One of the most common requests from Sarah's fans was for wholesome, nutrient-rich recipes that come together in a snap with ingredients found in your neighborhood grocery rather than a specialty store. Sarah responds with Naturally Nourished, featuring 100 new recipes for inspired weeknight cooking.

Bringing the signature bright photography and fantastic flavors that she is beloved for, Britton shows how to streamline vegetarian cooking with chapters on mains, sides, soups, salads, and snacks (both sweet and savory). Instructions feature easy cooking techniques that anyone can master as well as icons for vegan and gluten-free options. Almost every recipe also includes "rollover" options for using leftovers in a different recipe from the book—encouraging readers to cook smart, not hard.

Sold to Marginesy (Poland), Knesebeck (Germany)

Praise for My New Roots:

"My New Roots is beautiful proof that eating with nutrition in mind need not be a compromise. This is an unabashedly enthusiastic riff on the food-as-medicine approach to cooking and eating. Sarah's playful and encouraging voice is infectious."

—Heidi Swanson, author of Super Natural Every Day

"Sarah always treads the beautiful line between making whole foods practical and also appealing, leading the way in this new real food movement."

—Sarah Wilson, author of I Quit Sugar

"She has a gift for writing truly wonderful recipes, vibrant with produce, and has the knowledge to explain why these plant-based foods are good for us. Her sweet spirit shines through every page. So thrilled to have this keeper in my kitchen!"

—Sara Forte, author of The Sprouted Kitchen

My New Roots (Clarkson Potter, Spring 2015) sold to Politikens (Denmark), Pan Macmillan (UK/BritComm), Karakter (Netherlands), Knesebeck (Germany), Media Incognito (Lithuania), Pestle (Taiwan), Marginesy (Poland)

SARAH BRITTON (BFA, CNP) is the acclaimed holistic nutritionist, writer, and photographer behind the cookbook My New Roots and the popular healthy foods blog of the same name, which won a 2014 Saveur Best Food Blog award. She has been featured in O, The Oprah Magazine, Bon Appétit, Saveur, and Whole Living, and has spoken at TedTalks and multiple nutrition seminars and workshops throughout North America and Europe.

Illustrator, animator, teacher, and comic artist Fran Krause has touched a collective nerve with his wildly popular web comic series Deep Dark Fears and subsequent New York Times bestseller.

In Volume 2, he brings readers more of the creepy, funny, and idiosyncratic fears they love illustrated in comic form, this time mixing in some longer-form fears and ghost stories with the more standard 1, 2, and 4-panel comics.

Praise for Deep Dark Fears:

"Confirms your worst fears, reminds you of fears you forgot you had, and gives you lots of new ones about things you hadn't even thought of yet...deeply terrifying and great."

– Jon Klassen, author and illustrator of I Want My Hat Back and This Is Not My Hat

"Deep Dark Fears is a terrifying and funny treasury of secret, irrational fears we obsess over but are too embarrassed to admit. I can't imagine reading this book home alone at night without completely scaring myself to death."

– Yumi Sakugawa, author of Your Illustrated Guide to Becoming One with the Universe

The gifty practicality of How to Tie a Scarf meets the efficiency of The Life-Changing Magic of Tidying Up in this illustrated guide to packing for trips long, short, cold, hot, and everything in between.

How to Pack shows readers how to plan strategically for a trip in a whole new way. Written by a former consultant who has traveled more than 500,000 cumulative miles around the world, How to Pack includes guidelines for narrowing down one's wardrobe (Power Pieces vs. Fantasy Pieces), how many pairs of shoes are really necessary (Accessory Math), and best practices for storing toiletries and makeup (Pack Pretty).

Here, too, are instructions on selecting the right luggage, when to fold vs. roll clothing, and trip-specific packing lists. Hitha's tips are for today's modern traveler who doesn't want to sacrifice style for space, but who still wants to fit a 2-week vacation wardrobe into a carry-on bag.

Sold to Pavilion (UK/BritComm), Vallardi (Italy)

In addition to running her website, Hitha on the Go, HITHA PALEPU is the cofounder and COO of Bridge2Act, an innovative digital platform that makes charitable giving easier and faster. She lives in New York City with her husband and son.

Kitchen Confidential meets Adventures on the Wine Route meets Fast Food Nation in this thoughtful, raw, and at times incendiary memoir/manifesto from the country's foremost expert on sustainable, responsibly sourced, and grower-produced spirits.

Just as The Omnivore's Dilemma and Fast Food Nation kick-started a national conversation about sustainability and the hyper-industrialization of our country's agricultural system, this book has the potential to completely change the way people think about and buy wine and spirits. Vogler's memoir is alternately hilarious, heartfelt, and scandalous, and will inspire readers not only to look at their liquor bottle's labels more closely—but also to seek out wonderful and wonderfully made products that matter.

THADDEUS VOGLER is the owner of the James Beard award-winning Bar Agricole and newly opened Trou Normand in San Francisco. He has worked in Paris, Ireland, Tokyo, Guatemala, Cuba, and Belize. A global authority on craft spirits, he is consulted regularly by national and global press, including the New York Times, Der Spiegel, Washington Post, Sunset, Bon Appétit, and the Wall Street Journal. He is frequently asked to speak around the world as an expert on spirits trends as well as the food and beverage business in general. He has worked with numerous world-famous restaurateurs, including Alice Waters, Charles Phan, and Francis Ford Coppola.

The rise of million-dollar, one-person businesses in the past 5 years is one of the biggest trends in employment today. Elaine Profeldt first wrote about this shift in a viral piece on Forbes.com, now with over 300k page views.

In The Million-Dollar, One-Person Business, Pofeldt outlines the pathways to joining this new movement, synthesizing the advice from dozens of business owners who've done it. She details how a single individual can achieve a six figure income after taxes while maintaining the lifestyle they want by utilizing the new tools of automation and making the most of today's transformed work environment.

In the aspirational vein of The 4-Hour Workweek and hard-working style of other startup instructionals, such as The $100 Startup and The Lean Startup, this book will appeal to all those who seek a great work life and a great lifestyle.

ELAINE PROFELDT writes a monthly column on 1 million dollar, one-person businesses for Forbes.com and is a contributing editor to Crain's New York Business. Formerly, she was the senior editor of Fortune Small Business magazine. Elaine's work has been published in Money, Fortune, Good Housekeeping, More, and on Medium and CNBC.com, among others. She earned her BA in English at Yale and is the mother of four children.
