Territory: World with translation, sold in simplified character Chinese, Italian, and Korean

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

Since being diagnosed with Stage II breast cancer 2 1/2 years ago, Heather McManamy has focused on one thing only: living her life with her husband, Jeff, and now four-year-old daughter, Brianna. Now, as she faces the last months of her time with them, she has bought 70 Hallmark cards to write to Brianna for every possible occasion, recorded audio books in her voice, and generally put in place a lifetime of reminders to Brianna that her mom loved her unconditionally.

Heartbreaking but ultimately uplifting, CARDS FOR BRIANNA is a celebration of a mother's love for her daughter, as well as her unwillingness to let death stand in the way of their relationship. Heather's snarky, humorous voice brings you inside the unbearable reality of a life being cut short too soon, and the family that found a way to live to the fullest in the short time they had together.

About the Author:

Heather McManamy worked as a research specialist at the University of Wisconsin until her terminal cancer diagnosis in 2014.

William Croyle has co-authored several memoirs and lives in Kentucky with his family.

A beautiful and inspiring memoir about finding love and a home in a warzone

Territory: World English

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

In this gripping and gorgeously lyrical memoir of marriage and motherhood, Stephanie, a girl from Texas, and Frederic, a former French monk, set out to find a home in the most unlikely of places: Nablus Road, where the fractious sides of Palestinian and Israeli Jerusalem collide.

As the couple struggles with the decision to raise their sons in a neighborhood where violence is a daily occurrence, Frederic embarks on a spiritual journey that forces the family to redefine their lives, their love, and the place they call home. Refreshingly honest and inspirational, A Country Between shows us how love can pick up the broken pieces of our lives and make us feel whole.

About the Author:

Stephanie Saldaña received a B.A. from Middlebury College and has won several awards for her poetry. She lives in Jerusalem with her husband and children, and teaches at the Honors College for Liberal Arts and Sciences, a partnership of Bard College and Al-Quds University. She is the author of The Bread of Angels.

Key Selling Points:

Eat, Pray, Love meets Operating Instructions in this uplifting story of love and the pursuit of dreams in the Middle East

A strong follow-up to Saldaña's acclaimed first memoir, The Bread of Angels

The conflict between Israelis and Palestinians continues to capture headlines worldwide, and this memoir gives a unique perspective on the situation

Eve Schaub returns to tackle the issue of clutter and our complicated yearning to hold on to things

Territory: World with translation

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

From Hoarders to The Life Changing Magic of Tidying Up, the question of what to do with all of our “stuff” seems to be on everyone’s mind.

Eve Schaub’s new memoir is the tale of how one woman organized an entire room in her house that had been overtaken by pointless items. It’s also a deeply inspiring and frequently hilarious examination of why we keep stuff in the first place—and how to let it all go.

About the Author:

Eve O. Schaub graduated from Cornell and Rochester Institute of Technology. She has written for Vermont Life and Vermont Magazine, among others. During her family’s year of no sugar, Schaub blogged regularly and was often a guest on WAMC, New York’s NPR affiliate, as well as a regular visitor to Vermont Public Radio. She lives in Vermont with her family.

Key Selling Points:

Year of No Sugar, Schaub’s first memoir, has sold more than 27,000 copies

Hoarding and tidying are trending: The Life Changing Magic of Tidying Up has sold more than one million copies

Schaub has a knack for accessible storytelling that is rich with thought-provoking content and hilarious commentary, zeroing in on the universality of her own experience

Ooh la la! Happily ever after may not be so easy after all...

Territory: World with translation, excluding GB

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

When Samantha is given a second chance at love at the age of 40, she moves to southwestern France, thinking she's prepared for her new role in life as an instant American wife and stepmom. It turns out, though, that making a French family takes more than just good intentions and a quick lesson in croissant-baking.

Even while suffering from culture shock and struggling to parent her 10-year-old stepson and 13-year-old stepdaughter in a culture drastically different from her own, Samantha is determined to adapt to her adopted homeland--because when love and a new life is on the line, giving up isn't an option.

About the Author:

SAMANTHA VÉRANT is a travel addict, a self-professed oenophile, and a determined, if occasionally unconventional, French chef. She lives in southwestern France, where she's able to explore all of her passions, and where she's married to a sexy French rocket scientist she met in 1989, but ignored for 20 years. She is the author of Seven Letters from Paris.

Key Selling Points:

Second memoir from the author of Seven Letters from Paris, which sold foreign rights in 13 territories

Readers love Samantha's funny, accessible voice and are eager to read about her journey after marrying the man of her dreams and moving to France for good

Sourcebooks continues to do well with French memoirs, and the family angle of HOW TO MAKE A FRENCH FAMILY will appeal to readers of Bringing Up Bebe and French Kids Eat Everything

The heartwarming story of how one hungry American with a hankering for pancakes founded the first American-style diner in Paris

Territory: World with translation

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

Any expat knows the unique frustration of not being able to find American staples like peanut butter and pumpkin pie abroad. But thanks to Craig Carlson and his restaurant Breakfast in America, it's now possible to get hearty pancakes and creamy milkshakes in the heart of Paris, the city of croissants and crepes.

Craig was the last person anyone would expect to open a restaurant in Paris. For one, he's not French. He had no experience running any sort of business, and he had no idea how to navigate the notorious French bureaucracy. But what he did have was determination and a dream. Pancakes in Paris combines delightful tales of humor and hope with the satisfaction of an old-fashioned American breakfast.

About the Author:

Craig Carlson is the owner and founder of Breakfast in America, the first American-style diner in Paris, which has been featured in The Lonely Planet and Frommer's Paris travel guides. He lives in Paris with his partner.

Key Selling Points:

Paris memoirs are a big hit, and Sourcebooks has sold more than 50,000 copies of other Paris titles like Paris, My Sweet and We'll Always Have Paris

Delightful mash-up of American and French culture that will appeal to readers of Bringing Up Bébé

A strong restaurant/food angle in Paris memoirs has been proven hugely successful with books like David Lebovitz's The Sweet Life in Paris

Territory: World with translation

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

As Becky Blades prepared to send her firstborn daughter off to Harvard, it occurred to her how much she still needed to learn. About dreams. About life. About laundry.

Do Your Laundry or You'll Die Alone is the frequently poignant and always true collection of advice your mom might've forgotten to give you, like:

- Good posture is slimming
- Multi-tasking doesn't always save you time
- Don't heat-dry your delicates

Blades also reminds us that "it's okay to outgrow your dreams," and to "make something every day." A perfect gift for mothers and daughters to share.

About the Author:

Becky Blades is a writer, artist, and mother of two daughters. With a background in PR, Blades has served on corporate boards, as a civic advocate for the arts and entrepreneurship, and as a consultant. She lives in Kansas City with her husband and her Maytag front load washing machine.

Don't let their sparkly horns and magical powers fool you...

Territory: World with translation

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

Unicorns think they're so great because they're all mysterious and magical, but they can be real jerks sometimes. This coloring book features eighteen examples of unicorns texting in theaters, farting in elevators, eating your leftovers, and generally acting like jerks.

Theo Nicole Lorenz's previously self-published humorous coloring books are beloved in the alternative coloring book space and are perfect for coloring enthusiasts looking for witty, slightly quirky books to enhance their coloring experience.

About the Author:

Theo Nicole Lorenz was born in 1985, weighing only six pounds and yelling a lot. Now many pounds larger and holding an MFA in writing from Hamline University, Theo still yells a lot, though mostly at the internet. Theo makes coloring books and sometimes comics in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Key Selling Points:

Previously self-published, Unicorns Are Jerks has sold over 100,000 copies

Theo's offbeat humor resonates perfectly with millennials and people looking for a little wit in their coloring books

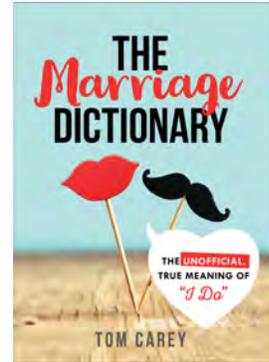

Niche coloring books are on the rise and Theo is the star of that category

Words take on different meanings when you're married—learn the lingo with this uproariously funny lexicon of marital vocab!

Territory: World with translation

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

On the day you say "I do," commonplace words take on different meanings you won't find in any old dictionary. The Marriage Dictionary puts into words what every married person has thought before but wouldn't dare say out loud. Whether you're a fresh-faced newlywed or an experienced veteran of marriage, you'll enjoy this hilarious look at what marriage really means. Definitions include:

- ⟨ Amnesia: Unusual medical condition that often afflicts husbands the day after a night out drinking and carousing with "the boys."
- ⟨ Athlete's foot: The only part of your husband that is still truly athletic.
- ⟨ Bra: Decoration draped by your wife over the shower curtain rod in the bathroom. (See Pantyhose.)
- ⟨ Off-white: The color of the dress your mother-in-law suggests you ought to be wearing at your wedding.

About the Author:

Tom Carey is a writer and illustrator living in northeast Ohio. He is also the author of How to Throw a Golf Club and Teed Off! The Modern Guide to Golf (both Sourcebooks, Feb 2006).

An empowering story about letting go of the kids, holding onto yourself, and reinventing your life.

Territory: World with translation

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

When her kids left for college, Melissa T. Shultz felt what many mothers feel: a total sense of loss. Her house was empty. Her purpose in life was uncertain. And she didn't know how to move forward.

Part memoir, part self-help, From Mom to Me Again is about reinvention. Shultz takes readers on a thoughtful, honest journey through her struggle with the empty nest and her gradual transformation of her marriage, friendships, career, and, ultimately, herself. Emotional, funny, poignant, and practical, this book will inspire empty-nester moms to reinvent their own lives.

About the Author:

Melissa Shultz is a freelance health writer who has contributed to The New York Times, The Washington Post, Newsweek, Ladies' Home Journal, Readers' Digest, CNN Radio, scarymommy.com, betterafter50.com, and other publications and blogs. She also edits for a literary agency and teaches creative nonfiction. A native of Washington, D.C. and mother of two sons, Shultz lives in a suburb of Dallas with her husband.

Key Selling Points:

The audience for this book is huge - 4 million women per year become empty nesters

The hyperprepared What to Expect When You're Expecting generation of moms is searching for a resource for this stage of life

Author is well connected in the "mommy blogger" community

In Depression-era Chicago, an aspiring radio star lands a role in a real-life murder mystery

Territory: World with translation

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

It's October 1938, and radio is king. Vivian Witchell is determined to be a star, and with her new role in the popular detective serial The Darkness Knows, everything she's dreamed of is finally within her grasp. Until the night she steps into the employee lounge and stumbles upon the body of the station's most renowned—and most reviled—actress. Clutched in the dead woman's hand is a threatening letter indicating that Vivian could be the next victim. Suddenly, Vivian's biggest worry isn't remembering her lines—it's staying alive.

About the Author:

Cheryl Honigford has always loved old time radio (and classic movies) and claims to have the nagging suspicion that she was born at least 50 years too late. She lives in northern Illinois with her husband and six-year-old daughter and received her degree in journalism from Ohio State University. She works as a designer/trainer for Abbott Laboratories, which provides her with ample travel opportunities.

Key Selling Points:

A compelling historical mystery perfect for fans of Susan Elia MacNeal, Jacqueline Winspear, and Rhys Bowen

Evocative setting in the radio drama world of 1930s Chicago, right before the beginning of World War II

The first in a planned series, The Darkness Knows establishes memorable characters and a budding romance that readers will want to follow through multiple books

The gripping story of one woman's rise to royalty as China's first and only female emperor

Territory: World with translation , sold in Czech, Hungarian, Portuguese, and Thai

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

After her father's death, Mei finds herself in the impossible position of supporting her poverty-stricken family. But a prophecy once predicted that Mei could have the power to do the unthinkable—to become the first female ruler of China. And when an edict summons Mei to the emperor's palace to serve as one of his concubines, the prophecy no longer seems so far-fetched.

In the heart of the emperor's city, Mei faces a thousand other women, all vying for the emperor's favor. She manages to deftly maneuver around the plots of wily courtiers and ambitious princes fighting for power. Then, just as she is in a position to seduce the emperor, she falls in love with his son instead. Now Mei must fight not only to gain favor with the emperor, but also to protect the man she loves.

About the Author:

A literary page-turner about a beloved college professor accused of murdering his entire family, and one small-town cop's dangerous search for answers

Territory: World with translation, sold in Italian and Russian

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

Thomas Huston, a beloved professor and bestselling author, is something of a local hero in the small Pennsylvania college town where he lives and teaches. So when Huston's wife and children are found brutally murdered in their home, the community reacts with shock and anger. Huston has also mysteriously disappeared, and suddenly, the town celebrity is suspect number one.

Sergeant Ryan DeMarco has secrets of his own, but he can't believe that a man he admired, a man he had considered a friend, could be capable of such a crime. Hoping to glean clues about Huston's mind-set, DeMarco delves into the professor's notes on his novel-in-progress. Soon, DeMarco doesn't know who to trust—and the more he uncovers about Huston's secret life, the more treacherous his search becomes.

As Lia attempts to rebuild her life, the medieval ruins of Languedoc, France, pull her toward a love that transcends time

Territory: World with translation, sold in German

Rights Avail: Audio Electronic Film Book Club

Description:

Historian Lia Carrer has finally returned to southwestern France, determined to rebuild her life after the death of her husband. But instead of finding solace in the region's quiet hills and medieval ruins, she falls in love with Raoul, a man whose very existence challenges everything she knows about life—and about her husband's death. Steeped in the rich history and romantic landscape of rural France, In Another Life is a story of love that conquers time, and the lost loves that haunt us all.

About the Author:

Julie Christine Johnson's work has appeared in several anthologies and literary journals. She lives and writes in the seaside village of Port Townsend in northwest Washington state.

Key Selling Points:

- The dual narrative and timeslip elements are perennially popular, with authors like Kate Mosse, Susanna Kearsley, and Kate Morton consistently performing well
- A talented debut author who combines gorgeous writing with an evocative setting, the South of France, to make this epic love story the perfect book for readers of women's fiction
