth risking everything to prove her innocence. And she knows that her years of discretion may simply demand too high a price now...especially since she's been keeping more than a few dark secrets of her own. (St. Martin's Press, Fall 2015)

MYSTERY/CRIME/SUSPENSE

Ordinary Grace* by William Kent Krueger

Winner of the 2014 Edgar Award for Best Novel**

From New York Times bestselling crime writer William Kent Krueger comes this unforgettable coming-of-age story. For thirteen-year-old Frank Drum, a minister's son, the summer of 1961 was a grim one in which death visited his small Minnesota town frequently and assumed many forms. Accident. Nature. Suicide. Murder. Told from the distant perspective of forty years later, Frank remembers being a boy standing at the door of his young manhood, trying to understand a world that seemed to be falling apart around him as tragedy took its toll on his father's faith, his family, and ultimately on the fabric of the community in which he lived. Ordinary Grace is an extraordinary novel about discovering the terrible price of wisdom and the enduring grace of God. Life can be both beautiful and terrible, and as Frank learns that fateful summer, sometimes there is no way to separate the two. Once Billy Fox starts looking for trouble, he discovers that—in Chicago—trouble's under every footstep. Home from the war, Billy Fox leaves Michigan for Chicago, hoping to find his ex-girlfriend, Rita—now another man's wife. Cactus Rose by Samantha Harte

In the heat of the southwest, desire is the kindling for two lost souls—and the flame of passion threatens to consume them both. Rosie Saladay needs to get married—fast. The young widow needs help to protect her late husband's ranch, but no decent woman can live alone with a hired hand. With the wealthy Wesley Morris making a play for her land, Rosie needs a husband or she risks losing everything. So she hangs a sign at the local saloon: "Husband wanted. Apply inside. No conjugal rights." Delmar Grant is a sucker for a damsel in distress, and even with Rosie's restrictions on "boots under her bed" stated firmly in black and white, something about the lovely widow's plea leaves him unable to turn away her proposal of marriage. Though neither planned on falling in love, passion ignites between the unlikely couple. But their buried secrets—and enemies with both greed and a grudge—threaten to tear them apart. They'll discover this marriage of convenience may cost them more than they could have ever bargained for. (Diversion Books, Fall 2015)

MEMOIR

Eightysixed by Emily Belden

A memoir by Chicago's Carrie Bradshaw! Emily Belden has no idea what to do with her twenty-something life (particularly as it pertains to love), which is a tough problem for a hopeless romantic who's fresh out of a failed relationship. Never one to admit defeat, Emily vows to get back in the dating ring. But the more she tries to get the most out of her Match.com subscription, the deeper down the rabbit hole she goes. While recovering the pieces of her broken heart, Emily's dating pool soon fills with a classic mix of drug addicts, embezzlers, perverts, and (spoiler alert!) pimps. But just as she begins to believe that a bottle of wine might be her only shot at lifelong happiness, a chance encounter with a man whose path impossibly crosses hers changes the game in a big, big way. (Fall 2015)

Starf*cker by Matthew Rettenmund

BoyCulture.com founder and blogger Matthew Rettenmund's hilarious memoir, celebrating the author's journey through celebrity obsession in vivid, honest, humorously reflective prose in the tradition of David Sedaris. *Starf*cker* is not only Matthew's tale of a lifetime of celebrity worship; it's the story of our culture's deranged predilection for all things famous. More than just a memoir, *Starf*cker* is an anthem of a generation, a group disdainful of reality stars but likely to want a photo op with them, reverent of has-beens, driven to distraction by what they watched on TV growing up, and always, always measuring everything in pop culture against Madonna.
