HOW TO COOK: Building Blocks and 100 Simple Recipes for a Lifetime of Meals

By Hugh Acheson

In HOW TO COOK, Hugh Acheson distills the cooking lessons that everyone should master into twenty-five basic building blocks: easy-to-grasp recipes that can turn anyone, young or old, into a confident home cook. Each of these recipes teaches a fundamental skill, such as roasting or whisking together a classic vinaigrette, and each stands alone as a stellar back-pocket basic. After laying the groundwork, Hugh then offers recipes that expand on these foundations, whether it's remixing the flavors of one of the basic recipes, or combining a couple of them, to show you how you can produce a lifetime's worth of dishes.

Hugh Acheson is the chef/partner of the restaurants Five & Ten, The National, and Empire State South, named restaurant of the year by Atlanta magazine. He is winner of two James Beard Awards for Best Chef Southeast and Best American Cookbook, has been featured in numerous food and wine publications, and appeared on Bravo's Top Chef as a judge. Hugh is the author of THE BROAD FORK, A NEW TURN IN THE SOUTH, PICK A PICKLE, and THE CHEF AND THE SLOW COOKER. He lives in Athens, Georgia.

BLACK, WHITE, AND THE GREY: The Story of an Unexpected Friendship and a Landmark Restaurant

By Mashama Bailey and John Morisano

BLACK, WHITE, AND THE GREY is a story about the mission, trials, and triumphs of two individuals with seemingly little in common--chef Mashama Bailey and media startup defector John O. Morisano--who came together to build what they hoped would be a special restaurant.

Bailey and Morisano, co-owners of The Grey, tell their story in stereo, explaining how they went from tentative business partners to best friends as they turned a dilapidated Jim Crow-era Greyhound bus station in historic Savannah, Georgia, into one of the hottest restaurants in the country, all while facing down their inherent biases about race, class, and culture through honest, unflinching discussions. In celebration of the food and drinks that bring people together, a recipe caps each chapter--from Country Pasta (with pork belly) to Salted Honey Chess Pie--peppering the narrative with food from their story.

Mashama Bailey, executive chef and partner at The Grey and The Grey Market, was previously the head chef at Gabrielle Hamilton's beloved restaurant Prune and chairs the board of the Edna Lewis Foundation. She has been the subject of stories in USA Today, The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, Condé Nast Traveler, Food & Wine, Ebony, Bon Appétit, Cherry Bombe, Garden & Gun, and Cosmopolitan; has starred in an episode of Chef's Table; and has won the James Beard Award for Best Chef (Southeast).

John O. Morisano, previously a media-startup entrepreneur, is the founding partner at The Grey and The Grey Market. Morisano oversaw the painstaking restoration of the dilapidated Greyhound bus station and directs the business operations. He has helped reshape and expand the mission of the Edna Lewis Foundation and serves as a board member and the treasurer.

GOOD DRINKS: Alcohol-Free Recipes for When You're Not Drinking for Whatever Reason
By Julia Bainbridge

Writer Julia Bainbridge spent a summer driving across the U.S. going to bars, restaurants, and everything in between in pursuit of the question: Can you make an outstanding nonalcoholic drink? The answer came back emphatically yes, with elevated libations to satisfy the most discerning drinkers. With an extensive pantry section, tips for sourcing ingredients, and recipes curated from stellar bartenders around the country, GOOD DRINKS shows that decadent brunch cocktails, afternoon refreshers, and evening digestifs can be enjoyed by anyone, whether they are drinking alcohol or not.

COOK THIS BOOK: Techniques That Teach and Recipes to Repeat
By Molly Baz

COOK THIS BOOK is a new kind of foundational cookbook from Molly Baz, who's here to teach you everything she knows about becoming a better, more efficient cook.

Editor: Jennifer Sit

Rights: World

Co-Agents: Clarkson Potter and Ten Speed Press

Status: Materials Available

Title Specs:

Trim: 209 x 260 mm (8-1/4 x 10-1/4 in)

Pages: 304

Price: $32.50

Molly breaks the essentials of cooking down to its most basic parts by creating 100 clear and uncomplicated recipes that deliver big flavor with little effort, including dishes like Hot Chicken Cutlets with Kimchi Ranch, Chickpea-Chorizo Rigatoni Carbonara, and Elote Popcorn Hands. More than a collection of recipes, readers will gain the invaluable superpower of improvisation by understanding the most elemental aspects of a recipe, like each type of ingredient--broken up here as produce, meat, seafood, dairy, and dry--and learning from visually dynamic lessons on topics like ABS (Always! Be! Seasoning!), This Is Your Brain on Food (i.e., How Flavor Works), How to Master the Spectacular Seven (Salty, Sweet, Bitter, Sour, Umami, Fatty, and Spicy), and more. 20 of the recipes will include a QR code linking to a video of Molly performing a technique.

Molly Baz is senior food editor at Bon Appétit. She develops recipes that run in the print magazine and online, appeared as talent in several of the brand's YouTube series, and contributes to the Bon Appétit Foodcast. Molly lives in Brooklyn with her husband, Ben, and their dog, Tuna.

PROVECHO: Plant-Inspired Mexican Recipes to Celebrate Culture and Community

By Edgar Castrejon

Provecho (the Latin expression for wishing someone a good meal) is a celebration of food and family, honors the traditional recipes of Mexican and Latin-American culture while cooking with compassion. The 100 vegan recipes, many of which take 30 minutes or less and rely on readily accessible ingredients are organized by how meals are approached in Edgar's family, chapters include: La Mesa Llena (the full table), with slow-simmered soups and stews, empanadas, tamales and all the must-have sides like rice and beans; La Mesita (the small table), featuring simpler meals like tacos and quesadillas; La Mañana Después de la Cruda (the "morning after" party), with the dishes you wake up craving after a big night, like cinnamon pancakes and breakfast burritos; Antojitos (little cravings), think salsas, salads and ceviches; Bebidas (beverages), from comforting horchata to spicy tamarind juice, with options to transform some drinks into cocktails; and Los Dulces Especiales (the special desserts) for flan, cakes, sweet empanadas, and more.

Edgar Castrejon is a chef, recipe developer, food stylist, and photographer based in the Bay Area. The son of parents who moved from Mexico in 1989, Edgar grew up in a diverse neighborhood in Oakland and discovered early on that he had "las manos magicas." The first in his family to attend college, Edgar studied plant science and nutrition. While in school he launched his Instagram account, where these days his many followers tune in for his creative, nourishing, plant-based recipes and beautiful food photography. Edgar has worked with brands including KitchenAid, Saje Natural Wellness, and Vitamix, and was named a "Fab Five Influencer" and "Plant Revolutionist" at the 2019 Expo West.

UNTITLED DAVE CHANG
By David Chang and Peter Meehan

eing a chef can make you the absolute worst kind of home cook. Either you're too fussy when dinner just needs to be on the table (without an hour of dishes to do afterwards), or, like Momofuku chef David Chang, you just...never cook at home--your apartment is just a place to sleep. But now, with a young family to feed, Dave found himself having to retrain every instinct in his kitchen. With a decidedly non-restaurant pantry and no-frills equipment, he now has the same goals as every other mortal home cook: to make something as delicious as possible, in the least amount of time possible, with as little mess as possible.

And what Dave learned is...to never cook like a chef. Don't look at recipes. Let go of the idea that fresh peas are better than frozen ones. Put the microwave to use--a lot. Forget meticulous browning in a stockpot; just shove the meat under the broiler. And go ahead, make the sauce for pasta cacio e pepe in a blender, no matter what that cool chef says about how you have to slowly emulsify everything in a pan at the absolute correct temperature. This is a book of delicious recipes, maximizing flavor while minimizing effort (and culinary orthodoxy), but really it's a guide to unlocking culinary dark arts of trickery, shortcuts, and hacks, brought to you by a chef who's made a career of doing everything the hard way...and is as tired of doing it as you are of hearing about it.

David Chang is the chef and founder of Momofuku. Since opening Momofuku Noodle Bar in New York City in 2004, David has been honored as a Food & Wine Best New Chef and Bon Appétit Chef of the Year, and has won five James Beard Awards, including Outstanding Chef and Best Chef New York City. David has been recognized as a Time 100 honoree, was named GQ's Man of the Year, and has appeared on Fortune's 40 Under 40 and Esquire's list of the "most influential people of the twenty-first century." David's cookbook, Momofuku, is a New York Times best-seller. In 2018 David founded Majordomo Media and launched The Dave Chang Show podcast in partnership with The Ringer. David collaborated with Academy Award-winning director Morgan Neville on the Netflix original documentary series Ugly Delicious.

CHAAT: Recipes from the Kitchens, Markets, and Railways of India
By Maneet Chauhan and Jody Eddy

In CHAAT, Maneet Chauhan explores India's most iconic, delicious, and fun-to-eat foods coming from and inspired by her discoveries during an epic cross-country railway journey that brought her to local markets, street vendors, and the homes of family and friends. From simple roasted sweet potatoes with star fruit, lemon, and spices to a fragrant layered chicken biryani rice casserole, and the flakiest onion and egg stuffed flatbreads, the recipes are varied, colorful, and expressive. Maneet weaves in personal stories and remembrances as well as historical and cultural notes as she winds her way from North to South and East to West, sharing recipes like Goan Fried Shrimp Turnovers, Chicken Momo Dumplings from Guwahati in Assam, Hyderabad's Spicy Pineapple Chaat, and Warm-Spiced Carrot and Semolina Pudding from Amristar. Chaat is a celebration of the diversity of India's food and people.

Maneet Chauhan is a James Beard Award-winning chef, television personality, author and the founding partner and president of Morph Hospitality Group in Nashville, Tennessee. Her celebrated restaurant concepts include Chauhan Ale & Masala House, The Mockingbird and Chaatable, and have been featured in publications like Food & Wine, Wall Street Journal, and the New York Times.

Jody Eddy is a food and travel writer whose work has appeared in Saveur, Food + Wine, Vice, and Vogue, among others. She co-authored the IACP award-winning cookbook NORTH: The New Nordic Cuisine of Iceland and the James Beard-nominated cookbook COME IN, WE'RE CLOSED. She lives in Minneapolis.

IT'S ALWAYS FREEZER SEASON: How to Freeze Like a Chef with 100 Make-Ahead Recipes
By Ashley Christensen and Kaitlyn Goalen

The freezer is Ashley Christensen and Kaitlyn Goalen's secret weapon to "doing it all" in their home kitchen: it makes convenience eating (the "15 minute meal") more delicious; it makes project meals worth the effort; it makes shopping and cooking less wasteful and more economical; and it enables her to use food to support her friends and community. In Freezer Season, Christensen and Goalen reveal how the freezer can easily become the single most important "kitchen tool" of a home kitchen. With delicious recipes, bright photography, helpful technical info, and extras like how to stock a freezer pantry, tips for prepping for holiday cooking, and how to use the freezer to put up fruits and vegetables, this book will change the way you think about your freezer.

Ashley Christensen is the owner of six restaurants in Raleigh, NC: Poole's, Beasley's Chicken + Honey, Chuck's, Fox Liquor Bar, Death & Taxes, and most recently, Poole's Pie, which opened in 2019. She has been named one of the "Female Chefs of the Next Generation" by Bon Appétit and Chef of the Year by Eater.

Kaitlyn Goalen is a writer, editor, and cook, and she is the executive director of AC Restaurants, the hospitality group founded and owned by Ashley Christensen in Raleigh, NC. She co-founded the Short Stack Editions series of single-subject, digest-size and co-authored full-length THE SHORT STACK COOKBOOK with Nick Fauchald. She has also co-authored COOK LIKE A LOCAL (2019) with Chris Shepherd, POOLE'S (2016) with Ashley Christensen, and THE CRAFT COCKTAIL PARTY (2015) with Julie Reiner.

THE VEGAN STONER COOKBOOK 2: Over 100 Easy and Healthy Vegan Recipes to Munch
By Sarah Conrique and Graham I. Haynes

Cooking vegan doesn't have to be hard! The Vegan Stoners, Sarah Conrique and Graham I. Haynes, are back with another batch of foolproof vegan dishes. This time, the yummy, fresh recipes highlight even more whole foods and fresh produce for modern vegan meals that take you beyond the pantry and into the farmers market, with an added focus on gluten- and soy-free options.

This highly illustrated, irreverent cookbook (and its cast of eccentric vegetable characters) presents easy instructions and simple, line-drawing ingredient lists that help busy home cooks and hungry slackers alike whip together filling vegan meals with minimal time and effort. With recipes like Butternut-chos, Jackfruit "Toona" Salad, and Shroom Paella, you'll find flexible plant-based recipes that satisfy your cravings.

Sarah Conrique and Graham I. Haynes are the creative team behind Simple Gestures Design Studio, where they developed The Vegan Stoner blog and design brands for a diverse clientele. These longtime West Coast residents also produce a series of design-and illustration-focused blogs, zines, and websites.

THE NEW CRAFT OF THE COCKTAIL: Everything You Need to Know to Think Like a Master Mixologist, with 500 Recipes
 By Dale DeGross

THE CRAFT OF THE COCKTAIL was the first real cookbook for cocktails when it first published in 2002, and it has had a remarkable influence on bartending. With this new edition, the original gets a delicious update, bringing expertise from Dale DeGross, the father of craft cocktails, to the modern bar for a new generation of cocktail enthusiasts. The beloved histories, culture, tips, and tricks are back but all are newly revised, and DeGross's favorite liquor recommendations are included so you know which gin or bourbon will mix just right.

With his groundbreaking work at the Rainbow Room in the 1980s, Dale DeGross reinvented the bartending profession, setting off a cocktail revival that continues to flourish to this day. Winner of two James Beard Awards, recipient of Wine Enthusiast's Lifetime Achievement Award, and author of THE CRAFT OF THE COCKTAIL and THE ESSENTIAL COCKTAIL, DeGross is also a partner in the award-winning Beverage Alcohol Resource and the founding president of the Museum of the American Cocktail in New Orleans. He lives with his wife, artist Jill DeGross, on Long Island, New York.

FOOD BETWEEN FRIENDS
By Jesse Tyler Ferguson and Julie Tanous

If you follow Jesse Tyler Ferguson, star of Modern Family, on Instagram, you know that he loves to cook. He loves it so much that he co-founded a food blog, Julie & Jesse, with friend and culinary school-trained recipe developer Julie Tanous where they share their favorite recipes.

In FOOD BETWEEN FRIENDS, they bring the blog to life, cooking up all the delightful dishes they want to eat, focusing on the joys of food and friendship. Drawing inspiration from the regional foods of the Southwest and South that Jesse and Julie grew up with (respectively), they seamlessly merge west coast style with fun and funky recipes, such as Hatch Green Chile Mac and Cheese, Baked Eggs in Tomatoes and Grits, and Carne Asada & Shishito Skewers. This book feels just like cooking with a friend, because that's exactly what it is.

Jesse Tyler Ferguson is a celebrated actor with a passion for cooking and entertaining, best known for his lead role in the TV series Modern Family. He is focused on living the healthy L.A. lifestyle, which he incorporates into his cooking.

Julie Tanous is a sought-after recipe developer, food writer and, with Jesse Tyler Ferguson, is the co-creator of Julie & Jesse. Her recipes have been featured in Food & Wine magazine, Food & Wine's annual cookbook, Bake from Scratch, Taste of the South, People magazine, LA Weekly and InStyle online.

GOOD BOOK OF SOUTHERN BAKING: A Revival of Biscuits, Cakes, and Cornbread
By Kelly Fields

Colorful and sometimes sentimental storytelling introduces each recipe as Fields brings bakers into her world, generously divulging her ingenious tips and tricks (00 flour makes the flakiest biscuits; soaking your cornmeal overnight produces the moistest cornbread). With more than 100 recipes for quick breads, muffins, biscuits, cookies and bars, puddings and custards, cobblers, crisps, galettes, pies, tarts, and cakes--plus dozens of irresistible variations on the standards--this is the new bible for Southern baking.

So, whether it's biscuits (there are seven recipes, including one for dog biscuits because every Southern baker has a good dog to spoil) or Chess Pie you crave, Kelly Fields has you covered--and highly entertained with asides like "I'm gonna bury y'all in biscuits and cornbread." Bakers of all ages will sing the praises of this collection.

Kelly Fields has worked as a pastry chef for more than twenty years, including first working under Susan Spicer and then at August in New Orleans before opening her own Willa Jean, after which Eater New Orleans named her Chef of the Year. She won Outstanding Pastry Chef from the James Beard Foundation in 2019 and was named one of the most influential people in the South by Garden & Gun magazine.

Kate Heddings is a food journalist and writer, and the former food editor at Food & Wine.

FOOD52 BIG LITTLE RECIPES
By The Editors of Food52

A dish doesn't need to have a lot of ingredients to have a lot of flavor. Something like three-ingredient oatmeal cookies or two-ingredient pasta sauce isn't delicious in spite of its minimalism, but because of it. With smart techniques--and a few wily tricks for good measure--these ingredients can accomplish a lot more than we give them credit for.

In this book, you'll also find lots of good-to-know tips, mini-recipe spreads, and choose-your-own-adventure charts. There's a riled-up case for simpler stock, a romantic ode to canned tuna, a very good reason to always have bananas in your freezer, and more. From fresh-as-heck salads and brothy-slurpy situations to brawny meats, briny fishes, and veggie dishes too substantial to call sides, Food52 Big Little Recipes shows busy home cooks how to turn less into more.

FOOD52 was founded by Amanda Hesser and Merrill Stubbs--two authors and opinionated home cooks who formerly worked for the New York Times--to celebrate food as the center of a well-lived life with recipes, books, home goods, and more.

ZOE BAKES CAKES: Everything You Need to Know to Make Your Favorite Layers, Bundts, Loaves, and More
By Zoë François

In ZOE BAKES CAKES, bestselling author Zoë François demystifies how to craft 100 cakes, showing how to get gorgeous confections on the table to mark any occasion, big or small. In the opening chapter of the book, Zoë breaks down the fundamentals of cake baking, showing step-by-step photographs of cake fundamentals like creaming butter and sugar and whipping egg whites so that anyone can follow along. In the following chapters she gives simple, straightforward recipes for loaf cakes, layers, fillings, frostings, and more. There's even a tutorial on how to make a wedding cake from scratch, complete with constructing the layers.

Zoë François studied art at the University of Vermont while also founding a cookie company as a way to earn extra money. She then traveled throughout Europe, tasting pastries along the way, and later got a degree from the Culinary Institute of America (CIA) in New York. Since then she has been a pastry chef at several Twin Cities' restaurants and has worked repeatedly with Andrew Zimmern. Together with Jeff Hertzberg she wrote the book ARTISAN BREAD IN FIVE MINUTES A DAY, which turned into a bestselling series. She began teaching baking at a local cooking school in 1997 and eventually created the Zoë Bakes website in order to share her passion for pastry. She lives in Minneapolis with her husband Graham and two sons, her best creations yet!

SWEET LAUREL SAVORY: Everyday Decadence for Whole Food, Grain-Free Meals

By Laurel Gallucci and Claire Thomas

After being diagnosed with Hashimoto's Disease, lifelong baker Laurel Gallucci refused to accept that she'd never eat cake again. That's why she started Sweet Laurel Bakery, a sweet shop with both a brick-and-mortar location and national delivery dedicated to decadent treats made only with whole food ingredients.

Now in her second book, co-authored again with her creative director Claire Thomas, readers will enjoy the same principle--delicious simplicity (rather than restriction)--applied this time to the world of savory baking and cooking, including breads, pizza, pastas, quiches, pot pies, bowls, and more. The foundation for dishes like Sicilian Pan Pizza, The Ultimate Sweet Laurel Burger with Sweet Potato Fries, and Zucchini Lattice Tart rely on simple and readily available core ingredients like almond flour, cassava flour, arrowroot, eggs, and salt.

SWEET LAUREL SAVORY makes it possible to eat well and feel great without all the effort. Home cooks and savory bakers will delight at the range of recipes that are as doable as they are delicious and flavorful.

Laurel Gallucci has baked delicious treats since she could turn on the oven. After she was diagnosed with an aggressive autoimmune disorder and her doctor put her on a strict diet, she started creating recipes of her own and turned her test kitchen into Sweet Laurel Bakery.

Claire Thomas is the cofounder, creative director, and photographer of Sweet Laurel. She is also the cook, writer, and photographer behind The Kitchy Kitchen.

HALF BAKED HARVEST BOOK 3
By Tieghan Gerard

Tieghan's fans are hungry for more of her trademark simple, wholesome decadence. Half Baked Harvest Book 3 delivers with 125 all-new recipes for food you can feel good about. This time around, the recipes are just as easy as her last cookbook, Half Baked Harvest Super Simple, but they also bring a new, good-for-you feeling to the table.

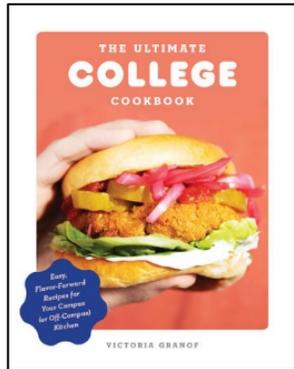

Tieghan is a pro at creating recipes to light up all your senses. The food here--including Breakfast Tostadas with Cauliflower Chorizo, Giant Twisted Spinach and Artichoke Soft Pretzel, Oven Fried Nashville Hot Chicken, and No Fuss Blackberry Lavender Tart--doesn't just taste good. It's also fun to cook, it makes your whole kitchen smell fantastic, and it looks absolutely beautiful. Each recipe is accompanied by Tieghan's stunning photography that brings the food to life and transports you to her cozy kitchen in the snowy Colorado mountains.

Tieghan Gerard is a food photographer, stylist, recipe developer, and cookbook author. Her blog, Half Baked Harvest, features a hearty mix of savory, sweet, healthy, and indulgent recipes. She believes every diet should include a little bit of chocolate because balance is the key to life!

THE ULTIMATE COLLEGE COOKBOOK: Easy, Flavor-Forward Recipes for Your Campus (or Off-Campus) Kitchen
By Victoria Granof

THE ULTIMATE COLLEGE COOKBOOK offers sixty recipes for everything from breakfast to weeknight cooking and weekend gatherings, on-campus or off. Each dish is designed to be cooked in a dorm-friendly appliance, including microwaves, toaster ovens, electric burners, rice cookers, and slow cookers.

Don't miss Baked Ravioli Lasagna (use frozen ravioli instead of pasta sheets!), Hot Chocolate Lava Cakes (baked in individual mugs), and even perfect jammy eggs cooked in a tea kettle (add them to noodle soups in a pinch). And with variations for easy twists (upgrade your oatmeal to Pumpkin-Spice All-Nighter Oats, or turn garlicky roasted cauliflower into something new with chili-laced miso), there's no chance of getting bored in the kitchen.

Victoria Granof is a Brooklyn-based food creative and stylist who earned her culinary degree from Le Cordon Bleu. Cherry Bombe included her in their list of the 100 Most Inspiring Women in Food. She has worked on cookbooks with the likes of Marcus Samuelsson and Anthony Bourdain, and her work has appeared in Bon Appétit, New York Magazine, and The New York Times, among others. However, some of her favorite clients include her college-age nieces, who look to her for easy and creative ways to give simple dorm-room meals an extra boost. Victoria is also the author of CHICKPEAS.

IN BIBI'S KITCHEN: The Recipes and Stories of Grandmothers from the Eight African Countries that Touch the Indian Ocean
 By Hawa Hassan and Julia Turshen

In this incredible volume, renowned food writer Julia Turshen and Somali chef Hawa Hassan present 75 recipes and stories gathered from bibis (or grandmothers) from eight African nations: South Africa, Mozambique, Madagascar, Comoros, Tanzania, Kenya, Somalia, and Eritrea. Most notably, these eight countries are at the backbone of the spice trade, many of them exporters of things like pepper and vanilla

Through Julia and Hawa's writing--and their own personal stories--the women, and the stories behind the recipes, come to life. With evocative photography shot on location by Khadija Farah, and food photography by Jennifer May, In Bibi's Kitchen uses food to teach us all about families, war, loss, migration, refuge, and sanctuary.

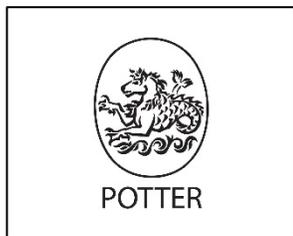

Julia Turshen is the bestselling author of NOW AND AGAIN, FEED THE RESISTANCE (named one of the best cookbooks of the year by Eater), and SMALL VICTORIES (named one of the best cookbooks of the year by The New York Times and NPR). She has written for the New York Times, The Washington Post, The Wall Street Journal, Vogue, Bon Appétit, Food & Wine, and Saveur. She is the founder of Equity At The Table (EATT), an inclusive digital directory of women and non-binary individuals in food.

Hawa Hassan is the founder and CEO of Basbaas Sauce, a line of condiments inspired by her country of origin, Somalia. Hawa and her brand have been featured in Forbes, The New York Times, The Observer, Grub Street, Vogue, The Cut, Eater, and more.

MALIBU FARM: SUNRISE TO SUNSET
 By Helen Henderson

This book makes the idyllic, carefree, beachy vibes an attainable reality. It is also an ode to home cooking from an author who truly gets it; Malibu Farm's path to success is rooted in Helene's completely self-taught skill. The recipes that she shares here--including options like Surfers Huevos Rancheros, Avocado Pizza with Serrano and Ricotta, Pumpkin Chocolate Caramel Bread Pudding, and more--are all utterly doable, and they make it easy to replicate the restaurant's farm-to-table goodness and beachside relaxation from your own kitchen. MALIBU FARM: SUNRISE TO SUNSET encourages you to create memorable meals fit for the beach any day, all day.

Helene Henderson learned to cook in Sweden, where she is from. In 1997, she started Lavender Farms Catering in LA, specializing in organic food. Malibu Farm began in her backyard with cooking classes and catered farm dinners. Now, she is the chef-owner of Malibu Farm, and the restaurant has expanded to 8 cities. She lives in Malibu with her husband, screenwriter and director John Stockwell, and their three children.

MISTER JIU'S IN CHINATOWN: Recipes and Stories from the Birthplace of Chinese American Food

By Brandon Jew

Instead of the usual tools of modern fine dining in this country, Mister Jiu's relies mostly on Chinese equipment and methods, like woks, chopsticks, steam, smoking over open wood fires, and blanching in oil. The result is a menu grounded in Chinese tradition but also unbounded by borders. In this unique cookbook, Jew gives us spins on classic recipes like Sizzling Rice Soup, Orange Chicken Wings, and Liberty Roast Duck to interesting takes on Crispy Pork Sui Yok, Squid Ink Wontons, and Banana Black Sesame Pie, and of course an entire chapter devoted to dumplings and entertaining.

Beginning with the fundamentals of Chinese cooking and then moving into master class recipes, both occasional and more experienced cooks will benefit from Jew's intrepid tricks. Through 100 moving and evocative photographs of finished dishes as well as atmospheric shots of Chinatown, Jew shares an intimate look down the alleyways, above the tourist shops, and into the kitchens of Chinatown's residents as they live and continue to thrive in the Chinatown that changed the flavor of America.

Brandon Jew is chef and owner of Mister Jiu's, a Chinese-American restaurant in the heart of America's oldest Chinatown. After working closely with Judy Rodgers at Zuni Café and Michael Tusk at Quince, he led the opening kitchens of celebrated restaurants Camino and Bar Agricole before opening Mister Jiu's in April 2016. Brandon was named Chef of the Year by San Francisco Magazine, Best Chef by Thrillist, and was a James Beard Best Chef West nominee.

Tienlon Ho is an award-winning writer focused on food and culture. Her work has appeared in Lucky Peach, California Sunday, San Francisco Chronicle, The New York Times, and GQ.

AT HOME IN THE KITCHEN: Simple Recipes from a Chef's Night Off
By David Kinch with Devin Fuller

In AT HOME IN THE KITCHEN, David presents the unfussy dishes he cooks most often, including Brussels Sprouts with Cider and Goat Cheese, Summer Squash with Canned Sardines, Orecchiette and Broccoli alla Romana, California Crab Boil, Garlic and Ginger Grilled Chicken, Lamb Meatballs in Almond and Pepper Sauce, Chickpea Minestrone, and much more. While each recipe has no more than a few key ingredients, David's clever techniques, subtle twists, and fresh flavor combinations guarantee delicious results in no time at all.

Photographed on location in Santa Cruz, where David surfs, sails, and entertains friends, this fun and festive cookbook also features his recommendations for the best songs to listen to while cooking, and the classic cocktails (rum punch, daiquiris, sangria, margaritas!) that should precede every meal. If you want to add a deliciously laidback vibe to your weeknight dinners, this book is for you.

David Kinch is the James Beard Award-winning chef/co-owner of Manresa, Manresa Bread, The Bywater, and the forthcoming Mentone. Manresa is a three-Michelin-starred restaurant, a member of Relais & Chateaux, one of the San Francisco Chronicle's top 100 restaurants for fifteen consecutive years, and was named to Bon Appetit's 20 Most Important Restaurants in America list. David is also the author of the New York Times bestselling book MANRESA: An Edible Reflection, and he won an Emmy Award for his role in the PBS series The Mind of a Chef. He enjoys spending time outside surfing and sailing along the California coast.

UNTITLED NIGERIAN COOKBOOK

By Yewande Komolafe

The city of Lagos in Nigeria is a key part of a larger conversation about West African cuisine, and its influences beyond West Africa. This cookbook consists of 75 recipes that are all served in recipe developer and food stylist Yewande Komolafe's fast paced, ever-changing home city of Lagos. These recipes reflect the regional cooking of the country and reveal two complementary qualities of Nigerian cuisine - its singularity and accessibility. These are recipes that are considered national dishes, classics - ones can be cooked anywhere. Through chapter intros, recipe headnotes and sidebars Yewande explains how in a country where dozens of ethnic groups interact, a cuisine has developed that transcends tribal boundaries.

Yewande's personal narrative is woven throughout the book and cautions readers against being burdened by notions of authenticity. Beautiful lifestyle photography of the city invites readers into the energy and pulse of Lagos and the food photography invites us to make each and every dish in the book.

Yewande Komolafe is a recipe developer, food stylist and author of the New York Times "10 Essential Nigerian Recipes".

SOUTHERN GROUND: Reclaiming Flavor Through Stone-Milled Flour

By Jennifer Lapidus

Through profiles and recipes Jennifer Lapidus highlights the incredible work that bakers all over the south are doing. Serving us with instruction and insight into how to use and enjoy these flavor forward flours of geographic distinction, SOUTHERN GROUND harnesses the wisdom and knowledge that our baking community has gained. With detailed profiles on the top southern bakers and 80 recipes arranged by grain, this is a love story to southern baking and a call for the home baker to understand the source and makeup of most important of ingredients, flour.

Jennifer Lapidus is the founder and principal of Carolina Ground Flour Mill in Asheville, North Carolina. She launched her Natural Bridge Bakery in 1994, where she milled her flours in-house and baked her naturally leavened breads in a wood-fired brick oven. Her bakery was the first of its kind in Western North Carolina and was featured in Peter Reinhart's book WHOLE GRAIN BREADS. Jennifer and Carolina Ground have also been featured in Peter Reinhart's latest book, BREAD REVOLUTION as well as Lionel Vatinet's A PASSION FOR BREAD; Amy Halloran's THE NEW BREAD BASKET; Samuel Fomartz's IN SEARCH OF THE PERFECT LOAF; Simran Sethi's, BREAD, WINE, CHOCOLATE: The Slow Loss of Foods We Love; and Tara Jensen's A BAKER'S YEAR. Lapidus has also been featured in the New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, Splendid Table, Bon Appetit, Food & Wine Magazine, Saveur, Taste of the South, and numerous other local publications. Jennifer sits on the board of Carolina Farm Stewardship Association and is co-organizer of the Asheville Bread Festival.

WINE STYLES: Discover the Wines You Will Love Through 40 Simple Recipes
By Kate Leahy

WINE STYLES is the modern, casual guide to finding which wines you love and what foods to pair them with. There are no rules here (especially none of the old-fashioned ones, like "seafood should always be paired with white"): chicken can be great with any wine variety, depending on how you prepare it; no one will judge you for pairing butter with butter (in the form of shortbread and chardonnay, it's a winning combination!); and "picnic wines" are absolutely a varietal of their own.

So whether you're looking to find an affordable new mainstay bottle for weeknight dinners, incorporate dessert wines into your routine, or learn how orange wine is made, WINE STYLES has you covered. And what could be a more delicious and fun way to explore different varietals than by cooking the perfect complementary snacks and dishes to go with them. You're bound to find new favorites--in foods and wines alike--with winning combinations such as baked lemony feta with sparkling wine, parsnip and blue cheese galette with a bold red, harissa-deviled eggs with crisp rose, and so much more.

Kate Leahy is a San Francisco chef turned journalist. She has written ten books, including A16 FOOD + WINE, the IACP cookbook of the year. She is the co-author of LA BUVETTE: Recipes and Wine Notes from Paris as well as the upcoming THE NEW ITALIAN WINE (April 2021). Her work has appeared in publications from CNN's Parts Unknown to Eating Well.

LIFE IS WHAT YOU BAKE IT
By Vallery Lomas

Lawyer-turned-baker Vallery Lomas was the first Black woman to win a season of the Great American Baking Show franchise. However, her win was never seen by the world--Vallery's season was pulled after just a few episodes when one of the judges became a focal point in a #metoo accusation. Rather than throwing in her whisk and lamenting all of the missed opportunities she hoped to receive (book deal! Product endorsements! TV show!), she held her head high and hustled--which resulted in her getting press coverage everywhere from CNN to People Magazine.

Now, in her first baking book of more than 100 recipes for everything from beignets to cannelés and banana bread to bagels, Vallery shares family recipes from her native Louisiana, time spent in Paris, the Great American Baking Show, and of course sweets and breads inspired by her now-home, New York City. Vallery's "when life gives you lemons, make lemon curd" philosophy will empower legions of bakers and fans to find their inner warrior and bake their best life.

Vallery Lomas is the first Black winner of the Great American Baking Show franchise. Her season was famously cancelled due to a judge's #metoo indiscretions. She has since appeared on CNN, The Today Show, and The Hallmark Channel, and has been featured everywhere from Food + Wine to Forbes. She launched her blog, Foodie in New York, in 2009.

THE MAMAN COOKBOOK: All-Day Recipes to Warm Your Heart
By Elisa Marshall and Benjamin Sormonte

Welcome to Maman. Maman ("mother" in French) was created to fill a void that fiancés Elisa Marshall and Benjamin Sormonte saw in the café scene--a beautiful, homey place where you could savor a delicious, freshly baked cookie or quiche and gather with friends for a lively brunch as if in your own living room.

In their debut cookbook, the owners of this elegant and charming New York City-based collection of cafés share the recipes of some of their bestselling baked goods and dishes alongside brand new ones. This collection of 100 recipes spans breakfast to dessert and everything in between, all united by the sense of family-inspired tradition. Handed down through generations, this is the food that makes you feel at home while also appealing to modern tastes and design aesthetics. The spirit of the café is reflected in recipes like Banana Lavender Waffles with Vanilla Mascarpone, Roasted Delicata Squash, Hazelnut and Taleggio Focaccia Tartine, and the made-famous-by-Oprah Nutty Chocolate Chip Cookie.

Blending the allure of New York City with beloved French fare and café culture, THE MAMAN COOKBOOK encourages the Francophile in you to create delicious café favorites and special moments in your own home.

Elisa Marshall is the co-founder of Maman, her vision for the perfect café. Elisa serves as creative director, does a bit of everything in the kitchen, creates and hosts events and workshops, and is a contributing columnist for Martha Stewart online.

Benjamin Sormonte helped open the first Maman location with partner and now fiancée Elisa Marshall. Ben manages all of the company's business elements. He and Elisa have quickly turned Soho's best-kept secret into New York City's most beloved café.

BAVEL: Modern Recipes Inspired by the Middle East
By Ori Menashe and Genevieve Gergis

From acclaimed Los Angeles chef Ori Menashe and pastry chef Genevieve Gergis comes the next book from their roaringly successful restaurant, Bavel. The food of BAVEL tells the many stories of the countries defined as "the Middle East"--recipes are influenced by the flavors and techniques from all corners of this eastern region, and many are inspired by and plucked directly from Ori's Israeli upbringing and Genevieve's Egyptian roots. BAVEL celebrates the freedom to cook what we love without loyalty to any specific country, and represents a world before "the Middle East" was divided into separate nations. This is cooking without borders.

Ori Menashe is co-owner and executive chef of Bestia and Bavel.

Genevieve Gergis is the co-owner and pastry chef of Bestia and Bavel. Lesley Suter is the travel editor for Eater, the former deputy editor for Los Angeles magazine, and a two-time James Beard award-winner for food writing.

THE JAPANESE COCKTAIL

By Julia Momose

Julia Momose, Japanese mixologist and owner of Bar Kumiko in Chicago, presents an enchanting journey into the realm of Japanese spirits and cocktails with 100 drink recipes inspired by the 24 micro-seasons that define the ebb and flow of life in Japan. From the iconic "hard shake" and their studious devotion to ice and presentation, Japanese cocktail culture is an art form treated with the same kind of spiritual reverence as sushi making. In this essential guide, Julia elegantly breaks down these master techniques and presents provocative recipes, including perfected classics like the Manhattan and Negroni, riffs on some of Japan's most beloved cocktails like highballs, and spiritfree drinks inspired by traditional ingredients, such as yuzu, barley tea, and sour plum. As micro-seasonality defines Japanese bartending culture, shaping the flavors and ingredients used throughout the year, readers will become enveloped in this hypnotic cycle, enjoying the spicy, woody Autumn's Jacket that evokes smoldering burn of smoking rice fields in fall or the invigorating Cherry Americano whose bittersweetness would quench even the most oppressive thirst in early summer. While the drinks transport, complementary essays on cocktail culture and history, along with in-depth inion on Japanese spirits educate and inspire.

Born and raised in Japan, Julia Momose grew up with a meticulous appreciation for the details. She worked her way up from a bar-back position in college, to opening her own bar, the acclaimed Kumiko, an intimate Japanese-influenced drinks experience in Chicago. She's been the head bartender in charge of multiple nationally acclaimed bar programs including Union Square Hospitality Group's Michelin-starred GreenRiver and The Annex and The Aviary, a James Beard Award-winning bar, and the Oriole, a two Michelin-starred tasting menu restaurant in Chicago.

THAT SOUNDS SO GOOD

By Carla Lalli Music

Since Carla knows that we only cook what we have time for and choose recipes based on what's going to be realistic on a given day, the recipes in That Sounds So Good are organized by situations that we all find ourselves in: quick stovetop suppers and one-pot/one-pan meals for weeknights; nourishing salads and grain bowls if you want to be a little cleaner; lazy lunches and all-day stews for the weekend.

Readers can find recipes based on their own needs at any given moment, knowing that whatever they choose to cook, the food will be Carla to the core--bold, unique flavors with a straightforward method and swap-friendly ingredients. Through it all, Carla shares strategies that keep cooking effortless and quick, like using the time it takes for water to boil to pick the herbs or toast the nuts you'll use later. That Sounds So Good shows Carla practicing what she preaches--that home-cooked meals are a way of life that anyone can achieve.

Carla Lalli Music is the food director at Bon Appétit, where she oversees the brand's food and recipe content across all digital platforms. She writes frequently for the magazine and its websites—bonappetit.com, Basically, and Healthyish—and is a frequent host on the Bon Appétit foodcast. Music also hosted recipe and technique videos on BA's YouTube channel, where millions of subscribers tune in to see what's cooking in the test kitchen. She lives in Brooklyn with her husband and two sons.

HEROES' FEAST: The Official Dungeons & Dragons Cookbook
By Kyle Newman, Michael Witwer, and Jon Peterson

From the D&D experts behind DUNGEONS & DRAGONS ART & ARCANA comes a cookbook that invites fantasy lovers to learn about their favorite fictional cultures through their unique cuisines and lifestyles. With this book, you can prepare dishes delicate enough to dine like elves and their drow cousins or hearty enough to feast like a dwarven clan or a boisterous orcish horde. All eighty dishes--developed by a professional chef from one of the country's top test kitchens--are delicious, easy to prepare, and composed of wholesome ingredients readily found in our world.

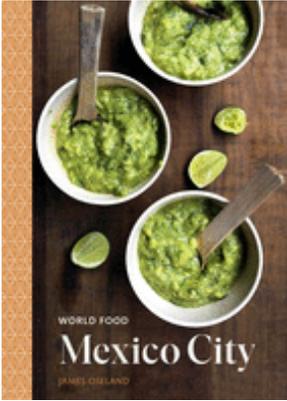

Kyle Newman is a writer/director whose directorial work includes Fanboys, written by Ernest Cline; Barely Lethal; and the music video for Taylor Swift's "Style." Kyle also produced the critically acclaimed documentary Raiders: The Story of the Greatest Fan Film Ever Made.

Michael Witwer is the author of EMPIRE OF IMAGINATION: Gary Gygax and the Birth of Dungeons & Dragons, a GeekDad best book of the year. Michael is considered an expert on D&D history and has spoken on the topic at Google Talks, on NPR's All Things Considered, and at major book and gaming conventions, including the Boston Book Festival, Gen Con, and Origins.

Jon Peterson is a widely recognized authority on the history of games. His book PLAYING AT THE WORLD was called "the first serious history of the development of Dungeons & Dragons" by The Village Voice. He has contributed to many academic anthologies on games including ZONES OF CONTROL and ROLE-PLAYING GAME STUDIES, as well as gaming and geek culture websites.

PASTA: The Spirit and Craft of Italy's Greatest Food, with Recipes
By Missy Robbins and Talia Baiocchi

New York City notable chef Missy Robbins fell in love with Italian food and pasta twenty-five years ago, cooking, researching, and studying her way across Italy ever since, which led her to open two of the nation's favorite pasta restaurants--Lilia and Misi. With illustrated step-by-step recipes for handmaking 40 of the most versatile pasta shapes and 100 recipes for Italian-American, regional Italian (all regions), and Robbins' own best pasta dishes, plus 25 vegetable sides, this is the hard-working manual for home cooks who aspire to master the art of pasta cooking.

Missy Robbins is the chef/owner of the acclaimed Lilia and Misi in Brooklyn, and received the 2018 James Beard Foundation Best Chef Award. Prior to opening Lilia and Misi, Robbins cooked at the Spiaggia in Chicago and then became the executive chef for A Voce in Manhattan, earning a Michelin star at the both locations and receiving three stars from The New York Times. She was a contestant on season four of Top Chef Masters, has appeared on Good Morning America, and has been profiled in a range of publications, from Vanity Fair to InStyle. She lives, makes pasta, and cooks in Brooklyn.

Talia Baiocchi is the editor in chief of PUNCH, the author of SHERRY AND SPRITZ, and a widely published food and culture writer. She lives in Brooklyn.

RED SAUCE
By Angie Rito and Scott Tacinelli

Old-school, Italian American "red sauce" is a beloved style of cooking that is rich with nostalgia, a deep sense of family, and the promise of irresistible food -- copious amounts of it. Imagine an endless assortment of antipasti at the start of every meal, multi-layered chicken and eggplant parms, enormous casseroles of luscious baked pastas laden with molten cheese -- and don't forget dessert. In their debut cookbook, Angie Rito and Scott Tacinelli, the chef-owners of Don Angie in New York City's West Village, reinvigorate the genre with a modern, multicultural point-of-view and updated dishes that proudly straddle the line between Italian and American.

Angie Rito is a chef and restaurant owner in New York City.

GRAIN + WATER = FERMENTATION
By Chad Robertson

More than a decade ago, Robertson's country levain recipe taught a generation of bread bakers to replicate the creamy crumb, crackly crust, and unparalleled flavor of his world-famous Tartine bread. It was the recipe that launched hundreds of thousands of sourdough starters and attracted a stream of notable understudies, from Danny Bowein (Mission Chinese) to Rene Redzepi (Noma). Now Robertson has teamed up with Tartine's director of bread, Jennifer Latham, to explore how superior grain and next-level flours respond to hydration and fermentation to make even better bread.

This book showcases the genius of Robertson's and Latham's collaboration. With primers on grain, and flour, leaven; an introduction to dough formulas; a glossary of terms and equipment, and master recipes for fourteen kinds of newly engineered bread--from country bread and rustic baguettes to slab bread, rolls, pizza, pasta, and even a great gluten-free loaf--this is the new manual for making the most delicious, nutrient-rich loaves. More than 120 step-by-step and finished recipe photographs, plus 45 recipes for sandwiches and other meals that showcase great bread give bakers the inspiration and instruction they need to bake bread for decades to come.

Chad Robertson is a chef and co-owner of the Tartine Bakery.

UNTITLED WEEKDAY VEGETARIANS

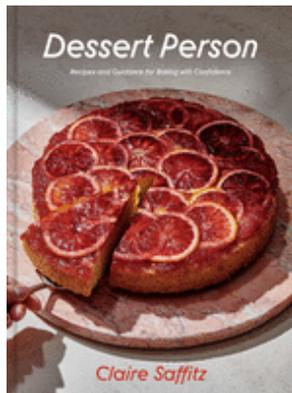

By Jenny Rosenstrach

In her newest cookbook, beloved author and Cup of Jo columnist Jenny Rosenstrach writes about being a "weekday vegetarian," i.e. eating a vegetable-based diet during the week and saving meaty splurges for the weekend. One day, it hit Rosenstrach like a lightening bolt--she, and her family, needed to eat less meat--for their health and for the greater good of the environment. In The Weekday Vegetarians, Rosenstrach shows readers how she got her family on board with meat-free meals. She uses "Hooks" that make any vegetarian dish irresistible--like spiced Crispy Chickpeas, Pizza Dough Croutons, and sweet chili glaze; "Next-Level Sauces" like Vegan Caesar, Shakedown Pesto, and Yogurt-Harissa; and "Side Dishes that make Everything Special" like Yogurt Flatbread.

Jenny Rosenstrach is the creator of Dinner: A Love Story, the award-winning website devoted to family dinner, and the New York Times Bestselling author of Dinner: A Love Story (Ecco); Dinner: The Playbook (Ballantine) and How to Celebrate Everything (Ballantine). Her essays and articles have appeared in numerous national publications and anthologies including The New York Times Book Review, Real Simple, Martha Stewart Living, Whole Living, and the op-ed page of The New York Times. She has appeared on NPR's Weekend Edition, NBC's Today, and Food Network's The Kitchen.

DESSERT PERSON: Recipes and Guidance for Baking with Confidence
By Claire Saffitz

Claire Saffitz is a baking hero for a new generation. In DESSERT PERSON, fans will find Claire's signature spin on sweet and savory recipes like Babkallah (a babka-Challah mashup), Apple and Concord Grape Crumble Pie, Strawberry-Cornmeal Layer Cake, Crispy Mushroom Galette, and Malted Forever Brownies. She outlines the problems and solutions for each recipe--like what to do if your pie dough for Sour Cherry Pie cracks (patch it with dough or a quiche flour paste!)--as well as practical do's and don'ts, skill level, prep and bake time, and foundational know-how. With Claire at your side, everyone can be a dessert person.

Claire Saffitz is the host of Bon Appétit's Gourmet Makes and Baking School, both on YouTube and iTunes, and contributes stories and recipes to the print magazine. After graduating from Harvard University, Saffitz received a master's degree in culinary history from McGill in Montreal and then studied pastry in Paris at École Grégoire Ferrandi. She lives in New York City.

RODNEY SCOTT'S WORLD OF BBQ: Every Day is a Good Day
By Rodney Scott and Lolis Eric Elie

In this cookbook, co-written by award-winning writer Lolis Eric Elie, Rodney spills what makes his pit-smoked turkey, barbecued spare ribs, fried catfish, hush puppies, Ella's Banana Puddin', and of course his award-winning barbecued whole hog, so special. Moreover, his recipes make it possible to achieve these special flavors yourself, whether you're a barbecue pro or a novice. Hard-working how-to's detailing how readers at home can build their own pits and smokers as well as poignant essays about South Carolinian foodways and traditions and gorgeous on-location photography work together to create a cookbook that barbecue geeks will use for reference as well as for its spirited storytelling.

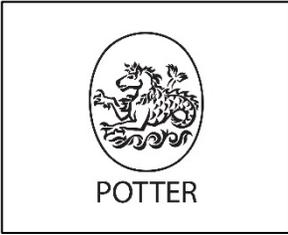

Rodney's uplifting life journey detailed in RODNEY SCOTT'S WORLD OF BBQ tells of how hope, hard work, and a whole lot of optimism built a rich celebration of his heritage--and of barbecue.

Rodney Scott is the chef and co-owner of Rodney Scott's BBQ in Charleston, South Carolina, and Birmingham, Alabama. He has been featured on The Splendid Table, Parts Unknown, It's Alive, Eater, and in The New York Times, Condé Nast Traveler, and others. He won the James Beard Award for Best Chef Southeast in 2018.

Lolis Eric Elie is a writer and filmmaker. He was a writer on Treme, The Chi, and The Man in the High Castle; his work has appeared in Best African American Essays, The New York Times, Gourmet, and Saveur, and he has been featured on 60 Minutes. ONCE UPON A CHEF: WEEKEND/WEEKNIGHT
By Jennifer Segal

Years before she started her popular Once Upon a Chef blog, back when she became a new mom, Jenn Segal kept a recipe binder divided into two sections: Weeknight and Weekend. This is how she thought about what to cook for dinner, and, 15 years later, it still is. In this new collection of 100 recipes, 70 recipes are devoted to fast and attainable weeknight meals, like Sesame-Ginger Meatballs and Pecorino-Crusted Chicken with Rosemary. There are 20 recipes tagged for weekend cooking, the kind of dishes you cook while drinking a glass of wine and listening to your favorite Spotify station, such as Sear-Roasted Beef Tenderloin with Horseradish Cream Sauce--or perhaps make on a lazy Sunday morning, like Popovers with Salted Maple Butter. And because everyday is worth ending on a sweet note, Jenn includes a handful of her favorite dessert recipes, like Brownie Pudding and Cherry Ricotta Cake.

Jennifer Segal is a professionally trained chef and the founder of the blog Once Upon a Chef. Her first book, Once Upon a Chef, was a Washington Post and Publishers' Weekly best seller and she has been featured in an array of major media including The Splendid Table, O Magazine, Food52, and Parade among others. She lives in Potomac, Maryland, with her husband and two teenage children.

COOK REAL HAWAII'
By Sheldon Simeon

On two seasons of Top Chef, Sheldon Simeon established himself as a leading young, creative chef (he was both a finalist and fan favorite on both seasons). The role he is even more proud to fill, though, is as the storyteller of Hawaiian cuisine and the many cultures that have come together there to create it: from the native Hawaiian traditions, Japanese influences, Portuguese cooking techniques, and the dynamic flavors that are the closest to Sheldon's heart.

In a place where over 90% of food is imported, the story of Hawaiian cuisine has always been told on the mainland through the lens of tourism. Sheldon's story of Hawai'i focuses on the lives and cooking routines of the locals and the efforts to bring back traditional agriculture and foods. Sheldon's recipes are uncomplicated but full of flavor; he speaks with reverence but cooks with curiosity, and inspires readers to do the same.

Sheldon Simeon is the chef and owner of Lineage, a restaurant that explores the ancestral roots of Hawaiian cuisine, as well as Tin Roof, where he serves contemporary Hawaiian dishes in a casual setting, both in Maui. In 2019, Lineage was named one of Bon Appétit's Top 50 Nominees for America's Best New Restaurants. Sheldon was a finalist on Season 10 of Top Chef: Seattle, becoming a finalist en route, and later competed on Season 14 of Top Chef: Charleston. He was voted Fan Favorite on both seasons.

SPARKLING WINE GUIDE
By Zachary Sussman

A mash-up of pop-culture and wine-culture littered with colorful infographics and illustrated guides, This book offers an overview of the major sparkling-wine producing areas, with profiles of exemplary producers and recommendations for the best bottles.

The book adopts a unique cultural perspective on the genre, exploring our perpetual fascination with sparkling wine and helping to place each regional expression within the wider wine zeitgeist--from the radical "grower" revolution reshaping the highly conservative area of Champagne to Prosecco's overnight transformation into a multi-million-dollar brand to the retro appeal of natural wine's cult-hit petillant naturel to the next generation of "real wines" from Lambrusco, and beyond.

Zachary Sussman is a Brooklyn-based wine writer whose work has appeared in Saveur, Wine & Spirits, The World of Fine Wine, Food & Wine, and The Wall Street Journal Magazine, among many others. TASTY ADULTING: All Your Faves, All Grown Up
By Tasty

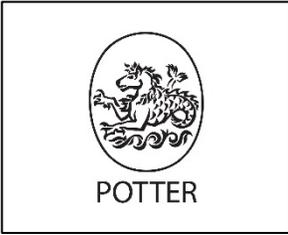

Let's face it--adulting is hard. Millennials and Gen Z-ers especially struggle to find their groove with more traditional, domestic responsibilities--like cooking. It can be tough to find a resource to help you feel capable and confident in the kitchen and happy and well-fed at the table. Already beloved for its easy and, well, tasty recipes, Tasty is the perfect brand to bring the fun and ease to cooking for people just starting to grapple with the tricky world of adulthood.

TASTY ADULTING covers all the basics and more, with chapters like Souper Heroes, Put Some Meat On Your Bones, and A Sweet Finish, as well as a whole section for having people over and another just for pasta. These recipes are the ones fans know and love mixed with exciting new ones, all perfect for newbies in the kitchen.

Tasty is the world's largest social food network, reaching more than 500 million people around the globe with its signature fun, easy, and delicious video recipes. The brand is focused on making cooking practical and accessible for beginner cooks and expert chefs alike. Launched in 2015, Tasty has attracted more than 65 billion video views and is the biggest franchise on Facebook, reaching one in four users every month. It has studios in Los Angeles, New York, London, Paris, Berlin, Mexico City, and São Paulo.

MASTERING BREAD: The Art and Practice of Handmade Sourdough, Yeast Bread, and Pastry
By Marc Vetri, Claire Kopp McWilliams, and David Joachim

In MASTERING BREAD, Vetri and his head baker, Claire Kopp McWilliams, show home cooks how to create simple breads with unique flavors in their own ovens. Included are all the recipes for their best-selling sourdough and yeasted loaves. The process of bread making is broken down into three easy-to-digest chapters: Mix, Shape, and Bake. Another chapter called Eat includes recipes for enjoying your bread in dishes like Bruschetta, Panzanella, Strata, and Ribollita.

Trained in Bergamo, Italy, by some of the region's most noted chefs, Marc Vetri is the chef/owner of Pizzeria Vetri, Vetri Ristorante, Osteria, Amis, and Alla Spina, all located in Philadelphia. He has also opened a series of restaurants in partnership with Terrain, with locations in California and Texas. Vetri was named one of Food & Wine's Ten Best New Chefs; he also won the James Beard Award for Best Chef Mid-Atlantic. He is the author of MASTERING PASTA.

Claire Kopp McWilliams is the head baker and miller for Vetri.

David Joachim is the author of the New York Times best-seller A MAN A CAN A PLAN and a co-writer on numerous cookbooks.

BACCHANALIA: Adventures in Food and Drink

By Eric Wareheim with Emily Timberlake.

In BACCHANALIA, Wareheim takes readers deep into his foodscape with chapters on topics like circle foods (pizzas, burgers), granny foods (pasta, goulash), and fire foods (grilled goodness). Alongside recipes for Sunday Sauce Jersey Style, Tabasco-Brined Fried Pork Sando Extreme, and Spicy Sambal Skewers with Herb Overload you will discover which five cocktail recipes you should know by heart, how to pick a bottle of wine for less than $25, and what to do in New Orleans, the weirdest and best city in America. Photos by Marcus Nilsson will also show how to throw a party Heimy-style, whether you're on a boat, in the desert, or just lazing on the beach.

Written with Emily Timberlake, and with hilarious art chronicling Wareheim's evolution as a drinker, how to baby your pizza dough into pie perfection, and more, BACCHANALIA is the ultimate book for in-the-know foodies.

Eric Wareheim is an actor, comedian, writer, and director. He is half of the comedy duo Tim & Eric, who have been making TV shows, movies, books, and music for twenty years. Wareheim also acts, produces, and directs on the Netflix series, Master of None.

Emily Timberlake is a writer and was an award-winning cookbook editor: at Ten Speed Press.

THE ROADS TO ROME

By Jarrett Wisley and Paolo Vitaletti

When Jarrett Wisley opened an Italian restaurant in Bangkok with his business partner and chef, Paolo Vitaletti, he wanted to run the most authentic Roman trattoria he could. But travels in Italy taught him that Roman cuisine doesn't come from Rome, exactly, but from the roads to Rome--the trade routes that brought foods from all over Italy to the capital.

As Jarrett and Paolo weave their way between Roman kitchens and through the countryside of Lazio, Umbria, and Emilia-Romagna, they encounter farmers and artisans who show us the origins of the ingredients that gave rise to such iconic Roman dishes as Tonnarelli Cacio e Pepe and Spaghetti all'Amatriciana. The exquisite journey also sheds light on the dishes of the countryside--from Vignarola (sautéed artichokes, fava beans, and spring peas with guanciale) to Cozze alla Marinara (mussels pulled straight from the Amalfi coast).

Jarrett Wisley is a food writer-turned-restaurateur living in Bangkok. He has written for The Atlantic, Lucky Peach, The Art of Eating, Food & Wine, Travel + Leisure, National Geographic Magazine, and various magazines and newspapers across Asia. His two restaurants, Soul Food Mahanakorn and Appia, have been praised by the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, Travel + Leisure, and CNN Travel.

Italian-born chef Paolo Vitaletti is the co-founder of Appia with Jarrett Wisley in Bangkok. As a team, they operate a farm outside of Rome where they will open an inn and restaurant. Paolo also owns Peppina, Bangkok's best Neapolitan pizzeria.

THE QUEENS' ENGLISH: The LGBTQIA+ Dictionary of Slang and Colloquial Phrases

By Chloe O. David

THE QUEENS' ENGLISH is a comprehensive guide to modern gay slang, queer theory terms, and playful colloquialisms that define and celebrate LGBTQIA+ culture. This modern dictionary provides an in-depth look at queer language, from terms influenced by celebrated lesbian poet Sappho and from New York's underground queer ball culture in the 1980s to today's celebration of RuPaul's Drag Race.

The glossary of terms is supported by full-color illustrations and photography throughout, as well as real-life usage examples for those who don't quite know how to use "kiki," "polysexual," or "transmasculine" in a sentence. A series of educational lessons highlight key people and events that shaped queer language; readers will learn the linguistic importance of pronouns, gender identity, Stonewall, the Harlem Renaissance, and more.

Chloe O. Davis is a proud bisexual black woman and debut author who works in the entertainment industry in New York. Her work as a dancer and actor has allowed her to travel to all fifty states and thirty-five countries. She has appeared in the first national tour of The Addams Family, Jesus Christ Superstar Live in Concert on NBC, Hello Dolly! at the Riverside Theatre, Black Girl: Linguistic Play at The Kennedy Center, and The Wiz at The Muny.

NOTABLE NATIVE PEOPLE

by Adrienne Keene

This book celebrates the lives, stories, and contributions of fifty American Indian, Alaska Native, and Native Hawaiian people throughout history. Including artists, writers, athletes, scientists, scholars, leaders, and other changemakers, this strikingly illustrated collection will inspire readers of all ages. In addition to profiling well-known and emerging figures, from Presidential Medal of Freedom winner Suzan Shown Harjo, to model, drag performer, and language revitalization worker Geo Socoatomah Neptune, this informative compendium contains primers on important Native issues such as land and water rights, colonialism, and cultural appropriation.

Dr. Adrienne Keene is a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, an Assistant Professor of American Studies and Ethnic Studies at Brown University, and holds a doctorate in Culture, Communities, and Education from the Harvard Graduate School of Education. She is the longtime author of Native Appropriations, a blog discussing representations of Native peoples in popular culture. She cohosts the podcast All My Relations

HIGH ART: The Definitive Guide to Getting Cultured with Cannabis
 By Robert Lambrechts

If you haven't developed an appreciation for art, it's high time you did! This book explains the thinking behind fifty works from museums all around the world along with a specific cannabis products that will expand your mind. To get in touch with your inner self while viewing Van Gogh's Self-Portrait with a Straw Hat, take on some of Gravitia's Red-Headed Stranger and really feel the brush strokes wash over you. While viewing Henri Rousseau's 1910 Tropical Forest with Monkeys, you might smoke some mild Purple Monkey followed by a snack of THC-infused dried fruits for a body float that will allow you to connect with your primitive nature. With an introduction to art appreciation and the fine art of enjoying THC, fun sidebars throughout, and a cannabis resource section, this an entertaining guide for serious potheads and anyone with a budding interest in marijuana.

Robert Lambrechts is the chief creative officer of Pereira O'Dell, an advertising agency with clients that include Coca-Cola, National Geographic, Intel, The Cheesecake Factory, Realtor, Rover, Timberland, General Mills, and Memorial Sloan Kettering. Founded in 2008, it is the first advertising agency to win an Emmy against regular television programming, winning "Outstanding New Approach to Television" for The Beauty Inside, the social film developed for Intel and Toshiba.

CARPE EVERY DIEM: The Best Graduation Advice from More Than 100 Commencement Speeches
 By Robie Rogge

CARPE EVERY DIEM is a thought-provoking collection of quotes from famous commencement speakers meant to motivate and inspire the next generation of leaders. Paired by theme, many of the quotes complement one another. George Saunders, for example, riffs on the "failures of kindness" of his youth, encouraging grads to be kinder. Jimmy Buffett offers a simpler nugget of kind-spiration: "Be Santa Claus when you can." Other quotes, however, are paired with conflicting advice, giving graduates the opportunity to choose what to believe in. Some may respond to Neil Gaiman's "make good art" speech, while others may like John Waters's call to arms to horrify and outrage others with their art. What will you choose?

Each quote is accompanied by a short bio for the speaker and stamped with the year and institution where the commencement speech was delivered. With advice from the likes of Abby Wambach, J. K. Rowling, David Foster Wallace, Dr. Seuss, Oprah Winfrey, Spike Lee, and more, readers will be swept away by the wit and wisdom contained in the pages of this book.

Robie Rogge is a New York City-based packager who has created many successful guided journals and novelty products for Clarkson Potter, Chronicle Books, and the Museum of Modern Art, including Clarkson Potter's best-selling Do One Thing Every Day journal series.

BRAVE WARRIOR
By Worry Lines

The deeply relatable Instagram illustrator @Worry__Lines (400K+) wants her fans to feel united by their worries rather than alienated by them. Brave Warrior gathers the best and new work from Worry Lines into a heartening and hilarious gift book perfect for anyone who is imperfect.

Worry Lines is an anonymous illustrator with 400,000+ followers on Instagram. Her pronouns are she/her and her favorite emoji is the clown followed by the bottomless pit. She started her IG account in early 2019, committing to draw and post every day as an exercise in anti-perfectionism and as a way to manage her own anxiety. She has been featured on influential sites such as Cup of Jo, Vulture, iWeigh, 9Gag, and Greenpeace. She was recently commissioned to create a series of illustrations for Netflix.

BENEATH THE MOON: Fairy Tales, Myths, and Divine Stories from Around the World
By Yoshi Yoshitani

Many of the lessons we learn are shared stories passed among cultures and generations. In this riveting collection of fables and folktales from cultures across the globe, characters from beloved fairytales, cultural fables, ancient mythologies, and inspirational deities are brought to life, including Sleeping Beauty (Italy), Rapunzel (Germany), Jack and the Beanstalk (England), Our Lady of Guadalupe (Mexico), Sun God Ra (Egypt), the Crane Wife (Japan), and dozens more.

Lesser-known stories introduce characters such as the volcano goddess Pele from Hawaii; Mwindo, the wise and powerful king of the Nyanga people; and the strong and resilient Yennenga, mother of the Mossi people in Burkina Faso. The recurring themes of conquering evil, overcoming adversity, and finding love and companionship are woven throughout this collection.

Yoshi Yoshitani's art style is fresh and unique, featuring diverse and multicultural characters. Each story will be featured opposite a correlating illustration, both lush and vibrant.

Yoshi Yoshitani is an illustrator based in San Francisco who has done work for Disney, Image Comics, Valiant Comics, and IDW. She is currently illustrating a middle grade graphic novel for DC Comics, and regularly guests at comic book conventions such as Emerald City Comic Con, New York Comic Con, C2E2, HeroesCon, Small Press Expo, Thought Bubble, and Dragon Con.

WHAT COLOR IS YOUR PARACHUTE? 2021: Your Guide to a Lifetime of Meaningful Work and Career Success

By Richard N. Bolles and Katharine Brooks

In today's challenging job market, as recent grads face a shifting economic landscape and seek work that pays and inspires, as workers are laid off mid-career, and as people search for an inspiring work-life change, the time-tested advice of WHAT COLOR IS YOUR PARACHUTE? is needed more than ever.

This new edition has been fully revised for 2021 by Vanderbilt University Career Center director Katharine Brooks EdD, with modern advice on the job-hunt strategies that are working today, such as building an online resume, making the most of social media tools, and acing Skype interviews. Building on the wisdom of original author Richard N. Bolles, this edition updates the famed Flower Exercise (which walks job seekers through the seven ways of thinking about themselves) and demystifies the entire job-search process, from writing resumes to interviewing and networking.

Richard N. Bolles led the job-search field for more than forty years. A member of Mensa and the Society for Human Resource Management, he served as the keynote speaker at hundreds of conferences.

Dr. Katharine Brooks, EdD, is an award-winning career counselor and coach who is currently the Evans Family Executive Director of the Career Center for Vanderbilt University. She is a licensed professional counselor, nationally certified counselor, and board-certified coach. Previously, she had been the executive director of the Office of Personal and Career Development at Wake Forest University and director of career services for the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas in Austin.

WHAT COLOR IS YOUR PARACHUTE? WORKBOOK 6 EDITION: A Companion to the World's Most Popular and Bestselling Career Handbook
 By Richard N. Bolles

This interactive companion to the career classic is a helpful tool for recent grads, workers laid off mid-career, and people searching for an inspiring work-life change. Featuring the Flower Exercise, Party Exercise, Transferable Skills Grid, and more of Richard Bolles's helpful charts and activities, this workbook allows job-hunters to roll up their sleeves and discover their unique interests, passions, and dreams that will give them, once completed, a picture of their dream job.

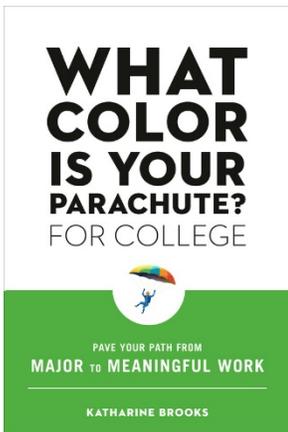

Richard N. Bolles led the job-search field for more than 40 years. A member of Mensa and the Society for Human Resource Management, he served as the keynote speaker at hundreds of conferences. Bolles held a bachelor's degree cum laude in physics from Harvard University, a master's degree from General Theological (Episcopal) Seminary in New York City, and three honorary doctorates.

WHAT COLOR IS YOUR PARACHUTE? FOR COLLEGE: Pave Your Path from Major to Meaningful Work
 By Katharine Brooks EdD

WHAT COLOR IS YOUR PARACHUTE? FOR COLLEGE is the only guide you need for making the best of your college career from start to finish. Based on the bestselling job-hunting system in the world created by Richard Bolles, it discusses how to choose your major and create a four-year plan with your interests and values in mind, covers creating and adding to a resume that stands out in a crowd, and making valuable connections with fellow students and alumni. You'll discover how to land a meaningful internship, a first job, or continue schooling at the graduate level. Dr. Katherine Brooks has also included relevant inion for the modern student about using social media, online profiles such as LinkedIn, and interviewing via webcam to accomplish your goals. The book includes exercises and space for self-reflection reflection throughout, allowing you to truly find the path through college into a successful future that fits.

Dr. Katharine S. Brooks is the Evans Family Executive Director of the Career Center at Vanderbilt University. Prior to Vanderbilt, she was the executive director of the Office of Personal and Career Development at Wake Forest University, director of career services for the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas in Austin, and director of career services at Dickinson College, where she also taught courses on psychology. She is a licensed professional counselor (LPC-Texas), a nationally certified counselor (NCC), and a board certified coach (BCC). She provides career coaching and counseling to college students as well as alumni of all ages who are transitioning into new careers, or even retirement. She is the author of YOU MAJORED IN WHAT?: Designing Your Path from College to Career and writes a blog, "Career Transitions," for Psychology Today.

ESSENTIAL OILS TO BOOST THE BRAIN AND HEAL THE BODY: 5 Steps to Calm Anxiety, Sleep Better, Reduce Inflammation to Regain Control of Your Health
By Jodi Cohen

Essential oils are succeeding where prescription pharmaceuticals have so far been unable to effectively melt away anxiety and depression, sharpen focus, increase energy, improve memory, begin to correct chronic autoimmunity, and even promote weight loss. In Jodi Cohen's five-step protocol, the body's natural systems are jump-started with essential oil recipe blends. Sleep, blood circulation, and stress can be regulated with particular essential oil blends. For example, oils such as rosemary, clove, and thyme can reduce inflammation, and basil, cardamom, and peppermint can improve mental focus. Once you learn the steps, you'll want to start your own essential oils regimen immediately and be on your way to a healthier body and brain!

Jodi Cohen is a bestselling author, award-winning journalist, and health practitioner. As the founder of Vibrant Blue Oils, she has combined her training in nutritional therapy and aromatherapy to create unique proprietary blends of organic and wild-crafted essential oils. She has helped countless clients with brain-related challenges, including anxiety, insomnia, and autoimmunity and her website has rapidly become a top resource for essential oils education on the Internet today.

STORY OR DIE: Why Story is the Only Way to Engage, Persuade, and Inspire--and How to Use Brain Science to Create One That Will
By Lisa Cron

Story isn't just one way to persuade, it's the way. It's built into the architecture of the brain, and has been since early humans gathered around the campfire, trying to figure out if that rustling in the bushes really was a lion. But to fully wield the power of story at will, you must first understand how story is working in your brain--not metaphorically, but biologically.

In STORY OR DIE, author, speaker, and story coach Lisa Cron decodes the power of story, examining how story and the brain evolved in tandem; why well-told stories were, and continue to be, key to our survival; and what grabs us in a good story (It's very different from what we think). She then takes readers, step by step, through the process of creating their own story--a story with the power to call even the most challenging audience, no matter their tribe, to action. Along the way, Cron explains what your brain craves in a story, how to pinpoint your audience's hidden resistance, and why all roads lead to an a-ha moment. In doing so, she teaches you how to enthrall, persuade, promote, educate, inspire, and most important, better understand yourself and every decision you make.

Lisa Cron is a story coach, speaker, and the author of WIRED FOR STORY and STORY GENIUS. She has previously worked as a literary agent, a television producer, and a story consultant for Warner Brothers and The William Morris Agency, among others, and currently advises writers, nonprofits, educators, and journalists on the art and craft of story. Cron has also served on the faculty of the School of Visual Arts MFA program in Visual Narrative, and since 2006 has taught in the UCLA Extension Writers' Program. She lives in Santa Monica, California.

MY BODY, MY HOME: A Radical Guide to Resilience and Belonging
By Victoria Emanuela and Caitlin Metz

MY BODY, MY HOME is an embodied, interactive guide to belonging. It is a path to self-acceptance, resilience, and healing the disconnect between body and mind. This book is for those of us who have left our bodies--those who needed to escape from our physical form in one way or another. It is a gentle reminder that you belong and a guide to connecting to yourself. With a variety of soothing meditations and prompts for reflection, this workbook focuses on the relationship between you and your body. As you reflect on your answers to these questions, write in the margins, draw what you feel, and engage with your inner child, your lineage, and your shadow self. The authors use each page to encourage self-expression with a variety of prompted exercises, from body maps and drawings to lists and Venn diagrams.

Victoria Emanuela is a creative copywriter, mind/body resiliency coach, and trauma-informed meditation teacher. Their work exists at the intersection of healing, somatic writing, and movement. Victoria's love of stringing words together to create shared meaning encourages a sense of belonging.

Caitlin Metz is a feisty introvert, tender queer, illustrator, and educator. Her work is a blend of art with themes of identity, mental health, and community. Caitlin's emotive and immediate mark-making fosters connection, making the world feel less lonely.

JUST EAT: One Reporter's Quest for a Weight-Loss Regimen that Works
By Barry Estabrook

Over the course of three years, investigative journalist Barry Estabrook tried the regimens behind the most popular diets of the past forty years--from paleo to the Master Cleanse, Whole30, Atkins, Weight Watchers, keto, gluten-free, and veganism--examining the people, claims, and science behind the fads, all while recording his mental and physical experience of following each one. Along the way, he discovers that the more than fifteen branded programs are derived from just three diets. That there are effective, scientifically valid take-aways to be cherry-picked . . . and the rest is just marketing. Perhaps most alarmingly, he uncovers how short-term weight loss can too often do long-term health damage that goes undetected for years. Estabrook contextualizes his reporting with an analysis of our culture's bizarre dieting history dating back to the late 1800s to create a thorough--and thoroughly entertaining--look at what different diets do to our bodies, why some are more effective than others, and why our relationship with food is so fraught.

Barry Estabrook is the author of PIG TALES: An Omnivore's Guide to Sustainable Meat and the New York Times bestselling TOMATOLAND. Estabrook has written investigative articles on food, nutrition, and agriculture for The Washington Post, The New York Times, The Atlantic, and other publications. He was the founding editor of Eating Well magazine and his work has been included in the Best American Food Writing anthologies.

FOOD52 YOUR DO-ANYTHING KITCHEN: The Trusty Guide to a Smarter, Tidier, Happier Space
By The Editors of Food52

If you're ready for a top-to-bottom kitchen revamp, this handbook's got you covered--but it's packed with small-but-mighty upgrades, too. Stick with us, and you'll get to know which cooking tools are must-haves, discover new pantry staples for on-a-whim meals, and learn tons of tips to make your fridge (freezer, too!) work even harder for you. You'll find strategies for tidying storage-container clutter and arranging all your cooking gadgets--and while you're at it, maximizing precious drawer and counter space.

Once you've gotten your kitchen in order, you can start cooking with a new spring in your step, thanks to a handy how-to on knife skills and a mini-guide to mise en place. A chapter chock-full of cleaning advice will keep your kitchen at its spiffiest. Throughout, you'll get tours of real-life, super-functional home kitchens from cookbook authors, chefs, bakers, and more. Armed with a choose-your-own-adventure meal-prep planner, helpful charts on the art of speedy, streamlined dinners, and a game-changing cleaning checklist, you'll whiz through your routine like the efficiency expert you now are. So whether you're putting together your very first kitchen or looking to spruce up a well-loved space, YOUR DO-ANYTHING KITCHEN will turn it into the greatest-possible place to cook--and spend time.

Food52 was founded by Amanda Hesser and Merrill Stubbs--two authors and opinionated home cooks who formerly worked for the New York Times--to celebrate food as the center of a well-lived life with recipes, books, home goods, and more.

DESIGN THE HOME YOU LOVE: Ideas, Inspiration, and Practical Advice for Developing Your Personal Style
By Emily Motayed and Lee Mayer

In DESIGN THE HOME YOU LOVE, you learn how to first identify your own style (whether you're a fan of the traditional classic style, Parisian elegance, or California modern) and then you learn how to incorporate furniture that matches your style and fits your budget. Design the Home You Love takes you step-by-step and room by room through each part of the home to help you fulfill your home's potential.

Whether you're looking to give your home a complete makeover, or merely spruce up your rental apartment's living room and take it from blah to fab, Emily and Lee bring fresh ideas, advice, and inspiration to the table. Illustrated with photography from Havenly's personal collections and new photography shot at clients' homes and their own Denver-based studio space, this is the interior design book that finally makes it possible for us all to achieve our design goals.

Emily Motayed and Lee Mayer are founders of the interior design company Havenly and have business degrees from Harvard and Wharton. They have just completed their second round of venture capital funding, and have built an incredible network of media support and influencers. Their company is based in Denver, Colorado. Since the launch of the company they have been recognized as women to watch and rising entrepreneurs by publications such as the New York Times, USA Today, and Inc.

EVERYTHING IS A CREATIVE ACT: 99 Innovative Exercises to Stretch Your Mind and Spark Imagination

By Sarah Stein Greenberg and Stanford d.school

Known worldwide for its collaborative and interdisciplinary approach, d.school has amassed an unprecedented collection of creative assignments designed to push you out of your comfort zone, change your perspective, generate fresh ideas, and help you be more productive--regardless of your field or creative interests.

The assignments in EVERYTHING IS A CREATIVE ACT are compiled by d.school executive director Sarah Stein Greenberg from some of the world's leading minds, including d.school and IDEO founder David Kelley, Google chief innovation evangelist Frederik Pferdt, and more. Exercises like The Banana Challenge, Salad Mapping, and Life Goes Awry show you how to express your point of view, work with data, visualize inion, and tell good stories. Expert Eyes tests your observation skills, How to Talk to Strangers builds empathy, and Secret Handshake encourages successful collaborations. The assignments are at once weird, tough, lighthearted, and impactful--and address all of the components of learning, from thinking, feeling, making, and choosing to failing, rebounding, and trying again.

Sarah Stein Greenberg is the executive director of the Stanford d.school, where she leads a community of designers, faculty, and other imaginative thinkers to help people unlock their creative abilities and apply them to the world.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. Each year, more than a thousand students from all disciplines attend classes, workshops, and programs to learn how the thinking behind design can enrich their own work and unlock their creative potential.

COURAGE, A COMIC BOOK: A Designer's Guide to Facing Your Fears and Standing Up for What Matters

By Ashish Goel and Stanford d.school

In this book, designer, entrepreneur, and d.school teaching fellow Ashish Goel examines what it takes to be courageous. Using comics to illustrate real-world situations, Goel asks and answers four key questions: Why is it hard to create work in the first place? Why do things fall apart when other people get involved? What does it take to do work that isn't just good, but good? And how do you do work that is your own? Each chapter features a series of tools designed to develop a mindset of fearlessness: Open the Tap to generate new ideas, Seek a Streak to take the all-important first step, Make a Birdbox to focus your attention, and much more.

Ashish Goel is a designer, entrepreneur, and founder of Boca Sparkling Water. A former teaching fellow at the Stanford d.school and key collaborator on the Stanford 2025 project, Ashish has taught classes on media, communication, and data design. He is the former head of design at Zomato (India's larger-scale Yelp!), and has launched and run design divisions for multiple international companies.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. THE SECRET LANGUAGE OF MAPS: A Designer's Guide to Creating Visual Information

By Carissa Carter and Stanford d.school

A riveting mystery story about Marion Marlow and the disappearance of one of her old high school friends is woven in between instruction about the different kinds of maps we use to make sense of data and our surroundings. We learn how map design can take different forms to understand information. In this book, designer and d.school professor Carissa Carter examines how maps aren't just birds' eye views of roads and highways, mountains and deserts. Maps are also ways of organizing data. Graphs, diagrams, and timelines are maps. Even stories can be mapped!

Carissa Carter is a designer, geoscientist, and Director of Teaching and Learning at the Stanford d.school. Carissa drives the d.school's pedagogy and teaches courses on the intersection of data and design, design for climate change, maps, and the visual sorting of inion. She helped helm the d.school's seminal 2025 future of higher education project and continues to pursue projects at the crossover between design, science, and technology. "I Love Algorithms," Carissa's recent foray into making emerging tech more accessible, won a prestigious Core-77 design award and was also named one of the most innovative designs of 2019 by Fast Company.

NAVIGATING AMBIGUITY: A Designer's Guide to Creating Your Best Work out of Uncertainty

By Andrea Small and Stanford d.school

Any design process is fundamentally limited. It might show the process as a series of steps, in sequence. But we don't always work this way. Navigating Ambiguity underscores how the creative process isn't formulaic. Through bolstering a designer's confidence, this book shows how to surrender control through being adaptable, curious, and unbiased as well as resourceful, tenacious, and courageous. Cut white paper sculptures and collage are photographed as illustrations to show ways in which designers can rethink their work of creating without hitting the usual roadblocks that slow down work. The result is a more open and satisfying journey from assignment or idea to finished product.

Andrea Small is an author, educator, experienced strategist, and a teaching fellow at Stanford's d.school. Previously, she was the Director of Product and Portfolio Strategy at Herman Miller and Strategy Lead at Yves Behar's design firm fuseproject. Her vast experience in design strategy includes work with some of the world's most iconic brands including the Nike Foundation, Nivea, GE, Starbucks, Samsung, and more.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. BODY TALK: How to Give Perfection the Middle Finger and Live Your Best Life

By Katie Sturino

Katie Sturino doesn't care what anyone thinks of her; she only cares that she's happy and comfortable with herself. Body positivity and size inclusivity in mainstream media is still a relatively new phenomenon and Sturino has been at the front of the pack for many years, working to change the narrative around modern beauty standards with her blog, Instagram, podcast, and her own beauty brand.

With MEGABABE, an illustrated guide-meets-workbook, Sturino will not only be the empowered female voice for you to look up to--one that she and many other women never had in their youth--but she will also teach you how to become that driving force for yourself. Her message focuses on body positivity, self-acceptance, and vanquishing bad body image BS, so you can free up space in your brain for creative and productive energy.

Complete with affirmations, introspective reflections, and actionable takeaways, as well as space to answer prompts and jot down feelings and inspirations, MEGABABE encourages you to spend less time thinking about how you look and what you ate and more time discovering your inner fierceness.

Katie Sturino is a serial entrepreneur, internet influencer, and body positivity advocate. She uses her voice and personal style to raise awareness for size inclusivity and to empower women of all sizes. Katie is also the founder of Megababe, an innovative beauty brand offering non-toxic products to help women feel more comfortable and confident in their own skin.

NPR'S PODCAST STARTUP GUIDE: Create, Launch, and Grow a Podcast That People Listen To on Any Budget

By Glen Weldon

Podcasts are everywhere. Whoever you are, whatever you love, there's a podcast for you: political junkie, sports fan, foodie, pop culture lover, or science nerd. In a booming audio storytelling landscape "You should start a podcast" has become the new "You should start a blog." But any podcast enthusiast knows that, in such a vast and growing marketplace, quality varies hugely. Simple issues of execution like poor sound quality or uneven editing render the majority of podcasts unlistenable. The barrier to entry of podcast production--having a mic and a laptop--is low, but the learning curve is steep.

That's where NPR comes in. In NPR'S PODCAST STARTUP GUIDE, NPR, the #1 podcast publisher in the U.S., draws on its extensive educational materials, unparalleled experience, and army of podcasting talent--from Guy Raz (How I Built This), Linda Holmes (Pop Culture Happy Hour) to Hanna Rosin (Invisibilia) and beyond--to guide aspiring podcasters through the conception, creation, and launch of a podcast. Part master class, part inional interview with the best in the business, this evergreen volume is a must-read for anyone who wants to make their dream of starting a podcast a reality.

Glen Weldon is an editor at the NPR Arts Desk as well as a film, television and book critic. For the last decade he's been a panelist on NPR's Pop Culture Happy Hour, a twice-weekly roundtable discussion podcast about the latest television, movies, books and comics. A graduate of the Iowa Writers' Workshop, he has received fellowships from the Ragdale Foundation and the Amtrak Writers' Residency Fellowship, among others. His work has appeared in The New York Times, The Washington Post, Slate, and The Atlantic. He lives in Washington, D.C.

COLTRANE
By The Coltrane Estate; Forward by Ravi Coltrane

John Coltrane's impact on jazz music and culture has endured far beyond his prolific career and untimely death in 1967 at age forty. Featuring two hundred expertly curated photographs, COLTRANE is an intimate and in-depth look at the life of the legendary saxophonist and composer. This beautiful photography book further explores Coltrane's musical legacy with an introduction by his son and fellow musician, Ravi Coltrane, along with essays and contributions from public figures who have been moved by his work. COLTRANE is a visual celebration of one of the all-time great jazz musicians, and a must-have for fans of John Coltrane, jazz, and music photography.

Ravi Coltrane is a critically acclaimed Grammy nominated saxophonist, bandleader, and composer. Born in Long Island, the second son of John Coltrane and Alice Coltrane, Ravi was named after Indian sitar legend Ravi Shankar. He was raised in Los Angeles where his family moved after his father's death in 1967. Ravi maintains a fast paced touring, recording, composing and performance schedule. He leads the effort to restore the John Coltrane Home in Dix Hills, Long Island and presides over important reissues of his parent's recordings.

NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW AT 125: Inside America's Most Influential Book Review
By Tina Jordan

From the longest-running, most trusted book review in America comes a celebration of The New York Times Book Review, showcasing the best, worst, funniest, strangest, and influential literary coverage since its beginnings in 1896. Not only is this beautiful, dynamic book a history of the magazine, but it's also a chronology of American letters, with famous authors interviewing famous authors, never-before-heard stories about well-known writers, and review excerpts that reveal what the paper thought of some of our most beloved novels when they were first published (including ones the magazine panned). Through the unfolding stories and photographs, readers will learn how American literary tastes have shifted—and the many ways the Times's coverage of books has shaped so much of what we read today.

Tina Jordan is the deputy editor of The New York Times Book Review. An archives fiend, she has unearthed such gems as the tale of Agatha Christie's disappearance, and what happened when P.D. Wodehouse was captured by the Germans during World War II. Before joining The Times, Tina was the longtime books editor at Entertainment Weekly, where she worked since the magazine's founding. She edited all of the magazine's book coverage, overseeing reviews, features and publishing industry news, assigning, for example, the very first United States coverage of J. K. Rowling.

THE WORLD OF CRITICAL ROLE: The History Behind the Epic Fantasy
 By Liz Marsham and the Cast of Critical Role

Dive deep into the history of the world’s most popular fantasy RPG livestream with the cast of Critical Role in this definitive guide featuring never-before-seen illustrations and photos.

Discover dazzling new illustrations and richly written insights into the locations, characters, and adventures featured in the hundreds of episodes across Critical Role’s two campaigns, Vox Machina and the Mighty Nein. Go behind the scenes with archival photos and exclusive interviews with Dungeon Master Matt Mercer and the entire Critical Role cast as they explore their characters’ most triumphant moments and darkest hours. And celebrate the massive community of Critters who support and expand the show’s world through a highlighted tour of the crafts, cosplay, and art they create every day.

Liz Marsham writes books of all types for readers of all ages. She began her storytelling career as an editor at DC Comics and Disney Publishing. As a D&D character, she would most likely be a warlock: She can do a couple of cool things in a row, but then she needs a nap. She runs a tiny fiefdom in Southern California with her husband, son, two cats, and what she insists is a “perfectly reasonable” number of dice.

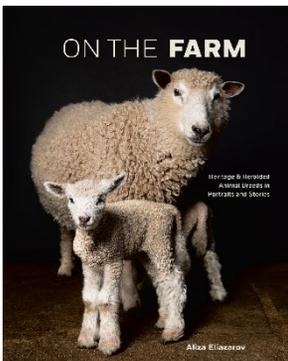

Critical Role features seven popular voiceover actors diving into epic fantasy RPG adventures, led by veteran game master Matthew Mercer. What began in 2012 as a bunch of friends playing in each other’s living rooms has evolved into a multi-platform entertainment sensation, attracting nearly a million viewers every week.

ON THE FARM: Heritage and Heralded Animal Breeds in Portrait and Stories

By Aliza Eliazarov

A collection of moving, ethereal portraits of heritage farm breeds from a renowned animal photographer, alongside personal stories and a history of these breeds on American farms.

These breeds have evolved with humanity for thousands of years, making possible the rise of civilization. Yet in the age of industrialized farming they have become rare, many verging on the edge of extinction. Aliza uses her camera to capture these disappearing animals during all stages of life, from birth to childhood to old age. She shows readers a duck who attends story hour at a local library, a goat who miraculously escaped from a burning barn, a cow named Cardi B who got lost in a storm, and many other heartwarming animals who live among us.

Aliza Eliazarov is a professional photographer. Her work has been recognized by The Atlantic, The New York Times, Saveur, Food & Wine, Slate, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, and the National Resources Defense Council; she was also the original staff photographer for Modern Farmer. She has won numerous awards and her work is on show in Paris, China, and New York.

OVERVIEW TIMELAPSE: How We Change the Earth

By Benjamin Grant and Timoty Dougherty

A striking collection of satellite images documenting human impact on the Earth--and how the Earth responds--from the creators of OVERVIEW and the Instagram sensation Daily Overview.

Change is Earth's most important and influential constant. From geological changes that take place over millennia, to the growth of civilization, to intense (and increasingly common) weather events exacerbated by a warming climate, the planet is constantly in flux. With areas viewed over various periods of time--days, months, and years--these changes become even more apparent, as does the scale and scope of human impact on Earth.

OVERVIEW TIMELAPSE is a compelling photographic survey of the state of change on Earth today. With human activity driving this transformation faster than ever, visible signs can now be seen across the planet. Through its 250 mesmerizing images such as sprawling cities and the patterns created by decades of deforestation, this book offers a fresh perspective of change on Earth from a larger-than-life scale

Benjamin Grant is the founder of Overview and the author of OVERVIEW: A New Perspective of Earth and OVERVIEW: Young Explorer's Edition. Daily posts from his project have both delighted and challenged his audience from around the globe since 2013. Benjamin graduated from Yale University, where he studied history and art history and rowed heavyweight crew. He lives and rides his bike in San Francisco.

Timothy Dougherty has been working at Overview since 2016, focusing on partnerships and content strategy. He graduated from Georgetown University, where he studied finance at the McDonough School of Business. Tim lives in San Francisco where he enjoys the outdoors.

XEROPHILE, REVISED: Cactus Photographs from Expeditions of the Obsessed
By Max Martin, Carlos Morera, and Christian Cummings

Originally published by Hat & Beard Press in Los Angeles, this revised edition of XEROPHILE will include new, detailed captions of each cacti image.

A selection of hundreds of photographs of arguably the rarest and most spectacular plants on earth, photographed in their natural habitats over the past 80 years by a global cadre of obsessed cactus aficionados made up of both the amateur and the professional—from Ph.D. botanist to banker, art teacher to cancer researcher.

Fueled by whispers of ancient plants on forgotten hilltops in Brazil, legends of fields of living fossils deep in the arid deserts of Chile, these explorers’ relentless drive to find and document succulent plants in some of the most remote landscapes on earth has created an extraordinary collective body of photographic work.

Max Martin, Carlos Morera, and Christian Cummings are the proprietors of Hot Cactus LA, a popular Los Angeles cactus store with a cult following.

THE LOOK OF THE BOOK: Jackets, Covers, and Art at the Edges of Literature
By Peter Mendelsund and David J. Alworth

As the outward face of the text, the book cover makes an all-important first impression. THE LOOK OF THE BOOK examines art at the edges of literature through notable covers and the stories behind them, galleries of the many different jackets of bestselling books, an overview of book cover trends throughout history, and insights from dozens of literary and design luminaries. Co-authored by celebrated designer and creative director Peter Mendelsund and scholar David Alworth, this fascinating collaboration, featuring hundreds of covers, challenges our notions of what a book cover can and should be.

Peter Mendelsund is the former art director at Alfred A. Knopf, the creative director of The Atlantic, and the author of a design monograph called COVER, as well as WHAT WE SEE WHEN WE READ, which has been translated into fourteen languages, and the novel SAME SAME. His writings have appeared in the New York Times, the Paris Review, and other magazines.

David J. Alworth is the John L. Loeb Associate Professor of the Humanities at Harvard University. He teaches and writes about modern and contemporary literature, media, art, and design. He is the author of SITE READING: Fiction, Art, Social Form and his essays have appeared in Public Books and the Los Angeles Review of Books, as well as in various scholarly journals.

STOMPBOX: 100 Pedals from the World's Greatest Guitarists
By Eilon Paz

A deluxe photographic celebration of the unsung hero of guitar music--the effects pedal--featuring interviews with 100 musicians including Peter Frampton, Joe Perry, Jack White, and Courtney Barnett.

As soon as the first effects pedals were introduced in the 1960s, the diminutive devices were adopted by many of the world's most celebrated musicians to craft their iconic sounds. Tom Morello of Rage Against the Machine speaks for countless sonic innovators when he says, "Before I stepped on it I had never made rock 'n' roll, but the second I stepped on it I was rock 'n' roll, and I haven't looked back!" Until now, however, the pedal hasn't been given its due.

STOMPBOX illustrates the connection between 100 musicians and the colorful little boxes that help them shape their music. This striking celebration of the guitarist's secret weapon uses bold, bright photography to capture the character of each pedal and the relationship between the pedal and artist. Reflections and anecdotes from Peter Frampton, Jack White, Courtney Barnett, Tom Morello, Dave Navarro, Andy Summers, Joe Satriani, and many more--from rock legends to rising stars--bring their stompboxes to life the same way the devices bring unique guitar sounds to life.

A visual treat for obsessive collectors, guitar players, and music fans, STOMPBOX reveals the essential but lesser-known marvels behind some of rock 'n' roll's signature sounds.

Eilon Paz is a professional photographer and the founder of the popular vinyl-collecting website Dust & Grooves. Paz's work has appeared in worldwide publications such as Wax Poetics, Saveur, Monocle, Condé Nast Traveler, Sky Magazine, and the French music magazine Vibrations. THE COMIC BOOK GUIDE TO GROWING FOOD: Step-by-Step Vegetable Gardening for Everyone By Joseph Tychonievich, illustrated by Liz Kozik

Like having your own personal gardening mentor at your side, A COMIC BOOK GUIDE TO GROWING FOOD is the story of Mia, an eager young professional who wants to grow her own vegetables but doesn't know where to start, and George, her retired neighbor who loves gardening and walks her through each step of the process. Throughout the book, "cheat sheets" sum up George's key facts and techniques, providing a handy quick reference for anyone starting their first vegetable garden, including how to find the best location, which vegetables are easiest to grow, how to pick out the healthiest plants at the store, when (and when not) to water, how to protect your plants from pests, and what to do with extra produce if you grow too much. Easy and entertaining, A COMIC BOOK GUIDE TO GROWING FOOD makes homegrown vegetables fun and achievable.

Joseph Tychonievich was named by Organic Gardening magazine as one of six young horticulturalists who are helping shape how America gardens. He writes regularly for national gardening magazines such as Fine Gardening and Horticulture, and is a repeated guest on NPR's Splendid Table and popular gardening podcasts such as A Way to Garden. Joseph is the author of Plant Breeding for the Home Gardener and Rock Gardening, and he gives gardening presentations to audiences across the country. He lives with his husband, two cats, a dog, and an absurd number of plants in Williamsburg, Virginia.

Liz Kozik is a comics illustrator with an MFA in design and is currently in a PhD program at the University of Wisconsin-Madison with an emphasis on environmental studies and native plants.

THE COMIC BOOK STORY OF BASKETBALL: A Fast-Break History of Hoops
By Fred Van Lente, art by Joe Cooper

Whether it's millionaire pros facing off in an indoor arena full of screaming fans or a lone kid shooting hoops on an outdoor court, basketball is one of the most popular and widely played sports in the world. THE COMIC BOOK STORY OF BASKETBALL gives you courtside seats to the history of hoops. It chronicles the sport from its beginnings in a YMCA in Massachusetts to its current status as a beloved international game for men and women of all ages. Learn the true stories behind the college game, the street game, the women's game, and the international game, with legendary players and coaches like Dr. J, Michael Jordan, LeBron James, and Steph Curry profiled throughout.

Fred Van Lente specializes in entertaining readers with offbeat histories, with the help of his incredibly talented artists. In addition to his fiction comics like Cowboys & Aliens (upon which the 2011 movie was based), Van Lente has written the multiple-award winning ACTION PHILOSOPHERS!, THE COMIC BOOK HISTORY OF COMICS, and ACTION PRESIDENTS! (drawn by Ryan Dunlavey).

Joe Cooper is an American artist originally from Detroit, Michigan. His art has been published by almost every major American comic book publisher, most notably Marvel, DC, Valiant, Dynamite, Image, and Insight Comics. Outside of comics, he was an illustrator at the venerable skateboard company Powell-Peralta for many years.

THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY: A Graphic Novel History
By David F. Walker, illustrated by Marcus Kwame Anderson

Founded in Oakland, California, in 1966, the Black Panther Party for Self-Defense was a revolutionary political organization that stood in defiant contrast to the mainstream civil rights movement. This gripping illustrated history explores the impact and legacy of the Panthers, from their social, educational, and healthcare programs that were designed to uplift the Black community to their battle against police brutality through citizen patrols and frequent clashes with the FBI, which targeted the Party from its outset.

Using dramatic comic book-style retellings and illustrated profiles of key figures, THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY captures the major events, people, and actions of the party, as well as their cultural and political influence and enduring significance.

David F. Walker is an award-winning comic book writer, author, filmmaker, journalist, and educator. His work in comic books includes Shaft, winner of the Glyph Award for Story of the Year, Power Man and Iron Fist, Nighthawk, Fury, Secret Wars: Battleworld, Cyborg, The Army of Dr. Moreau, and Number 13. He is also the creator of the critically-acclaimed YA series The Adventures of Darius Logan and the author of the graphic novel biography The Life of Frederick Douglass. Recognized as a leading scholar expert of African American cinema, Walker produced one of the definitive documentaries on the topic of Blaxploitation films, Macked, Hammered, Slaughtered, and Shafted.

Marcus Kwame Anderson is an illustrator and fine artist. Much of his work explores the beauty and diversity of the African diaspora and often incorporates social commentary. He graduated from SUNY Fredonia with a degree in illustration. Anderson is the co-creator of the comic book series Snow Daze and has illustrated stories in Action Lab's Cash and Carrie and F.O.R.C.E.

MEDITATIONS AND AFFIRMATIONS: 64 Cards to Awaken Your Spirit
By Deepak Chopra

For the last thirty years, Deepak Chopra has been at the forefront of the meditation revolution in the West. With this first-ever deck of affirmation cards, you'll learn to cultivate a clear mind, heal the mind and body, and practice mindfulness in a completely unintimidating way. Each of the sixty-four cards has a meditation on one side and an affirmation on the other, both embellished with original three-color art. Just pick a card, let it inspire and motivate you and help you set intentions. It's a simple daily practice that will change your life.

Deepak Chopra, MD, is a world-renowned pioneer in integrative medicine and personal transformation, the founder of the Chopra Foundation, and cofounder of Jiyo and the Chopra Center for Wellbeing. Time magazine has described Dr. Chopra as "one of the top 100 heroes and icons of the century." Dr. Chopra is board certified in internal medicine, endocrinology and metabolism; a fellow of the American College of Physicians; clinical professor in medicine at the University of California, San Diego; researcher, neurology and psychiatry, at Massachusetts General Hospital; adjunct professor at Kellogg School of Executive Management at Northwestern; adjunct professor at Columbia Business School; and professor of consciousness studies at Sofia University. The World Post and HuffPost global internet survey ranked Chopra the #17 influential thinker in the world and #1 in medicine. In conjunction with his medical achievements, he is recognized as a prolific author of more than eighty-five books translated into over forty languages, with twenty-five New York Times bestsellers including You Are the Universe.

LIZZY LOVES DARCY: A Jane Austen Matchmaking Game
By Thomas Cushing

Whether you're a fan of the novel or the film adaptation, it's impossible not to be seduced by the passion of love and the drama of social scandal with this board game based on Austen's classic.

This elegant board game in the format of Chutes and Ladders is inspired by Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice. The object is to meet your perfect match on square #100, where a pair of golden rings announce you have found your ideal partner. To get there, choose your character and roll the die. Spin the wheel, answer Jane Austen trivia questions, and, depending on what square you land on, you will rise on social ladders or fall down ropes of scandal. With enchanting full-color art, whimsical packaging, and 100 Jane Austen trivia questions, LIZZY LOVES DARCY is the ultimate game for literary nerds and board game enthusiasts alike.

Thomas Cushing is a writer, entrepreneur, and professional packager. As the owner of Libretto and Tin Moon, both developers and publishers of fine stationery, games, and gift products, Thomas has produced products for renowned fashion designers, leading department stores, and specialty stores around the world. Clients include Kate Spade, Christian Lacroix, The New York Times, Designers Guild, Christian Louboutin, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, MoMA, and Liberty of London. He lives in New York City.

WORDS OF ART: A Game That Illuminates Your Mind
By Cat Gund

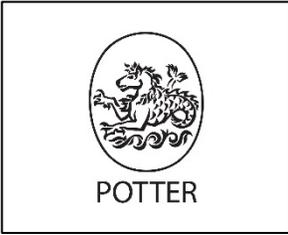

In the words of Agnes Gund, art "is a right, not a privilege." In this Apples to Apples-style game, players feast their eyes and exercise their brains as they challenge friends and family to come up with the art card that best expresses the verbal prompt given by the designated Storyteller. It's a beautiful, informative game to play with friends and family that will teach everyone who plays it more about art, imagination, and each other.

The 180 works of art featured on the cards draw from a wide range of artists--from world famous (Jasper Johns, Picasso, Warhol, Louise Bourgeois) to rising stars (Sarah Sze, Nick Cave, Cecily Brown). Over half the works were made by people of color and LGBTQ artists.

HIP-HOP QUEENS ORACLE DECK
By Kathy Iandoli

Women have been the backbone of hip-hop since its earliest inception. Along with perseverance and creativity, they possess a spiritual and metaphysical presence. These female creators have a profound potency that makes them the perfect symbols for an oracle deck.

The 52 artists included in the deck (from Aaliyah, Salt N' Pepa, and Lil' Kim to Missy Elliott, Cardi B, and Janelle Monae), are hip-hop's oracles, now immortalized from tape deck to card deck. They will guide you the same way they've blazed trails from the underground to the mainstream since Day One.

Kathy Iandoli is a critically acclaimed journalist and author of God Save The Queens: The Essential History of Women in Hip-Hop. She has written for Vibe, The Source, XXL, Village Voice, Rolling Stone, Billboard, Pitchfork, Playboy, Cosmopolitan, Maxim, The Guardian, Vice, and many other publications. She has held editorial positions at top hip-hop/urban websites, including AllHipHop.com, HipHopDX.Com, and BET.com. Iandoli is an alumna-in-residence of Music Business at New York University and has appeared across the media, in television and on radio and panels discussing hip-hop and gender.

ILLUMINATED: A Journal for Your Tarot Practice
By Caitlin Keegan

This journal is at once a primer on tarot and a sacred space to record and reflect on your tarot readings. As you cultivate a personal practice--whether you pull a daily card to set an intention or a spread to ask for guidance on a time-sensitive obstacle--this journal is a place to work through tough challenges, come to surprising conclusions, and see things clearly.

An informative introduction includes tips for beginners followed by a glossary of the 78 cards in a standard deck. The common interpretations are listed for each card, along with a pair of corresponding questions for the reader to reflect on. The Fool card, for example, typically represents a curious, fearless novice who is open to change and ready for anything. When you pull the Fool, you'll be asked to consider: How can I be more playful and less fearful? What journey is about to begin?

Caitlin Keegan is an illustrator and designer. She is a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design, has illustrated books and products for a variety of clients, and has worked at Sesame Workshop and Nickelodeon Magazine.

I CAN'T BELIEVE I DID THAT: The Game That Gives You Points for Sharing Awkward, Awesome, and Unforgettable Memories
By David Nadelberg and Neil Katcher

Hailed as a "cultural phenomenon" by Newsweek and praised by This American Life, Time, and beyond, the irreverent storytelling project, Mortified, celebrates the strange and extraordinary things we experienced during childhood and adolescence. This game from the makers of Mortified gives you the opportunity to do the same!

I CAN'T BELIEVE I DID THAT... is a party game that is an exercise in both empathy and hilarity. Hear friends reminisce about intense pop star crushes, questionable fashion choices, and sobbing at the middle school dance. With conversation prompts that spark memories of your most heartwarming, confusing, and totally OMG-worthy moments, this game is the perfect ice-breaker for dinner parties, reunions, pub nights, freshman orientation, or pre-gaming a night out.

David Nadelberg and Neil Katcher are, respectively, the founder and artistic director of Mortified, a multidisciplinary storytelling project based on embarrassing artifacts from childhood and adolescence, that encourages laughter while building intimacy and empathy.

INKTOBER 52 JOURNAL: A Guided Journal with Techniques and Prompts for Ink Artists
By Jake Parker

In 2009, the Inktober drawing challenge began as a simple list of 31 prompts for artists' experimentation. The concept was simple: Draw one piece of art following the daily prompt for each of the 31 days of October. Post and share online using the #Inktober hashtag. With the rise of social media, Inktober exploded into a global sensation, building a community of thousands of artists and art lovers who upload and hashtag their interpretations of Jake Parker's simple prompts for an online audience of millions.

This journal turns the 31-day challenge into a regular creative practice. Parker provides 52 words and phrases for artists, illustrators and doodlers to flex their creative muscles in the weeks and months leading up to Inktober each year. Draw one prompt a day, one a week, or dip in and out of the journal at a slower pace--it's up to you! Prompts range from spooky (claw) to magical (elixir) to everyday (lock and key). Fans of Inktober and newcomers to the brand alike will delight in this content-rich journal created expressly for doodling, experimenting, and celebrating the art of ink and illustration.

Jake Parker is a New York Times bestselling illustrator, cartoonist, and author of several graphic novels and picture books. He has worked on animated films, graphic novels and picture books. His film credits include the animated films Titan A.E., Ice Age: Dawn of the Dinosaurs, Horton Hears a Who, Rio, and Epic. Jake is the creator of Inktober, which he founded in 2009. He is the co-founder of The Society of Visual Storytelling (also known as SVSLearn), where he teaches drawing classes online.

BACKYARD BIRDING BINGO: A Game for Bird Lovers
By David Allen Sibley

Calling all bingo players and birdwatchers to the table! Experienced and novice birders will delight in David Sibley's colorful bird portraits as they find common backyard birds while trying to win a classic game of bingo.

With ten 16-square bingo boards, 80 egg-shaped tokens, and 50 calling cards, up to ten players of all ages can play this beloved game as they search for a robin, a Golden Eagle, a Great Blue Heron, a Carolina Wren, and 46 more backyard birds on their boards. Players will learn to identify a Great Horned Owl, a Goldfinch, a Rose-Breasted Grosbeak, a Scarlet Tanager, a Baltimore Oriole, and more. The compact size makes this boxed game easy to pack for a fun country adventure.

David Allen Sibley is a leading ornithologist and author of the essential Sibley birding field guides. He began his career illustrating personal field guides before publishing his successful series. He lives in Concord, Massachusetts, with his wife and two children.

KICKSTART CREATIVITY: 50 Prompted Cards to Spark Inspiration
By Bonnie Smith Whitehouse

What if finding inspiration was merely a matter of gazing through a different lens or trying out a new tool? KICKSTART CREATIVITY is a deck of 50 cards--each with a creative exercise--designed to prompt unexpected ways of thinking.

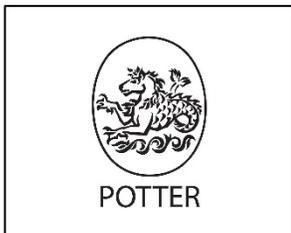

At the start of a personal challenge or work project, draw three cards from this deck and reflect on how the spread relates to your current situation. Choose an action card to learn a new skill, a perspective card to see the world in a novel way, and an intention card to influence more meaningful and mindful choices.

KICKSTART CREATIVITY can be used by individuals or by groups of teachers, students, co-workers, and other collaborators as an antidote to creative block. With insights from trailblazing rule-breakers and cultural philosophies from bygone eras, KICKSTART CREATIVITY will shift your attention away from the pressure of productivity and toward the path to creative freedom.

Bonnie Kathryn Smith Whitehouse Ph.D. is a professor of English at Belmont University and the author of Afoot and Lighthearted: A Journal for Mindful Walking. She specializes in the flourishing field of writing studies, where she gives writers opportunities for freedom, authenticity, and discovery by emphasizing process and experimentation over product. Bonnie seeks to help others cultivate creativity, well-being, and peace by prompting them to engage thoughtfully and contemplatively with themselves, the natural world, and the technologies that shape our lives.

TASTE TRIVIA
By Max Falkowitz and The Editors of TASTE

A trivia card game from Max Falkowitz and the editors of TASTE.

We all love to eat, but how much do you know about what you're eating? Find out with TASTE Trivia, the trivia game for food obsessives. Test the limits of your culinary obsessions and broaden your horizons as you dive into questions like, "What was Richard Nixon's sad last meal in the White House?" and "How many layers of dough will you find in a typical croissant?"

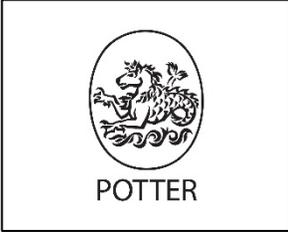

The four categories of question cards--People & Pop Culture; Cooking Tools & Techniques; Ingredients; and Regional Dishes--provide endless fun and become topics of conversation all on their own. The best part is you can play in teams and keep score (using the original rules or several variations included in the enclosed booklet), or simply set out the cards at your next get-together for some ice-breaking fun. No matter what, make sure you're playing with food and drinks handy and let the friendly competition begin!

A native of Queens, Max Falkowitz is the senior digital editor of Saveur and previously worked at Serious Eats as a senior features editor.

TASTE is an online food magazine for people who love to cook at home and enjoy reading about approachable recipes, popular and emerging ingredients, and stories reported from the front lines of today's quickly moving food culture.

NINJA: GET GOOD

NINJA: THE MOST DANGEROUS GAME

NINJA: WAR FOR THE DOMINIONS

By Tyler "Ninja" Blevins and Justin Jordan, art by Felipe Magaña

Empowered by the resilience of Ninja and his friends in the Ketterung--a broadcasted battle-royale game realm controlled by evil overlord Strigus Thule--the people in all of Thule's 1000 Dominions are now rebelling. In response, Thule unleashes his Great Beasts, seven of the most powerful victors from previous games, kept to serve as the villainous gamemaster's tools for all of eternity.

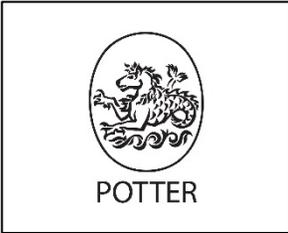

Rather than use their remaining energy to return home at the end of their game, Ninja convinces his friends to stay and help him free the Dominions from Thule's tyrannic rule. Will the tenacity, integrity, and camaraderie that kept our hero and his crew alive in the first challenge help them defeat the horrifying Great Beasts--and Strigus Thule himself?

Tyler "Ninja" Blevins is a professional gamer and battle royale player who is widely hailed as the #1 streamer. He is best known for playing Fortnite. With over 22 million subscribers on YouTube and 14.9 million followers on Instagram, Ninja is beloved by fans for his goofy, energetic personality, incredible impressions, and gaming expertise. In 2019, Ninja was named one of Time Magazine's 100 Most Influential People.

Justin Jordan has penned comics for Image, Marvel, and DC Comics, including twenty-two issues of The Green Lantern and the Call of Duty: Zombies graphic novels. In 2012, he was nominated for the Harvey Award for Most Promising New Talent and is one of the writers of the Eisner-nominated IN THE DARK: A Horror Anthology.

EXPLORER'S JOURNAL: Professor Astro Cat's Prompted Guide to Discovering Science and the Stars from Your Backyard
By Dr. Dominic Walliman and Ben Newman

Discover the solar system and outer space from your backyard or bedroom with this guided journal based on Ben Newman's art from the children's nonfiction book PROFESSOR ASTRO CAT'S FRONTIERS OF SPACE. Entertaining illustrations, interesting prompts about planets, bodies in space, and stargazing, and a section with important science terms and vocabulary in the back make this a fun way for children to learn more about science and space.

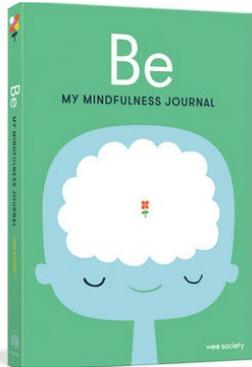

Dr. Dominic Walliman is a scientist who works on quantum computers. He studied quantum device physics at Birmingham University where he also taught Physics. He is the co-author of the Professor Astro Cat books, which are published by Flying Eye Books and have been translated into 18 languages.

Ben Newman has developed a distinct aesthetic over the years; a contemporary fusion of bold shapes, bright colours and playful characters which has been described as "bauhaus fuzzy felt." He has produced work for a large range of clients, including the Tate Modern, New York Times, BBC Radio 4, Google and The New Yorker. His practice extends from commercial work to worldwide exhibitions, paintings and three dimensional collaborations. He spends the majority of his time collaborating on the Professor Astro Cat children's books with his longtime friend, Dr. Dominic Walliman.

US: A Compendium

By Wee Society

This journal provides a creative way for kids and their grownups to connect with each other. It's filled with prompts-both silly and serious- to learn more about each other and get everyone giggling. Shared journaling opens lines of communication, providing opportunities for self-expression. Through messages, sketches, and lists, you'll share memories, compare perspectives, uncover similarities, and celebrate uniqueness.

Wee Society is an award-winning creative studio that believes you're never too young to develop an eye for design. They aim to spark kids' imaginations, leading to big bright explosions of creativity. And they're pretty sure uncontrollable giggles make the world better. With this in mind, Wee Society has created kids' apps (available in the App Store), books, art prints, toys, and still-secret stuff. Their work has been honored by the Parents' Choice Foundation, Webby Awards, and other nice folks.

BEASTS & BEHEMOTHS (DUNGEONS & DRAGONS): A Young Adventurer's Guide

By Jim Zub with Stacy King and Andrew Wheeler. Official Dungeons & Dragons Licensed.

This illustrated guide transports new players to the magical world of Dungeons & Dragons and presents a one-of-a-kind course on the unusual creatures, from the minuscule to the massive, that fill the fantastic world of the game. This guide features easy-to-follow and entertaining explanations of where to find each beast, their strange abilities and magical powers, and how to defeat them, along with amazing illustrations that will ignite your imagination. Organized by size from small to large, bigger and more dangerous monsters are introduced with every turn of the page.

BEASTS & BEHEMOTHS is a perfect way for new players and young fantasy fans to learn about the monsters an adventuring party can meet, with profiles full of example encounters and storytelling tips that encourage creative problem-solving skills when battling beastly foes.

Dungeons & Dragons launched the great tradition of roleplaying games in 1974 with an unprecedented mix of adventure and strategy, dice-rolling, and storytelling. Wizards of the Coast continues to honor that tradition, bringing to market a diverse range of D&D game and entertainment experiences and influencing numerous writers, directors, and game designers by tapping into an innate human need to gather with friends and tell an exciting story together.

THE DUNGEONEER'S GUIDE: A Young Adventurer's Guide

Written by Jim Zub with Stacy King and Andrew Wheeler. Official Dungeons & Dragons Licensed.

This illustrated guide transports new players to the magical world of Dungeons & Dragons and presents a one-of-a-kind course on how to use everything you've learned in previous Young Adventurer's Guides to start playing D&D with friends! THE DUNGEONEER'S GUIDE is divided into player- and dungeon master-focused sections, and features easy-to-follow and entertaining explanations of using dice, creating characters, and working together in an adventuring party to create fun and exciting stories. Advice, encouragement, and storytelling tips provide a rules-free perspective on how all the elements of D&D combine, along with action-packed illustrations that will ignite your imagination.

THE DUNGEONEER'S GUIDE is the perfect way for new players and aspiring dungeon masters to learn how to craft stories through collaboration, communication, and creativity--with a little help from their favorite weapons, their tried-and-true spells, and their trusty dice.

Dungeons & Dragons launched the great tradition of roleplaying games in 1974 with an unprecedented mix of adventure and strategy, dice-rolling, and storytelling. Wizards of the Coast continues to honor that tradition, bringing to market a diverse range of D&D game and entertainment experiences and influencing numerous writers, directors, and game designers by tapping into an innate human need to gather with friends and tell an exciting story together.

OUTLANDER KNITTING: The Official Book of 20 Knits Inspired by the Hit Series
By Kate Atherley

From the Scottish Highlands to the courts of Versailles to the eastern shores of North America, the TV show Outlander brings to life in gorgeous detail the epic love story of Jamie Fraser and Claire Beauchamp Randall Fraser. But beyond the drama and passion, what has captured fans' imagination the most are the rustic knits worn on the show.

Now knitters of all skill levels can recreate them with 20 projects for apparel, accessories, and home décor inspired by memorable episodes. Knit the capelet cowl that Mrs. Fitz gives to Claire at Castle Leoch, warm your feet with Clan Mackenzie Boot Socks, swaddle your bairn with the Mo Chridhe Baby Blanket, and dress your Jamie in a warm waistcoat. From chunky knits to Celtic cables, each project includes a clearly written pattern, gorgeous photography, and scenes from the set.

A love letter to the fans, OUTLANDER KNITTING will have you wishing you could time travel to the Highlands.

Kate Atherley is a seasoned knit designer, a knitting teacher, and the managing technical editor of Knitty. She's the author of THE KNITTER'S DICTIONARY, KNIT MITTS, CUSTOM SOCKS, and PATTERN WRITING FOR KNIT DESIGNERS, and her work has appeared in countless knitting books and magazines.

THE CANNABIS GARDENER: A Beginner's Guide to Growing Vibrant, Healthy Plants in Every Region
By Penny Barthel

Cannabis is as easy to grow as a tomato plant. If you live in a suitable climate and provide sun, water, and good soil, you can grow vigorous, beautiful cannabis in pots, raised beds, or your own yard. Not only is cannabis an easy addition to your garden, it can also provide health and mood-lifting benefits.

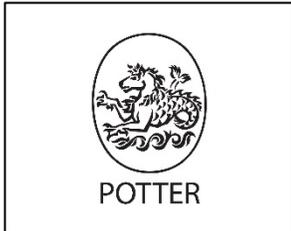

Penny Barthel teaches you how to choose which strains are right for you and how to cultivate the plants from seed to finished flower. Gorgeous full-color photographs capture each stage of the growing process and show how cannabis plants can be incorporated into your garden design as well as raised beds and containers. After you establish your plants in the garden and monitor them through the flowering stage, you'll find tips on how to harvest, dry, cure, and store your "grow." Also included are recipes for savoring your harvest, from salves, tisanes, and tinctures to cannabutter for baking and cooking delicious treats such as CBD gummies flavored with vanilla beans, cheddar crackers, and even cannabis chocolate sauce.

THE CANNABIS GARDENER is an accessible and practical guide for any level of gardener interested in growing their own attractive cannabis plants.

Penny Barthel is a nutritionist, recipe developer, gardener, and plant nerd. Her garden and kitchen pursuits flow directly from her education and life experience. A certified cannabis horticulturist, Penny has a growing following through her Instagram, Small Garden Cannabis, and cannabis events known as Let's Sesh Workshops.

UNTITLED ON DESIGNING OUTDOOR SPACES
By Melissa Brasier, Garrett Magee, and James DeSantis

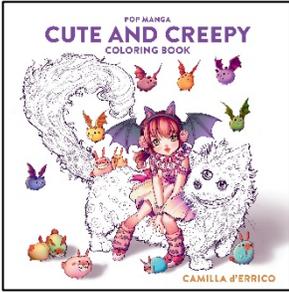

From the hosts of Bravo's TV show Backyard Envy comes a beautifully photographed guide to converting your outdoor space into an enviable oasis, whether you have a backyard, brownstone patio, or a Juliet balcony.

Design and style your backyard escape to be everything you envision. Dubbed the "plantfluencers" by the New York Times, Mel, Garrett, and James, owners of the landscaping company called the Manscapers, do more than plant, mulch, and manicure a garden; they look at the space just as interior designers do a room, considering the aesthetics and the way people live in it. With their book, learn how to apply familiar interior design concepts to your outdoors--including deciding on a concept, "zoning" your outdoors into more usable areas, implementing furniture and plants, and much more.

Mel Brasier, Garrett Magee, and James DeSantis are the hosts of Bravo's exterior and garden show Backyard Envy as well as the founder of the Manscapers, an exterior design and landscaping firm located in Brooklyn, New York, and Los Angeles, California. They have been profiles in Architectural Digest, The New York Times, People, LA Times, Vogue, and on Rachel Ray.

STRIKING SUCCULENT GARDENS: Plants and Plans for Designing Your Low-Maintenance Landscape
By Gabriel Frank

You can't help but be mesmerized by the eye-catching geometric forms and jewel-toned colors of succulents. But how do you grow these beauties in your own garden? One of the only books dedicated to succulent garden design, STRIKING SUCCULENT GARDENS is a stylish, modern gardening book for beginners and enthusiasts alike.

Known for his colorful approach and bold use of varied textures and shapes, garden designer Gabriel Frank offers practical ideas, simple concepts, stunning full-color photography, step-by-step instructions for a dozen different gardens, plant recommendations, basic succulent care, and an inspired approach to creating living art in your own garden. For those in colder climates, there is a list of cold-hardy succulents and advice for bringing container gardens indoors for the winter, making succulent gardens achievable no matter where you live.

Gabriel Frank is the founder of Gardens by Gabriel, a landscape design/build firm in Morro Bay, California, known for its distinctive and dramatic succulent designs. A graduate of the New York Botanical Garden School of Professional Horticulture, he has been honored by America in Bloom and featured in Better Homes and Gardens's Country Garden magazine.

HOUSE PLANTED: Choosing, Growing, and Styling the Perfect Plants for Your Space
By Lisa Muñoz

Green up your living space with this bright, fresh, stylish introduction to choosing, caring for, and designing with houseplants.

Get ready to transform your humble abode! Whether you have a funky bohemian den, a chic minimalist loft, or a closet-sized rental, indoor plants will bring a whole new level of warmth, comfort, and style into your home. In How to Be a Plant Parent, interior plant designer Lisa Muñoz guides you step by step and room by room through picking the perfect plant for the perfect spot and incorporating plants into your indoor decor. The book includes plants that are hard to kill, hanging plants, succulents, air plants, and more. There are creative ideas for displaying plants, tips on caring for your new leafy friends, and primers on potting and troubleshooting. Casual and easy-going, with attainable styles and simple instructions, this compact and inspiring book has everything you need, and nothing you don't, to start you off on an adventure in better--and greener--living.

Lisa Muñoz is an interior plant designer who worked for Sprout Home and The Sill before launching Leaf and June, a Brooklyn-based plant design company for residential and commercial spaces as well as editorial features and events. Her passion for visual design is grounded in ten years of experience as a visual effects producer for clients such as MoMA and Google. Muñoz earned a certificate in horticulture at the Brooklyn Botanic Garden and her work has been featured on Design*Sponge and in Vogue.
