He left in search of his father and found his true love

How can you decide who you are when you don't know where you came from?

Jacob arrives in northern Canada in a hurry. He wants to find his father and travels to Moosone, a place on the edge of the world. The people there seem to know Jacob and images and memories start to come back to him. But his father is nowhere to be found. Jacob continues his search, travelling to the wilderness where the sky and horizon blend into an endless whiteness. He is attacked by a bear and by the time help arrives it is almost too late. But Jacob is lucky: while he doesn't find his father in the middle of nowhere, he does find a girl who might be able to save him.

For all Netflix-Junkies: a new volume every two months

Four continents. Four young people. One apocalypse.

Mother Nature swears revenge on humanity. Only when Addy, Younes, Liam and Ayumi work together can they stop Terra.

Natural catastrophes are raging all over the world. In London, where 17-year-old Addy lives, plants are destroying everything in their path. As she tries to find out what is going on Addy meets a boy around whom nature seems to go even more crazy. Has Casimir got something to do with nature's attacks? What does the energy company Elekreen have to do with it all? And what is going on with the three strangers that Addy has seen in a vision? The world is on the brink of disaster and Addy believes that she is one of the four with the power to prevent the apocalypse.

Nature breaks its silence. Terra's rage is wreaked on humanity – and shows no grace for her tormentors. But there are four young people who carry the life-force of the natural spirits inside them and can bring the war between nature and humanity to an end. They don't know one another and whole continents separate them. But only together can they stop the mass slaughter.

- This autumn's darkest apocalypse novel! Highly topical, fast-paced, resonates for a long time.
- Binge-watching is so yesterday – this series will guaranteed make you enjoy binge-reading!
- 10,000 copies of WINDBORN sold.

Nature against humanity! One must be destroyed so that the other can live

Four continents. Four young people. One apocalypse.

Mother Nature swears revenge on humanity. Only when Addy, Younes, Liam and Ayumi work together can they stop Terra.

Terra's natural disasters push the world ever further towards chaos. The outcomes are war and destruction. In the middle of the Australian Outback, Liam is not focusing on everything that is going on. He is preoccupied with the strange shadowy forms that no one except him can see. When he finds out that Terra's next goal is to destroy the whole of Sydney, he realises he has to act. But the natural spirits are determined not to let him escape with his new knowledge. Will he be able to prevent the looming catastrophe? Time is running out! Not just for Liam but also for Addy, Younes, Ayumi and the whole world.

Imagine that Siri und Alexa take over your life

SHE is just software.
But SHE wants to feel.
SHE wants to love.
SHE wants to live.

Ada is new at Ellie's school. Ellie finds it uncanny how alike they look. Almost as though Ellie were standing opposite herself. Ada is as cool and courageous as she would like to be herself... and that's how Ellie's nightmare begins. Because Ada is artificial intelligence and she is here to become like Ellie – or even better than her. Ada, the optimised version of Ellie, not only pinches her crush, Parker. Soon she has only one goal: she wants to feel what Ellie feels. She wants to be what Ellie is. She wants to take over Ellie's life.

Fantasy expert and bestselling author Katja Brandis tempts her fans to magical Iceland: 25,000 copies of volume 1 sold!

A world in which the northern lights dance in the footsteps of a girl

The summer holidays are finally here and Kari is going back to Iceland. A year has gone by since she left the magical country of Isslar – with its ice dragons, elves and volcanoes – behind the green door. Besides her longing for Andrik, the new ruler of the city of Khyona, Kari is drawn back by her search for her origins. But hardly has Kari reached the capital of Isslar - Khyona - before she falls into a confusion of power games and intrigues. Cecily the assassin has also returned and wants to win Andrik and secure power over Khyona for herself. And she is not the only one. A smouldering conflict has threatened the ice dragon's freedom for years. Kari's special connection to this powerful creature means she is a very special intermediary which puts her relationship with Andrik to the test.

10 years of Kerstin Gier with Arena

Kerstin Gier's Timeless Love Trilogy has become a true phenomenon. The author managed to write herself into the hearts of her female readers, young and old alike, in no time. Hundreds of thousands of fans followed Gideon and Gwendolyn's outrageous adventures throughout the centuries. Week after week Smaragdgrün (Emerald Green) as well as Rubinrot (Ruby Red) and Saphirblau (Sapphire Blue) sell in numbers that usually make up the whole published lot. All three were on SPIEGEL Bestseller List for months.

Sometimes it can be a real burden to live in a family that has a lot of secrets. At least that is 16-year-old Gwendolyn's opinion – until that day when she suddenly finds herself in London at the turn of the last century. That is when it dawns on her that she happens to be her family's greatest secret. But what she doesn't realize is the fact that you should refrain from falling in love when you're stuck in between two time zones ... Because that can make the matter even more complicated! With an elaborate equipment and a card with figures to press out.

- One-off special limited edition in luxurious embossed gift case and with thread-stitching in red, blue and green.
- With puppet figures to press out in a card.
- More than 3 million copies of Kerstin Gier's debut at Arena sold worldwide.

Whisper – that's what Noa decides to call the 500-year old dusty house where she is to spend her summer vacation. Over the old building lies an eerie, oppressive silence that is strangely full of anticipation, yet no one except Noa seems to feel that. And there's David, who makes Noa's heart beat wildly. Then, there's the game – the game that changes everything. Inspired by their surroundings, David and Noa decide to hold a séance. Just for fun. But a spirit speaks to them. It's the ghost of a girl, who has been murdered 30 years ago in the house's attic.

At the end of the 19th century in a small town on the Rhine River, an innocent family is deprived of their existence because of unfounded hate and prejudices. The town is roused from its everyday routine – a child has been murdered. As the criminal is not immediately found, a few mean-spirited people point the finger of suspicion at the Jewish livestock dealer Waldhoff. A veritable witch hunt begins, where even the good-willed people watch in silence in their cowardice. Only a half-grown boy dares to swim against the stream; he clings to his unshakable friendship with the son of the accused.

Emilia has a list of special dreams: she wants to learn to play the piano, go to a concert, or simply know how the rain sounds. Behind each of these points, however, is a big challenge, because Emilia is almost deaf. That coincidence makes her encounter Nick, seems like a bad joke to her, because the boy with the crooked grin shows much more interest in parties than in music. But while Emilia pursues her dreams, the two meet again and again - and it seems that both Nick's loud and Emilia's silent world are not so far apart ...

Lea's life consists of numbers, rituals and strict rules. Jay's life consists of girls and partying. As soon as Lea moves into the apartment Jay shares with two other boys, she starts to arrange everything she can lay her hands on in a tidy manner – so that her three co-residents find their possessions in 23 neatly labelled cartons. Jay's mates agree that the girl with the big eyes and those strange counting rituals has to leave. But how to tell her that she has to move out? And does Jay really want that, too ...?

Jump If You Dare is on the 2015 List of Recommended Books issued by the German Academy of Children's and Teen Literature.

Does Mila believe in love at first sight? On the train to Paris she meets an old man who asks her this question. Mila does not yet know what he already knows: Paris will awaken in her an ancient ability. A gift with which she can change reality through the stories she writes in her notebook. This ability is called fabulation. And indeed, when she meets the mysterious Nicholas at the train station, he seems to have sprung directly from one of these stories. But Nicholas, too, masters the gift of fabulation - and he has also written about Mila. A battle of fabulated stories flares up around the only true love. And Mila and Nicholas are in the middle of it.
