Tom Waits

• BY MATT MAHURIN

This visually arresting book is a testament to the unique collaboration, going back three decades, between the photographer and illustrator Matt Mahurin and the musician Tom Waits. Having shot magazine portraits, album covers, and music videos of Waits, Mahurin was inspired to resurrect 100 dormant film negatives as a jumping off point to explore his own surreal, poetic, and occasionally dark vision. The images vary from traditional portraits to ones that capture Waits in concert—but the majority are richly imagined scenes in which Waits is more muse than musician. In addition to the diverse images, the book includes a foreword by Waits, an essay by Mahurin on their longtime collaboration, and 20 original paintings, drawings, photographs, and digital images inspired by Waits's song titles.

Waves

PRO SURFERS AND THEIR WORLD

● BY THOM GILBERT ● FOREWORD BY GARRETT McNAMARA

Professional photographer Thom Gilbert spent four years among surfer royalty at the top of their game—in Spain, New York, California, and Hawaii—with his camera trained not only on tiny figures disappearing in the waves, but also on the surfers' faces and bodies back on land. He returned from the beaches with intimate portraits of the world's best—from the newest talent to the oldest and most revered—and also with dramatic action shots and revealing images of the culture around this sport and lifestyle. The book features not only 300 photographs, but some Q&As with, and hand-written contributions from, prominent figures in the scene. Ultimately, Waves is an ode to surfing and to the men and women who live it every day.

Thom Gilbert's portraiture has been featured in New York magazine, Interview, Gotham, and L.A. Confidential. He has been named a Hasselblad Master and received awards from American Photo and from Photo District News. He lives in Long Island, New York. Garrett McNamara is a Guinness World Record holder for the largest wave ever surfed.

Lost Anatomies

THE EVOLUTION OF THE HUMAN FORM

● BY JOHN GURCHE

One of the world's foremost artists of human evolution, paleoartist John Gurche has been working for 25 years on a collection of images that bring the traditional techniques of figure drawing and anatomical art to the portrayal of our hominin ancestors. While science provides an underpinning to Gurche's art, its primary purpose is to forge an aesthetic connection to the hominins that preceded us on Earth, capturing their humanity as captured in their posture and motion, hands and feet, faces and emotional expression. Lost Anatomies carries the story of human evolution through four groups, from apes and early hominins; to Australopithecus; to archaic Homo sapiens, including Homo erectus; to derived Homo sapiens including Neanderthals and other species that are our most recent ancestors.

Coffee, Rhum, Sugar & Gold

A POSTCOLONIAL PARADOX

• PRODUCED BY THE MUSEUM OF THE AFRICAN DIASPORA (MOAD)

The legacy of European colonialism in the Caribbean is explored through the work of 10 contemporary artists: Angel Otero, Adler Guerrier, Phillip Thomas, Leonardo Benzant, Lucia Hierro, Lavar Munroe, Andrea Chung, Ebony Patterson, Didier William, and Firelei Báez. Their work is inspired by products that have historically been produced in and exported from the Caribbean. The book, published to accompany a traveling exhibition opening at San Francisco's Museum of the African Diaspora, explores the complexity of the "post-colonialism paradox"—in which colonizers often felt superior and productive as they claimed territory for themselves while subjugating indigenous people and exploiting their land. Whether connected to the Caribbean by birth or by choice, the artists use their work as a means of examining the relationships within the power structure.

Dexter Wimberly organizes exhibitions that explore contemporary culture, American history, economics, and power dynamics. Larry Ossei-Mensah is a Ghanaian-American independent curator and cultural critic who has organized numerous exhibitions. Both live in New York City.

Supreme Models

ICONIC BLACK WOMEN WHO REVOLUTIONIZED FASHION

• BY MARCELLAS REYNOLDS

To date, there has never been a book devoted exclusively to black models. Supreme Models fills that void, paying tribute to black models past and present: from the first to be featured in catalogs and on magazine covers, like Iman, Beverly Johnson, and Donyale Luna, to the supermodels who reigned in the nineties—Tyra Banks and Naomi Campbell. The book also observes the newest generation of models—Adwoa Aboah, Jourdan Dunn, and Joan Smalls—who are shaking up the fashion industry by speaking out about racial prejudice and becoming social media sensations.

Written by celebrity stylist and journalist Marcellas Reynolds, Supreme Models features more than 70 women from the last 60 years. The book is filled with gorgeous photographs of the women, and details their most memorable covers, campaigns, runway shows, and editorials. Black models have been influencing fashion and pop culture for decades, reshaping the standards and boundaries of beauty. Supreme Models is a celebration of their monumental impact.

Marcellas Reynolds is a celebrity stylist, former model, and entertainment reporter. He lives in Los Angeles.

The Sopranos Sessions

● BY MATT ZOLLER SEITZ AND ALAN SEPINWALL ● INTRODUCTION BY LAURA LIPPMAN

On January 10, 1999, a mobster walked into a psychiatrist's office and changed TV history. By shattering preconceptions about the kinds of stories the medium should tell, The Sopranos launched our current age of prestige television, paving the way for such giants as Mad Men, The Wire, Breaking Bad, and Game of Thrones. As TV critics for Tony Soprano's hometown paper, New Jersey's Star-Ledger, Alan Sepinwall and Matt Zoller Seitz were among the first to write about the series before it became a cultural phenomenon.

To celebrate the 20th anniversary of the show's debut, Sepinwall and Seitz have reunited to produce The Sopranos Sessions, a collection of recaps, conversations, and critical essays covering every episode. Featuring a series of new long-form interviews with series creator David Chase, as well as selections from the authors' archival writing on the series, The Sopranos Sessions explores the show's artistry, themes, and legacy, examining its portrayal of Italian Americans, its graphic depictions of violence, and its deep connections to other cinematic and television classics.

Matt Zoller Seitz is the television critic for New York magazine and the editor in chief of RogerEbert.com. He is the author of Mad Men Carousel and The Wes Anderson Collection. He lives in Brooklyn. Alan Sepinwall is the chief television critic for Rolling Stone and the author of Breaking Bad 101. His thoughts on television have appeared in the New York Times, Time, and Variety. He lives in New Jersey. Laura Lippman, a New York Times bestselling novelist, has won every major mystery-writing prize in the United States. She lives in Baltimore with her husband, David Simon.

The X-Files

CRYPTIDS, BIOLOGICAL ANOMALIES, AND PARAPSYCHIC PHENOMENA

● BY PAUL TERRY

When an X-Files fan opens up The X-Files: The Official Archives, they are gaining access—for the first time—to Agents Mulder and Scully's notes, records, and visual evidence from actual X-File reports. Designed to mimic a collection of FBI case files and packed with such items as autopsy reports, mug shots, lab results, handwritten notes, newspaper clippings, pages ripped from antique books on the occult, and security camera printouts, this fully authorized book is the only one of its kind. Detailing the agents' investigations into 50 cases of cryptids, biological anomalies, and parapsychic phenomena—from the Flukeman to The Great Mutato, to Pusher—The X-Files: The Official Archives showcases some of the show's greatest villains (some dastardly, some just misunderstood), and instructs future agents on how to successfully investigate the paranormal.

Paul Terry is a bestselling author, music artist, and producer. Together with Tara Bennett, he coauthored Fringe: September's Notebook, Lost Encyclopedia, The Official Making of Big Trouble in Little China, and more. He lives in Los Angeles.

Pescan

A FEEL GOOD COOKBOOK

● BY ABBIE CORNISH AND JACQUELINE KING SCHILLER

Actress Abbie Cornish and chef Jacqueline King are best friends who bonded over their love of food and self-care. A few years ago, Abbie, a novice cook, asked Jacqueline, a graduate of the culinary program at the National Gourmet Institute, for cooking lessons. Every Sunday, they would take trips to the local farmers' market, spend all day cooking, and then serve these dishes to their family and friends. Pescan is an extension of this tradition and all the food they explored together. Their way of eating—which they call pescan—is centered on plant-based, dairy-free dishes, but with high-protein seafood and eggs incorporated. The recipes, like Veggie Tempeh Bolognese, Artichoke Hummus with Za'atar, and Miso-Ginger Glazed Black Cod, are highly nutrient dense, incredibly energizing, and very accessible. Pescan is a collection of healthy recipes, but it's also a story of friendship, healing, and developing a more positive relationship with food.

Abbie Cornish is an actress who most recently starred in Three Billboards Outside Ebbing, Missouri. Jacqueline King is a chef and graduate of the Natural Gourmet Institute.

Down to Earth picks up right where Lauren Liess’s critically acclaimed Habitat left off. While Habitat walked readers through the decorating process step-by-step, Liess’s latest title takes a step beyond the basics and invites readers to incorporate the main components of her familiar design aesthetic: nature, easy living, and approachability. With evocative photos and substantive design advice, Down to Earth focuses on creating a lifestyle that inspires creativity and functionality. Throughout the book, Liess shows readers how to incorporate six guiding principles in six unique homes: a new farmhouse, a classic American historical home, a lakeside contemporary house, a modern villa, a turn-of-the-century American Foursquare, and a cedar and glass house on a bluff. While each home has a different architectural style, fingerprints of Liess’s down-to-earth style are evident throughout.

Lauren Liess is a decorator, textile and furniture designer, and founder of the popular design blog Pure Style Home. She and her husband now star in the new HGTV show, Best House on the Block, which features the design, renovation, and decorating of clients’ homes. Liess lives in Virginia.

Reclaimed Wood

A FIELD GUIDE

● BY KLAAS ARMSTER & ALAN SOLOMON ● PHOTOGRAPHS BY MICHEL ARNAUD

Wood reclaimed from old houses, factories, barns, water tanks, and boardwalks has become a valuable commodity, treasured for the patina that gives witness to its history. Our ancestors built well, using locally sourced lumber that expressed the culture and natural history of their region: oak and pine in the Northeast; hickory and cypress in the South; Douglas fir and redwood in the West. Reclaimed Wood: A Field Guide is the first complete visual handbook to this popular resource, covering history, culture, salvage, sources, contemporary uses (in buildings and furniture), and practical advice.

Klaas Armster and Alan Solomon are partners at Sawkill Lumber Company, a leading Brooklyn-based supplier of reclaimed woods. The son of a mill owner/architect, Armster lives in Guilford, Connecticut. Solomon has spent a life in salvage, starting with a family scrapyard in the Boston area. He was profiled in a New Yorker article in 2008. He lives in Brooklyn. Michel Arnaud's books include Detroit: The Dream Is Now and Design Brooklyn, both from Abrams. He lives in Chatham, New York.

Mending Matters explores sewing on two levels: First, it includes more than 20 hands-on projects that showcase current trends in visible mending that are edgy, modern, and bold—but draw on traditional stitching. It does all this through just four very simple mending techniques: exterior patches, interior patches, slow stitches, darning, and weaving. In addition, the book addresses the way mending leads to a more mindful relationship to fashion and to overall well-being. In essays that accompany each how-to chapter, Katrina Rodabaugh explores mending as a metaphor for appreciating our own naturally flawed selves, and she examines the ways in which mending teaches us new skills, self-reliance, and confidence, all gained from making things with our own hands.

Katrina Rodabaugh is an award-winning artist and crafter working across disciplines to explore environmental and social issues through traditional craft technique. She lives in Germantown, New York.

Patchwork Essentials: Flying Geese

FOOLPROOF PATTERNS AND SIMPLE TECHNIQUES FROM BASIC BLOCKS

BY LEE CHAPPELL MONROE

Flying Geese are a quilt-making staple! At once a simple block, yet one that yields complex results, this mainstay is the star of the show in Lee Monroe's first book, Patchwork Essentials: Flying Geese. The book features a series of nine patterns, all based in tradition but with a modern twist.

Patchwork Essentials: Flying Geese is organized into three main sections: Multiple techniques for making flying geese blocks, nine quilt patterns progressing from quick and simple to challenging and complex, and 40 flying geese blocks and a sample quilt in which to feature them. The final chapter features small projects to make from the half-square triangles that remain after trimming the geese for each project—from a pillow to a quilt back.

Lee Chappell Monroe, who comes from a long line of quilters, has been creating since she discovered crayons at age two. Trained as a graphic designer, she brings a clean, fresh look to her projects. She teaches a Craftsy course and her work has appeared in Modern Patchwork, Quiltmaker, and other publications. She lives in North Carolina. Follow her blog, maychappell.com.

The History of the World in Fifty Dogs

BY MACKENZI LEE

COVER NOT FINAL

Most dog lovers know Balto and Laika, but how about Jofi, Sigmund Freud's Chow Chow? Or Peritas, Alexander the Great's trusted canine companion? As long as there have been humans, those humans have had beloved companions—their dogs. From the ancient Egyptians mummifying their pups, to the Indian legend of the king who refused to enter the afterlife unless his dog was allowed there too, to the modern meme and popularity of terms like the corgi sploot, humans are undeniably obsessed with their dogs. Told in short essays that are interspersed with both historical and canine factoids, The History of the World in Fifty Dogs brings to life some of history's most memorable moments through the stories of the dogs that saw them happen.

Mackenzi Lee holds a BA in history and an MFA in writing for children and young adults from Simmons College. She is the New York Times bestselling author of The Gentleman's Guide to Vice and Virtue, which was awarded a 2018 Stonewall Book Award Honor. She is also the author of Bygone Badass Broads: 52 Women Who Changed the World. Lee currently works at an independent bookstore in Salt Lake City.

Mothers Before

BY EDAN LEPUCKI

COVER NOT FINAL

One year ago, bestselling novelist Edan Lepucki (California, Woman No. 17) created the Mothers Before project to correspond with the release of her latest book, which explores the themes of art, motherhood and identity. She started an Instagram called Mothers Before (@mothersbefore) and asked women of all ages to submit a favorite photograph of their mother before she became a mother and write a description of what the image invokes for her. Within weeks the website caught the attention of the New York Times and Edan was asked to write an essay about the project, which led to hundreds more submissions from women all over the world. This book will expand the project to include photographs and short essays by some bold faced names to mix in with original images by some of the website's most memorable contributors.

Edan Lepucki is the author of the novels California and Woman No. 17 as well as the novella If You're Not Yet Like Me. California debuted at #3 on the New York Times Bestseller List and was a #1 bestseller on the Los Angeles Times.

THE WINES THAT CHANGE MY LIFE (AND CAN CHANGE YOURS TOO)

● BY ANDRÉ MACK ● ILLUSTRATIONS BY ROB DEBORDE

In this entertaining, informative, and thoroughly unconventional wine guide, award-winning sommelier, winemaker, and wine educator André Mack presents readers with the 99 Bottles that have most impacted his life. Instead of just pairing wines with foods, Mack pairs practical information with personal stories, offering up recommendations alongside reflections on being one of the only African-Americans to ever work at the top level of the American wine industry. The 99 Bottles range from highly accessible commercial wines to the most rarefied Bordeaux on the wine list at The French Laundry, and each bottle offers readers something to learn about wine. This window into Mack's life combines a maverick's perspective on the wine industry with an insider's advice on navigating wine lists, purchasing wine, and drinking more diverse and interesting selections at home. 99 Bottles is a one-of-kind exploration of wine culture today from a true trailblazer.

André Mack, one of the US's top sommeliers, worked at both the French Laundry and Per Se. He is the founder of the Mouton Noir wine, annually producing 13 varietals in Oregon's Willamette Valley, and he is also a graphic designer and visual artist. His first wine bar is slated to open in 2018. Mack lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Two Trains Leave Paris

NUMBER PROBLEMS FOR WORD PEOPLE

- BY TAE MARIE FREY AND MIKE WESOLOWSKI

Math is universal, but it's also the least understood and most undervalued subject taught in school. Two Trains Leave Paris: Number Problems for Word People seeks to offer readers an opportunity to experience math like never before. You must use the Pythagorean Theorem to figure out how far apart two ex-lovers are when they simultaneously realize that they cannot live without each other. You must use addition (and logic) to explore the ridiculous (and patriarchal!) wage gap. Throughout six math-themed chapters, readers will follow a series of characters as they apply for jobs, fall in love, get abducted by aliens, and experience many of life's other big and small moments, all of which are dictated by—you guessed it—math! With the help of humor, mathematical history, how-to-solve sections, and an introduction by University of Notre Dame math professor, Dr. Samuel Evens, Two Trains Leave Paris asks readers to help its characters find growth in the most unexpected of places: word problems. And the answers are, of course, in the back.

Tae Marie Frey is a writer, comedian, and actress, who has appeared in the TV series Roadies and the Oscar-nominated film Carol. Mike Wesolowski is a comedian who writes for Runt of the Web. They both live in Los Angeles.

The Great Great Wall

ALONG THE BORDERS OF HISTORY FROM CHINA TO MEXICO

• BY IAN VOLNER

During his campaign for the presidency, one of Donald Trump's signature promises was that he would build a "great great wall" on the border between the US and Mexico, and Mexico was going to pay for it. A year and a half into his term, with only a few prototype segments erected, the wall is the 2,000-mile, multibillion-dollar elephant in the room of contemporary American life.

In The Great Great Wall, architectural historian and critic Ian Volner takes a deep dive into the story of Trump's wall. Volner follows the conception, selling, design, and construction (or lack thereof) of this expensive and consequential barrier, giving readers a detailed look at what's happening in Washington, DC, and along the border. He also travels far afield, to China, the Middle East, Northern England, and back to our border to examine the barriers we've been building for centuries. Why do we build walls? What do they reveal about human history? The Great Great Wall is an absorbing, smart, and timely book on an incredibly contentious and newsworthy topic.

Ian David Volner is an architectural historian and design critic. His previous books include Michael Graves: Design for Life and This Is Frank Lloyd Wright. He has traveled to far-flung places like the Caucasus Mountains, the townships of South Africa, and the slums of Panama City to write for the Wall Street Journal, the New Republic, Artforum, and more.

• BY SELINA MEYER

The long-awaited memoir of her tumultuous year in office, A Woman First: First Woman is an intimate first-person account of the public and private lives of Selina Meyer, America's first woman president. Known and beloved throughout the world as a vocal and fearless advocate for adult literacy, fighting AIDS, our military families, and as a stalwart champion of the oppressed, especially the long-suffering people of Tibet, President Meyer is considered one of the world's most notable people. In her own words, she reveals the innermost workings of the world's most powerful office, sharing previous secret details along with her own personal feelings about the historic events of her time.

In A Woman First: First Woman, President Selina Meyer tells the story of her times the way that only she could. Readers will gain new insights not only into Meyer herself but also the mechanics of governing and the many colorful personalities in Meyer's orbit, including world leaders and her devoted cadre of allies and aides, many of them already familiar to the American people.

The perfect gift for dad or grad, there has never been another book to compare with it in terms of both capturing the true essence of not only being president but also the very state of our union.

In Search of the Color Purple

THE STORY OF WALKER'S MASTERPIECE

• BY SALAMISHAH TILLET

Alice Walker made history in 1982 when she became the first black woman to win the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award, both for The Color Purple. Published in the Reagan Era amid a severe backlash to civil rights, the jazz age novel tells the story of an African-American woman haunted by domestic and sexual violence.

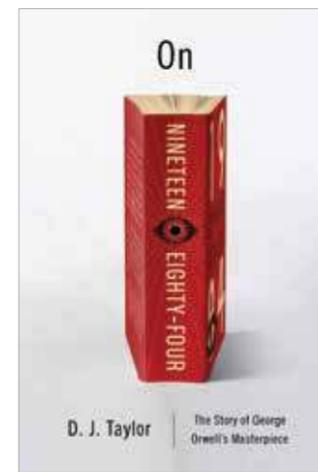

Prominent academic and activist Salamishah Tillet combines cultural criticism, history, and memoir to explore Walker's epistolary novel, and shows how it has influenced and been informed by the zeitgeist of the time. Through interviews with Walker, Oprah Winfrey, Quincy Jones, and others, as well as archival research, Tillet studies Walker's life and the origins of her subjects, including violence, sexuality, gender, and politics. The Color Purple continues to resonate with Tillet—as a sexual violence survivor, as a teacher of the novel, and as an accomplished academic. Provocative and personal, In Search of the Color Purple is a bold work from an important public intellectual.

Salamishah Tillet is a scholar, cultural critic, and activist. A professor at Rutgers University-Newark, she is a regular contributor to the New York Times. She lives in New Jersey.

On 1984

THE STORY OF ORWELL'S MASTERPIECE

• BY D. J. TAYLOR

Since its publication nearly 70 years ago, George Orwell's 1984 has been regarded as one of the most influential novels of the modern age. Politicians have testified to its influence on their intellectual identities, rock musicians have made records about it, TV viewers watch a reality show named for it, and a White House spokesperson tells of "alternative facts." The world we live in is often described as an Orwellian one, awash in inescapable surveillance and invasions of privacy.

On 1984 dives deep into Orwell's life to chart his earlier writings and key moments in his youth, such as his years at a boarding school, whose strict and charismatic headmaster shaped the idea of Big Brother. Taylor tells the story of the writing of the book, taking readers to the Scottish island of Jura, where Orwell, newly famous thanks to Animal Farm but coping with personal tragedy and rapidly declining health, struggled to finish 1984. Published during the cold war—a term Orwell coined—Taylor elucidates the environmental influences on the book. Then he examines 1984's post-publication life, including its role as a tool to understand our language, politics, and government.

In a current climate where truth, surveillance, censorship, and critical thinking are contentious, Orwell's work is necessary. Written with resonant and reflective analysis, On 1984 is both brilliant and remarkably timely.

D. J. Taylor is a British critic, novelist, and biographer. Taylor contributes to many newspapers including the Guardian and the Daily Telegraph. Taylor resides in Norwich, England.

The Fixed Stars

● BY MOLLY WIZENBERG

COVER NOT FINAL

Three years ago, bestselling author Molly Wizenberg experienced something that she didn't know could happen: She discovered that her sexual orientation had changed. Having written two memoirs about her courtship with and marriage to a man, this was, at best, inconvenient.

For the better part of a year, she tried to return her life to the way she'd known it—and ended up with hives and a full-blown panic attack, coming out to her mother in an emergency room at two o'clock in the morning. She wound up with the realization that the narrative of our lives is not linear.

Wizenberg's new memoir, The Fixed Stars, is a book about living in-between, about letting go of norms that no longer fit. It's about sex and gender, parenthood and identity, and the myriad ways we make loving, healthy families. It's a story about rewriting who we are. Wizenberg writes about how she and her husband have worked to invent a divorce that fits them and their four-year-old daughter. Through the mess of it all—dividing furniture and finances, coming out to friends and colleagues, learning to co-parent a kid who has a lot of tough questions—she begins to redefine on her own terms some of life's trickiest concepts: success, failure, commitment, love.

Molly Wizenberg is the author of the James Beard Award-winning blog Orangette and two bestselling books, A Homemade Life and Delancy. She has written for Bon Appétit, The Washington Post, Saveur, The Guardian, and more. She lives in Seattle.

Ten Drugs

HOW PLANTS, POWDERS, AND PILLS HAVE SHAPED THE HISTORY OF MEDICINE

● BY THOMAS HAGER

Behind every landmark drug is a story. It could be an oddball researcher's genius insight, a catalyzing moment in geopolitical history, a new breakthrough technology, or an unexpected but welcome side effect discovered during clinical trials. Piece together these stories, as Thomas Hager does in this remarkable, century-spanning history, and you can trace the evolution of our culture and the practice of medicine.

Beginning with opium, the "joy plant," which has been used for 10,000 years, Hager tells a captivating story of medicine. His subjects include the largely forgotten female pioneer who introduced smallpox inoculation to Britain, the infamous knockout drops, the first antibiotic, which saved countless lives, the first antipsychotic, which helped empty public mental hospitals, Viagra, statins, and the new frontier of monoclonal antibodies. This is a deep, wide-ranging, and wildly entertaining book.

Thomas Hager is an award-winning author of books on the history of science and medicine, including The Demon Under the Microscope. He is a courtesy associate professor of journalism and communication at the University of Oregon.

The Most Spectacular Restaurant in the World

THE TWIN TOWERS, WINDOWS ON THE WORLD, AND THE REBIRTH OF NEW YORK

● BY TOM ROSTON

In the 1970s, New York City was plagued by crime, filth, and an ineffective government. The city was falling apart, and even the newly constructed World Trade Center threatened to be a fiasco. But in April 1976, a quarter-mile up on the 107th floor of the North Tower, a new restaurant called Windows on the World opened its doors—a glittering sign that New York wasn't done just yet.

In The Most Spectacular Restaurant in the World, journalist Tom Roston tells the complete history of this incredible restaurant, from its stunning $14-million opening to 9/11 and its tragic end. There are stories of the people behind it, such as Joe Baum, the celebrated restaurateur, who was said to be the only man who could outspend an unlimited budget; the well-tipped waiters; and the cavalcade of famous guests, as well as everyday people celebrating the key moments in their lives. Roston also charts the changes in American food, from baroque and theatrical to locally sourced and organic. Built on more than 200 original interviews, The Most Spectacular Restaurant in the World is the story of New York City's restaurant culture and the quintessential American drive to succeed.

A journalist for over 20 years, Tom Roston worked at The Nation and Vanity Fair, and was a senior editor at Premiere for a decade. His work has appeared in the New York Times, New York Magazine, and more. Roston writes about documentary films for PBS.org. He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Cider is the quintessential American beverage. Drank by early settlers and founding fathers, it was ubiquitous and pervasive, but following Prohibition when orchards were destroyed and neglected, cider all but disappeared. In The Cider Revival, Jason Wilson chronicles what is happening now, an extraordinary rebirth that is less than a decade old.

Following the seasons through the autumn harvest, winter fermentation, spring bottling, and summer festival and orchard work, Wilson travels around New York and New England, with forays to the Midwest, the West Coast, and Europe. He meets the new heroes of cider: orchardists who are rediscovering long lost apple varieties, cider makers who have the attention to craftsmanship of natural wine makers, and beverage professionals who see cider as poised to explode in popularity. What emerges is a deeply rewarding story, an exploration of cider's identity and future, and its cultural and environmental significance. A blend of history and travelogue, The Cider Revival is a toast to a complex drink.

Jason Wilson is an award-winning journalist and the author of Boozehound and Godforsaken Grapes. The series editor for Best American Travel Writing since its inception in 2000, Wilson has also written for the Washington Post, the New York Times, The New Yorker, and many others. He lives in the Philadelphia suburbs.

Being in Your Body

A JOURNAL FOR SELF-LOVE AND BODY POSITIVITY

- BY FARIHA ROISIN ● ILLUSTRATIONS BY MONICA RAMOS

Nearly every woman—of any age, size, shape, and color—deals with her own inner dialogue of self-criticism. Body shame, reinforced by socially entrenched beauty norms and intensified by social media, is incredibly difficult to shake. In The Body Positive, author Fariha Róisín prompts women to explore a new language for talking about their physical selves. Addressing concepts like compare-and-despair and the false connection between thinness and happiness, the journal walks women through the process of cultivating confidence in themselves, while advocating for a broader definition of beauty for all. It features sumptuous illustrations throughout and quotes contributed by a diverse array of body positive advocates, writers, and influencers, including: Amanda de Cadnet, Alok Vaid Menon, Safia Elhillo, Vivek Shraya, and Jenna Wortham.

Fariha Róisín is an Australian-Canadian writer based in Brooklyn. Her work has appeared in Al Jazeera, The Guardian, Vice, Fusion, the Village Voice, Vogue, BuzzFeed, Medium, and others. In 2012, she began cohosting the podcast Two Brown Girls, which highlighted black and brown voices in film and TV, emphasizing the importance of representation. She resides in Brooklyn, New York.
