Imprint Descriptions

Clarkson Potter was founded in 1959 and is home to a community of award-winning and bestselling chefs, cooks, designers, artists, and writers—visionaries who seek to entertain, engage, and teach. Our diverse list is at once commercial and literary and includes cookbooks, illustrated gift books, and a growing line of paper products, such as journals, postcards, stationery, and games. Potter authors include Ina Garten, Martha Stewart, Giada De Laurentiis, Bobby Flay, David Chang, Chrissy Teigen, Trisha Yearwood, Gina Homolka, and Alexa Hampton, and other leading brands.

Ten Speed Press is based in California and spent decades as an independent publisher before becoming part of the Crown Publishing Group in 2009. Known for creating beautiful illustrated books with innovative design and award-winning content, Ten Speed actively seeks out new and established authors who are authorities and tastemakers in the world of food, drink, pop culture, graphic novels, illustration, design, reference, gardening, and health. In food and drink, we publish such luminaries as Yotam Ottolenghi, Aaron Franklin, Heidi Swanson, Danielle Walker, David Lebovitz, Deborah Madison, Robert Simonson, and the editors of Food52. Our bestselling titles include Jerusalem, Franklin Barbecue, and Food52 Genius Recipes. Other acclaimed Ten Speed titles include the breakout New York Times–bestseller Women in Science, the classic business and life guide What Color Is Your Parachute?, and the groundbreaking self-help book The Life-Changing Magic of Tidying Up.

Watson-Guption was founded in 1937 and is now an imprint of Ten Speed Press. It has a storied legacy of publishing hard-working and influential illustrated art books. We seek out respected authorities who instruct and inspire artists in a wide range of art, craft, design, and photography subjects. Our list spans both fine art and practical art instruction in traditional disciplines such as drawing, painting, sculpture, and printmaking, with standout authors like Juliette Aristides, Burne Hogarth, and Rudy de Reyna. We also publish books focused on artistic pursuits such as craft, graphic design, comics, cartooning, and manga, authored by such authorities as House Industries, Stan Lee, Mark Crilley, Camilla D’Errico, and Chris Hart.

Lorena Jones Books, an imprint of Ten Speed Press, was founded in 2015 and is committed to publishing the best talent in highly creative and enduring ways. We publish illustrated and non-illustrated books in the areas of cooking, work life, and health. The list features cookbooks for committed and style-conscious cooks who enjoy reading about food as culture; publications include Tartine All Day and Cheers to the Publican. Titles on work life and career, including The Million-Dollar, One-Person Business, resonate with independent-minded professionals who are interested in new ideas and career development. The health publishing, such as the upcoming How Healing Works, appeals to consumers who embrace self-care ideas that are based on leading researchers’ new findings and recommendations.

The first in a series of original graphic novels, starring Ninja as he embarks on exciting gaming adventures, with the fate of the world at stake.

Ninja—the undisputed champion of the world's most popular online battle royale—enjoys a captivated audience of millions as he does what he loves: decimating the competition. At the end of one fateful stream, however, Ninja receives a strange email with a link to an impossibly realistic, challenging, and addictive game that simultaneously explodes in popularity. As the best player in the world, Ninja's unable to resist a challenge and soon discovers that there's more to this game than meets the eye.

Teleported into the battle royale's universe, a digitized Ninja must start from scratch, finding a way to win the game—and save the world. Set in a fictional world created by notable comics writer Justin Jordan and comics artist Felipe Magaña, this is the first in a graphic novel series that offers a new way for Ninja fans of all ages to experience the gaming streamer's unmatched wits and skill.

From the #1 New York Times best-selling author of The Martian and Artemis, and illustrated by webcomics creator Sarah Andersen (2.8 million Instagram followers and 2.5 million Facebook fans), this graphic novel brings together the heroines of Alice in Wonderland, Peter Pan, and The Wizard of Oz in a charming fantasy mash-up as they join forces to defend their worlds from villainous threats.

Alice, Wendy, and Dorothy—after years of being labeled “crazy” for their insistence on the existence of other worlds—meet at Cheshire Crossing, a supernatural boarding school where they are finally believed and for the first time treated as the holders of special powers rather than freaks.

They are meant to learn how to use and control their superheroic abilities, but quickly find themselves sucked back into their magical realms when a new threat arises. When the Wicked Witch and Captain Hook form an evil alliance to conquer the worlds of Oz, Neverland, and Wonderland, the girls must work together to save not only these fantastical lands but also Earth itself.

This "storybook meets superheroes" graphic novel features the original magical girls of fantasy embarking on exciting supernatural adventures in a tale that could only come from the imagination of Andy Weir and the illustrative sorcery of Sarah Andersen.

Melissa Clark first fell in love with France and French food as a child--her parents spent their August vacations traversing the country in search of the best meals. As her own culinary identity blossomed, so too did her understanding of why French food is lauded. Now, Melissa updates those techniques with today's staples: baked Brie with chiles, Ratatouille Sheet-Pan Chicken, Campari Olive Oil Cake, and sweet red pepper clafoutis, to name a few.

MELISSA CLARK is a staff writer for the New York Times Food section, where she writes their wildly popular food column, "A Good Appetite." She has written cookbooks in collaboration with some of the most celebrated chefs and earned James Beard and IACP awards. Her work has also been selected for the Best American Food Writing.

The benefits of yoga—greater strength, flexibility, and presence of mind—are for anyone, no matter their skill level. But most classes don't feel that way if you're a first-timer—or an inflexible male. Enter Yoga for the Inflexible Male, a welcoming and humorous guide for people of all stripes that gives three vetted hour-long yoga routines, each with roughly a dozen yoga poses. The poses are illustrated and described in depth, and each one contains variations so that they are accessible to anyone, no matter their flexibility. As more and more men are encouraged to increase their flexibility, the health advantages of yoga are no longer beyond their reach.

YOGA MATT is the nom de namaste of Roy Parvin and a nod to the everyman of yoga. Parvin is the award-winning fiction author of In the Snow Forest, and a recipient of a National Endowments for the Arts Grant in Literature. Roy is also an elite cyclist.

The iconic Bill Cunningham was known for wearing a blue work jacket and riding a bicycle around New York City as he captured cutting-edge street style (before street style was even a thing). He took pictures for The New York Times from 1978 until his death in 2016 and wrote the beloved columns "On the Street" and "Evening Hours," which began in 1989. This book will be an oversized collection of Bill's hallowed photography—a mixture of published and unpublished—organized by decade with essays by and about Bill's muses and subjects like Anna Wintour, Cathy Horyn, Vanessa Friedman, and Ruth La Ferla. Every fashion lover and fashionista—from NYC and beyond—will have to add this book to their collection.

BILL CUNNINGHAM was an American fashion icon and photographer for The New York Times from 1978 to 2016.

The Truffle Underground

A Tale of Mystery, Mayhem, and Manipulation in the Shadowy Market of the World's Most Expensive Fungus

Ryan Jacobs

Clarkson Potter

On-sale date: June 04, 2019

Manuscript Available

Beneath the glossy veneer of star chefs and crystal-laden tables, a hidden world of intrigue, sabotage, and crime undergirds the elegance of truffles: Feuding factions plant poisoned meatballs in competitors' fields to eliminate rival truffle-hunting dogs. Crime syndicates steal research from the labs of scientists attempting to cultivate them, and unsuspecting foragers are held at gunpoint while bandits lift an entire month's worth of income from their trunks.

For readers of The Billionaires Vinegar, this book is a compulsively readable and deeply researched dive into the dark origins of the world's most valuable fungus—from the scientific mysteries of their growth to the story of the hapless French farmer who discovered the secret to cultivating them, to brutal crimes in the forests and the white-collar crimes that surround this secretive industry. Through it all, a question lingers: What, other than money, draws people to this otherwise elusive fungus?

RYAN JACOBS is an investigative reporter and senior editor at Pacific Standard. He has previously held positions at Mother Jones, Sierra, and The Atlantic. The Truffle Underground is based on a piece Jacobs wrote for The Atlantic, which was one of their most-viewed and shared articles of 2014.

Untitled Memoir

David Chang

Clarkson Potter

On-sale date: February 4, 2020

Manuscript scheduled for June 2019

David Chang never wanted to be a chef. He spent his childhood feeling isolated, crushed with the weight of his father's religion and sure he was destined for failure, starting him on a path of self-doubt and depression. Convinced he would be dead before 30, probably by his own hand, he made a series of utterly stupid choices that somehow made him a globally renowned chef. Part memoir, part guide for young cooks, part rumination on mental health issues in today's restaurant world, this narrative will reveal Chang's difficult, emotionally troubled upbringing, how he never intended to or guessed he would become as famous as he is, and how sometimes the things that look like one's worst mistakes turn out to be the most significant turning points of one's life.

DAVID CHANG is the chef and owner of the Momofuku restaurants, with 15 locations in 6 cities, and the creator and producer of the hit Netflix series Ugly Delicious. Chang has been named a Food & Wine Best New Chef, a GQ Man of the Year, a Rolling Stone Agent of Change, and a Bon Appetit Chef of the Year. He has taken home five James Beard Awards, including Best New Restaurant (2009, Momofuku Ko) and Outstanding Chef (2013).

Momofuku (Clarkson Potter, Fall 2009) sold to Absolute Press (UK/BritComm), Prunsoop (Korean), Alfaomega (Spanish), Pavel Dobrovsky (Czech)

Pithy Forays into the Top 100 Words Bright People Should Know, But (Very) Often (Secretly) Don't

Ross Petras and Kathryn Petras

Ten Speed Press

On-sale date: March 10, 2020

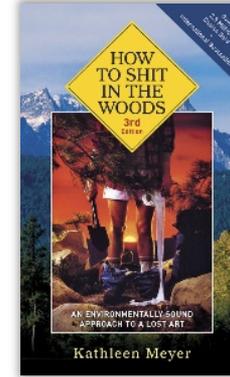

Manuscript scheduled for May 2019

Written in the breezy, entertaining yet informative style of New York Times best seller You're Saying It Wrong, this book from language gurus Ross Petras and Kathryn Petras gives readers a brief rundown on words smart people should know—from the worlds of science and the arts to philosophy, from broader topics like quantum physics and ontology to smaller, more specific ones like Schrodinger's cat, Plato's cave, and trompe l'oeil. It's a diverse collection, but they all have that slippery "I think I know that, but . . ." thing in common, recently dubbed by Slate as one's "bubble vocabulary." These are the words that, if you were asked directly, "What does this mean?" you might hem and haw and try to change the subject.

With this book, you won't have to.

KATHRYN PETRAS and ROSS PETRAS are the authors of the #1 best-selling page-a-day calendar The 365 Stupidest Things Ever Said (now in its 21st year with over 4.5 million copies sold) and many other best-selling humor and gift books. They recently launched a new NPR-affiliate podcast based on their recent New York Times best seller, You're Saying It Wrong. Their work has received the attention of personalities like David Brinkley and Howard Stern, and media outlets including the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Playboy, Washington Post, Huffington Post, and the London Times.

How to Shit in the Woods, 4th Edition

An Environmentally Sound Approach to a Lost Art

Kathleen Meyer

Ten Speed Press

On-sale date: March 3, 2020

Manuscript scheduled for April 2019

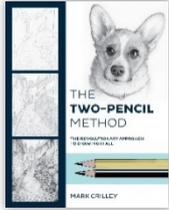

Just in time for the 30th anniversary of How to Shit in the Woods, Kathleen Meyer delivers an update to the beloved guide to relieving yourself responsibly. With the recent influx of visitors tromping through the backcountry and the current climate crisis, How to Shit in the Woods provides timely techniques for keeping trails, bushes, and wild waters clean and protected when indoor plumbing is not an option. Meyer shares proper procedures and instructions in a way that is compelling and comprehensible for all audiences, from beginner to expert. The fourth edition will be refurbished with updated equipment recommendations, laws and regulations, statistics, and technological innovations. How to Shit in the Woods is the backcountry backpacker's bible, crucial for anyone looking to be wiser with their waste.

A graduate of San Francisco State University, KATHLEEN MEYER is a longtime environmental activist. She was the founding editor of Headwaters, published by Friends of the River; her travel essays have appeared in the Travelers' Tales anthologies; and her adventure memoir Barefoot Hearted: A Wild Life Among Wildlife was released by Villard in 2001.
