SANKOFA
by Eric Adjepong

Sankofa is a Ghanaian word that roughly translates to the idea that we must look back to move forward. In his moving debut cookbook, chef Eric Adjepong does just that as he showcases the beauty and depth of West African food and its indelible impact on the foodways of the African diaspora through the lens of his deeply personal story. Born and raised in New York and the son of two Ghanaian immigrants, Eric's experience negotiating between the two parts of his Ghanaian-American identity is both powerful and universal.

Through soul-satisfying recipes and narrative essays, we follow Eric's culinary journey, from traditional home-cooked meals from his mother to creative dishes influenced by his culinary education and reflective of the lasting connections among the cultures of the African diaspora. Full of stunning photography shot in Ghana and remembrances rooted in family, tradition and love, SANKOFA shows readers how the unsung story of a continent's cuisine can shine a powerful light on one person's exploration of who he is as a chef and aman.

Eric Adjepong was a finalist on season 16 of Bravo's Top Chef and a contestant on season 17 of Top Chef All-Stars, where he earned consistent acclaim from judges and popularity among viewers. Eric has cooked in several Michelin-starred restaurants in New York after graduating with degrees in culinary arts and nutrition from Johnson & Wales, one of the country's premiere culinary universities. He also holds a Master of Public Health in International Public Health Nutrition from the University of Westminster in London.

ARABIYYA: Recipes from the Life of an Arab in Diaspora
by Reem Assil

This debut cookbook from a rising star chef and activist contains 100 bright, bold recipes influenced by the vibrant flavors and convivial culture of the Arab world, mixed with moving personal essays and a pinch of California cool.

ARABIYYA celebrates the alluring aroma and flavors of Arabic food and the spirit of hospitality with which it is shared. With fresh California ingredients and bold flavors, author Reem Assil takes readers on a journey through flatbreads, dips, full spreads, and snacks, using the food to showcase its own origins and evolution. Alongside the tempting recipes, Reem shares stories of the power of Arab communities to turn hardship into brilliant, nourishing meals. These trials and triumphs are interwoven throughout the book, giving context to the dishes and the ways in which they have been shared beyond just the restaurant.

Reem Assil is a James Beard Award semifinalist and the owner of Reem's California, a bakery with locations in Oakland and San Francisco, and was the opening chef for Dyafa, a Middle Eastern fine-dining restaurant that was awarded a coveted Michelin Bib Gourmand in its first year. She has built her platform at the intersection of food, Arab culture, and social justice.

THE COOK YOU WANT TO BE: Everyday Recipes to Impress
by Andy Baraghani

One of Bon Appétit's favorite talents shows how to define and develop your individual cooking style—and become the cook you want to be—in 120 recipes. Andy Baraghani learned to cook professionally in such vaunted restaurants as Chez Panisse and Estela, but his love for flavor began with the comforting home dishes of his Iranian parents' immigrant household. Baraghani creates wow-factor flavors, beautiful and satisfying meals with minimal fuss, and recasts well-known dishes in utterly delicious ways. With more than 120 sumptuous photographs, 20 instructional essays (such as why salt fish an hour before cooking), and 120 recipes for snacks, eggs, salads, vegetables, grains and legumes, pasta, fish, meat, and desserts, this debut cookbook is a trove of transformative techniques and recipes. Within these pages, you'll discover what kind of cook you want to be—and how to do just that.

Andy Baraghani started his professional cooking career as a teenage intern at Chez Panisse in Berkeley, California. After graduating from New York University, he worked on the line at the acclaimed restaurant Estela in New York City and then as a writer and test kitchen cook at Saveur and Tasting Table. In 2015, he joined Bon Appétit as a senior editor and created a string of recipes that went viral. Baraghani helped launch the publication's Healthyish vertical, contributed to the brand's podcast, and played a role in the exponential audience growth for Bon Appétit's test kitchen videos on YouTube—including hosting his own series, Andy Explores. As the child of parents who emigrated to California from Iran in 1976, Andy grew up knowing that yogurt should always be within arm's reach.

BLUDSO'S BBQ COOKBOOK: A Family Affair in Smoke and Soul
by Kevin Bludso with Noah Galuten

Kevin Bludso was born and raised in Compton, California by a Black Panther supporting mother and a police officer father. To stay out of trouble, he spent his summers in Corsicana, Texas where he was schooled on the art of barbecue and worked long, hot hours on the pits at his granny's legendary BBQ stand. In 2008, Kevin opened his own Bludso's BBQ, a small walk-up stand in the heart of Compton that has led to multiple locations in California, Texas, and even Australia.

In this honest and engaging cookbook, Kevin teaches you everything you need to know about BBQ—choosing, seasoning, trimming, and cleaning your pit, how to select your brisket, ribs, and sausages, all the rubs and sauces you could need, plus 90 delicious recipes.

Kevin Bludso is a chef, television personality, and two-time Steve Harvey Neighborhood Award Winner. In 2008, he opened Bludso's BBQ, his small takeout BBQ stand in Compton, California, which since grown into an international empire, with locations in California, Texas, and Australia. He is the judge on an upcoming and highly anticipated Netflix BBQ competition show and has appeared on Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives and Bong Appétit, among others.

Noah Galuten is a chef and James Beard Award-nominated cookbook author. He trained under Kevin Bludso and became the chef of Bludso's Bar & Que and Texas BBQ restaurant in Los Angeles. Noah then became the culinary director of the J Howard Restaurant Group, creating the cult-hit smoked potato breakfast burrito at Cofax Coffee. Noah also co-authored ON VEGETABLES with Jeremy Fox.

THE ANCHOR BREWING STORY: America's First Craft Brewery and San Francisco's Original Anchor Steam Beer

by David Burkhart, foreword by Fritz Maytag

The highly illustrated story of America's oldest and most iconic craft brewery, featuring a history of American brewing traditions and clone beer recipes for Anchor's top brews including Anchor Steam and California Lager.

A pioneer in the craft beer movement, Anchor is the unlikely San Francisco microbrewery that inspired a generation of small brewers and created a revolution in beer. After its founding during the Gold Rush, it endured fires that wiped out two locations, the death of an owner who fell from a cable car, and Prohibition—only to find itself facing the mammoth beer corporations of the 1960s and a country dominated by bland, watery, mass-produced lagers.

With authorized clone recipes for four of Anchor's original beers, detailed tasting notes, and never-before-seen images from the brewery's vast archives, THE ANCHOR BREWING STORY is a must for any homebrewer or beer buff.

David Burkhart is the brewery historian at Anchor Brewing, where he has been on staff since 1991. He is the author of award-winning books on the 1906 San Francisco earthquake and San Francisco mixologist Cocktail Boothby.

VINO: The Essential Guide to Real Italian Wine
by Joe Campanale with Joshua David Stein

The Italian wine bible for a new generation that explores the dynamic world of contemporary Italian wine, from a superstar sommelier.

In his debut book VINO, superstar sommelier Joe Campanale tells the thrilling story of the dynamic landscape of Italian wine today: how a new generation of winemakers are embracing the land in every way by eschewing popular international styles, championing long-forgotten native grapes, and adopting sustainable approaches best suited for their local climates. To reexamine what Italian wine is now, and importantly, what it could be, Joe proposes a new rubric of quality based on three overlapping values: native grapes, exceptional terroir, and talented winemakers. He explores the exciting new trends and styles of wine to which this renaissance of artisanal wine has given birth—from pét-nats, orange wines, aged white wines, and more. Joe's epic quest through Italy's twenty regions takes him from the steep hills of Valle d'Aosta to the near-tropical climates of Sicily, and he uncovers and profiles the wonderful wines and producers in each.

Joe Campanale is a sommelier and restaurateur, having opened some of New York City's finest Italian dining destinations, including Dell'anima, L'Artusi, Anfora, Fausto, and, most recently, LaLou. He is also the host of In the Drink, a podcast about wine, and was named 2013's Food & Wine Sommelier of the Year. His restaurants have been featured in The New York Times, New York Magazine, and Saveur, among others.

Joshua David Steian is a writer, illustrator, and contributing editor to Fatherly, the senior editor of Eater, and the editor at large at Tasting Table.

CASTLE ROCK KITCHEN: A Stephen King-Inspired Cookbook
by Theresa Carle-Sanders

CASTLE ROCK KITCHEN is an immersive culinary experience from the mouthwatering to the macabre, transporting Stephen King fans to kitchen tables, diners, and picnic blankets across Maine. Using delicious recipes nestled between pages rich with story excerpts and atmospheric photos of the food peppered throughout his books, and with a foreword written by Stephen King and 80 professionally tested recipes, CASTLE ROCK KITCHEN is a cookbook that will appeal to Stephen King fans of all ages and cooking levels. Dishes are inspired by meals and gatherings from the more than forty novels and stories set in King's Castle Rock multiverse—a darker, more gothic version of the Maine most are familiar with. Using local down home ingredients (fresh seafood, potatoes, cranberries, maple syrup), recipes such as Gramma's Crab Cake Brunch, Moose-Lickit Fish and Chips, Hermits for the Road, and more deliver frightfully good food and drink for the Stephen King fan.

Theresa Carle-Sanders is a professional cook, cookbook author, and avid reader. After two successful literary-themed cookbooks set in the Outlander universe, she continues to create delicious, creative, fictionally-inspired recipes for new fandoms.

PROVECHO: 100 Vegan Mexican Recipes to Celebrate Culture and Community
 by Edgar Castrejon

PROVECHO (the Latin expression for wishing someone a good meal) is a celebration of food and family, honors the traditional recipes of Mexican and Latin-American culture while cooking with compassion. The 100 vegan recipes, many of which take 30 minutes or less and rely on readily accessible ingredients are organized by how meals are approached in Edgar's family, chapters include: La Mesa Llena (the full table), with slow-simmered soups and stews, empanadas, tamales and all the must-have sides like rice and beans; La Mesita (the small table), featuring simpler meals like tacos and quesadillas; La Mañana Después de la Cruda (the "morning after" party), with the dishes you wake up craving after a big night, like cinnamon pancakes and breakfast burritos; Antojitos (little cravings), think salsas, salads and ceviches; Bebidas (beverages), from comforting horchata to spicy tamarind juice, with options to transform some drinks into cocktails; and Los Dulces Especiales (the special desserts) for flan, cakes, sweet empanadas, and more.

Edgar Castrejon is a chef, recipe developer, food stylist, and photographer based in the Bay Area. The son of parents who moved from Mexico in 1989, Edgar grew up in a diverse neighborhood in Oakland and discovered early on that he had "las manos magicas." The first in his family to attend college, Edgar studied plant science and nutrition. While in school he launched his Instagram account, where these days his many followers tune in for his creative, nourishing, plant-based recipes and beautiful food photography. Edgar has worked with brands including KitchenAid, Saje Natural Wellness, and Vitamix, and was named a "Fab Five Influencer" and "Plant Revolutionist" at the 2019 Expo West.

COOKING AT HOME: Or, How I Learned to Stop Worrying About Recipes (And Love My Microwave)
by David Chang and Priya Krishna

Being a chef can make you the absolute worst kind of home cook. Either you're too fussy when dinner just needs to be on the table or, like Momofuku chef David Chang, you just...never cook at home. But now, with a young family to feed, he now has the same goals as every other mortal home cook: to make something as delicious as possible, in the least amount of time possible, with as little mess as possible.

And what Dave learned is...to never cook like a chef. Don't look at recipes. Let go of the idea that fresh peas are better than frozen ones. Put the microwave to use-a lot. Forget meticulous browning in a stockpot; just shove the meat under the broiler. And go ahead, make the sauce for pasta cacio e pepe in a blender, no matter what that cool chef says about how you have to slowly emulsify everything in a pan at the absolute correct temperature. This is a book of delicious recipes, maximizing flavor while minimizing effort (and culinary orthodoxy), but really it's a guide to unlocking culinary dark arts of trickery, shortcuts, and hacks, brought to you by a chef who's made a career of doing everything the hard way...and is as tired of doing it as you are of hearing about it.

David Chang is the chef and founder of Momofuku. David has been honored as a Food & Wine Best New Chef and Bon Appétit Chef of the Year, and has won five James Beard Awards, including Outstanding Chef and Best Chef New York City. David has been recognized as a Time 100 honoree, was named GQ's Man of the Year, and has appeared on Fortune's 40 Under 40 and Esquire's list of the "most influential people of the twenty-first century." David's first cookbook, MOMOFUKU, is a New York Times best-seller. In 2018 David founded Majordomo Media and launched The Dave Chang Show podcast in partnership with The Ringer. David collaborated with Academy Award-winning director Morgan Neville on the Netflix original documentary series Ugly Delicious.

Priya Krishna is a food writer who regularly contributes to The New York Times and other publications. She is the author of the cookbook INDIAN-ISH.

SUNDAY BEST: Cooking Up the Weekend Spirit Every Day
 by Adrienne Cheatham with Sarah Zorn

Chef Adrienne Cheatham spent her career cooking in some of the country's most prestigious restaurants, from Eric Ripert's Le Bernardin to Marcus Samuelsson's Red Rooster. She went on to become a finalist on Top Chef and founded a popular pop-up series, SundayBest, where she honed her signature style of cooking that combined her African American roots and childhood food memories with her classical training in professional kitchens. Now, inspired by her family's Sunday suppers and their humble dishes made with care and joy, Adrienne presents a heartfelt collection of recipes suffused with deep, familial comfort and featuring smart tweaks influenced by her fine dining background.

Adrienne's easy but elevated recipes in SUNDAY BEST include a feast-worthy pork roast crusted with pecans, seared green beans doused in hot-honey butter, skirt steak with pesto made with sharp mustard greens, and roasted sweet potatoes tossed with a nutty tahini dressing. No matter the day of the week, SUNDAY BEST will help you make even everyday meals something to celebrate.

Adrienne Cheatham has held senior positions in some of the best kitchens in the country, including serving as executive sous chef at Le Bernardin and executive chef at Red Rooster. She competed on Season 15 of Top Chef, finishing in second place, has been featured as a speaker at Cherry Bombe Jubilee and was the subject of a New York Times documentary series titled Tastemakers. She is the chef and founder of the reliably sold-out SundayBest pop-up dinner series which took place in New York and around the country.

THE VEGAN CHINESE KITCHEN: Modern Recipes and Stories from a Thousand-Year-Old Tradition
 by Hannah Che

100+ fresh, plant-based, umami-packed recipes that show the range of traditional and modern Chinese vegan cuisine.

When Hannah Che decided to become a vegan, she was concerned that it would alienate her from the traditions and food that her Chinese family celebrated. But that was before she learned about Zhai cai, or vegetarian cooking, a fascinating subset of Chinese cookery that emphasizes umami-rich ingredients and can be traced back over hundreds, if not a thousand, years to Buddhist temple kitchens.

This book will delight vegans and omnivores alike, inviting you not only to explore a whole new world of flavors and ingredients, but also to create conversations about food, cultural traditions and identity, and wholesome, sustainable cooking.

Hannah Che is a cook, writer, and photographer based in Taipei, Taiwan. Born and raised in Detroit, Michigan, she lived in China for several years with her family and most recently spent a year traveling throughout China and training as a chef at the Guangzhou Vegetarian Culinary School. She is the creator of the blog The Plant-Based Wok.

DRINK LIGHTLY: A Lighter Take on Serious Cocktails, with 100 Recipes for Low- and No-Alcohol Drinks
 by Natasha David

Explore the lighter side of serious cocktails with 100 recipes for creative low-and no-alcohol drinks from the craft cocktail veteran behind New York City's beloved Nitecap bar.

DRINK LIGHTLY presents a relaxed style of drinking that goes down easy but is soundly rooted in the technical precision of craft cocktails. Light and refreshing, low-alcohol, aperitif-style drinks are charming delights that can elongate an enjoyable afternoon into a spontaneous dinner, then dessert, a walk, and perhaps even a spin under a disco ball. In award-winning bartender Natasha David's experienced hands, the classic aperitif transforms into something more: a blank canvas full of uncharted opportunity. Natasha's approach goes far beyond the formulaic--bitter liqueur plus soda--and takes full advantage of the incredible and vast array of low-proof spirits, liqueurs, and wines, along with flavorful fruit and herbal infusions. Served up with whimsy and a wink, DRINK LIGHTLY will delight novices and professionals alike with its joyful spirit and lighthearted offerings.

Natasha David is an award-winning bartender who has spent time at Maison Premiere, Donna, Dram, and Mayahuel. With the founders of Death & Co, she went on to open and co-own the popular New York City cocktail bar, Nitecap. Her recipes have been featured in various publications including the New York Times, Nylon, Vogue, Time Out, and Food & Wine. Her awards include Zagat's 30 Under 30 and Imbibe's Bartender of the Year.

FLOUR WATER SALT YEAST II
by Ken Forkish

In this follow-up to the New York Times bestselling FLOUR WATER SALT YEAST, Ken Forkish delves into how to make wholesome, delicious artisan panloaves at home. In a return to form, FLOUR WATER SALT YEAST II picks up where FLOUR WATER SALT YEAST left off. Building upon the rustic loaves Ken demystified making in his firstbook, he now shows how to use those same methods to craft artisan pan loaves, elevating sandwich bread and breakfast toast to the same standard as rustic bakery loaves. Approachable to the home baker, while still being chock full of expert knowledge, this book covers long-fermented, high hydration doughs; pre-fermented doughs; and sourdough cultures. Forkish dives into the basics of starters before exploring more individualized recipes such as Japanese Milk Bread and Raisin Pecan Pan Loaf. Learn how to get professional, consistent results at home while making better tasting and longer lasting bread. His new starter method also uses less flour, so there's less waste throughout the process. This book will elevate anyone's baking game for pan loaves but also serves as a companion book to his first, giving the home baker everything they need to create any loaf imaginable.

Ken Forkish is the owner of Ken's Artisan Pizza and Ken's Artisan Bakery, which was named one of Gourmet magazine's "Best Restaurants in America." He trained at the San Francisco Baking Institute, the CIA Greystone, Toscana Saporita in Italy, and l'Institut Paul Bocuse in France. He is the bestselling author of THE ELEMENTS OF PIZZA and FLOUR WATER SALT YEAST, which won both a James Beard and IACP award.

FIRST GENERATION
by Frankie Gaw

In this stunning exploration of identity through food, blogger Frankie Gaw presents 100 recipes, including the dishes that defined his childhood as a first-generation Taiwanese American growing up in the Midwest.

In FIRST GENERATION, Frankie Gaw of the food blog Little Fat Boy presents a tribute to Taiwanese home cooking. With dishes passed down from generations of family, Gaw introduces a deeply personal and essential collection of recipes inspired by his multi-cultural experience, melding the flavors of suburban America with the ingredients and techniques his parents grew up with. In his debut cookbook, Gaw will teach you to master bao, dumplings, scallion pancakes, and so much more through stunning visuals and intimate storytelling about discovering identity and belonging through cooking the food of his heritage.

Frankie Gaw is a food writer, photographer, and designer. He is the blogger behind Little Fat Boy, which won the Saveur Blog of the Year award in 2019 and the IACP Individual Food blog award in 2020.

PIE IS MESSY: The Pie Hole Cookbook
by Rebecca Grasley with Willy Blackmore

Learn how to make perfectly imperfect pies with maximized tastethrough time-honored techniques from the founder of The Pie Hole. In PIE IS MESSY, Becky Grasley shares the pie gospel with home cooks everywhere. With more than 100 recipes, the book takes readers from the basics of making crust to preparing contemporary hits from The Pie Hole like S'mores Pie and Earl Grey Pie. Each chapter is broken down into two overarching sections: Old School Pies and New School Pies, allowing readers to learn the basics through classic recipes, and then see how they can be adapted and updated with more contemporary flavors and techniques. Interspersed throughout are stories from The Pie Hole and from generations of Becky's pie-loving family. In addition, find tutorials for all possible crust variations, tips and tricks for gussying up your pie's presentation, and making substitutions for vegan or gluten-free options.

Becky Grasley is the founder of The Pie Hole. She has more than 50 years of pie-baking experience. After a career in nursing, Becky financed the first The Pie Hole LA in the Arts District location with her retirement savings. She's still baking today, creating new recipes in her kitchen, and tasting every new flavor that The Pie Hole creates.

UNTITLED BRAIDED HERITAGE

By Jessica Harris

The sweeping origin story of American food and how Indigenous, European, and African traditions intertwined to form an entirely new cuisine, with 100 recipes for the modern home cook—from the James Beard Cookbook Hall of Famer and star of the Netflix docuseries High on the Hog.

What is American food? In UNTITLED BRAIDED HERITAGE, culinary historian Jessica B. Harris traces our food culture back to the beginning to reveal how American cuisine came to be. With 100 recipes for the modern home cook, these stories, essays, and interviews present American cuisine as a complex braid—an interwoven whole composed at its inception of the ingredients and dishes from the Indigenous American, European, and African people in the New World. With recipes ranging from the festive to the everyday, UNTITLED BRAIDED HERITAGE offers a new look at American culinary history and the matrix of the food we eat now.

Jessica B. Harris is the author, editor, and translator of seventeen books, including twelve cookbooks documenting the foods and foodways of the African Diaspora. Her IACP Award-winning book, High on the Hog: A Culinary Journey from Africa to America, has been adapted into a Netflix series. Harris is a professor emerita at Queens College/CUNY in New York and has written extensively for scholarly and popular publications. She served as the culinary consultant for the Smithsonian Museum of African American History and Culture and their lauded restaurant, the Sweet Home Café. She holds lifetime achievement awards from the Southern Foodways Alliance, the Soul Summit, and the James Beard Foundation, which also inducted Harris into the Cookbook Hall of Fame.

MALIBU FARM SUNRISE TO SUNSET: Simple Recipes All Day
by Helene Henderson

This book makes the idyllic, carefree, beachy vibes an attainable reality. It is also an ode to home cooking from an author who truly gets it; Malibu Farm's path to success is rooted in Helene's completely self-taught skill. The recipes that she shares here—including options like Surfers Huevos Rancheros, Avocado Pizza with Serrano and Ricotta, Pumpkin Chocolate Caramel Bread Pudding, and more—are all utterly doable, and they make it easy to replicate the restaurant's farm-to-table goodness and beachside relaxation from your own kitchen. MALIBU FARM: SUNRISE TO SUNSET encourages you to create memorable meals fit for the beach any day, all day.

Helene Henderson learned to cook in Sweden, where she is from. In 1997, she started Lavender Farms Catering in LA, specializing in organic food. Malibu Farm began in her backyard with cooking classes and catered farm dinners. Now, she is the chef-owner of Malibu Farm, and the restaurant has expanded to 8 cities. She lives in Malibu with her husband, screenwriter and director John Stockwell, and their three children.

CALIFORNIA SOUL
by Tanya Holland with Dr. Kelley Fanto Deetz

Through more than 80 seasonally inspired recipes, CALIFORNIA SOUL showcases chef Tanya Holland's unique take on modern soul food. Filtered through the rich history of African American migration to California, her recipes integrate the stories and cooking techniques of the southern United States while tracing the multifaceted migration stories of her ancestors and the African American families that shaped modern California soul food. Her inventive cuisine—"rooted in a Black Southern cultural repertoire with a 21st-century sensibility using local, sustainable, chef-driven, seasonal ingredients"—is showcased throughout the book. Through stunning portraiture and stories, Tanya shares 15 Black Californian foodmakers—farmers, wine makers, cattle ranchers, coffee roasters, and other talented food artisans—whose work help defines California soul food. Sidebars unlock the secrets behind key ingredients, techniques and traditions that African Americans brought with them as they left the South for California.

Tanya Holland is the executive chef and owner of Brown SugarKitchen and the executive chef of Town Fare. She is the author of BROWN SUGAR KITCHEN and NEW SOUL COOKING, was the host and soul food expert on the television series Melting Pot, and competed on the fifteenth season of Top Chef. She is the host of Tanya's Kitchen Table on the Oprah Winfrey Network. She holds a Grande Diplôme from La Varenne Ecole de Cuisine, and has served as the president of the prestigious San Francisco chapter of Les Dames d'Escoffier.

MASALA: Recipes from India, the Land of Spices
by Anita Jaisinghani

Learn the fundamentals of Indian cuisine and the secrets to cooking with spices in this beautiful collection of timeless recipes.

Award-winning chef Anita Jaisinghani of the Pondicheri restaurant in Houston, Texas shows just how easy, delicious, and healthy Indian food can be in this stunning and accessible debut cookbook. Born and raised in Gujarat, India, Anita's approach to cooking is simple: following the tenants of ancient Ayurveda, food is seasonal, texture and color are celebrated, and spices are used to enhance, not overwhelm. As the star of Indian cuisine, spices are used from morning to night, in simple infusions, such as cinnamon water for a warming start the day, while cilantro and mint add a cooling balance to a fiery grilled corn salad, and cardamom lends an aromatic sweetness to a slice of Chai Pie. MASALA will teach you to think like a true Indian chef, revealing the wisdom and techniques to cooking with fresh whole spices: identifying warming versus cooling, what order they should be cooked, how to temper in hot oil, and so much more.

Anita Jaisinghani is the chef-owner of Pondicheri restaurant in Houston, TX. Her restaurants have been nominated for over 5 James Beard awards, named best new restaurant by Bon Appetit, listed in the top 100 in Gourmet magazine, Travel and Leisure awarded it the best Indian restaurant in the country, and it spent 9 consecutive years at the top of Houston Chronicle's "25 Best Restaurants" list.

FLOUR POWER: The Practice and Pursuit of Baking Sourdough Bread
by Tara Jensen

Tara Jensen, the master bread baker who taught Claire Saffitz and Sean Brock how to make sourdough, introduces new and experienced bakers to approachable techniques and recipes for making sourdough, rye, and desem (hearty wheat) breads. The book is divided into two parts: the workshop and the recipes. In the workshop, bakers learn all about flour, how to knead and fold dough, write a bread formula, and how to troubleshoot starters and doughs. The recipes section is divided into chapters by bread type (sourdough, desem, rye, etc.). Recipes are categorized by difficulty level (beginner/intermediate/advanced) and there's also a helpful "snapshot" offering a start-to-finish quick takeaway of the loaf. Besides stunning photography by Johnny Autry, there are playful illustrations including color wheels, comic strips, and quizzes (What Kind of Baker Are You?).

FLOUR POWER is the bread book that lifts the curtain on the often mysterious and overly intense approach to baking naturally leavened bread, making it a more attainable and enjoyable pursuit for bakers of all levels.

Tara Jensen is the author of A BAKER'S YEAR and has been baking professionally for over twenty years. She worked at Red Hen Baking in Middlesex, Vermont; Farm & Sparrow in Asheville, North Carolina; with Jennifer Lapidus at Carolina Ground, also in Asheville and ran her own bakery, Smoke Signals. Her bread and pies have been featured in publications such as Food & Wine and Bon Appétit and she teaches bread baking workshops in West Virginia, where she lives with her husband and daughter.

FEEL GOOD FOOD: Decadent, Healthy Recipes to Teach You to Eat Intuitively and Love Your Food
by Nicole Keshishian Modic

Learn to love the skin you're in with 75 recipes that will leave you satisfied, happy, and confident. Nicole Modic's lifelong battle with an eating disorder led her to find healing in the most unlikely place—the kitchen—as she turned former binge-foods into healthy but indulgent standards. In FEEL GOOD FOOD, she shares her philosophy on food freedom, her mainstay recipes to feel great inside and out, and advice on how to carry that feel good attitude into other aspects of your life. The feel good food philosophy is centered around food freedom and intuitive eating – two principles that the wellness industry tries to uphold but tends to undermine by labeling food as “good” or “bad” and promoting restrictive, trendy diets. This is not a diet book—instead, FEEL GOOD FOOD aims to shed light on disordered eating through recipes that leave readers feeling good and not craving their next meal. Through a blend of prescriptive how-to's and delicious dishes, Nicole teaches you how to truly love and care about the food you're eating—and yourself. She infuses her Armenian heritage into American classics, as with her Chocolate Chip Tahini Cookies, and focuses on simple, veggie-centric main dishes and family-friendly treats like Basic Cinnamon Banana Bread.

Nicole Keshishian Modic is the force behind the popular Instagram account @kalejunkie. Certified in functional nutrition, she has worked with brands like Whole Foods and has deep roots in the wellness community.

KOREAN AMERICAN: Food That Tastes Like Home
by Eric Kim

Food has always been central to Eric Kim's story, from Friday night Korean barbecue adventures with his family to the hybridized Korean-ish meals for one—like Jalapeno-Marinaded Chicken Tacos with Watermelon Quick Kimchi—that he makes in his tiny New York City apartment. In this book, Eric shares 100 recipes alongside insightful, touching stories that not only detail what it means to be Korean American, but how, through food and cooking, a young writer found acceptance, strength, and the confidence to own his story. Playful, poignant, and informative, KOREAN AMERICAN also includes essays ranging from the racist history of Spam to how Eric came out to his mother—all the while teaching readers about Korean mother sauces, the Korean pantry, and the importance of white rice.

Eric Kim is a writer, editor, and recipe developer born and raised in Atlanta, Georgia by Korean immigrants. He worked his way through the literary and culinary world to eventually become a managing editor at Food Network and a senior editor at Food52, where he amassed a devoted readership of his "Table for One" column, which he still contributes to the site. Eric regularly contributes recipes and feature stories to the New York Times and is a contributing editor at Saveur. He is regularly featured in The Washington Post, Bon Appétit, and Food & Wine, as well as Epicurious and The Kitchn. He lives with his rescue pup in New York City.

THAT SOUNDS SO GOOD: 100 Real-Life Recipes for Every Day of the Week
by Carla Lalli Music

No matter how busy you are, Carla Lalli Music believes that delicious food is an essential and attainable part of life—the key is to have recipes up your sleeve for every situation. Carla knows that the most successful home cooks choose dishes they actually have time to make with things they already have on hand. The recipes in THAT SOUNDS SO GOOD are organized by needs we all have: quick stovetop suppers and one-pot meals for weeknights, big salads and grain bowls if you want to burn a little cleaner, and lazy lunches and all-day roasts for the weekend.

Readers will know that whatever they choose to cook, the food will be Carla to the core—bold, unique flavors with straightforward methods and swap-friendly ingredients. There are dishes like Fat Noodles with Crushed Herb Sauce, and techniques like finishing dishes with an all-purpose Spicy Creamy Sauce or a shower of Garlic Crunch Crumbs. Through it all, Carla shares strategies that keep cooking efficient and quick, like what to make ahead and how to use up all those wilted greens in the depths of the fridge. THAT SOUNDS SO GOOD shows Carla at her effortless best, and shows how you can be, too.

Carla Lalli Music is the James Beard Award-winning author of the bestseller WHERE COOKING BEGINS and the host of Carla's Cooking Show on Patreon. Known for anchoring the hit YouTube series "Back to Back Chef," Carla has also appeared in many other recipe videos for Bon Appétit. She lives in Brooklyn with her family.

FOOD52 BIG LITTLE RECIPES: Good Food with Minimal Ingredients and Maximal Flavor
by Emma Laperruque

A dish doesn't need to have a lot of ingredients to have a lot of flavor. Something like three-ingredient oatmeal cookies or two-ingredient pasta sauce isn't delicious in spite of its minimalism, but because of it. With smart techniques--and a few wily tricks for good measure--these ingredients can accomplish a lot more than we give them credit for. In this book, you'll also find lots of good-to-know tips, mini-recipe spreads, and choose-your-own-adventure charts. From fresh-as-heck salads and brothy-slurpy situations to brawny meats, briny fishes, and veggie dishes too substantial to call sides, FOOD52 BIG LITTLE RECIPES shows busy home cooks how to turn less into more.

Emma Laperruque is the food editor at Food52 and an award-winning columnist for "Big Little Recipes." Before this, she worked as a line cook, middle-of-the-night baker, and journalist. Now she lives in the Taylor-ham part of New Jersey with her husband and their cat, Butter.

Food52 was founded by Amanda Hesser and Merrill Stubbs—two authors and opinionated home cooks who formerly worked for the New York Times—to celebrate food as the center of a well-lived life with recipes, books, home goods, and more.

THE WOKS OF LIFE

by Bill Leung, Kaitlin Leung, Judy Leung and Sarah Leung

The family behind the acclaimed blog Woks of Life share more than 100 of their favorite home-cooked and restaurant-style recipes that represent their Chinese genealogy. While briefly living on different continents from one another and wanting to keep familial and culinary traditions alive, Judy, Bill, Sarah, and Kaitlin Leung created the beloved blog Woks of Life to document their family's history through food. Now, in their debut cookbook, the Leung family shares their in-depth and unique approach to the Chinese dining table with approachable recipes alongside Chinese culinary techniques, tips, and tricks such as an explanation of the complex flavors of Chinese black vinegar, the secret to Kaitlin's legendary chili oil, and even vegan versions of Chinese classics. The recipes range from simple to complex and from traditional to reinvented, yet are always instructional and dependable, with each member of the family recounting special moments of how food brings them together and connects them.

The Woks of Life includes Judy Leung, designated translator and professional spring roll folder, Bill Leung who specializes in all things Cantonese and American Chinese takeout, Kaitlin Leung, the family artist who is the master of all things sauces and condiments, and Sarah Leung who is a writer and photographer who has a penchant for quick and easy recipes.

LIFE IS WHAT YOU BAKE IT: Recipes, Stories, and Inspiration to Bake Your Way to the Top
by Vallery Lomas

Lawyer-turned-baker Vallery Lomas was the first Black woman to win a season of the Great American Baking Show franchise. However, her win was never seen by the world--Vallery's season was pulled after just a few episodes when one of the judges became a focal point in a #metoo accusation. Rather than throwing in her whisk and lamenting all of the missed opportunities she hoped to receive (book deal! Product endorsements! TV show!), she held her head high and hustled--which resulted in her getting press coverage everywhere from CNN to People Magazine.

Now, in her first baking book of more than 100 recipes for everything from beignets to cannelés and banana bread to bagels, Vallery shares family recipes from her native Louisiana, time spent in Paris, the Great American Baking Show, and of course sweets and breads inspired by her now-home, New York City. Vallery's "when life gives you lemons, make lemon curd" philosophy will empower legions of bakers and fans to find their inner warrior and bake their best life.

Vallery Lomas is the first Black winner of the Great American Baking Show franchise. Her season was famously cancelled due to a judge's #metoo indiscretions. She has since appeared on CNN, The Today Show, and The Hallmark Channel, and has been featured everywhere from Food + Wine to Forbes. She launched her blog, Foodie in New York, in 2009.

DIASPORICAN: A Puerto Rican Cookbook
by Illyanna Maisonet

Illyanna Maisonet spent years documenting her family's Puerto Rican recipes and preserving the island's disappearing foodways through rigorous, often bilingual research. In DIASPORICAN, she shares over 90 recipes passed down from her nana and mami—classics such as tostones, pernil, and pepper steak, as well as vibrant, lesser-known dishes such as pinchos with BBQ guava sauce, rabbit fricassee with chayote, cauliflower rice arroz con gandules, and flan de queso. In this visual record of Puerto Rican food, ingredients, and techniques, Illyanna traces the island's flavor traditions to the Taino, Spanish, African—and even American—cultures that created it, with recipes that feature Northern California's world-class produce. Full of incredible photography shot on location by Erika Rodriguez and food photography by Daniel Liberti, DIASPORICAN reveals how food connects us to history, family, war, migration, resilience, and haven.

Illyanna Maisonet was America's first Puerto Rican food columnist for a major newspaper (SF Chronicle) and sold out pop-up dinners and lunches across the Bay Area and Sacramento. An IACP award winner for narrative food writing, she has collaborated with José Andrés for Steven Spielberg's West Side Story wrap party, contributed recipes to Rancho Gordo, authored a crowdfunded cookbooklet, and has written for the LA Times, Saveur, Food52, Food & Wine, Eater SF, Lucky Peach, and more.

THE BARTENDER'S MANIFESTO: How to Think, Drink, and Create Cocktails Like A Pro

by Toby Maloney & the Bartenders of The Violet Hour with Emma Janzen

Take a raucous and educational romp through the essential stages of creating cocktails and learn the hows and whys of mixology with acclaimed bartender Toby Maloney and The Violet Hour team, pioneers in the craft cocktail space. Toby and The Violet Hour are renowned for their innovative training program, one that teaches bartenders not just how to replicate drinks perfectly, but how to embrace ingenuity, make smart decisions, and create original, inspired cocktails. Like cooks who can peer into their pantry and whip up dinner on the fly, no recipe needed, those who follow the methods in THE BARTENDER'S MANIFESTO will have the technical foundation and confidence to take their cocktail skills to the next level and fashion a drink from any ingredients at hand, whether that's a bar's worth of the best ingredients or just a few dusty, obscure bottles.

Toby Maloney is a James Beard Award-winning bartender with over twenty-five years of experience, from Milk and Honey to Pegu Club. Some but not all of his titles include the beverage director for both Loverboy and Mother's Ruin in New York City and the partner and head mixologist at The Violet Hour in Chicago.

Emma Janzen is a journalist, editor, and photographer specializing in all things drinks and design. Currently the digital content editor for Imbibe magazine, she received a James Beard Award nomination for her first book, MEZCAL, was nominated for a James Beard Award.

MAMAN: THE COOKBOOK: All-Day Recipes to Warm Your Heart
by Elisa Marshall and Benjamin Sormonte

Maman ("mother" in French) was created to fill a void that fiancés Elisa Marshall and Benjamin Sormonte saw in the café scene—a beautiful, homey place where you could savor a delicious, freshly baked cookie or quiche and gather with friends for a lively brunch as if in your own living room.

In their debut cookbook, the owners of this elegant and charming New York City-based collection of cafés share the recipes of some of their bestselling baked goods and dishes alongside brand new ones. This collection of 100 recipes spans breakfast to dessert and everything in between, all united by the sense of family-inspired tradition. Blending the allure of New York City with beloved French fare and café culture, THE MAMAN COOKBOOK encourages the Francophile in you to create delicious café favorites and special moments in your own home.

Elisa Marshall is the co-founder of Maman, her vision for the perfect café. Elisa serves as creative director, does a bit of everything in the kitchen, creates and hosts events and workshops, and is a contributing columnist for Martha Stewart online.

Benjamin Sormonte helped open the first Maman location with partner and now fiancée Elisa Marshall. Ben manages all of the company's business elements. He and Elisa have quickly turned Soho's best-kept secret into New York City's most beloved café.

MI COCINA: Recipes and Rapture from My Kitchen in Mexico
by Rick Martinez

Rick Martinez's MI COCINA is a delicious, regional, and stunning exploration of Mexican Cooking. Mexico is more than tacos and enchiladas, and with his Mexican heritage combined with his experience at Bon Appétit and Food52, there is no one better qualified than Rick Martinez to introduce home cooks to the diversity of this culinarily rich country. In MI COCINA, Rick travels to each of the seven main regions in Mexico to explore 100 unique dishes. Just like Italy or America, Mexico is a country that expresses its regionality through food, from the golden hominy pozole made with shrimp and smoked jalapenos (Pozole Morita de Camarón) of Jalisco along the Northern Pacific coast to the Yucatan's pork belly tacos with Edam cheese and bitter orange salsa (Tacos de Castacán Con Queso).

Rick's goal is not to simplify or update recipes, but to present them to home cooks as honestly as possible, based on his favorite version of each dish, what he has experienced firsthand, and calling for ingredients that offer easy to source and even common to American home kitchens. In addition to 100 recipes, Rick includes essays on topics like the African influence on the culture and cuisine of Mexico and the movement in Mexico to preserve heirloom corn varieties. The result is transportive.

Rick Martinez is the host of the Food52 video series "Sweet Heat" and a regular contributor to Bon Appétit magazine and the New York Times. He also hosts live, weekly cooking classes for the Food Network Kitchen. He currently resides in Mazatlán—cooking, eating, and enjoying the Mexican Pacific coast.

UNTITLED MARTHA'S ESSENTIALS
by Editors of Martha Stewart Living

Martha Stewart presents her 100th book, a deeply personal collection of her most valued recipes and the memories behind them. This 100th cookbook will provide longtime fans not only with recipes that will instruct and inspire for years to come, but with stories and remembrances that celebrate Martha's life. Together these recipes reflect storied moments from her legendary life and career, including dishes that she turns to time and time again with family and friends like her mother's infamous pierogies, her father's birthday cake with orange curd filling, and the paella she makes for the luckiest house guests who get to visit her compound in Maine. Behind each dish is a memory Martha shares of who or what inspired it, how her cooking style and favorite foods have evolved through the years, and, as always, her best tips for gathering with the people you love. This is the ultimate collection for any Martha Stewart fan who wants to become more confident in the kitchen and continue to cook—and live—the Martha way.

THE WAY OF THE COCKTAIL: Japanese Traditions, Techniques, and Recipes

by Julia Momosé and Emma Janzen

Julia Momosé, Japanese mixologist and owner of Bar Kumiko in Chicago, presents an enchanting journey into the realm of Japanese spirits and cocktails with 100 drink recipes inspired by the 24 micro-seasons that define the ebb and flow of life in Japan. From the iconic "hard shake" and their studious devotion to ice and presentation, Japanese cocktail culture is an art form treated with the same kind of spiritual reverence as sushi making. In this essential guide, Julia elegantly breaks down these master techniques and presents provocative recipes, riffs on some of Japan's most beloved cocktails like highballs, and spiritfree drinks inspired by traditional ingredients, such as yuzu, barley tea, and sour plum. While the drinks transport, complementary essays on cocktail culture and history, along with in-depth inion on Japanese spirits educate and inspire.

Born and raised in Japan, Julia Momosé grew up with a meticulous appreciation for the details. She worked her way up from a bar-back position in college, to opening her own bar, the acclaimed Kumiko, an intimate Japanese-influenced drinks experience in Chicago. She's been the head bartender in charge of multiple nationally acclaimed bar programs including Union Square Hospitality Group's Michelin-starred GreenRiver and The Annex and The Aviary, a James Beard Award-winning bar, and the Oriole, a two Michelin-starred tasting menu restaurant in Chicago.

HEROES' FEAST 2

by Kyle Newman, Jon Peterson, Michael Witwer, Sam Witwer, Official Dungeons & Dragons Licensed

From the D&D experts behind HEROES FEAST comes a second cookbook that invites fantasy lovers to learn about their favorite fictional cultures through their unique cuisines and lifestyles.

Dungeons & Dragons launched the great tradition of roleplaying games in 1974 with an unprecedented mix of adventure and strategy, dice-rolling, and storytelling. Wizards of the Coast continues to honor that tradition, bringing to market a diverse range of D&D game and entertainment experiences and influencing numerous writers, directors, and game designers by tapping into an innate human need to gather with friends and tell an exciting story together. Kyle Newman is a writer/director whose directorial work includes Fanboys, written by Ernest Cline; Barely Lethal; and the music video for Taylor Swift's "Style." Kyle also produced the critically acclaimed documentary Raiders: The Story of the Greatest Fan Film Ever Made. Michael Witwer is the author of Empire of Imagination: Gary Gygax and the Birth of Dungeons & Dragons, a GeekDad best book of the year. Michael is considered an expert on D&D history and has spoken on the topic at Google Talks, on NPR's All Things Considered, and at major book and gaming conventions, including the Boston Book Festival, Gen Con, and Origins. Jon Peterson is a widely recognized authority on the history of games. His book Playing at the World was called "the first serious history of the development of Dungeons & Dragons" by The Village Voice. He has contributed to many academic anthologies on games including Zones of Control and Role-Playing Game Studies, as well as gaming and geek culture websites.

SHAQ'S FAMILY STYLE: Championship Recipes for Feeding Family and Friends
by Shaquille O'Neal

Basketball hall-of-famer and cultural icon Shaquille O'Neal loves food. A lot. In fact, fans of Inside the NBA are just as likely to hear Shaq and co-host Charles Barkley discussing lunch as analyzing the action in the paint. Shaq's love for food, eating, and family cooking began in his childhood home, where his mom cooked for him and his three siblings. With his own family of five, he carries on the commitment to creating family connection and fun through food.

In SHAQ'S FAMILY STYLE, in his inimitable comedic style, he shares 60 recipes and 100 photographs for bringing family together around the table. From Li'l Shaq's Easy Mac to BBQ Sauce-Braised Chicken Legs with Sweet Potato Bake and Slow Cooker Spicy Jambalaya with Andouille Meatballs, these are meals that busy home cooks can get on the table after the kids' practice or when there's a houseful over to watch a game. Even novices will be able to cook these recipes with confidence the first time--and on replay. When the plates are cleared, it's time for banana pudding (there's always banana pudding!) or one of Shaq's other family-favorite desserts.

Shaquille O'Neal is a retired professional basketball player, four-time NBA champion, NBA and LSU hall of famer, entrepreneur, and cultural icon. Since playing for the Los Angeles Lakers, Orlando Magic, Miami Heat, Phoenix Suns, Cleveland Cavaliers, and Boston Celtics, O'Neal has worked as an NBA sports analyst for Inside the NBA on TNT, starred in the reality shows Shaq's Big Challenge and Shaq Vs, cohosted The Big Shaq Podcast, worked as a spokesperson for Krispy Creme and American Express, served as a board member for Papa John's and Five Guys, released four rap albums, opened Shaq's Big Chicken and Shaquille's restaurants in Los Angeles and Las Vegas, hosted Cook with Shaq on ShopHQ, and launched a line of cooking equipment. He is the father of five.

ITALIAN AMERICAN: Red Sauce Classics and New Essentials
by Angie Rito and Scott Tacinelli

Old-school, Italian American "red sauce" is a beloved style of cooking that is rich with nostalgia, a deep sense of family, and the promise of irresistible food -- copious amounts of it. Imagine an endless assortment of antipasti at the start of every meal, multi-layered chicken and eggplant parms, enormous casseroles of luscious baked pastas laden with molten cheese -- and don't forget dessert. In their debut cookbook, Angie Rito and Scott Tacinelli, the chef-owners of Don Angie in New York City's West Village, reinvigorate the genre with a modern, multicultural point-of-view and updated dishes that proudly straddle the line between Italian and American.

Angie Rito and Scott Tacinelli are a James Beard Award-nominated New York City-based husband-and-wife chef team that specializes in modern Italian American cuisine. Scott and Angie's recipes have been featured in Saveur, Bon Appétit, Food & Wine, Vice Munchies, and the Today show. Jamie Feldmar is a writer, editor, and author based in Los Angeles and New York. PASTA: The Spirit and Craft of Italy's Greatest Food, with Recipes
by Missy Robbins and Talia Baiocchi

A stylish, transporting pasta master class from New York City's premier pasta chef, with recipes for 40 handmade pasta shapes and 100 Italian American, regional Italian, and modern dishes.

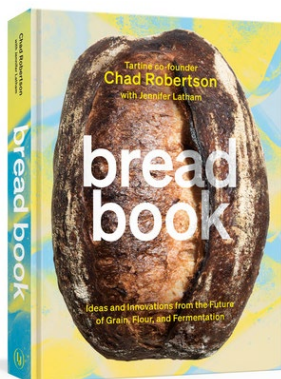

New York City notable chef Missy Robbins fell in love with Italian food and pasta twenty-five years ago, cooking, researching, and studying her way across Italy ever since, which led her to open two of the nation's favorite pasta restaurants--Lilia and Misi. With illustrated step-by-step recipes for handmaking 40 of the most versatile pasta shapes and 100 recipes for Italian-American, regional Italian (all regions), and Robbins' own best pasta dishes, plus 25 vegetable sides, this is the hard-working manual for home cooks who aspire to master the art of pasta cooking.

Missy Robbins is the chef/owner of the acclaimed Lilia and Misi in Brooklyn, and received the 2018 James Beard Foundation Best Chef Award. Prior to opening Lilia and Misi, Robbins cooked at the Spiaggia in Chicago and then became the executive chef for A Voce in Manhattan, earning a Michelin star at the both locations and receiving three stars from The New York Times. She was a contestant on season four of Top Chef Masters, has appeared on Good Morning America, and has been profiled in a range of publications, from Vanity Fair to InStyle. She lives, makes pasta, and cooks in Brooklyn.

Talia Baiocchi is the editor in chief of PUNCH, the author of SHERRY AND SPRITZ, and a widely published food and culture writer. She lives in Brooklyn.

BREAD BOOK: Ideas and Explorations from the Future of Grain, Flour, and Fermentation

by Chad Robertson

More than a decade ago, Robertson's country levain recipe taught a generation of bread bakers to replicate the creamy crumb, crackly crust, and unparalleled flavor of his world-famous Tartine bread. It was the recipe that launched hundreds of thousands of sourdough starters and attracted a stream of notable understudies, from Danny Bowein (Mission Chinese) to Rene Redzepi (Noma). Now Robertson has teamed up with Tartine's director of bread, Jennifer Latham, to explore how superior grain and next-level flours respond to hydration and fermentation to make even better bread.

This book showcases the genius of Robertson's and Latham's collaboration. With primers on grain, and flour, leaven; an introduction to dough formulas; a glossary of terms and equipment, and master recipes for fourteen kinds of newly engineered bread—from country bread and rustic baguettes to slab bread, rolls, pizza, pasta, and even a great gluten-free loaf—this is the new manual for making the most delicious, nutrient-rich loaves. More than 120 step-by-step and finished recipe photographs, plus 45 recipes for sandwiches and other meals that showcase great bread give bakers the inspiration and instruction they need to bake bread for decades to come.

Chad Robertson is a chef and co-owner of the Tartine Bakery.

UNTILED SAFFITZ 2

by Claire Saffitz

This is Claire Saffitz's follow up to her breakout best selling first cookbook, DESSERT PERSON, with more than 100 of her favorite sweet and simple recipes. As she describes it, "in my first book, everything was baked but not necessarily dessert—in my second book, everything is dessert but not necessarily baked." These recipes combine Claire's trademark pedagogically practical approach with a keen eye to flavor and purpose with a strict mandate of made simple, not simply made.

Claire Saffitz is bestselling author of DESSERT PERSON and host of the cookbook companion YouTube series Dessert Person. After graduating from Harvard University, she received a master's degree in culinary history from McGill in Montreal and then studied pastry in Paris at École Grégoire Ferrandi. She lives in New York City with her husband and two cats.

JORDAN SALCITO WINE PAIRING BOOKby Jordan Salcito

A playful and approachable guide to discovering and embracing wine that you love, from the former wine director for Momofuku and the founder of Ramona wine spritzes. Jordan Salcito grew up loving wine but not always knowing why. Now, the founder of Ramona wine spritzes demystifies this beloved beverage, helping you discover and describe what you love so you can find wines to sip at any price point. Jordan starts from the beginning, showing how wine is grown, crafted, and bottled, and illuminating how all these processes influence how wine tastes. She then provides context to help you find new favorites and teaches you how to ask better questions at restaurants and wine shops. Full of practical advice on expanding understanding of your beverage arsenal, she gives readers permission to drink what they love—trends and prestige be damned. Wine is nuanced and the wine world is large, but it doesn't have to be complicated. The only expert in what tastes delicious to you, is you.

Jordan Salcito is an award-winning sommelier turned entrepreneur. She founded RAMONA, oversaw the beverage programs for David Chang's Momofuku restaurants, and worked as a sommelier at Eleven Madison Park. She is a Master Sommelier Candidate, a Wine Enthusiast "40 Under 40", and a 2018 and 2019 James Beard award semi-finalist for Outstanding Wine, Spirits, or Beer Professional.

THE WITCHER COOKBOOKby Anita Sarna and Karolina Krupecka

Immerse yourself in the world of The Witcher with 80 mouth-watering and restorative recipes inspired by the games, from hearty tavern fare and fortifying drinks to lavish banquets and feasts with friends. This beautifully photographed cookbook will immerse fans in the fantastical world of The Witcher through thoughtfully imagined, flavorful recipes that are professionally developed so that they can be prepared and enjoyed at home. Recipes organized by region will impart the distinct local flavors a witcher might sample as he travels the countryside in search of monsters to slay and coin to earn.

Dishes are deeply rooted in the Slavic origins of The Witcher's creators, celebrating local and seasonal ingredients and adding unique twists that evoke the fantasy realms of the Northern Kingdoms. Fans of the games will recognize nourishing staples such as the chicken sandwich, herb toasts, boeuf bourguignon, and flamiche, while hearty and wholesome dishes such as pickled forest mushrooms, potato dumplings, sauerkraut stew with plums, and Dandelion's rabbit with rosemary and thyme will restore even the weariest adventurer.

Anita Sarna is the founder of Nerds Kitchen, a blog dedicated to the food of video games. She is a self-taught cook and a game designer at Doji studio in Poznań, Poland.

ONCE UPON A CHEF: WEEKNIGHT/WEEKEND: 70 Quick-Fix Weeknight Dinners + 30 Luscious Weekend Recipes
by Jennifer Segal

Years before she started her popular Once Upon a Chef blog, back when she became a new mom, Jenn Segal kept a recipe binder divided into two sections: Weeknight and Weekend. This is how she thought about what to cook for dinner, and, 15 years later, it still is. In this new collection of 100 recipes, 70 recipes are devoted to fast and attainable weeknight meals, like Sesame-Ginger Meatballs and Pecorino-Crusted Chicken with Rosemary. There are 20 recipes tagged for weekend cooking, the kind of dishes you cook while drinking a glass of wine and listening to your favorite Spotify station, such as Sear-Roasted Beef Tenderloin with Horseradish Cream Sauce—or perhaps make on a lazy Sunday morning, like Popovers with Salted Maple Butter. And because everyday is worth ending on a sweet note, Jenn includes a handful of her favorite dessert recipes, like Brownie Pudding and Cherry Ricotta Cake.

Jennifer Segal is a professionally trained chef and the founder of the blog Once Upon a Chef. Her first book, ONCE UPON A CHEF, was a Washington Post and Publishers' Weekly best seller and she has been featured in an array of major media including The Splendid Table, O Magazine, Food52, and Parade among others. She lives in Potomac, Maryland, with her husband and two teenage children.

MODERN CLASSIC COCKTAILS
by Robert Simonson

Learn to mix the most popular "modern classic" cocktails from the late 90s through the early 2010s in this collection of 60+ recipes with entertaining background stories from New York Times spirits writer Robert Simonson. One of the greatest dividends of the revival in cocktail culture that began in the 1990s has been the relentless innovation. More new cocktails—and good ones—have been invented in the past thirty years than during any period since the first golden age of cocktails, which roughly lasted from the 1870s until the arrival of Prohibition in 1920. Just as that first bar-world zenith produced a half-century of classic recipes—drinks we still enjoy today, like the Martini, Manhattan, Daiquiri, Tom Collins, Sazerac, and many, many more—this century's eruption of talent over the past two decades has handily delivered its share of drinks that have found favor with arbiters on both sides of the bar. But what actually elevates a modern cocktail into the echelon of a modern classic? Robert Simonson will explore all that and more, with origin stories and recipes for today's modern classic cocktails like the White Negroni, Death Flip, Old Cuban, Paper Plane, the Siesta, and many more.

Robert Simonson writes about cocktails, spirits, bars, and bartenders for the New York Times. He is the author of A PROPER DRINK, THE OLD-FASHIONED, 3-INGREDIENT COCKTAILS, THE MARTINI COCKTAIL, and MEZCAL & TEQUILA COCKTAILS. His writing has appeared in Saveur, Food & Wine, GQ, LuckyPeach, Whisky Advocate, Imbibe, and PUNCH, where he is a contributing editor.

I DREAM OF DINNER (SO YOU DON'T HAVE TO): Low-Effort, High-Reward Recipes
by Ali Slagle

I DREAM OF DINNER (SO YOU DON'T HAVE TO) is the ultimate road map to dinner. With time-pressed cooks, limited ingredients, and maximum joy in mind, Ali's practical and creative recipes are for anyone who's ever stared down that lonely head of romaine in their fridge wondering how to make tonight's dinner different from the night before. Like she does with her popular New York Times recipes, Ali combines readily available, inexpensive vegetables and proteins with diverse pantry staples to create short, to-the-point recipes--each use fewer than eight ingredients, are ready to eat in less than forty-five minutes, and are made with the fewest pans possible. Divided by essential ingredients and approaches, chapters include quick tricks for flexibility so that dinner bends to your life, not the other way around. Ali, a home cook turned recipe developer, guides with a reassuring calm, puckish curiosity, and a desire for everyone, everywhere, to make great food--and fast. Whether in need of calm and comfort, fire and fun, or divine inspiration on yet another Wednesday, I DREAM OF DINNER (SO YOU DON'T HAVE TO) will leave hungry, hurried readers completely satisfied.

Ali Slagle is a recipe developer, stylist, and—most of all—home cook. She's a frequent contributor to the New York Times and Washington Post, where she's published hundreds of low-investment, high-reward recipes. Previously, she cut her teeth on the editorial and creative teams at Food52 and Ten Speed Press. You'll find her in Brooklyn, without a dishwasher, food processor, or stand mixer.

SPARKLING WINE FOR MODERN TIMES: A Drinker's Guide to the Freewheeling World of Bubbles
by Zachary Sussman

A mash-up of pop-culture and wine-culture littered with colorful infographics and illustrated guides, this book offers an overview of the major sparkling-wine producing areas, with profiles of exemplary producers and recommendations for the best bottles.

The book adopts a unique cultural perspective on the genre, exploring our perpetual fascination with sparkling wine and helping to place each regional expression within the wider wine zeitgeist--from the radical "grower" revolution reshaping the highly conservative area of Champagne to Prosecco's overnight transformation into a multi-million-dollar brand to the retro appeal of natural wine's cult-hit petillant naturel to the next generation of "real wines" from Lambrusco, and beyond.

Zachary Sussman is a Brooklyn-based wine writer whose work has appeared in Saveur, Wine & Spirits, The World of Fine Wine, Food & Wine, and The Wall Street Journal Magazine, among many others. He is a regular contributor to PUNCH and was formerly named the Champagne Louis Roederer Emerging Wine Writer of the Year.

BLACK FOOD: Stories, Art, and Recipes from Across the African Diaspora
Edited by Bryant Terry

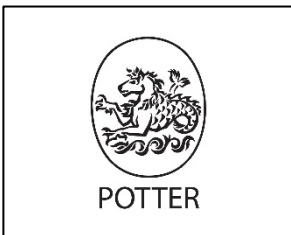

A beautiful, rich, and groundbreaking book exploring Black foodways within America and around the world, curated by food activist and author of VEGETABLE KINGDOM Bryant Terry. This is the flagship first title from 4 Color Books, a new imprint from Ten Speed Press that will collaborate with the most forward-thinking and groundbreaking BIPOC chefs, writers, artists, activists, and innovators to craft visually stunning nonfiction books that inspire readers and give rise to a more healthy, just, and sustainable world for all.

In this stunning and deeply heartfelt tribute to Black culinary ingenuity, Bryant Terry captures the broad and divergent voices of the African Diaspora through the prism of food. With contributions from more than 100 Black cultural luminaires from around the globe, the book moves through chapters exploring parts of the Black experience, from Homeland to Migration, Spirituality to Black Future, offering delicious recipes, moving essays, and arresting artwork.

As much a joyful celebration of Black culture as a cookbook, BLACK FOOD explores the interweaving of food, experience, and community through original poetry and essays and expansive recipes. With arresting artwork and innovative design, BLACK FOOD is a visual and spiritual feast that will satisfy any soul.

Bryant Terry is a James Beard Award-winning chef and educator and the author of Afro-Vegan and Vegetable Kingdom. He is currently in his sixth year as chef-in-residence at the Museum of the African Diaspora in San Francisco, where he creates programming that celebrates the intersection of food, farming, health, activism, art, culture, and the African Diaspora. His work has been featured in the New York Times and Washington Post and on CBS This Morning and on NPR's All Things Considered.

UNTITLED JUKE JOINTS, JAZZ CLUBS, AND JUICE
by Toni Tipton-Martin

Toni Tipton-Martin, author of the James Beard Award-winning JUBILEE, reveals the history and influence of Black mixology through recipes rediscovered in historic cookbooks. Just as JUBILEE told the delicious story of African Americans' essential influence on American cuisine, this cookbook presents cocktail recipes that illustrate the history of African American mixology and the individuals behind their creation and lore. Drawing on her expertise and research in historic and rare cookbooks stretching back over a century, Toni Tipton-Martin shows us how these drinks—from historic sources as well as modern interpretations of centuries-old classics—showcase excellence in Black hospitality through the ages. Accompanied by notes from today's black leaders in the beverage world, this book paints a vivid portrait not only of this history but also of today's black mixologists, winemakers, distillers, and producers that make up the diverse array of talent in the cocktail community.

Toni Tipton-Martin is a culinary journalist and community activist and the author of the James Beard Award-winning THE JEMIMA CODE. Her collection of more than three hundred African American cookbooks has been exhibited at the James Beard House, and she has twice been invited to the White House to participate in First Lady Michelle Obama's programs to raise a healthier generation of kids. Tipton-Martin is a founding member of the Southern Foodways Alliance and Foodways Texas. In 2021, she was named the Julia Child Award recipient.

FOODHEIM: A Culinary Adventure by Eric Wareheim with Emily Timberlake

In FOODHEIM, Wareheim takes readers deep into his foodscape with chapters on topics like circle foods (pizzas, burgers), granny foods (pasta, goulash), and fire foods (grilled goodness). Alongside recipes for Sunday Sauce Jersey Style, Tabasco-Brined Fried Pork Sando Extreme, and Spicy Sambal Skewers with Herb Overload you will discover which five cocktail recipes you should know by heart, how to pick a bottle of wine for less than $25, and what to do in New Orleans, the weirdest and best city in America. Photos by Marcus Nilsson will also show how to throw a party Heimy-style, whether you're on a boat, in the desert, or just lazing on the beach.

Written with Emily Timberlake, and with hilarious art chronicling Wareheim's evolution as a drinker, how to baby your pizza dough into pie perfection, and more, FOODHEIM is the ultimate book for in-the-know foodies.

Eric Wareheim is an actor, comedian, writer, and director. He is half of the comedy duo Tim & Eric, who have been making TV shows, movies, books, and music for twenty years. Wareheim also acts, produces, and directs on the Netflix series, Master of None.

Emily Timberlake is a writer and was an award-winning cookbook editor: at Ten Speed Press.

SIMPLE PASTA: Recipes to Make Everyone Happy, Any Night of the Week by Odette Williams

A richly photographed guide to accessible, seasonal homemade pasta, easy enough for even weeknight meals from the author of the beloved SIMPLE CAKE.

Anyone can make homemade pasta; the process is easy to master and endlessly satisfying. Author Odette Williams focuses on just three basic doughs, followed by instructions for creating shapes with and without a roller. But even if you prefer store-bought pasta, she delivers recipes for seasonal sauces, creating meals meant to be savored with friends.

Discover new favorites like Sautéed Baby Asparagus & Fava with Saffron Spaghetti and Saucy Spicy Sausage & Creamy Mustard Tagliatelle, along with reimagined classics like Cacio e Pepe and Carbonara. Peppered throughout are recipes for side dishes, drinks, and desserts, helping anyone recreate la dolce vita at home. SIMPLE PASTA welcomes you to experience the everyday, simple joy of pasta.

Odette Williams is an Australian expat, baking fanatic, and the author of Simple Cake, which was named one of the best cookbooks of the year by the New York Times. After becoming a mother, Odette realized that she couldn't find any keepsake apron sets for her young children to don when they baked together, so she made some herself. Friends started asking for aprons for their own children, and Odette launched her eponymous brand. Odette Williams products very quickly got picked up by leading retailers, including J. Crew, Anthropologie, ABC Carpet, Le Bon Marche, and Barneys.

THINGS YOU CAN DO: How to Fight Climate Change and Reduce Waste
 by Eduardo Garcia, Illustrations by Sara Boccaccini Meadows

Award-winning climate journalist Eduardo Garcia offers a deeply researched and user-friendly guide to the things we can do every day to reduce climate change. Based on his popular New York Times column "One Thing You Can Do," this fully illustrated book turns an overwhelming problem into simple actions.

No lectures here—just accessible and inspiring ideas to reduce emissions and waste in our daily lives, with over 350 explanatory illustrations by beloved water colorist Sara Boccaccini Meadows. In each chapter, Garcia defines the issue, then delivers a wealth of "things you can do" to make a positive impact. Delivering a decisive hit of knowledge with every turn of the page, THINGS YOU CAN DO is the book for people want to do more to save the planet.

Eduardo Garcia, a native of Spain, cut his teeth working as a Reuters correspondent and has reported from over a dozen countries in his more than fifteen years as a journalist. Recently, Eduardo has written dozens of stories giving New York Times' readers advice on how to reduce their carbon footprint.

Sara Boccaccini Meadows is an artist, illustrator, and textile designer living in Brooklyn, NY. She uses watercolor and gouache to create quirky illustrations and has collaborated with many amazing brands, publishers and agencies.

YOUR GUIDE TO NOT GETTING MURDERED IN A QUAIN T ENGLISH VILLAGE by Maureen Johnson and Jay Cooper

Thinking of a foray to a quaint English village? You'll think twice after reading this tongue-in-cheek illustrated guide to the countless murderous possibilities lurking behind these villages' bucolic façades, from bestselling author Maureen Johnson and illustrator Jay Cooper.

In the England of murder mysteries and TV detectives, no destination is deadlier than a quaint country village, and you never know you're in a murder village until it's too late. No attraction or local character is safe—whether in the pub for a pint, or on the manicured grounds of the local estate for a shooting party, bodies can turn up anywhere!

Brought to life with dozens of Gorey-esque illustrations by Jay Cooper and peppered with allusions to classic crime series and unmistakably British murder lore, YOUR GUIDE TO NOT GETTING MURDERED IN A QUAIN T ENGLISH VILLAGE gives you the tools you need to avoid the same fate, should you find yourself in a suspiciously cozy English village (or simply dream of going). Good luck, and whatever you do, avoid the vicar and don't drink the tea.

Maureen Johnson is the New York Times and USA Today bestselling author of several YA novels, including 13 LITTLE BLUE ENVELOPES and TRULY DEVIOUS. Her work has appeared in publications such as The New York Times and The Guardian. She has an MFA in writing from Columbia University and lives in New York City.

Jay Cooper is a graphic designer of books and theatrical advertising. However, nothing makes him happier than writing and illustrating stories for kids. He is the author and illustrator of the Spy Next Door series and the Pepper Party series.

A BIG STINK: A Tale of Ardor and Odor
by Edward H. Kafka-Gelbrecht, illustrations by Sophia Vincent Guy

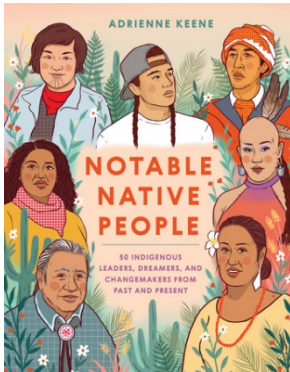

A delightfully illustrated story about passing gas and passing the buck, by a renowned scholar of gastrointestinal humor who has seen and smelled it all.

The marriage of fart humor and wordplay is a potent source of pleasure probably as old as language itself. So says Edward H. Kafka-Gelbrecht, who has spent a lifetime studying the art of the unclaimed fart, from the courtroom to the convent. Now, in this illustrated tour de force, he airs a more personal story about a quiet elevator ride that is suddenly shattered by a not-so-noble gas. Starting with the classic "He who smelt it, dealt it" and the indignant riposte "She who denied it, supplied it," the repartee heats up as the elevator rises. Can a reek that drives people apart instead bring two strangers together?

A BIG STINK's beguiling blend of highbrow and lowbrow humor will delight oversharing families and word lovers alike. Illustrator Sophia Vincent Guy ramps up the fun with elegantly detailed illustrations sprinkled with Easter eggs. Sure to reduce even the most solemn adults to irrepressible giggles, A BIG STINK is a ripping good read and a breath of foul air.

Edward H. Kafka-Gelbrecht is a leading scholar of gastrointestinal humor. His celebrated study "Layman's Terms: Dropping Knowledge" traces the phrase "stink egg" among New England retail sales associates in the late 1970s. He lives with a parrot, Péter, and a cat that has not yet indicated its name.

Sophia Vincent Guy is an architect turned illustrator, widely recognized as an expert visual interpreter of Edwardian comportment. In her Mediterranean studio, she transforms olfactory ambiance into visual motifs for audiences of all ages.

NOTABLE NATIVE PEOPLE: 50 Indigenous Leaders, Dreamers, and Changemakers from Past and Present
by Adrienne Keene

An accessible and educational illustrated book profiling 50 notable American Indian, Alaska Native, and Native Hawaiian people, from NBA star Kyrie Irving of the Standing Rock Lakota to Wilma Mankiller, the first female principal chief of the Cherokee Nation.

This informative and inspiring collection also offers accessible primers on important Indigenous issues, from the legacy of colonialism and cultural appropriation to food sovereignty, land and water rights, and more. NOTABLE NATIVE PEOPLE is an indispensable read for people of all backgrounds seeking to learn about Native American heritages, histories, and cultures, and will educate and inspire readers of all ages.

Dr. Adrienne Keene is a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, an Assistant Professor of American Studies and Ethnic Studies at Brown University, and holds a doctorate in Culture, Communities, and Education from the Harvard Graduate School of Education. She is the longtime author of Native Appropriations, a blog discussing representations of Native peoples in popular culture. She cohosts the podcast All My Relations.

HOW TO BE MORE SHREK: An Ogre's Guide to Life
by NBC Universal

"There's a lot more to ogres than people think. Ogres are like onions. Onions have layers. Ogres have layers." – Shrek

An illustrated guide to embracing your inner ogre and living your truth, mud, farts, and all. With bite-sized advice that feels attainable rather than exhausting, HOW TO BE MORE SHREK will teach you how to set boundaries, peel back your layers, learn to love your inner (and outer) ogre, fill your swamp with all the right fairytale creatures, and make your own happily ever after.

Just as Shrek is the anti-fairytale fairytale, this funny little gift book will be the anti-self-help self-help book, so you can have your eyeball jelly on toast and eat it too.

UNTITLED OVERLOOKED ADULT ILLUSTRATEDby Amy Padnani and the New York Times

A beautifully illustrated collection of diverse, remarkable lives inspired by “Overlooked,” a groundbreaking New York Times series that publishes the obituaries of notable people whose deaths went unreported in the paper.

Since 1851, The New York Times has published thousands of obituaries, but only a fraction of the NYT’s obits have chronicled the lives of women or people of color. Started as a series in the Obituary section, this incredible book revisits the NYT’s 170-year history to fill in the gaps for people who were, for whatever reason, left out. It seeks to right the wrongs of the past, establish a new precedent for equitable coverage of lives lost, and refocus society’s lens on who it considers worthy of remembrance. Featuring contributions by writers such as Susan Dominus, Veronica Chambers, Amanda Hess, Reggie Ugwu, Jon Pareles, and more, this book expands the idea that the lives we memorialize are a reflection of what and who we value as a society—and that perhaps the lives we’ve overlooked have the stories most important to tell us.

Amisha (Amy) Padnani is an award-winning staff editor at The New York Times and a keynote speaker on topics such as diversity, where she often highlights people who are underrepresented in society. She has been interviewed on NPR, Democracy Now, CBC, CBS, and the BBC. In 2018, she was named Incredible Woman of the Year by Porter Magazine.

I’M HIGH, NOW WHAT?by Seth Rogen and Evan Goldberg

From the creative team behind Pineapple Express and Superbad, a humorous, full-color activity book to help cannabis lovers have more fun, get more done, and create great stuff... while high.

In I’M HIGH, NOW WHAT? Seth Rogen and Evan Goldberg bust the lazy stoner cliché in a one-of-a-kind activity book that’s perfect for cannabis lovers everywhere. Filled with mazes, puzzles, and workbook pages to do when you’re stoned—including Create Your Own Cannabis Sticker Collection, Design Your Own VHS Cover, and Draw with Ash—as well as some great stories from Rogen and Goldberg, this first-of-its-kind book is both an unconventional guide to unlocking your creativity and productivity, and the most fun you’ll ever have while high.

Seth Rogen is an actor, writer, producer, director, entrepreneur, and philanthropist, best known for films and TV projects such as Knocked Up, Superbad, Pineapple Express, This Is the End, and The Interview.

Evan Goldberg is a director, screenwriter, producer, and frequent collaborator with Rogen. Together, Seth and Evan founded Point Grey Pictures, a production company dedicated to creating multi-genre film and television content anchored in dynamic, authentic, and passionate storytelling. They launched Houseplant, a Canadian cannabis company dedicated to product quality and consumer education.

CAT-HAIR HATS FOR CATS: How to Craft Stylish Headwear for Your Feline Friends Out of Shedded Fur
by rojiman & umatan

A guide to crafting hilarious little hats out of cat hair, with adorable full-color photos of cats in everything from Viking helmets and rabbit ears.

Cat owners spend countless hours cleaning cat hair off everything they own. Finally, free yourself from all that pesky cat hair and put it to good use by making headgear for your feline friends! Instagram favorites rojiman and umatan provide fully illustrated instructions for constructing more than 25 cat hats, along with basic techniques so you can build your own custom designs, plus tips for brushing your cats, cleaning the hair, photographing your cats, and more! Your cat will be the belle of the ball as they transform into everything from Sherlock Holmes to a ferocious lion or a magical unicorn.

Japanese photographer rojiman first came up with the idea of making hats out of cat hair when he saw hat-shaped ball of cat fur on the floor. Now, his wife umatan designs the headgear, they work together to make each hat, and rojiman photographs the hats on their three feline models. The results are showcased on their popular Instagram page @rojiman, and have been featured in British museums, Japanese media, Bored Panda, and on a line of Japanese products including playing cards, washi tape, calendars, stickers, and postcards.

DOCUMENTING THE NAMEPLATE
by Marcel Rosa-Salas and Isabel Flower

Nameplate jewelry is a custom piece that comes in many shapes, styles, and sizes—from minimalist necklaces with a single initial to bejeweled rings with a full name. DOCUMENTING THE NAMEPLATE is a photographic celebration and deep-dive into the history and cultural significance of nameplate jewelry from the creators of the Documenting the Nameplate project (a wide-reaching research project which collects photographs and stories from people and communities across the country).

Featuring essays and interviews with influential figures, archival art, and a historical exploration into the multifaceted and often overlooked significance of nameplate jewelry, DOCUMENTING THE NAMEPLATE is a celebration of nameplate jewelry and the people who make, wear, and cherish it.

Marcel Rosa-Salas is an anthropologist and documentary filmmaker from Brooklyn. She researches and lectures on the cultural power that marketing & technology have in shaping our ideas about race, capitalism, and identity at the University of Illinois at Chicago as an assistant professor of marketing. She is the cohost of the Top Rank podcast and co-founder of Documenting the Nameplate.

Isabel Flower is a New York City-based writer and editor. She is an executive editor at Cultured magazine. Her writings on art, style, and cultures of consumption have been published in Artforum, Bookforum, The New Yorker, The Wall Street Journal, Cultured, Grailed, and Kaleidoscope, among others. Flower is the cohost of the Top Rank podcast and cofounder of Documenting the Nameplate.

WHAT COLOR IS YOUR PARACHUTE? 2022: Your Guide to a Lifetime of Meaningful Work and Career Success
by Richard N. Bolles with Katharine Brooks

With timeless advice, up-to-the-minute insights, and more than ten million copies sold over fifty years, the world's most popular and best-selling career guide is fully revised and expanded for 2022.

In today's challenging job market, as recent grads face a shifting economic landscape and seek work that pays and inspires, as workers are laid off mid-career, and as people search for an inspiring work-life change, the time-tested advice of WHAT COLOR IS YOUR PARACHUTE? is needed more than ever.

This new edition has been fully revised for 2022 by Katharine Brooks, with modern advice on the job-hunt strategies that are working today, such as building an online resume, making the most of social media tools, and acing Skype interviews. Building on the wisdom of original author Richard N. Bolles, this edition updates the famed Flower Exercise (which walks job seekers through the seven ways of thinking about themselves) and demystifies the entire job-search process, from writing resumes to interviewing and networking.

Richard N. Bolles led the job-search field for more than forty years. A member of Mensa and the Society for Human Resource Management, he served as the keynote speaker at hundreds of conferences.

Dr. Katharine S. Brooks is the Evans Family Executive Director of the Career Center at Vanderbilt University. She provides career coaching and counseling to college students as well as alumni who are transitioning into new careers or even retirement. She is the author of YOU MAJORED IN WHAT and writes a blog, "Career Transitions," for Psychology Today.

SAVE THE CAT! WRITES A YOUNG ADULT NOVEL: The Ultimate Guide to Writing a YA Bestseller
by Jessica Brody

An indispensable guide that reveals the 15 essential plot points needed to make any young adult novel a success from the bestselling Save the Cat! story-structure series and the author of SAVE THE CAT! WRITES A NOVEL.

Novelist and author of SAVE THE CAT! WRITES A NOVEL Jessica Brody presents a comprehensive story-structure guide for anyone who wants to write a young adult novel by applying the famed Save the Cat! screenwriting methodology to the world of YA writing. Revealing the fifteen "beats" (plot points) that comprise a successful story--from the opening image to the finale--this book lays out the Ten Story Genres, focusing on the ones most commonly found in young adult novels (e.g. Rites of Passage, Superhero, Buddy Love, Institutionalized) alongside quirky, original insights (Save the Cat; Shard of Glass) to help novelists craft a plot that will captivate--and a novel that will sell.

Jessica Brody is the author of SAVE THE CAT! WRITES A NOVEL and an internationally bestselling author of young adult and women's fiction including BETTER YOU THAN ME, ADDIE BELL'S SHORTCUT TO GROWING UP, BOYS OF SUMMER, and a series for Disney Press based on the hit Disney Channel original movie Descendants. Previously, she worked for MGM Studios as manager of acquisitions and business development, and she currently teaches Save the Cat! workshops to novelists. She lives in Seattle.

HOW TO LIVE WITH OBJECTS: The Elements that Define a Home
by Emily Ladau

With a collection of anecdotes, tours of remarkable homes, and design advice, this prescriptive guide from the co-founders of the trendsetting magazine Sight Unseen explores the intersection of artful, vintage objects and interiors.

Monica Khemsurov and Jill Singer take you on a fun, educational, and highly visual journey through two questions at the core of their design philosophy: what are objects, and how do we live with them? Like a chat with your most stylish friend, HOW TO LIVE WITH OBJECTS guides collectors, art lovers, and design enthusiasts towards a more sophisticated and skilled mindset in acquiring vintage, rare, and new objects and shows you how to style them in your own home. Appealing to every type of space, this book emphasizes the importance of objects, regardless of your style preference, and illustrates exactly how to find and utilize décor to maximize the thoughtfulness of your space.

Monica Khemsurov and Jill Singer are co-founders of Sight Unseen, one of the most influential design publications in the United States, which is now an online magazine and an annual design fair. They were formerly editors of I.D. Magazine, as well as freelance writers, curators, and design consultants. Khemsurov is also a contributing editor for T: The New York Times Style Magazine, and a contributor to Bon Appetit, Businessweek, and Departures, while Singer's writing has appeared in PIN-UP, New York, T magazine, and more. Both live and work in New York City.

DEMYSTIFYING DISABILITY: What to Know, What to Say, and How to Be an Ally
by Emily Ladau

An approachable guide to being a thoughtful, informed ally to disabled people, with actionable steps for what to say and do (and what not to do) and how you can help make the world a more accessible, inclusive place.

Disabled people are the world's largest minority, but when it comes to dealing with disability, many of us—disabled and non-disabled alike—don't know how to act, what to say, or how to be an ally. DEMYSTIFYING DISABILITY is an approachable, friendly handbook to all the disability issues you need to know about, from ableism and etiquette to media representation and accessibility. Authored by disability rights advocate, speaker, and writer Emily Ladau, this is a practical guide to disability that everyone can learn from.

Emily Ladau is an internationally known disability rights activist, writer, and speaker. She is the editor in chief of the Rooted in Rights Blog, a platform dedicated to amplifying authentic narratives on the disability experience through an intersectional lens. She also co-hosts The Accessible Stall podcast, a conversational show about disability issues, and regularly speaks to audiences across the United States. Emily's writing has been published widely in outlets including The New York Times, HuffPost, CNN, SELF, Salon, Vice, The Daily Beast, Variety, and Marie Claire Australia.

FEEL SOMETHING, MAKE SOMETHING: How to Collaborate With Your Emotions

By Caitlin Metz

In this guidebook, artist and educator Caitlin Metz encourages readers to let go of self-judgment and make art as a way to identify and label difficult emotions, preserve feelings of wonder and joy, and embrace the multitude of feelings we, as humans, regularly experience.

With an introduction on how art can fuel an individual's understanding of themselves, Metz offers insight into common emotional experiences and the five major functions of art-making: to release, converse, question, document, and to ritualize or create a personal practice. What follows is a series of art tutorials for you to practice mindfully noticing your feelings and collaborating with them in a way that feels cathartic and deeply rewarding.

Caitlin Metz is an educator, illustrator, and designer who works across mediums to visually communicate a sense of belonging and make the world feel a little less lonely. The co-author of MY BODY, MY HOME, Caitlin uses art to process feelings and disrupt systems of power with tenderness and empathy.

PERMISSION TO REST

By Ashley Neese

In a culture that constantly tells us to do more of everything, including nothing, PERMISSION TO REST is a passionate cry for a more regulated, resourced, and rested life. Author and wellness expert Ashley Neese combines personal essays, contemplative questions, scientific research, and somatic practices to help readers disrupt the trance of urgency, reflect inward, and rest deeply. Neese invites in readers who are ready to question their beliefs around rest and offers support around the very real challenges of shame, guilt, and discomfort that often arise when we attempt to slow down. Neese builds on the work she does in How to Breathe to present a series of body-focused rest practices. She addresses common roadblocks when beginning a rest practice, the incredible health benefits of prioritizing rest, and a number of holistic resources for developing a sustainable relationship to rest.

PERMISSION TO REST is both a timely manifesto and compassionate call to action. In her signature warm, grounding, and authoritative style, Neese invites each reader to pause, look inward, learn to feel their own rhythms, and value rest as a deeply healing, empowering, and spiritual practice. This book is a radical reminder that we have the power to transform our lives from the inside out.

ASHLEY NEESE holds an MFA from the California College of the Arts and is certified in breathwork, somatic trauma touch, Hatha yoga, and energy medicine. Ashley has practiced breathwork for years and studied with some of the world's leading masters. She works with clients all over the world, including BuzzFeed and WeWork, and has been featured in Elle Japan, Vogue, Well + Good, MindBodyGreen, and the Nourished Journal. She opened the GOOP On Helath summit in 2018 and is a regular contributor to the GOOP site. She is also the author of HOW TO BREATHE (September Publishing).

EMILY POST'S ETIQUETTE, 20th EDITION

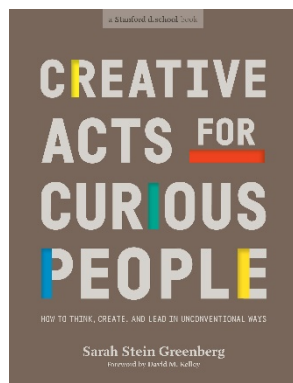

By Lizzie Post and Daniel Post Senning

For the past 100 years, Emily Post has been the definitive source for how to navigate—and enhance—every interaction. In today's multi-ethnic, gender-diverse, and intersectional world, there has never been a greater need for a trusted primer on treating yourself and others with confidence and kindness.

With a thorough resource section featuring charts and summaries, this beautifully and usefully illustrated edition includes focused content and poll statistics that offer the breadth of American perspectives while celebrating the history of etiquette with excerpts from the original 1922 edition. From advice on gender, titles, names, and pronouns to smartphone and social media etiquette in both professional and personal situations, this highly visual, easy-to-use reference will provide everything you need to move through the world with consideration, respect, and honesty.

Lizzie Post is the great-great-granddaughter of Emily Post, author of HIGHER ETIQUETTE and HOW DO I WORK THIS LIFE THING?, as well as a co-author of the 19th and 18th editions of Emily Post's Etiquette. She is co-president of the Emily Post Institute as well as co-host of the Awesome Etiquette podcast. She shares etiquette advice across the country and been interviewed on the Today show, Katie, Fox & Friends, Live with Kelly and Michael, the Gayle King Show, the Wendy Williams Show, Slate, Refinery29, Vanity Fair, NFL Films, the New York Times, Washington Post, and more.

Daniel Post Senning is the great-great grandson of Emily Post and the author of MANNERS IN A DIGITAL WORLD: Dan teaches business etiquette seminars worldwide and co-hosts the Awesome Etiquette podcast with his cousin, Lizzie Post. He has appeared on the Today show, the History Channel, ESPN, and Better TV; contributed to HuffPost; and been interviewed by such publications as the New York Times, Slate, Esquire, GQ, Glamour, Time magazine, the Wall Street Journal, and more.

CREATIVE ACTS FOR CURIOUS PEOPLE: How to Think, Create, and Lead in Unconventional Ways
by Sarah Stein Greenberg and Stanford d.school

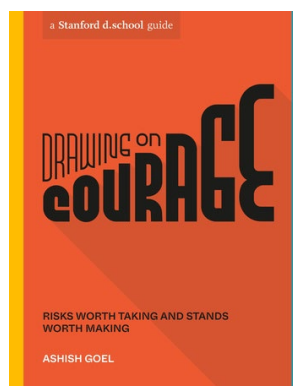

Known worldwide for its collaborative and interdisciplinary approach, d.school has amassed an unprecedented collection of creative assignments designed to push you out of your comfort zone, change your perspective, generate fresh ideas, and help you be more productive--regardless of your field or creative interests.

The assignments in CREATIVE ACTS FOR CURIOUS PEOPLE are compiled by d.school executive director Sarah Stein Greenberg from some of the world's leading minds, including d.school and IDEO founder David Kelley, Google chief innovation evangelist Frederik Pferdt, and more. The assignments are at once weird, tough, lighthearted, and impactful--and address all of the components of learning, from thinking, feeling, making, and choosing to failing, rebounding, and trying again.

Sarah Stein Greenberg is the executive director of the Stanford d.school, where she leads a community of designers, faculty, and other imaginative thinkers to help people unlock their creative abilities and apply them to the world.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. Each year, more than a thousand students from all disciplines attend classes, workshops, and programs to learn how the thinking behind design can enrich their own work and unlock their creative potential.

DRAWING ON COURAGE: Risks Worth Taking and Stands Worth Making
by Ashish Goel and Stanford d.school

In this book, designer, entrepreneur, and d.school teaching fellow Ashish Goel examines what it takes to be courageous. Using comics to illustrate real-world situations, Goel asks and answers four keys questions: Why is it hard to create work in the first place? Why do things fall apart when other people get involved? What does it take to do work that isn't just good, but good? And how do you do work that is your own? Each chapter features a series of tools designed to develop a mindset of fearlessness: Open the Tap to generate new ideas, Seek a Streak to take the all-important first step, Make a Birdbox to focus your attention, and much more.

Ashish Goel is a designer, entrepreneur, and founder of Boca Sparkling Water. A former teaching fellow at the Stanford d.school and key collaborator on the Stanford 2025 project, Ashish has taught classes on media, communication, and data design. He is the former head of design at Zomato (India's larger-scale Yelp!), and has launched and run design divisions for multiple international companies.

THE SECRET LANGUAGE OF MAPS: How to Tell Visual Stories with Data by Carissa Carter and Stanford d.school

A riveting mystery story about Marion Marlow and the disappearance of one of her old high school friends is woven in between instruction about the different kinds of maps we use to make sense of data and our surroundings. We learn how map design can take different forms to understand information. In this book, designer and d.school professor Carissa Carter examines how maps aren't just birds' eye views of roads and highways, mountains and deserts. Maps are also ways of organizing data. Graphs, diagrams, and timelines are maps. Even stories can be mapped!

Carissa Carter is a designer, geoscientist, and Director of Teaching and Learning at the Stanford d.school. Carissa drives the d.school's pedagogy and teaches courses on the intersection of data and design, design for climate change, maps, and the visual sorting of inion. She helped helm the d.school's seminal 2025 future of higher education project and continues to pursue projects at the crossover between design, science, and technology. "I Love Algorithms," Carissa's recent foray into making emerging tech more accessible, won a prestigious Core-77 design award and was also named one of the most innovative designs of 2019 by Fast Company.

NAVIGATING AMBIGUITY: Creating Opportunity in a World of Unknowns by Andrea Small and Stanford d.school

Any design process is fundamentally limited. It might show the process as a series of steps, in sequence. But we don't always work this way. NAVIGATING AMBIGUITY underscores how the creative process isn't formulaic. Through bolstering a designer's confidence, this book shows how to surrender control through being adaptable, curious, and unbiased as well as resourceful, tenacious, and courageous. Cut white paper sculptures and collage are photographed as illustrations to show ways in which designers can rethink their work of creating without hitting the usual roadblocks that slow down work. The result is a more open and satisfying journey from assignment or idea to finished product.

Andrea Small is an author, educator, experienced strategist, and a teaching fellow at Stanford's d.school. Previously, she was the Director of Product and Portfolio Strategy at Herman Miller and Strategy Lead at Yves Behar's design firm fuseproject. Her vast experience in design strategy includes work with some of the world's most iconic brands including the Nike Foundation, Nivea, GE, Starbucks, Samsung, and more.

DESIGN FOR BELONGING: How to Build Inclusion and Collaboration in Your Communities
by Susie Wise and Stanford d.school

An illustrated guide to using design to create feelings of inclusion in groups of all types and sizes, from Stanford University's world-renowned Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, aka, the d.school. In DESIGN FOR BELONGING, author and educator Susie Wise explains how to use simple levers of design to set the stage for belonging to emerge. Inspiration and stories from leaders and scholars are paired with frameworks, tools, tips, and concrete offerings, providing an opportunity to try on different approaches. By the end of the book, you'll be able to spot where greater belonging is needed and actively shape your world to cultivate it—whether it's a party, a high-stakes meeting, or a new national organization.

Dr. Susie Wise is a designer and teacher with experience in the education, tech, and social sectors. She coaches leaders in innovation practices, equity design, and storytelling for inclusion; is the founder and former director of the K12 Lab Network at the Stanford d.school; and a co-creator of Liberatory Design.

YOUR MANIFESTO
by Charlotte Burgess-Auburn and Stanford d. school

YOUR MANIFESTO instructs you how to create a personal motto that can serve as a compass in work and creative life, helping to set intention and accomplish your goals, from Stanford University's world-renowned Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, aka the d.school. We all need agency, to feel the power and joy of acting in the face of challenge and opportunity. But we also need humility and restraint, to ensure that we guard against hubris and harm. We need trusted and testable navigation tools, to give us confidence in our creative power, and cautiousness in carrying out our work. Instead of looking for answers, what we are all seeking are tools for navigating the increasingly complex, noisy, conflicted culture that we inhabit. A personal manifesto is one of those tools.

Explanations and hands-on design-based exercises are interwoven in the book with vibrant quotes and excerpts from a curated collection of designers, artists, writers, scientists, and social activists. These quotes serve both as inspiration and material for the activities.

Charlotte Burgess-Auburn is director of community at the Stanford d.school.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. CREATIVE HUSTLE

by Olatunde Sobomehin, Sam Seidel, and Stanford d. school

A vibrant, illustrated guide to using creative problem solving to blaze a unique and fulfilling professional path, from the Stanford d.school.

In CREATIVE HUSTLE, authors Olatunde Sobomehin and Sam Seidel help you identify and navigate a creative path from your gifts--your combination of unique skills--to your goals, where you get paid to do what you love. You'll learn by unpacking the stories of other creative hustlers, like Bryant Terry, who merged his passions for social justice and African American cuisine to become an award-winning eco-chef and cookbook author, and Khristofer "Squint" Sandifer, who combined his love of photography, storytelling, and people to become a brand builder for many of our cultural icons.

Olatunde Sobomehin is CEO and co-founder of StreetCode Academy, a nonprofit that offers free tech classes to communities of color. He has been recognized as an Aspen Institute Scholar, Praxis Fellow, and Sociel Entrepreneurship Fellow at Stanford University, and has taught classes at the Stanford Haas Center and the d.school. Sam Seidel is the director of K12 Strategy + Research at the Stanford d.school and the author of Hip Hop Genius: Remixing High School Education. He has taught in the maximum-security unit of a juvenile prison and speaks internationally about education, race, culture, systems, and design. He was a scholar-in-residence at Columbia University and a community fellow at Rhode Island School of Design..

THIS IS A PROTOTYPE: A Designer's Guide to Imagining and Creating Models and Mock-Ups

by Scott Witthoft and Stanford d.school

This thought-provoking guide helps you understand how to use prototyping in your work and creative life to test ideas and learn from your first attempts, from Stanford University's world-renowned Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, aka the d.school. This is a guide about becoming better at prototyping by building things and experiences that will help you learn from your attempts, no matter what you're up to. Scott Witthoft includes lists of tools and materials for prototyping, including digital means and physical objects. Also included are prototype experiments with accompanying photographs for the reader to observe large and small scale prototyping in real life.

Scott Witthoft works as an educator, designer, and author. Drawing from his past practice of forensic structural engineering, he incorporates that expertise with current pursuits in space, furniture, and product design—teaching and speaking widely. He is co-author of the book, Make Space—a tool for creating collaborative environments. He has also authored articles for the Conference Board and Harvard Business Review. His work has been featured in The Design Museum and publications such as Fast Company, Architecture and Urbanism, and Metropolis.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. BLACK ARCHIVES
by Renata Cherlise

Through a stunning collection of timeless images, BLACK ARCHIVES tells the powerful, joyful story of Black life and culture, and its dynamic, enduring influence on generations. Capturing both iconic and everyday moments, this nuanced compendium of Black memory and imagination celebrates the milestones of ordinary people throughout the Great Migration, time in military service, changing fashions, spirituality, love, lineage, and more.

Renata Cherlise is a multidisciplinary, research-based visual artist who uses various mediums to explore themes of identity, familial interiors, and cultural practices. Cherlise's work seamlessly bridges her southern upbringing with contemporary methodologies in digital and physical spaces while reimagining notions of the Black experience. Her archival project, Black Archives, has evolved from a photo-based website of visual narratives, into a collaborative platform featuring archival histories and modern-day stories from across the African diaspora.

COLTRANE: The Definitive Visual Celebration of the Legend

Edited by Ravi Coltrane, with essays by Wayne Coyne, Dev Hynes, Phil Lesh, Julie Mehretu, Carlos Santana, Patti Smith and Ravi Coltrane

John Coltrane's impact on jazz music and culture has endured far beyond his prolific career and untimely death in 1967 at age forty. Featuring two hundred expertly curated photographs, Coltrane is an intimate and in-depth look at the life of the legendary saxophonist and composer. This beautiful photography book further explores Coltrane's musical legacy with an introduction by his son and fellow musician, Ravi Coltrane, along with essays and contributions from public figures who have been moved by his work. COLTRANE is a visual celebration of one of the all-time great jazz musicians, and a must-have for fans of John Coltrane, jazz, and music photography.

Ravi Coltrane is a critically acclaimed Grammy nominated saxophonist, bandleader, and composer. Born in Long Island, the second son of John Coltrane and Alice Coltrane, Ravi was named after Indian sitar legend Ravi Shankar. He was raised in Los Angeles where his family moved after his father's death in 1967. Ravi maintains a fast paced touring, recording, composing and performance schedule. He leads the effort to restore the John Coltrane Home in Dix Hills, Long Island and presides over important reissues of his parent's recordings.

WOMEN MAKING WAVES: Trailblazing Surfers In and Out of the Water
by Lara Einzig

A photographic exploration of female surfers from around the world, with profiles of 25 inspiring women and 250 photos showcasing their favorite breaks, boards, and lifestyle.

WOMEN MAKING WAVES is a visual celebration of surfing as seen through the eyes of women from the United States, Sri Lanka, South Africa, Australia, and beyond. It features twenty-five women who are breaking new ground in the worlds of surfing, environmental protection, and their own professions, inviting you to come along with them at dawn patrol at their favorite wave breaks. Through candid interviews on the challenges and rewards of a life spent surfing and immersive photography featuring the surfers in their homes and at their local spots, Lara Einzig aims to inspire the next generation of women to take to the water.

Lara Einzig is a stylist, creative consultant, and contributor to The Grace Tales. She spent thirteen years in London, where she worked with Topshop as senior marketing manager for the UK and U.S., and as fashion director of Gwyneth Paltrow's Goop. She then founded Aquadorium, a creative direction and wardrobe styling consultancy in Los Angeles.

NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW: 125 Years of Literary History
Edited by Tina Jordan with Noor Qasim

From the longest-running, most trusted book review in America comes a celebration of The New York Times Book Review, showcasing the best, worst, funniest, strangest, and influential literary coverage since its beginnings in 1896. Not only is this beautiful, dynamic book a history of the magazine, but it's also a chronology of American letters, with famous authors interviewing famous authors, never-before-heard stories about well-known writers, and review excerpts that reveal what the paper thought of some of our most beloved novels when they were first published (including ones the magazine panned). Through the unfolding stories and photographs, readers will learn how American literary tastes have shifted—and the many ways the Times's coverage of books has shaped so much of what we read today.

Tina Jordan is the deputy editor of The New York Times Book Review. An archives fiend, she has unearthed such gems as the tale of Agatha Christie's disappearance, and what happened when P.D. Wodehouse was captured by the Germans during World War II. Before joining The Times, Tina was the longtime books editor at Entertainment Weekly, where she worked since the magazine's founding. She edited all of the magazine's book coverage, overseeing reviews, features and publishing industry news, assigning, for example, the very first United States coverage of J. K. Rowling.

CLARK LITTLE: The Art of Waves
by Clark Little with text by Jamie Brisick, Foreword by Kelly Slater

Instagram sensation Clark Little shares his most remarkable photographs from inside the breaking wave, with a foreword by world surf champion Kelly Slater.

CLARK LITTLE INSIDE compiles over 150 of his images, including crystalline breaking waves, the diverse marine life of Hawaii, and mind-blowing aerial photography. This collection features his most beloved pictures, including work that has never been published in book form, with Little's stories and insights throughout. Journalist Jaime Brisick contributes essays on how Clark gets the shot, how waves are created, swimming with sharks, and more. With a foreword by world surf champion Kelly Slater and an afterword by the author on his photographic practice and technique, CLARK LITTLE INSIDE offers a rare view of the wave from the safety of land.

Award-winning photographer Clark Little grew up on the North Shore of Oahu, where he made his name as a pioneer of surfing at the lethal Waimea Bay shorebreak. Little discovered his ability to capture the extraordinary beauty inside the tube when his wife wanted a picture of the ocean to decorate their bedroom wall. His images were shared around the world, gaining him recognition for his wave photography with exhibitions throughout the world, along with appearances on CBS Evening News, Good Morning America, Today Show, Inside Edition, the Discovery Channel, ABC World News Now, and more. He lives on Oahu and can be found at the beach under a detonating wave most days of the week.

Jamie Brisick's books include BECOMING WESTERLY, WE APPROACH OUR MARTINIS WITH SUCH HIGH EXPECTATIONS, and HAVE BOARD, WILL TRAVEL. His writings have appeared in The New Yorker, The Surfer's Journal, and The New York Times. In 2008 he was awarded a Fulbright Fellowship. He lives in Los Angeles.

UNTITLED FIRE & BLOOD ILLUSTRATED PROJECT
by George R.R. Martin, Elio M. Garcia, and Linda Antonsson

Crucial for both fans and new readers, this richly illustrated volume co-written by George R. R. Martin and the founders of the www.westeros.org site traces Aegon I's establishment of the Targaryen dynasty to the end of Aegon III's regency. The central characters and conflicts of each reign come to life through stunning visuals—from civil wars and rebellions to enemy plans and factions—in a comprehensive, never-before-told history of one of the most compelling families to ever rule the Seven Kingdoms.

George R. R. Martin sold his first story in 1971 and hasn't stopped. As a writer-producer, he worked on The Twilight Zone, Beauty and the Beast, and various feature films and pilots that were never made. In the mid '90s he returned to prose and began work on A Song of Ice and Fire. He has been in the Seven Kingdoms ever since. He lives with the lovely Parris and their cat.

Elio M. García Jr. and Linda Antonsson founded and run the popular site www.westeros.org, which is the definitive source for all things George R. R. Martin.

XEROPHILE, REVISED: Cactus Photographs from Expeditions of the Obsessed
by Max Martin, Carlos Morera, and Christian Cummings

Originally published by Hat & Beard Press in Los Angeles, this revised edition of XEROPHILE will include new, detailed captions of each cacti image.

A selection of hundreds of photographs of arguably the rarest and most spectacular plants on earth, photographed in their natural habitats over the past 80 years by a global cadre of obsessed cactus aficionados made up of both the amateur and the professional—from Ph.D. botanist to banker, art teacher to cancer researcher.

Fueled by whispers of ancient plants on forgotten hilltops in Brazil, legends of fields of living fossils deep in the arid deserts of Chile, these explorers' relentless drive to find and document succulent plants in some of the most remote landscapes on earth has created an extraordinary collective body of photographic work.

Max Martin, Carlos Morera, and Christian Cummings are the proprietors of Hot Cactus LA, a popular Los Angeles cactus store with a cult following.

COASTLINES: At the Water's Edge
by Emily Nathan

A stunning, wanderlust-inspiring collection of travel photography focused on water and coastlines from the premier online curator of travel photography, Tiny Atlas Quarterly.

Coastlines and waterways are some of the world's most beautiful and beloved places, from tropical beaches and icy fjords to lush mangrove forests and hidden coves. Showcasing hundreds of gorgeous travel photos from around the world, Coastlines is a visual tour of these magical watery places and a valuable resource of curated travel information. In addition to glorious images, Coastlines also spotlights some of the issues that threaten the beauty and security of these precious habitats--and how you can help.

Perfect for water and beach lovers, swimmers, surfers, boaters, and paddleboarders, COASTLINES takes you on a journey to the planet's most special places.

Emily Nathan is the author of MY TINY ATLAS. She founded Tiny Atlas Quarterly as a way to offer something that was missing from her work as a professional photographer shooting lifestyle and travel images for commercial clients: the photographer's experience, the intimate moments, and the everyday extraordinary. The brand became known for merging incredible imagery from some of the best travel photographers in the world with the personal narratives and helpful travel resources the pros bring home from every shoot. Tiny Atlas Quarterly is based in Oakland, California, where Emily lives with her husband and son.

STOMPBOX: 100 Pedals from the World's Greatest Guitarists
by Eilon Paz

A deluxe photographic celebration of the unsung hero of guitar music--the effects pedal—featuring interviews with 100 musicians including Peter Frampton, Joe Perry, Jack White, and Courtney Barnett.

As soon as the first effects pedals were introduced in the 1960s, the diminutive devices were adopted by many of the world's most celebrated musicians to craft their iconic sounds. Tom Morello of Rage Against the Machine speaks for countless sonic innovators when he says, "Before I stepped on it I had never made rock 'n' roll, but the second I stepped on it I was rock 'n' roll, and I haven't looked back!" Until now, however, the pedal hasn't been given its due.

STOMPBOX illustrates the connection between 100 musicians and the colorful little boxes that help them shape their music. This striking celebration of the guitarist's secret weapon uses bold, bright photography to capture the character of each pedal and the relationship between the pedal and artist. Reflections and anecdotes from Peter Frampton, Jack White, Courtney Barnett, Tom Morello, Dave Navarro, Andy Summers, Joe Satriani, and many more--from rock legends to rising stars--bring their stompboxes to life the same way the devices bring unique guitar sounds to life.

A visual treat for obsessive collectors, guitar players, and music fans, STOMPBOX reveals the essential but lesser-known marvels behind some of rock 'n' roll's signature sounds.

Eilon Paz is a professional photographer and the founder of the popular vinyl-collecting website Dust & Grooves. Paz's work has appeared in worldwide publications such as Wax Poetics, Saveur, Monocle, Condé Nast Traveler, Sky Magazine, and the French music magazine Vibrations. PROJECT 562: Changing the Way We See Native America
by Matika Wilbur

PROJECT 562 offers a one-of-kind look at North America's Indigenous communities in all their beauty, complexity, power, and truth. Readers will see and hear from all 562—and growing—federally recognized Tribes of the United States in this compelling collection of intimate portraits and stories. From the perspective of a sketch comedy troupe representing more than five sovereign Tribal Nations; a Cupik from an Alaskan village of about 900; one of the last singers of the Quechan Lightning Story Songs; founders of the Akwesasne Freedom School; and more.

Matika Wilbur is a critically acclaimed social documentarian and photographer from the Swinomish and Tulalip peoples of coastal Washington. Project 562, a crowd-funded initiative to visit, engage, and photograph people from over 562 sovereign Tribal Nations in North America, is her fourth major creative venture elevating Native American identity and culture. She co-hosts the All My Relations podcast with Dr. Adrienne Keene as a platform that invites guests to delve into subjects facing Native peoples today and explore the connections between land, creatural relatives, and one another. She has offered over 300 keynotes at such places as Harvard, Yale, Berkeley, Google, TED Talks, the National Education Association, and National Geographic Explorer, and is a regular contributor to the New York Times.

WATERSHIP DOWN: A Graphic Novel

by Richard Adams, adapted and illustrated by James Sturm and Joe Sutphin

For the first time, this gripping, emotional tale of a band of rabbits fighting for freedom—a tale that has stood the test of time with far-reaching themes of friendship, heroism, and nature—will be published as a lushly illustrated graphic novel.

This graphic novel adaptation of Richard Adams's timeless classic WATERSHIP DOWN will be published in celebration of the novel's 50th anniversary. Since its publication in November 1972, this stirring tale of adventure, courage and survival has sold millions of copies and has become one of the most famous animal allegories ever written.

It is being adapted into a graphic novel by James Sturm, an Eisner Award-winning comics artist, with art by Joe Sutphin, illustrator of the bestselling children's book WORLD OF MOUSE. As WATERSHIP DOWN was set in Richard Adams's hometown, the adapter/illustrator team were able to stay with his family and tour the grounds of the estate to find inspiration for the art directly from the source.

Richard Adams grew up in Berkshire, England, the son of a country doctor. After an education at Oxford, he spent six years in the army and then went into the Civil Service. He originally began telling the story of WATERSHIP DOWN to his two daughters and they insisted he publish it as a book. It quickly became a huge success with both children and adults and won both the Carnegie Medal and the Guardian Award for Children's Literature. Richard Adams has written many novels and short stories, including SHARDIK (1976), THE PLAGUE DOGS (1978), THE GIRL IN A SWING (1980), MAIA (1985), and TRAVELLER (1988), as well as several works of nonfiction, including his autobiographical THE DAY GONE BY (1991).

IT WON'T ALWAYS BE LIKE THIS: A Graphic Memoir
by Malaka Gharib

From the award-winning author of I WAS THEIR AMERICAN DREAM—an intimate story of a plucky American girl growing alongside her father's new family in the Middle East, forging bonds and understanding love along the way.

When Malaka Gharib visits her father in Egypt for her annual summer vacation abroad, he shares news that changes everything. He has remarried. Over the next fifteen years, Malaka must reevaluate her place in her father's new life as the landscape of her family changes from summer to summer. It's hard enough to figure out boys, beauty, and being cool when you're young, but even harder when you're in a country where you don't understand the language, culture, or religion. Gharib deftly illustrates the nuanced interactions between her cultural identities and blended family members with spirit and good humor in a world where change is the only constant. IT WON'T ALWAYS BE LIKE THIS is a touching time capsule of Gharib's childhood memories—each summer a fleeting moment in time—her reflections on identity, relationships, and family, and what happens when it all collides.

Malaka Gharib is a writer, journalist, and cartoonist. She is the author of I WAS THEIR AMERICAN DREAM: A Graphic Memoir, winner of the 2020 Arab American Book Award and named one of the best books of 2019 by NPR, The Washington Post, Kirkus Reviews and the New York Public Library. By day, she works on NPR's science desk, covering the topic of global health and development. Her comics, zines, and writing have been published in NPR, Catapult, The Seventh Wave Magazine, The Nib, The Believer Magazine, and the New Yorker. She lives in Nashville with her husband, Darren, and her dog, Sheeboo.

LION OF JUDAH: A Graphic Novel
by M. Menelik Makhar

An immersive graphic novel representation of Bob Marley's moving personal history and foundation as a musical, cultural, spiritual, and political legend, LION OF JUDAH shares Bob Marley's early life and beginnings as an artist, integrating stories of H.I.M. Haile Selassie I, Marley's spiritual father, and Kwame Nkrumah, the first president of an independent Ghana, Marley's matricarchal homeland.

LION OF JUDAH revisits and weaves together the seminal moments of these three men's lives through an anthology-style artistic collaboration of an international all-star team of comicartists including Damien Hill, Massimiliano Veltri, Will Rosado, N. Steven Harris, Christopher "ChrisCross" Williams, and Eric Battle among others. This full-color, immersive visual reading experience is at once a triple biography of three great men and an alternative history of the world's culture, music, spirituality, and politics. LION OF JUDAH shares the necessary enduring lessons of struggles, triumph, and tragedy that connects us all.

M. Menelik Makhar is an acclaimed activist, songwriter/ghostwriter and musician.

WEIRD TO EXIST: Simple Comics About Complex Feelings
by Alison Zai

Vibrant yet darkly humorous comics for commiserating over life's deepest concerns, from Instagram artist Alison Zai.

We all know the gut-wrenching pang that comes after accepting a beautiful moment will soon become a distant memory. We all get into cycles where it feels like the failures and disappointments just keep coming. Instagram comics artist Alison Zai presents WEIRD TO EXIST, a collection of 100 comics that depict these universal emotions and existential musings with great accuracy and empathy.

This bright, colorful book is divided into three intrinsic human acts—loving, creating, and existing--and, ultimately, comments on how weird it is to do all of that. Zai's cheery anthropomorphic characters go through the motions of relationships, loneliness, creativity blocks, mental health concerns, social anxiety, and more. These comics voice the overwhelming dread and unpredictable chaos found in all aspects of being alive. With sharp levity and emotional complexity, WEIRD TO EXIST captures the feelings that are not easily communicated but widely felt. This collection features 30 never-before-published comics alongside a selection of beloved fan favorites from Zai's Instagram account.

Alison Zai is a comics artist who has garnered success by sharing her art on Instagram and Tumblr. She lives in Los Angeles where she is expanding her career as an artist.

ZOUNDS!: A Shakespeare Card Game for Rhymesters, Rulers, and Star-Crossed Language Lovers
by Thomas Cushing

Compete for Shakespeare's best-loved plays and characters in a delightful card game that transports players to London's sixteenth-century theatre scene.

Build the most valuable London theater season by collecting characters from thirteen of Shakespeare's best-loved plays. This illustrated card-based party game combines Shakespeare drama and money—it's catnip for theater buffs, language buffs, and book clubs. You can collect all four characters from a single play (Romeo, Juliet, the Nurse, and Friar Lawrence) or characters from several plays that play similar roles (Romeo, Orlando, Rosalind, and Petruchio).

Draw, pass, and bluff your way to casting your plays—there are more ducats for your purse if you can fill in the missing word in the character's line of dialog at the bottom of each card. May the biggest Bard lover win!

Thomas Cushing is a writer, entrepreneur, and professional packager. He is the creator of the card game SHOW ME THE MONET and board game LIZZY LOVES DARCY.

Andy Tuohy is a graphic designer. He has had design work commissioned by the Tate Modern and Tate Liverpool, Turner Contemporary, and Henley Regatta, and has been featured in Design Week among other publications. His posters for the Royal Shakespeare Company were widely acclaimed, and his most recent book is GREAT MODERN ARTISTS A TO Z (Cassell, 2015).

POP MANGA DRAGONS AND OTHER MAGICALLY MYTHICAL CREATURES:

A Coloring Book

by Camille d'Errico

In POP MANGA DRAGONS AND OTHER MAGICALLY MYTHICAL CREATURES, Pop Surrealism sensation Camilla d'Errico adds her signature, manga-inspired twist to beings from myth, folklore, and legend—as well as from her own imagination! Embolden fantastical favorites from gryphons, fauns, and centauresses to Camilla's unique take on the Persian manticore, H.P. Lovecraft's Cthulhu, Japanese kappas, a thunder of hippogons, and more. Infuse these dragons and startling beings—many Camilla herself created—with your particular palette and turn striking full-page spreads into one-of-a-kind art.

Camilla d'Errico has gained wide acclaim for her illustrative work, including nominations for the Joe Shuster Award and the Will Eisner Award. She is the author of the adult coloring books POP MANGA CUTE AND CREEPY COLORING BOOK, POP MANGA MERMAIDS AND OTHER SEA CREATURES, and POP MANGA COLORING BOOK, as well as the art instruction books POP MANGA DRAWING, POP PAINTING, and POP MANGA, which she co-authored with award-winning writer and director Stephen W. Martin. She is also the author of THE POP MANGA SKETCHBOOK and the forthcoming graphic novel HELMETGIRLS: THE SHADOW AT OUR BACKS, which she co-authored with bestselling comic book writer Joshua Dysart. She is also well known for her melting rainbow, big-eyed girl oil paintings, which have made her a hit in the international Pop Surrealism movement.

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS 100 POSTCARDS: Archival Art from Every Edition
by Dungeons & Dragons

This collection of 100 postcards celebrates the history of Dungeons & Dragons with 50 memorable illustrations that have appeared on manual covers, starter sets, and other beloved books and products from every publication dating back to the 1970s. The back of each postcard includes the artist's name and original publication information with plenty of space for inscribing a message. Once you use all the postcards, the box doubles as a stylish place to store your dice.

Dungeons & Dragons launched the great tradition of roleplaying games in 1974 with an unprecedented mix of adventure and strategy, dice-rolling, and storytelling. Wizards of the Coast continues to honor that tradition, bringing to market a diverse range of D&D game and entertainment experiences and influencing numerous writers, directors, and game designers by tapping into an innate human need to gather with friends and tell an exciting story together.

THE DUNGEONS & DRAGONS TAROT DECK: A 78-Card Deck and Guidebook by Dungeons & Dragons

Featuring all-new art and a short guide to tarot, this 78-card deck aligns Dungeon & Dragon's iconic characters and creatures with the Major and Minor Arcana.

This officially licensed tarot deck pays homage to the lore of Dungeons and Dragons by pairing its characters with the Major and Minor Arcana of tarot, including Volothamp Geddarm as The Fool, Mordenkainen as The Magician, and Ioun as the The High Priestess. The deck also includes a booklet with tips for using the cards to add dynamic twists to your D&D game play--making this the ultimate gift for dungeons masters, players, and fans of RPGs.

PAPERCUTS: A Party Game for the Rude and Well-Read by Electric Literature

Show off your page-turning prowess and bust out your best book-themed jokes with PAPERCUTS, a raucous party game full of literary laughs.

PAPERCUTS is what Kurt Vonnegut, James Baldwin, and Virginia Woolf would play if they were alive, locked in a room together, and forced to play a card game. This party game for bibliophiles and pop culture fanatics follows an intuitive and popular game format: the dealer lays down a Question card and each player must fill in the blank with one of the five Answer cards in their hand. What ensues is an endless loop of hilarious literary jokes and gut-busting gameplay.

This expanded, updated edition of Electric Literature's self-published 2017 game boasts a total of 300 cards with new, contemporary references in a luxe, portable package. Toss in a tote or bring to your next party for endless chapters of enjoyment.

Electric Literature is an independent nonprofit dedicated to making literature more exciting, relevant, and inclusive. In addition to the essays, criticism, and literary news on their digital platforms, Electric Lit publishes two acclaimed literary magazines, Recommended Reading and The Commuter. Work published by Electric Literature and our literary magazines has been recognized by Best American Short Stories, Essays, Poetry, and Comics, the Pushcart Prize, Best Canadian Short Stories, and The Best of the Small Presses.

THE GAME OF REAL LIFE: Be Mindful. Solve Conflicts. Gain Points. Live Better. by Jesse Finkelstein

A card game about real life problems and emotional problem-solving rooted in an evidence-based psychotherapy that teaches mindfulness skills for emotion regulation, interpersonal effectiveness, and distress tolerance.

Life is hard! Conflict with loved ones, climate change, inequality, political strife, existential angst... there are plenty of reasons to feel overwhelmed, anxious, and depressed. THE GAME OF REAL LIFE offers a playful way to practice coping and staying present.

By gameifying everyday problems while teaching the principles of Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT), THE GAME OF REAL LIFE is an accessible tool for players to learn how to regulate intense emotions, build better relationships, and ultimately, feel happier. In each round, players solve conflicts using the Skills cards they've been dealt; whoever solves the most conflicts wins! DBT is rooted in mindfulness and meditation, which are proven to combat anxiety, promote active listening, and prevent burnout.

Jesse Finkelstein is an illustrator and doctoral student in clinical psychology. He is currently pursuing his doctorate at the Rutgers University Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology. His research interests include Dialectical Behavior Therapy and the dissemination of therapeutic interventions, especially for sexual and gender minorities.

FRUITS!: A Juicy Card Game for 2 to 5 Players
by Jo Firestone and Josh Knapp

In this fast-paced card game, 2 to 5 players compete to collect Bunches of Fruit and be the first to score 1,000 points.

Players of FRUITS! will encounter ten different bright and colorful Fruits cards of varying point values (Orange, Apple, Banana, Blueberry, Grape, Watermelon, Peach, Strawberry, Kiwi, and Pineapple) that they can collect into Bunches of 3 or more. Along the way, they will also encounter Action Cards that will either multiply their successes or thwart their efforts; for example: a Pie Card can be used to double the total value of a Bunch, but a Grabber Card gives an opponent the chance to steal a card, and all of its potential points, from another player's hand. Each round ends when any player sets down five Bunches, but the game continues until a player accumulates a thousand points and wins the game!

Jo Firestone is a Brooklyn-based comedian and writer and the cocreator of Punderdome. Jo was named one of Brooklyn Magazine's "30 Under 30" and a Comedy Central "Comic to Watch".

Josh Knapp worked on The Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon from 2014 to 2018 as the games coordinator and later games producer.

NOTHING TO SEE HERE: An Outrageous Storytelling Card Game for Adults
by Yuxin Gao, Rachel Li, and Mary Georgescu

NOTHING TO SEE HERE is the hilariously naughty party game you've been missing—use your cards to come up with a "believable" story to explain your way out of the compromising position you've been discovered in and try not to get caught.

In this Clue-meets-Cards Against Humanity card game, each round has 1 judge and 2-7 other players. The judge comes home to discover a host of random characters in all sorts of shocking positions that lead them to believe their partner is cheating! The players start with an identity (WHO?), location (WHERE?), and physical state (WHAT?) card and have to come up with a narrative to explain themselves and not get caught in the act. For an extra layer of fun, the judge and other players give players item cards that they have to seamlessly weave into their narrative. Good luck explaining those furry hand cuffs and that leather crop! The most convincing storyteller(s) wins award cards during each round, and the player with the most Awards at the end of three rounds wins—just don't get that Scapegoat card!

Yuxin Gao, Rachel Li, and Mary Georgescu are graduates of the NYU game center and founders of Eat Melon Studio. In the summer of 2020, they were selected for the NYU Game Center Incubator and are the winners of the prestigious Bigglesworth Family Foundation Grant. NOTHING TO SEE HERE, developed in cooperation with designers Wenjing Ma, Jin Wu, and Dannan Wen, was showcased at Indiecade, Boston Fig, and Conneticut Fig.

HIP-HOP QUEENS ORACLE DECK: A 52-Card Deck and Guidebook
by Kathy Iandoli

Women have been the backbone of hip-hop since its earliest inception. Along with perseverance and creativity, they possess a spiritual and metaphysical presence. These female creators have a profound potency that makes them the perfect symbols for an oracle deck.

The 52 artists included in the deck (from Aaliyah, Salt N' Pepa, and Lil' Kim to Missy Elliott, Cardi B, and Janelle Monae), are hip-hop's oracles, now immortalized from tape deck to card deck. They will guide you the same way they've blazed trails from the underground to the mainstream since Day One.

Kathy Iandoli is a critically acclaimed journalist and author of GOD SAVE THE QUEENS: The Essential History of Women in Hip-Hop. She has written for Vibe, The Source, XXL, Village Voice, Rolling Stone, Billboard, Pitchfork, Playboy, Cosmopolitan, Maxim, The Guardian, Vice, and many other publications. She has held editorial positions at top hip-hop/urban websites, including AllHipHop.com, HipHopDX.Com, and BET.com. Iandoli is an alumna-in-residence of Music Business at New York University and has appeared across the media, in television and on radio and panels discussing hip-hop and gender.

RESILIENCE JOURNAL: 365 Days of Prompts for Achieving Balance and Peace of Mind
by Sandra Johnson

A beautiful prompted journal focused on building resilience with 365 days of thought-provoking quotes from a pantheon of great minds and prompts that encourage the journaler to reflect on their past, examine their lives in the present and work to experience a more resilient future.

Everyone yearns to become more resilient. We all experience setbacks and problems on an individual level, and the state of the world doesn't provide overarching reassurance. But resilience is much more than the ability to bounce back from a single catastrophe. You need to work at it, to strengthen it as you would a muscle in your body. This journal starts you on this path with an initial self-assessment using 15 statements such as "I cope well with change." Then, through completing the wide range of daily interactive prompts and exercises, you will discover ways to not only cope with difficulties but grow stronger from them. At the end of the journal there's a repeat of the self-assessment quiz. Fill it out to find that your self-knowledge; compassion, patience and resilience has increased quantifiably.

Sandra E. Johnson, MSW, is a licensed clinical social worker who has been practicing for over 30 years. She has taught meditation and other stress reduction techniques to individual patients, social workers, counselors, and therapists. She has written for the Washington Post, and was selected to be a monthly guest op-ed writer for The State, South Carolina's most widely read newspaper, for which she covered topics ranging from education reform to race relations. Ms. Johnson is the author of STANDING ON HOLY GROUND: A Triumph over Hate Crime in the Deep South (St. Martin's Press, 2002) and a novel: FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING (Texas Review Press, 2016) which was nominated for a Pen Faulkner Award. THE ANTIRACIST DECK: 100 Meaningful Conversations on Power, Equity, and Justice
by Ibram X. Kendi

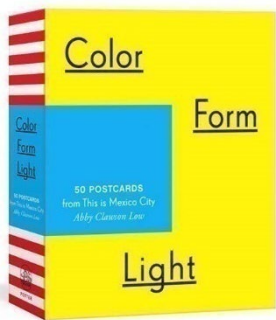

Engage, learn, and inspire with this deck of 100 conversation starters. Ibram X. Kendi has raised our awareness of the importance of persistent, dedicated antiracist work. Being antiracist is an everyday commitment; in order to build a more equitable and just society, we must be diligent, making antiracist choices at every turn. Meaningful change can start at the micro-level; these conversations starters will help you along the way.

When did you first become aware of racism? When did you first become aware of your race? Where does racism exist? What does "resistance" mean to you? Why is talking about race important? Why now?

Whether you choose to ponder these questions alone or with family, friends, or community groups, the 100 cards in THE ANTIRACIST DECK will help you lead discussions on race, racism, antiracism, and intersectional topics like class, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, power, and more.

Ibram X. Kendi is a #1 New York Times bestselling author, professor of history and international studies, and the Director of the Boston University Center for Antiracist Research. He is an Ideas columnist at The Atlantic, and a correspondent with CBS News. He is the author of several books including STAMPED FROM THE BEGINNING: The Definitive History of Racist Ideas in America, which won National Book Award for Nonfiction, ANTIRACIST BABY, and the #1 New York Times bestsellers HOW TO BE AN ANTIRACIST and STAMPED: Racism, Antiracism, and You, co-authored with Jason Reynolds.

THE GRATITUDE JOURNAL by Potter Gift

Research shows that engaging in a regular gratitude practice counterbalances the negativity we inevitably experience in our lives; gratitude begets more gratitude. Journaling has proven to have tangible physical benefits, too, including lowered stress levels, better sleep, and motivation for more regular exercise.

THE GRATITUDE JOURNAL is your in-road to happiness. Record three things you're grateful for each day and be mindful of how your appreciation for the world around you grows. With enough space to record a short gratitude list every day for three years, from the little things like a delicious cup of morning coffee to the way your family supports you in times of need, this journal is both a keepsake and a reminder of your life's gifts, day to day, and year to year.

Potter Gift, an imprint of the Random House Group, is a high-end gift and stationery line, specializing in beautifully designed and packaged guided journals, note cards, postcards, and other paper-based novelty products.

STICKEROLOGY: 928 Astrology Stickers from Aries to Pisces by Potter Gift; Illustrated by Elisa Wong

STICKEROLOGY is packed with 928 vibrant stickers related to each of the twelve zodiac signs, the planets and elements, important astrological dates, and more. Sticker your planner with the upcoming moon phases, equinoxes, and retrogrades, decorate your stationery and tech accessories, or add to notes and birthday cards!

Twenty uniquely designed sticker sheets (each repeating once for a total of forty sheets) capture the energy of the zodiac. Turn each sticker sheet over and you'll find useful information about astrology, including brief profiles of each zodiac sign and traits of each earthly element, modality, and the planets, too. Both personal and practical, these stickers will remind you to nurture your Pisces moon, indulge in a little Taurus luxury, and never again forget when Mercury is in retrograde.

Potter Gift, a lifestyle imprint owned by Random House, specializes in design, fashion, humor, health, stationery, and other paper and gift products.

Elisa Wong is a Latinx Chinese designer, illustrator, and activist based in Los Angeles. She uses design and visual art as a tool to strengthen social movements, encourage mental growth, and instill mindful and sustainable habits.

COLOR ME QUEER: The LGBTQ+ Coloring and Activity Book
by Potter Gift; Illustrated by Ash Khullar

COLOR ME QUEER is both a look at LGBTQIA+ history and a tongue-in-cheek love letter to the queer community.

Filled with art by Ash Khullar, the pages of this book capture historic moments as well as the dailiness of modern queer life. Color in a timeline of LGBTQIA+ history to learn about early activists, underground gay culture, and queer icons like Lorraine Hansberry, Sylvia Rivera, and Harvey Milk. Complete fill-in-the-blank dating profiles, design your own stick n' poke tattoos, design a Pride float, color and tear out your own protest signs, and celebrate stereotypically gay interests like astrology, community service, tarot, making kombucha, and intersectional queer theory.

Potter Gift, a lifestyle imprint owned by Random House, specializes in design, fashion, humor, health, stationery, and other paper and gift products.

Anshika Khullar is an illustrator based in Southampton, England, whose bold and vibrant work aims to showcase the ordinary as beautiful. Anshika is an Indian, non-binary transgender creative with a BA in English literature and media from the University of Brighton. They are an ALA Stonewall Book Award winner and CILIP Kate Greenaway Medal longlist nominee for their artwork in the YA novel, THE BLACK FLAMINGO.

TASTE TEST: 200 Trivia Questions for Food Nerds
by Max Falkowitz and The Editors of TASTE

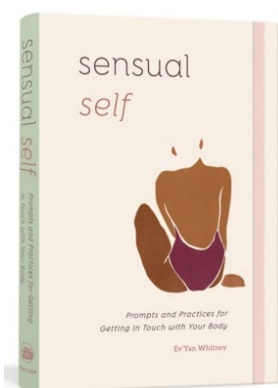

A trivia card game from Max Falkowitz and the editors of TASTE.

We all love to eat, but how much do you know about what you're eating? Find out with TASTE TEST, the trivia game for food obsessives. Test the limits of your culinary obsessions and broaden your horizons as you dive into questions like, "What was Richard Nixon's sad last meal in the White House?" and "How many layers of dough will you find in a typical croissant?"

The four categories of question cards—People & Pop Culture; Cooking Tools & Techniques; Ingredients; and Regional Dishes—provide endless fun and become topics of conversation all on their own. The best part is you can play in teams and keep score (using the original rules or several variations included in the enclosed booklet), or simply set out the cards at your next get-together for some ice-breaking fun. No matter what, make sure you're playing with food and drinks handy and let the friendly competition begin!

A native of Queens, Max Falkowitz is the senior digital editor of Saveur and previously worked at Serious Eats as a senior features editor.

TASTE is an online food magazine for people who love to cook at home and enjoy reading about approachable recipes, popular and emerging ingredients, and stories reported from the front lines of today's quickly moving food culture.

THE HISTORY OF THE COMPUTER: People, Inventions, and Machines that Changed Our World by Rachel Ignotofsky

A strikingly illustrated overview of the computing machines that have changed our world—from the abacus to the iPhone—by the New York Times bestselling author and illustrator of WOMEN IN SCIENCE. Computers make our lives easier in so many ways—they help us do our work, get directions, check the weather, exercise, shop, and understand what's happening around the world. But who created them, and why? How have they transformed the way we interact with our surroundings and each other? Packed with accessible information, fun facts, and discussion starters, this charmingly illustrated book takes you from the ancient world to the modern day, focusing on important inventions from the earliest known counting systems (such as the South American Quipa) to the sophisticated algorithms behind AI, space travel, and wearable tech. THE HISTORY OF THE COMPUTER also profiles key, sometimes overlooked players and creators, and illuminates their goals and intentions and the impact of their inventions on our everyday lives.

Rachel Ignotofsky is a New York Times bestselling author, illustrator, and designer. She graduated from Tyler School of Art's graphic design program and formerly worked as a senior designer and illustrator at Hallmark Greetings. Rachel and her work have been featured in The New York Times, Los Angeles Times, Scientific American, Science Friday, Brain Pickings, and more. She is the author of WOMEN IN SCIENCE, WOMEN IN SPORTS, I LOVE SCIENCE, THE WONDROUS WORKINGS OF PLANET EARTH, and WOMEN IN ART.

TROUBLEMAKER: A JOURNAL: A Place for Antiracist Awareness and Activism
by Ibram X. Kendi

Kids 12 and up can reflect on their understanding of race and discover ways to work toward a better future in this prompted journal from Ibram X. Kendi. Antiracism is not a destination but a journey—one that takes deliberate, consistent work. Ibram X. Kendi's concept of antiracism has reenergized and reshaped the conversation about racial justice in America and pointed us toward new ways of thinking about ourselves and our society. Young people must be included in these conversations around race, which is why Dr. Kendi has created TROUBLEMAKER: A JOURNAL. Whether or not you've read TROUBLEMAKER: How to be a (Young) Antiracist (forthcoming from Penguin Young Readers in January 2022), this paperback workbook offers the opportunity to reflect on your personal commitment to antiracism—serving as both a safe space and a log of your journey toward a better future.

Ibram X. Kendi is a #1 New York Times bestselling author, professor of history and international studies, and the Director of the Boston University Center for Antiracist Research. He is an Ideas columnist at The Atlantic, and a correspondent with CBS News. He is the author of several books including STAMPED FROM THE BEGINNING: The Definitive History of Racist Ideas in America, which won National Book Award for Nonfiction, ANTIRACIST BABY, and the #1 New York Times bestsellers HOW TO BE AN ANTIRACIST and STAMPED: Racism, Antiracism, and You, co-authored with Jason Reynolds.

This journal provides a creative way for kids and their grownups to connect with each other. It's filled with prompts-both silly and serious- to learn more about each other and get everyone giggling. Shared journaling opens lines of communication, providing opportunities for self-expression. Through messages, sketches, and lists, you'll share memories, compare perspectives, uncover similarities, and celebrate uniqueness.

Wee Society is an award-winning creative studio that believes you're never too young to develop an eye for design. They aim to spark kids' imaginations, leading to big bright explosions of creativity. And they're pretty sure uncontrollable giggles make the world better. With this in mind, Wee Society has created kids' apps (available in the App Store), books, art prints, toys, and still-secret stuff. Their work has been honored by the Parents' Choice Foundation, Webby Awards, and other nice folks.

DRAGONS & TREASURES: A Young Adventurer's Guide

by Jim Zub with Stacy King and Andrew Wheeler. Official Dungeons & Dragons Licensed.

No creature is more fascinating and terrifying to an adventurer than a dragon! This illustrated guide a deeper look at the magic, abilities, and personalities of every major dragon type in DUNGEONS & DRAGONS.

This illustrated guide transports new players to the magical world of DUNGEONS & DRAGONS and presents a one-of-a-kind course on the unique characteristics, fabled treasures, and wondrous artifacts of the most legendary of creatures: Dragons! DRAGONS & TREASURES profiles all three dragon classes and features easy-to-follow and entertaining explanations of how to identify and interact with these legendary beasts during your adventures. Advice, encouragement, and storytelling tips provide strategies for dealing with dragon encounters, hoards of treasure, and draconic artifacts, along with action-packed illustrations that will ignite your imagination.

Dungeons & Dragons launched the great tradition of roleplaying games in 1974 with an unprecedented mix of adventure and strategy, dice-rolling, and storytelling. Wizards of the Coast continues to honor that tradition, bringing to market a diverse range of D&D game and entertainment experiences and influencing numerous writers, directors, and game designers by tapping into an innate human need to gather with friends and tell an exciting story together.

TAKE IT OUTSIDE: A Guide to Designing Beautiful Spaces Just Beyond Your Door

by Melissa Brasier, Garrett Magee, and James DeSantis

From the hosts of Bravo's TV show Backyard Envy comes a beautifully photographed guide to converting your outdoor space into an enviable oasis, whether you have a backyard, brownstone patio, or a Juliet balcony.

Design and style your backyard escape to be everything you envision. Dubbed the "plantfluencers" by the New York Times, Mel, Garrett, and James, owners of the landscaping company called the Manscapers, do more than plant, mulch, and manicure a garden; they look at the space just as interior designers do a room, considering the aesthetics and the way people live in it. With their book, learn how to apply familiar interior design concepts to your outdoors—including deciding on a concept, "zoning" your outdoors into more usable areas, implementing furniture and plants, and much more.

Mel Brasier, Garrett Magee, and James DeSantis are the hosts of Bravo's exterior and garden show Backyard Envy as well as the founder of the Manscapers, an exterior design and landscaping firm located in Brooklyn, New York, and Los Angeles, California. They have been profiled in Architectural Digest, The New York Times, People, LA Times, Vogue, and on Rachel Ray.

THE COMIC BOOK LESSON: A Graphic Novel That Shows You How to Make Comics

By Mark Crilley

Acclaimed illustrator and graphic novelist Mark Crilley returns with a new approach to learning the essential elements of making comics. Using the same comics-style art instruction as in THE DRAWING LESSON, THE COMIC BOOK LESSON follows the story of Emily, an enthusiastic young comics fan and aspiring creator who has a story she needs to tell.

On her quest to turn her story into a comic book, Emily meets three mentors: Trudy, a high school student working on comics of her own; Madeline, a newly-published manga artist; and Sophie, a professional graphic novelist. THE COMIC BOOK LESSON blends these teaching moments into a sweet, funny, and poignant story that reveals why Emily is so driven to create her comic book. Each lesson builds off the previous information and skills presented, and the sequential art format provides the perfect vehicle for step-by-step instruction. Crilley also includes practice exercises to help readers develop their own comic book skills.

Mark Crilley is the author of the Eisner-nominated THE DRAWING LESSON, MASTERING MANGA, MASTERING MANGA 2, THE REALISM CHALLENGE, and MANGA ART, as well as several manga novels, including the Akiko, Miki Falls, Billy Clikk, and Brody's Ghost series. Since being selected for Entertainment Weekly's "It List," Crilley has published nearly twenty books and developed a massive YouTube following for his drawing demonstration videos. His books have been featured in USA Today, the New York Daily News, and Disney Adventures magazine, as well as on CNN Headline News.

Publishers of THE DRAWING LESSON: Brazil: Trinitas; Korean: Viz&Biz; Russian: MIF; Simplified Chinese: Ginko; Spanish: El Drac

HOW TO LIVE WITH OBJECTS: The Elements That Define a Home
by Monica Khemsurov and Jill Singer

With a collection of anecdotes, tours of remarkable homes, and design advice, this prescriptive guide from the co-founders of the trendsetting magazine Sight Unseen explores the intersection of artful, vintage objects and interiors.

Monica Khemsurov and Jill Singer take you on a fun, educational, and highly visual journey through two questions at the core of their design philosophy: what are objects, and how do we live with them? Like a chat with your most stylish friend, HOW TO LIVE WITH OBJECTS guides collectors, art lovers, and design enthusiasts towards a more sophisticated and skilled mindset in acquiring vintage, rare, and new objects and shows you how to style them in your own home. Appealing to every type of space, this book emphasizes the importance of objects, regardless of your style preference, and illustrates exactly how to find and utilize décor to maximize the thoughtfulness of your space.

Monica Khemsurov and Jill Singer are co-founders of Sight Unseen, one of the most influential design publications in the United States, which is now an online magazine and an annual design fair as well.

HERBAL HANDBOOK: 50 Profiles in Words and Art from the Rare Book Collections of The New York Botanical Garden

A charming, information-packed guide to 50 herbs and their uses illustrated with rare botanical art from the renowned archives of the New York Botanical Garden.

Did you know woodruff was used as a room freshener in the Middle Ages; that crushed bergamot leaves can soothe bee stings; and that dried fenugreek seeds were found in the tomb of King Tutankhamen?

This delightful, informative gift book offers portraits and information for fifty herbs curated by experts at the New York Botanical Garden. The herbs are organized alphabetically, and each herb is portrayed with a rare botanical illustration showing the seed, stem, flower, and leaf structure. The accompanying text provides detail on the history of the herb, how to grow it, and how it has been and is now used in daily life. At the end of each profile is a recipe or project for anything from soups, salads, cocktails, and syrups to tinctures, teas, and shrubs to potpourri and sachets.

So cleanse your face with calendula when you wake up, sip a bergamot tea at breakfast, have a lovage tuna sandwich for lunch, and mix a caraway cocktail at the end of the day. Let these herbs delight your senses as they have done for thousands of years.

The New York Botanical Garden is an iconic living museum founded in 1891. It is a National Historic Landmark, with 250 acres supporting over one million living plants. Each year more than one million visitors walk the grounds to enjoy the remarkable diversity of tropical, temperate, and desert flora and to attend beloved annual events such as The Holiday Train Show, and The Orchid Show.

WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE: Rare Tropical Houseplants to Collect, Grow, and Love
by Enid Offolter

Go beyond the basic houseplants with 50 highly sought after, dramatic, stunningly photographed houseplants and clear, straightforward information on how to obtain, grow, and propagate them.

If you're bored with the same old entry-level houseplants and long for something new, up your game with Enid Offolter. Called "the Houseplant Queen" by the New York Times, Offolter and her company, NSE Tropicals, are celebrities within the rare plant community, with thousands of obsessed Instagram followers and plants that sell in heated auctions for hundreds of dollars. In WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE, Offolter shows you how to grow and propagate some of these extraordinary botanicals on your own. From the king anthurium with its deeply pleated leaves, to velvety Columbian beauties known to make collectors drop to their knees, to plants with big, hot-pink, heart-shaped leaves or bizarre corkscrew-shaped flower spikes, these amazing aroids bring a lush, tropical, jungle aesthetic to your home that will make you the envy of all. If you're ready for something more interesting than the ubiquitous spider plants and peace lilies, WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE is full of tips, professional advice, behind-the-scenes stories from fellow plant collectors, and the inspiration you need to grow plants that make a statement.

Enid Offolter is owner and founder of NSE Tropicals plant nursery. Offolter travels the world to find unique and unusual plants, and even has a plant named after her (Anthurium offolteranum). Her nursery boasts one of the largest personal collections of aroids in the United States and Offolter was the two-time president of the International Aroid Society. She gives countless presentations to plant societies and garden clubs and has been profiled in the New York Times, Bloom and Grow Radio podcast, and Homestead Brooklyn's YouTube channel.

BRYAN PETERSON STREET PHOTOGRAPHY

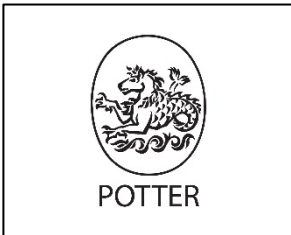

by Bryan Peterson

Street photography enables us to experience the world through a new lens. In BRYAN PETERSON STREET PHOTOGRAPHY, readers will travel the globe via images from the vibrant streets of Varanasi, India to the crowded walkways of the Charles Bridge in Prague, and so many other corners of the world. Along the way, Peterson, a best-selling author and acclaimed international photographer and teacher, will share 120 “mini diaries”: the story behind each image; the thought process, the arrangement of the composition, the psychology of the colors, and the lens, aperture, shutter speed, and ISO for readers to replicate his work.

Learn how to produce posed and candid compositions, capture light and movement, work with shadows, weather, architecture, and hone your craft. In this masterclass, Bryan Peterson defines street photography as images that convey evidence of human interaction, whether that’s a striking cityscape, an image of rush-hour foot traffic, the remains of a half-eaten sandwich, or a literal pedestrian portrait. Through lessons, exercises, and anecdotes, Peterson shares his best tips for capturing the unpredictable world of urban life in motion.

Bryan Peterson is a professional photographer, internationally known instructor, and founder of the Bryan Peterson School of Photography. He is also the best-selling author of UNDERSTANDING EXPOSURE, LEARNING TO SEE CREATIVELY, UNDERSTANDING SHUTTER SPEED, UNDERSTANDING CLOSE-UP PHOTOGRAPHY, UNDERSTANDING DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY, BEYOND PORTRAITURE, and, most recently, BRYAN PETERSON’S UNDERSTANDING PHOTOGRAPHY FIELD GUIDE.

PLANTS ARE MY FAVORITE PEOPLE: A Relationship Guide for Plants and their Parents
by Alessia Resta

The plant influencer behind Apartment Botanist proves that anyone can be a plant parent, no matter where you live, how small your space is, or how busy you are--with this book, you'll learn how to keep and grow a collection with your unique parenting style.

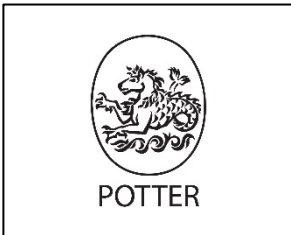

Whether your thumb is more brown than green or you have a successful succulent collection, this book covers all the bases of plant parent life and then some.

PLANTS ARE MY FAVORITE PEOPLE is the guide to house plants 2.0. You'll learn all the basics, like understanding light, choosing and buying plants, developing a watering schedule, and replant properly, as well as your plant parent personality (yes, there's a quiz!) and how to translate that into your care routines and your home design. You'll also get a primer on the personalities of 26 popular house plants from a diverse range of genres, grouped by difficulty.

With fun anecdotes and important tips, this guide also helps more experienced plant parents delve into some 200-level plant care courses--think humidity, misting systems, propagation, and more. Whether you just bought your first plant baby, have a collection that's overtaking your home, or fall somewhere in between, you are a plant parent.

Alessia Resta is the creator of the Instagram @apartmentbotanist and has been featured on Apartment Therapy and The New York Times. She lives in New York City with her boyfriend and their 175 plants.
