FEEL YOUR WAY THROUGH: A Book of Poetry

By Kelsea Ballerini

The personal and poignant debut poetry collection from the award-winning singer, songwriter, and producer revolves around the emotions, struggles, and experiences of finding your voice and confidence as a woman.

Deeply felt and candid, FEEL YOUR WAY THROUGH grapples with the challenges and celebrates the experiences Kelsea faces as she navigates the twists and turns of growing into a woman today. She addresses themes of family, relationships, body image, self-love, sexuality, and the lessons of youth. The poems speak to the often harsh—and sometimes beautiful—onset of womanhood. Honest, humble, and, ultimately, hopeful, this collection reveals a new dimension of Kelsea Ballerini's artistry and talent. "I've realized that some feelings can't be turned into a song, so I've started writing poems," says Ballerini. "Just like my songs, they talk about what it's like to be twenty-something trying to navigate a wildly beautiful and broken world."

Kelsea Ballerini is an award-winning singer, songwriter, and producer. She made history as the only female country artist to log three consecutive number one singles from a debut album. Ballerini has garnered two Grammy Award nominations, won two ACM Awards, and picked up the iHeartRadio Music Awards honor for "Best New Country Artist" in addition to other accolades. Thus far, she has achieved thirteen gold, platinum, and multiplatinum RIAA single and album certifications, six career number one singles at country radio, and global streams totaling more than three billion to date.

THE PARIS LINE: A True Story of War, Friendship, and Two Heroic Women in Occupied France

by Matthew Goodman

A thrilling, propulsive story about truly inspiring characters – two conventional, seemingly unremarkable women, who are called upon by the circumstances of history to discover within themselves a capacity for heroism, resistance and toughness they might never have imagined themselves capable of.

In the early days of the Nazi occupation of France, two middle-aged women, close friends, a transplanted Jewish New Yorker American named Etta Shiber and a British expatriate, Kate Bonnefous, find themselves in the role of unlikely resistance heroes when they impulsively decide to rescue a British soldier left behind in the Dunkirk evacuation, transporting him to Paris in the luggage compartment of their car, and from there on to safety. Galvanized into further action, they ally themselves with a young priest from a rural village in the north and become the key link in a network that will rescue over a hundred stranded British soldiers hiding in the woods and barns and forests of France. Finally arrested by the Gestapo, both women separately endure brutally harsh confinement in a series of prisons and labor camps, neither of them ever naming a collaborator even under torture; against all odds, both survive to emerge at the end of the war, physically broken but triumphant in spirit.

Matthew Goodman is the author of three previous books of nonfiction: EIGHTY DAYS: Nellie Bly and Elizabeth Bisland’s History-Making Race Around the World; THE SUN AND THE MOON: The Remarkable True Account of Hoaxers, Showmen, Dueling Journalists, and Lunar Man-Bats in Nineteenth-Century New York; and JEWISH FOOD: The World at Table. Goodman’s work has appeared in The American Scholar, Harvard Review, Salon, and many other publications. He lives in Brooklyn, New York, with his wife and two children.

by Jennifer Grey

A highly revealing and candid memoir from Jennifer Grey, star of the iconic film Dirty Dancing and daughter of Broadway and film legend Joel Grey.

OUT OF THE CORNER is an examination of the defining moments of Jennifer Grey's life, from being raised in a multi-generational show business family and her initial big break as Matthew Broderick's sister in Ferris Bueller's Day Off to reflections on the impact of her defining role as "Baby" Houseman in Dirty Dancing, the film that made her an overnight sensation. She explores the pitfalls and professional repercussions that ensued, including her battles with addiction, her numerous plastic surgeries that rendered her unrecognizable, and her eventual sobriety. ## WHO CAN HOLD THE SEA: *The U.S. Navy in the Cold War 1945-1960

by James D. Hornfischer

A close-up, action-filled narrative about the crucial role the U.S. Navy played in the early years of the Cold War, from the New York Times bestselling author of THE FLEET AT FLOOD TIDE.

The first in a three-volume series on the U.S. Navy in the Cold War, WHO CAN HOLD THE SEA combines narrative history with scenes of stirring adventure on—and under—the high seas. In 1945, at the end of World War II, the victorious Navy sends its sailors home and decommissions most of its warships. But this peaceful interlude is short-lived, as Stalin, America's former ally, makes aggressive moves in Europe and the Far East. Winston Churchill crystallizes the growing Communist threat by declaring the existence of "the Iron Curtain," and the Truman Doctrine is set up to contain Communism by establishing U.S. military bases throughout the world. Unfolding in riveting detail, the story of the Cold War at sea is ultimately the story of America's victorious contest to protect the free world.

James D. Hornfischer wrote THE FLEET AT FLOOD TIDE, NEPTUNE'S INFERNO, SHIP OF GHOSTS, and THE LAST STAND OF THE TIN CAN SAILORS, winner of the Samuel Eliot Morison Award for Naval Literature. All of Hornfischer's books hit the New York Times bestseller list and are selections of the U.S. Navy's professional reading list. A native of Massachusetts, he lived with his family in Austin, Texas before recently passing away in June 2021. The second volume in this series is scheduled to be published in 2023.

THE YEAR GOD DIED

by James Lacey

THE YEAR GOD DIED is a historical look at 33 AD—the year Jesus was killed—that illuminates the political, economic, and social environs of the time. The New Testament story of Jesus' final week is well known. However, the events that swirled around it were largely due to a bloody power struggle in Rome of which few lay readers are aware.

The story of how those events came to pass, and how they shaped one of the most significant events in history, is the story of THE YEAR GOD DIED. This book will examine the year Jesus was killed, demonstrating how a myriad of seemingly unconnected events unfolding over decades in Rome and Italy and elsewhere – from the seat of the Empire to Germanic territories to Jerusalem – are linked directly to the decision to crucify Jesus in 33 AD.

James Lacey is a New York Times bestselling author and a professor of strategy, military history, and economics at the Marine Corps War College. Prior to that he was a widely published senior analyst at the Institute for Defense Analyses in Washington, DC after serving twenty-four years as an Infantry officer. His writing has also been published in the National Review, The Weekly Standard, the New York Post, Military History Magazine, and the Journal of Military History, among others. Among his books are the bestselling THE FIRST CLASH (2011), THE WASHINGTON WAR (2019), and GODS OF WAR (forthcoming in May 2020).

by Rachel Lindsay

A candid, witty, and inspiring collection of essays from The Bachelor's first Black Bachelorette, exploring everything from relationships and love to politics and race.

Rachel Lindsay rose to prominence as the first Black Bachelorette and has since become one of the franchise's most well-known figures, as well one of its most outspoken critics. Told in the down-to-earth, no-nonsense voice she's become known for, Lindsay's collection will provide an intimate look at the life of one of reality TV's most beloved stars, as well as advice and inspiration that will make her a role model for anyone who has ever tried to make sense of love and life in this topsy-turvy, upside-down world.

A definitive history of the league that chronicles the memories—both on and off the basketball court—that made the Big East unforgettable, and how its iconic players and coaches helped transform a regional game into a national sport.

THE BIG EAST is the compulsively readable account of the greatest era of the most influential league in college basketball history, infused with the raucous spirit and roaring voices of the league's legendary coaches and players.

"From its inception in 1979, the Big East has produced some of the most exciting college basketball we've ever seen. We now know that the action behind the scenes (in locker rooms, living rooms, and most of all the coaching meetings) was even more fascinating than the action on the court. I can't imagine a better pairing of writer and topic than Dana O'Neil and this conference. The stories contained in this book are richly reported and colorfully told. Dig in and enjoy!"

THIS MUST BE THE PLACE: Dispatches & Food from the Home Front: A Cookbook by Rachael Ray

America's favorite self-taught cook welcomes readers into her home for the first time, with 125 recipes and personal essays that speak to the power of nourishment, comfort, and inspiration during the most difficult moments.

During the early months of the pandemic in upstate New York, far away from her New York City television studio, Rachael Ray and her husband, John, went to work in her home kitchen hosting the only cooking show on broadcast TV. From her kitchen counter and stove, with the help of her iPhone cameraman (John) and her detailed handwritten notebooks, Rachael produced more than 250 meals—everything from humble dishes composed of simple pantry items (Tuscan Meat Sauce Lasagna and Spinach Salad with Warm Bacon-Maple Dressing) to more complex recipes that satisfy a craving or celebrate a moment at home (Porcini and Greens Risotto and Moroccan Chicken Tagine).

Organized by season, THIS MUST BE THE PLACE captures the recipes, images, and words that will forever shape this time for Rachael and her family, offering readers inspiration to rethink and rebuild what home means to them now.

Rachael Ray is a multi-Emmy Award-winning syndicated television star, an iconic Food Network personality, a bestselling cookbook author, founder and editorial director of her own lifestyle magazine, Rachael Ray In Season, and founder of the Yum-o! organization and The Rachael Ray Foundation. In this brilliant book filled with insightful analysis and colorful storytelling, Gal Beckerman shows that new ideas need to incubate through thoughtful discussions in order to create sustained movements. Today’s social media hothouses, unfortunately, tend to produce flash mobs that flame out. We need to regain intimate forms of communication if we want to nurture real transformation. Rarely does a book give you a new way of looking at social change. This one does.”—Walter Isaacson, author of The Code Breaker We tend to think of revolutions as loud: frustrations and demands shouted in the streets. But the ideas fueling them have traditionally been conceived in much quieter spaces, in the small, secluded corners where a vanguard can whisper among themselves, imagine alternate realities, and deliberate over how to get there. This extraordinary book is a search for those spaces, over centuries and across continents, and a warning that—in a world dominated by social media—they might soon go extinct. Gal Beckerman shows that our most defining social movements—from decolonization to feminism, even right-wing nationalism—were formed in quiet, closed networks that allowed a small group to incubate their ideas before broadcasting them widely. But Facebook and Twitter are replacing these productive, private spaces, to the detriment of social movements around the world. Beckerman reveals what this new ecosystem lacks—everything from patience to focus—and offers a recipe for growing radical ideas again. AGAINST THE WIND: *Edward Kennedy and the Rise of Conservatism, 1976-2009
by Neal Gabler

From the author of CATCHING THE WIND comes the second volume of the epic, definitive biography of Ted Kennedy—following his political and personal journey as the rise of conservatism and his own missteps threatened to topple the legacy he worked tirelessly to build.

In this second volume of Neal Gabler's extraordinary biography of an American icon, Ted Kennedy enters 1974 no longer in his brothers' shadow but as a force in his own right, having assumed their mantle as a leading liberal, borne along by the progressive wind that they had helped generate.

But as the seventies grind on, Ted Kennedy sails largely against the wind as it shifts direction—first with the election of Jimmy Carter, a moderate who prioritized budget-balancing over the old causes for which Ted had labored, and then with Ronald Reagan and George H.W. Bush, who took all the discontents of the white working and middle classes and bundled them into the most powerful force in American politics at the time. And when the liberal hour wound down, those resentments, now national resentments, would consume American politics not just for a conservative hour, but for decades. Both politically and personally, Kennedy found himself lost at sea in a time of conservative ascendancy. But he ultimately regained his ballast through love and dedication and slowly emerged not only as the political conscience of the nation at a time when it had largely vanished from politics but also as the "Lion of the Senate," with a reputation among both Democrats and Republicans as the most effective legislator of his own and possibly all time.

In AGAINST THE WIND, Neal Gabler brings his inimitable insight to bear on the preeminent liberal of our time, a man who fought to keep liberalism alive when so many were determined to extinguish it.

Neal Gabler is the author of six books, including four biographies: CATCHING THE WIND, AN EMPIRE OF THEIR OWN, WINCHELL, and WALT DISNEY. He has been the recipient of a Guggenheim fellowship, a Shorenstein fellowship, and a Woodrow Wilson Public Policy scholarship, and was the chief nonfiction judge of the National Book Awards.

ALMOST BROWN
by Charlotte Gill

From the author of LADYKILLER and EATING DIRT, ALMOST BROWN is a funny, turbulent and ultimately heartwarming book about a truly dysfunctional family. This experiment in diasporic intermingling involves two deeply eccentric parents who couldn't be more different and their half-brown children as they roam around North America in search of the good life. Set in times of Reaganomics and perestroika, the story features turbans and tube socks, chana masala and Cherry Coke, extramarital tangents, wanton spending, a divorce, at least three family grudges, Swanson dinners and plenty of bad fashion.

In a search for answers, ALMOST BROWN explores the paradoxes and conundrums of middle existence, of life as it's lived between race checkboxes, while meditating on racism and privilege, diaspora and colonialism.

Charlotte Gill is a Canadian fiction and non-fiction writer. Her short story collection LADYKILLER won the Ethel Wilson Fiction Prize and the Danuta Gleed Literary Award in 2006.

Shepard was an actor, a playwright, an author, screenwriter, and director—but what he embodied was so much more. ## CRASH LANDING: *The Inside Story of How the World's Biggest Companies Survived an Economy on the Brink

by Liz Hoffman

A kaleidoscopic account of the financial carnage of the pandemic, revealing the fear, grit, and gambles that drove the economy's winners and losers—from a leading Wall Street Journal reporter.

In CRASH LANDING, Liz Hoffman shows how the pandemic set the economy on fire—but if you look closely, the tinder was already there. Post-2008 corporate-management orthodoxy embraced cheap debt and growth at all costs. Wages went stagnant. Millions were pushed into the gig economy. Companies crammed workers into offices, and airlines did the same with planes. And all the while Wall Street cheered on this relentless march toward efficiency, overlooking its collateral damage.

With access to an astonishing array of business titans, Liz Hoffman takes readers into the beating heart of the twenty-first century economy. There's JPMorgan Chase's Jamie Dimon running his bank from a hospital bed; Goldman Sachs's David Solomon blindsided by a virus in the middle of a high-stakes reinvention; and Ford's Jim Farley, just five months into his tenure, gambling on the switch from cars to ventilators.

In CRASH LANDING, Hoffman probes the pandemic's implications for the future of work, corporate leadership, and capitalism itself, asking: Will this remarkable time give rise to newfound resilience, or become just another costly mistake to be forgotten?

Liz Hoffman is a senior reporter for The Wall Street Journal, where she has covered financial markets, corporate dealmaking, and the machinations of Wall Street since 2013. A native of central Pennsylvania, she graduated from Tufts University and the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University and lives in Brooklyn with her dog, Toby.

UNTITLED MEMOIR

by Steve Hoffman

A beautifully written memoir from Steve Hoffman—when he moves his Minnesota-based family to a scratchy-hot part of France to live out his francophilic dreams, they soon discover those Parisian dreams don't quite align with their new small-town style of living in the South of France. Slowly Hoffman adapts, eventually meeting and bonding with locals who teach him regional cooking and winemaking traditions that show him the true beauty of the culture he thought he knew.

Steve Hoffman is a food writer and budding winemaker who moved his family from St. Paul, Minnesota to a small village in the Languedoc region of southern France with their two children. His food writing has garnered awards from Association of Food Journalism's Award and the International Association of Culinary Professionals.

THE LONELIEST AMERICANS

by Jay Caspian Kang

By a conversation-starting New York Times Magazine writer, a riveting blend of family history and original reportage that explores—and re-imagines—Asian American identity in a Black and white world.

In 1965, a new immigration law ushered tens of millions of Asians into the United States. Jay Caspian Kang's parents, aunts, and uncles were among them, having first fled North Korea in search of a better life. But they arrived in the midst of a social awakening they didn't understand and couldn't participate in: What was their place in the largely white anti-war protests, the Latino student groups, or Black Panthers?

THE LONELIEST AMERICANS is the story of Kang and his family as they move from a housing project in Cambridge to an idyllic college town in the South and eventually to the West Coast. Their story unfolds against the backdrop of a rapidly expanding Asian America. In the last few decades, upwardly mobile urban professionals have struggled to reconcile their parents' assimilationist goals with membership in a multicultural elite—all while trying to carve out a new kind of belonging for their own children, who are neither white nor truly "people of color." Kang's trenchant book calls for a new form of racial solidarity—one rooted not in bubble tea and elite college admissions but in the struggles of refugees and the working class.

Jay Caspian Kang is a writer-at-large for The New York Times Magazine. His other work has appeared in the New York Review of Books, the New Yorker, This American Life, and on Vice, where he worked as an Emmy-nominated correspondent. He is the author of the novel THE DEAD DO NOT IMPROVE, which the Boston Globe called "an extremely smart, funny debut, with moments of haunting beauty."

SLONIM WOODS 9: A Memoir

by Daniel Barban Levin

“Chilling . . . eloquent . . . a powerful portrayal of a young man’s ability to emerge whole from an experience intended to break him.”—*Publishers Weekly

A stunning firsthand account of the creation of a modern cult under conman Larry Ray and the horrifying costs paid by his young victims: his daughter’s college roommates.

In September 2010, at the beginning of the academic year at Sarah Lawrence College, a sophomore named Talia Ray asked her roommates if her father could stay with them for a while. No one objected. Her father, Larry Ray—newly released from prison—arrived at the dorm and stayed for the whole year. Over the course of innumerable counseling sessions and “family meetings,” the intense and forceful Ray convinced his daughter’s teenaged friends that he alone could help them “achieve clarity.” Eventually, Ray and the students moved into a small Manhattan apartment, beginning nine years of manipulation and abuse, as Ray tightened his control over his young charges through blackmail, extortion, and ritualized humiliation.

In April 2019, a New York magazine cover story, “The Stolen Kids of Sarah Lawrence,” exposed Ray’s crimes to the world. In February 2020, he was finally indicted on charges of extortion, sex trafficking, forced labor, and money laundering.

Daniel Barban Levin holds an MFA in poetry from the University of California, Irvine, where he taught creative writing and rhetoric, and a bachelor’s degree from Sarah Lawrence College. He is the winner of the Stanley and Evelyn Lipkin Prize for Poetry and the Lynn Garnier Memorial Award, and the recipient of fellowships from The Frost Place, Tent, The Sarah Lawrence Summer Seminar for Writers, and The Community of Writers at Squaw Valley. His writing has appeared or is forthcoming in Bennington Review, Provincetown Arts, Bat City Review, The Sarah Lawrence Review, The Westchester Review, The Offbeat, and The Fourth River. ## HOW TO TELL A STORY: *The Essential Guide to Memorable Storytelling from The Moth by The Moth

The definitive guide to telling an unforgettable story in any situation, drawing on twenty-five years of experience from the storytelling experts at The Moth.

Over the past twenty-five years, the artistic team at The Moth has coached tens of thousands of people from all walks of life—from A-list rock stars, Pulitzer Prize-winning authors, and astronauts to high school students, dental hygienists, and a retired pickpocket—to tell their true, personal stories onstage in front of live audiences around the world.

Now, with HOW TO TELL A STORY, readers will learn how they, too, can uncover and craft their own amazing stories. Whether your goal is to make the perfect wedding toast, wow clients at business dinners, tell a moving eulogy, or be a hit at parties, the Moth staff will explain the principles of good stories and teach you the secrets of their time-honed process, offering memorable pieces of advice such as "look for the ouch," "avoid too many vases on the mantle," and "tell stories from your scars, not from your wounds." Sprinkled throughout the book are examples of great moments from beloved Moth stories, as well as commentary from storytellers who have gone through the Moth's process. However, these skills aren't just about being a better public speaker. The Moth team, led by artistic director Catherine Burns, will transform how you communicate with people in all aspects of your life, teaching you how to present your most authentic self to the world and forge deep and lasting connections with coworkers, clients, friends, and family.

The Moth received the MacArthur Award for Creative and Effective Institutions.

SELECTED POEMS

by Ai Qing, Translated by Robert Dorsett; Foreword by Ai Wei Wei

A timeless, visionary collection of poems from Ai Qing—one of China's most acclaimed poets and the father of contemporary artist and activist Ai Weiwei—now available in English for the first time in a generation.

One of the most influential poets in Chinese history, Ai Qing is mostly unknown to American readers, but his work has shaped the nature of poetry in China for decades. Born between the fall of imperial Manchurian rule and the establishment of the Communist People's Republic, Ai Qing was at one time an intimate of Mao Zedong. He would eventually fall out with the leader and be sentenced to hard labor during the Cultural Revolution, when he was exiled to the remote part of the country known as "Little Siberia" with his family, including his son, Ai Weiwei.

In his work, Ai Qing tells the story of a China convulsing in change, leaving behind a legacy of feudalism and imperialism but uncertain what the future will hold. Breaking with traditional forms of Chinese poetry, Ai Qing innovatively adapted free verse, writing with a simple sincerity in clear lines that could be understood by everyday readers. Selected Poems of Ai Qing is an extraordinary collection that traces the powerful inner life of this influential poet who crafted poems of protest, who longed for a newer, happier age, and who wrote with a profound lyricism that reaches deep into the heart of the reader.

Ai Qing is regarded as one of the finest modern Chinese poets, whose free verse was influential in the development of new poetry in China.

Robert Dorsett, translator, studied Chinese at the Yale-in-China Program at the Chinese University in Hong Kong. He received an M.D. from the State University of New York. He translated Wen Yiduo's Stagnant Water & Other Poems and the memoirs of Gao Ertai, In Search of my Homeland: A Memoir of a Chinese Labor Camp with David Pollard. Robert Dorsett has also published his own poetry in The Literary Review, The Kenyon Review, Northwest Review, Poetry, and elsewhere.

Those challenges are both technological and ideological, marked by a moment at which autocracy, as embodied by China, is presenting a model of global leadership that has become increasingly attractive in light of the instability of American democracy and growing questions about whether American leadership is really what the world wants or needs. Biden understands that it will take all of America's resources and resourcefulness to prevail in this battle, but he is also finding, as has been seen of late in Afghanistan, that doing so will mean disentangling us from the wars of the last era. Those wars were fought largely on land; the main battlefield on which this new war will be fought is cyberspace, continuing the military/business/tech story that David began in his previous Crown book, THE PERFECT WEAPON. ## THE INVISIBLE SIEGE: *The Rise of Coronaviruses and the Search for a Cure by Daniel Werb

Epidemiologist Dan Werb traces the coronavirus family history stretching back centuries to show the science of earlier coronaviruses that affected humans. In the process, he weaves another kind of family story: a fascinating look into a group of epidemiologists and virologists who over the last two decades saw the threat that coronaviruses posed and worked to stop their spread.

There's Bob Branham, who sequenced SARS in 2003 and became one of the first scientists to attempt open-source information-sharing to battle pandemics. There's Ian Lipkin, the virologist who discovered the animal source of MERS and is now leading the charge to develop a reliable rapid COVID test. And there's Ralph Baric, the undisputed godfather of coronavirus research, who has been quietly building his own collection of massively virulent coronaviruses in his lab at UNC Chapel Hill in order to understand them. He believes that a coronavirus vaccine will not work—only a drug that could essentially treat almost any coronavirus would be the key to ending our current crisis and preventing future scourges. Baric's enterprise has only recently paid off since he began a collaboration in 2018 with another brilliant (if mercurial) scientist, Aled Edwards, who spent 15 years building a global open-source science enterprise meant to get around the structural and financial red tape that keeps academic scientists from sharing their discoveries. Together they have been working on a silver bullet treatment, and they're getting closer to finding it.

THE INVISIBLE SIEGE is a unique story written by an expert in the field and by someone who is also a strong writer, capable of bringing the science to readers in an accessible way. The broad focus resonates well beyond the COVID-19 crisis and will appeal not only to readers of Gina Kolata's FLU or John Barry's THE GREAT INFLUENZA, but also potentially to fans of David Quammen or Siddhartha Mukherjee.

Dan Werb, PhD, is an epidemiologist and policy analyst with expertise in Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV), addictions, and drug policy. Dr. Werb is a Research Scientist at the Li Ka Shing Knowledge Institute (LKSII) at St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto. He is also an Assistant Professor in the Division of Global Public Health at the University of California, San Diego, where he is Principal Investigator of PRIMER: Preventing Injecting by Modifying Existing Responses, a five-year multi-site cohort study tasked with developing interventions to preventing entry into injection drug use.

FORWARD: *Notes on the Future of Our Democracy

by Andrew Yang

A lively and bold blueprint for moving beyond the “era of institutional failure” by transforming our outmoded political and economic systems to be resilient to twenty-first-century problems, from popular entrepreneur, bestselling author, and political truth-teller Andrew Yang.

Despite being written off by the media, Andrew Yang’s shoestring 2020 presidential campaign—powered by his proposal for a universal basic income of $1,000 a month for all Americans—jolted the political establishment, growing into a massive, diverse movement.

The machinery of American democracy is failing, Yang argues, and we need bold new ideas to rewire it for twenty-first-century problems. Inspired by his experience running for office and as an entrepreneur, and by ideas drawn from leading thinkers, Yang offers a series of solutions, including data rights, ranked-choice voting, and fact-based governance empowered by modern technology, writing that “there is no cavalry”—it’s up to us. This is a powerful and urgent warning that we must step back from the brink and plot a new way forward for our democracy.

Andrew Yang was a 2020 Democratic presidential candidate and a 2021 candidate for mayor of New York City. Named by President Obama as a Presidential Ambassador of Global Entrepreneurship, he is the founder of Humanity Forward and Venture for America. Yang’s New York Times bestselling book THE WAR ON NORMAL PEOPLE helped introduce the idea of universal basic income into the political mainstream. Yang is a graduate of Brown University, where he graduated with degrees in economics and political science, and Columbia Law School, where he was an editor of the Law Review. He lives with his family in New York.

MAKE NO SMALL PLANS: Lessons on Thinking Big, Chasing Dreams, and Building Community by Elliott Bisnow, Brett Leve, Jeff Rosenthal and Jeremy Schwartz

The consummate motivational playbook on how to think big and dream bigger, by the founders of the renowned Summit leadership series. In 2008, with no event production experience and two college degrees among the four of them, Elliott Bisnow, Jeff Rosenthal, Brett Leve, and Jeremy Schwartz became business partners and set out on a dream to build a global events company, which became Summit. With passion and tenacity, they began cold-calling as many inspiring company founders as they could to try to convince them to attend their first event. Only nineteen people said yes. Since then, they have grown Summit into a global community with events all over the world, hosting luminaries including Jeff Bezos, Richard Branson, Jessica Alba, Shonda Rimes, Brené Brown, and Al Gore. And, in 2013, the Summit founders acquired the largest ski resort in the United States—Powder Mountain—where they are building a mountaintop town, filled with events and programming 365 days a year.

In MAKE NO SMALL PLANS, they reveal the experiences that would become the cornerstone lessons from their journey, along with teachings from some of the most inspiring entrepreneurs of our time. They illuminate the empowering concept that anyone can think big, and when thinking big is combined with humility, a thirst for knowledge, and a great team, we can all accomplish the improbable.

Elliott Bisnow, Brett Leve, Jeff Rosenthal and Jeremy Schwartz, former college classmates, are the founding entrepreneurs behind Summit, the leadership organization that hosts elite conversations with the world's leading entrepreneurs, founders, CEOs, and activists on how to change the world.

BURN RATE: Launching a Startup and Losing My Mind by Andy Dunn

In the twenty-first century, we worship entrepreneurs. We worship the narrative of individual success. Most entrepreneurial memoirs read as self-congratulatory tales. The author adorns the cover, smiling, arms crossed—pleased to share a few nuggets of wisdom. This is not that story.

BURN RATE is a story about an illness that undergirds achievement and seeks to destroy it at the same time. Diagnosed with bipolar disorder in 2000, Bonobos co-founder Andy Dunn kept his diagnosis secret for over 15 years, until it almost destroyed his life. Dunn lifts the veil on mental illness in the high-velocity world of entrepreneurs, revealing how his bipolar disorder became both symbiotic and parasitic to the job of startup CEO. Hypomania becomes the fuel of Dunn's success, as he build his business into a juggernaut worth millions of dollars—but also the root of his self-destructive urges. Bipolar people are eleven times more prevalent among entrepreneurs than the general population, but mental illness goes all but unmentioned in start-up circles. With BURN RATE, Dunn aims to change that, offering his own harrowing story of near-disaster as a gripping parable about the urgent need for businesses and their leaders to take mental illness and well-being seriously, even at the highest levels.

Andy Dunn was the co-founder and CEO of the apparel brand Bonobos, launched in 2007 and acquires by Walmart in 2017 for over $300 million. Previously, Dunn worked as a private equity analyst at Wind Point Partners and as a consultant at Bain & Company. He is a founding board member of education social enterprise Blue Engine and the founder of Red Swan Ventures, an angel investment firm. The child of an Indian immigrant mother and an Irish-Swedish American father, Dunn grew up in Chicago and now lives in New York.

RACE TO THE SKY: *Inside the Battle to Build New York's Billionaire Row
by Katherine Clarke

In the tradition of books like THE LIAR'S BALL and 740 PARK, RACE TO THE SKY will be a deeply reported, narrative account of the high-stakes, multi-year battle among titans of New York's real estate industry to develop the huge midtown Manhattan towers on 57th street know as Billionaire's Row. The book will highlight the competition and hubris of the personalities behind these architectural gambits, which have forever altered the face of the city, while highlighting its caste-like inequalities. The narrative will explore the economic forces at play, such as how money from ultra-rich investors fueled these projects, including funds from suspect international buyers cloaked behind limited liability corporations. RACE TO THE SKY will present Billionaire's Row as a defining emblem of an era of a propulsive economic growth in New York that, with the toll of the covid-19 pandemic, appears to be threatened, as these buildings and the city face an uncertain and once unthinkable future.

Katherine Clarke is a Wall Street Journal reporter covering residential real estate. She is a graduate of Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism and Trinity College Dublin. She previously covered real estate for The Real Deal and the New York Daily News.

BIG PLANS
by Dan Gardner and Brent Flyvbjerg

BIG PLANS reveals why some big, complex projects succeed while most don't. Drawing on research and examples to show how to complete our highest-stakes projects—whether it's designing a skyscraper, developing an urgently-needed vaccine, or renovating a home—Flyvbjerg identifies the key principles and outlines the essential steps for delivering any project on time and on budget. Underlying them all is a simple but powerful idea: Think slow, act fast.

Taking your time to plan carefully may seem obvious and easy in theory, but it's brutally hard—and exceedingly rare—in practice. That's why most big projects are completed embarrassingly late, badly over-budget, or both (if they even get completed at all).

Flyvbjerg and Gardner illustrate how to avoid this fate with fascinating stories from around the globe: ranging from flower shows and Olympic ceremonies, to the construction of the Sydney Opera House and Heathrow's Terminal Five, to how Amazon became a global retail giant in the span of five years and how China built the 1000-bed, 60,000 square meter Huoshenshan Hospital in just 10 days.

Brent Flyvbjerg is an Oxford University professor, an economist, and "the world's leading megaproject expert. Flyvbjerg has consulted on more than 100 projects costing $1 billion or more around the world. In the past few years alone, he has helped more than 40 organizations—including the world's largest banks, consultancies, and technology companies—plan, manage and fix projects. He is an adviser to the British and American governments, the World Bank, the United Nations, and the European Commission (the executive branch of the European Union). His book, MEGAPROJECTS AND RISK: AN ANATOMY OF AMBITION (Cambridge University Press) is considered essential reading for planners and project managers. It has been reprinted 21 times and sold more than 15,000 copies, a remarkable feat for a demanding, highly academic book.

TWO AND TWENTY: *How the Masters of Private Equity Always Win
by Sachin Khajuria

The first true insider's account of private equity, revealing how the world's most aggressive financial animals spot opportunities and win deals, and the mindset it takes to thrive in one of finance's most powerful, high-stakes, and least understood arenas.

Private equity was once an investment niche, with the industry's firms managing just $500 billion. No more. Today that number is $7 trillion, with leading firms controlling more money than some countries' entire GDPs. The industry has supplanted investment banking—and well-known names like Goldman Sachs, JP Morgan, Morgan Stanley and Citi—as the premier destination for ambitious financial talent, as well as the investment dollars of some of the world's largest pension funds, sovereign wealth funds and endowments. At private equity's pinnacle are the firms' partners, happy to pocket the standard two and twenty—that is, a hefty annual cut of 2 percent of a fund's assets, on top of 20 percent of the profits.

In TWO AND TWENTY, Sachin Khajuria, a former partner at the elite private equity firm Apollo, gives readers an unprecedented yet even-handed look inside an opaque and rapidly expanding engine of the global economy. From how to “think like a principal, not an advisor” to “respond, don't react,” Khajuria brings the habits of the industry's leading practitioners to life through a series of vivid deal sketches, illuminating how these traits lead to financial dominance.

Sachin Khajuria is a former partner at Apollo Global Management, one of the world's largest private equity firms, and is also an investor in funds managed by Blackstone Group and Carlyle Group. Khajuria lives in New York and Switzerland.

THE VOLTAGE EFFECT: *How to Make Good Ideas Great and Great Ideas Scale

by John List

Why do some good ideas make it big while others fail to take off? One of today's leading behavioral economists argues that it all comes down to a single question: can the idea scale?

All great ideas have one thing in common: They are not guaranteed to succeed. Be it a life-saving medical breakthrough, a new policy program or initiative, a product innovation or a movement for social change, translating the early promise of an idea into widespread impact depends on one thing only: whether it can be replicated at scale.

"Scale" has become a favored buzzword in the startup world. But scale isn't about accumulating more users or capturing more market share. It's about whether an idea—or a policy, process, or product—that takes hold in a small group can achieve its desired outcome in a much larger one. Whether that involves implementing nation-wide environmental standards, delivering billions of doses of a vaccine, or making a new technology widely affordable, scalability impacts us all, every day.

Drawing on his own original research, principles of behavioral psychology, and fascinating examples from the realms of business, government, education, and public health, List reveals the specific qualities that predict whether an idea can achieve high voltage: whether it has the potential to truly take off. By understanding these principles, we can all help drive the change we want to see in our schools and communities, in our organizations and workplaces, and in society at large. Because a better world can only be built at scale.

John A. List is the Kenneth C. Griffin Distinguished Service Professor in Economics at the University of Chicago. Previously the chief economist for Uber, he is now the chief economist for Lyft as well as an advisor to other companies and non-profits. His work has been featured in The New York Times, The Economist, Harvard Business Review, Fortune, NPR, Slate, NBC, Bloomberg, and The Washington Post. List has authored over 250 peer-reviewed journal articles, several academic books, and, with Uri Gneezy, the international bestseller, THE WHY AXIS.

THE MULTIVERSAL SELF

by Herman Narula

From a visionary figure in the technology and business space, comes an urgent, manifesto-style book, based on research and the author's extensive experience as an entrepreneur, about the emergence of gaming and virtual worlds, arguing that we soon encounter a tipping point as humankind understands the capacity of virtual reality not just to provide an escape from everyday life but to offer new and profound possibilities for human experiences (with practical benefits to individuals, businesses and society), and that the ubiquity of virtual worlds is inevitable because they are uniquely suited to satisfying fundamental human psychological needs for purpose and shared experiences that are no longer being otherwise met.

Herman Narula is the co-founder and CEO of Improbable, a gaming startup which enables developers to make extraordinary multiplayer games.

UNTITLED

by Marian Salzman

Twenty years ago, people around the world prepared for the Y2K computer glitch that supposedly would bring the global economy to its knees. Rather than overnight disruption, humankind instead slipped gradually into two decades of economic and ecological turmoil, extremism, and divisiveness, all set against the backdrop of a newly global and digital civilization.

In this acutely observed guide, Marian Salzman, whose predictions in Next: Trends for the Future and Next: Now came uncannily close to reality in the '90s and the '00s, maps the course of human life from the bumpy turn of the millennium through the pandemic era, when chaos seemed to become the new normal. Salzman draws on the pattern-recognition techniques she has honed over decades, identifying the forces that are poised to shape the two decades ahead and making predictions, including:

- Privacy as we know it will end, while digital disconnection will become a status symbol
- Vibrant new communities will arise in remote areas of Middle America, as living off (or nearly off) the grid becomes increasingly mainstream
- "Traditional" sex (i.e., between two humans) won't be rare, but it will be less common
- Robot helpers will confer cultural capital, and limited-edition items will become investment vehicles

Navigating deftly between scales and time periods, Salzman connects threads across business, civic life, consumerism, family, and entertainment. Her predictions provide gripping reading for anyone seeking to understand the shape and texture of the next era, which, above all, Salzman argues, will be marked by its relentless pace and technology-driven uncertainty.

Marian Salzman is a globally recognized trendspotter, whose work has taken her across the world. She is the author of NEXT: Trends for the Near Future (Overlook Press), which was a #1 bestseller in the Netherlands, and published in Australia and New Zealand (Pan Macmillan Australia), Germany (ECON), Norway (Cappelen), and Spain (Planeta). Salzman lives in Switzerland and Connecticut.

THE GIFT OF INFLUENCE: *How Great Leaders Create Life-Changing and Lasting Impact—in Organizations, Others, and Themselves
by Tommy Spaulding

Bestselling author Tommy Spaulding reveals how the power of positive influence can empower us to make a lasting impact on everyone we meet, from chance encounters to our closest relationships.

Researchers believe that the average person will influence up to 80,000 people over the course of their lifetime. That's a stadium full of people whom each of us affect positively or negatively—sometimes without us knowing. What if we paid attention to this fact? Would we live differently? Would we lead differently? Would we take more time to put down our phones or work and instead focus on the person in front of us?

Tommy Spaulding believes the answer is yes. In this compelling and deeply personal book, Spaulding explores how we can be more mindful and effective in wielding the influence each of us has over others—in our careers, in our everyday interactions, and in the relationships we cultivate over a lifetime.

THE GIFT OF INFLUENCE is a manifesto on the everyday actions we can take to make a positive impact on the people we love and lead. By sharing stories from his life and from the exceptional leaders he has met and worked with over the years, Spaulding gives us a simple recipe for being intentional, showing up for others, and ultimately, transforming the lives each of us touch as we make our way through the world.

Tommy Spaulding, the founder and president of Spaulding Companies, a leadership-development consulting firm based in Denver, is the author of the New York Times bestselling book IT'S NOT JUST WHO YOU KNOW and the follow-up, THE HEART-LED LEADER. The former president and CEO of the global leadership organization Up with People, Tommy consults with and speaks to businesses and nonprofit organizations across the country more than 100 times a year.

THE UPGRADE: *How the Female Brain Remakes Itself for the Better in the Second Half of Life
by Louann Brizendine, M.D.

The New York Times bestselling author of THE FEMALE BRAIN explains how the female brain changes for the better in midlife, reframing the patriarchal term "menopause" as "The Upgrade" and inspiring women to unlock their full potential.

When Louann Brizendine published THE FEMALE BRAIN, it was a game-changer for its profound scientific understanding of how women think, communicate, and feel. Now, Brizendine uses her unique ability to make science approachable to offer an empowering vision of the years in a woman's life that have too often been ignored or misunderstood, creating a positive new framework while never using the words perimenopause or menopause (with their suggestions of obsolescence).

In this sweeping look at the second half of life, Brizendine dives deep into the microscopic workings of your mitochondria one moment and zooms out to the bigger picture—family, relationships, identity—the next. With clear prescriptive advice, she also offers specific ways women can fend off dementia; increase longevity, well-being, and sexuality; and find their best selves at this stage of life. THE UPGRADE celebrates women stepping into their power with its radically positive understanding of aging.

ATHLEANX'S TRAIN LIKE AN ATHLETE: Intelligent Training to Build the Ultimate Body

by Jeff Cavaliere

From the sought-after trainer behind YouTube's #1 Fitness channel AthleanX, with 10 million followers across platforms, this is the new bible of bodybuilding, sharing Jeff Cavaliere's signature science-based approach to functional training.

AthleanX puts the science into strength training. This unique strength training and conditioning program—including plans for nutrition and supplementation as well as step-by-step guides to the exercises—gives users the lean, muscular, functional bodies of professional athletes. Other fitness books and programs are based on a bodybuilding model, which can make you look stronger, but Jeff Cavaliere shows how to hit the gym without falling into the common "bro" traps: poor posture and flexibility, muscle imbalances, joint stiffness, pain, and injury. His sports medicine-based approach centered on injury prevention has earned him his rabid, massive fan base.

His book will go deeper into his philosophy of functional training than he's been able to online, making this book a must-have for his fanatic audience. And it will include 100 step-by-step photos of Jeff demonstrating proper form for injury and pain prevention. And it will conclude with Jeff's essential program for intelligent training plus nutritional and supplementation plans.

Jeff Cavaliere, MS PT CSCS, is a highly sought after personal trainer to elite athletes, wrestlers, and MMA fighters. Today he runs the wildly popular YouTube channel AthleanX (across platforms he has over 7 million followers; he posts 3 videos a week, with a number of videos have over a million views), which brings intelligent training to the everyday gymgoer.

ROCCO'S EAT TO HEAL

by Rocco DiSpirito

#1 New York Times bestselling author and celebrity chef shares his healing diet and cooking program to prevent inflammation and treat chronic pain.

As a celebrity chef, restaurateur, bestselling author and former ironman competitor, one image you never see of Rocco DiSpirito is him in a wheelchair, immobile in his home, or in physical therapy learning to walk again. Being the primary caretaker for his mother for more than a decade, DiSpirito neglected his own needs. He'd suffered from back issues his whole life—exacerbated by the physical toll most chefs experience as part of the job—and eventually underwent emergency spinal surgery that left him an invalid for a time.

This severe back pain led to weight issues and an untenable existence. After many doctors, chiropractors, and physical therapists, famed chef Rocco DiSpirito turned to food for healing—and it changed his life. Combining his gourmet sensibility with his nutritional knowledge of the healing properties of food, ROCCO'S EAT TO HEAL emerged. With his new book, he has created a program incorporating foods that reduce inflammation and pain throughout the body, with weight loss as an added bonus. He includes tips and cooking strategies, along with daily meal plans. With about 80 plant-based keto recipes, Rocco will help readers create anti-inflammatory meals that are both delicious and curative.

Rocco DiSpirito is a James Beard Award-winning chef, healthy lifestyle expert, and author of 13 books, including three #1 New York Times bestsellers. Rocco has starred on numerous television shows and is frequently featured as a food and weight loss expert in print and online media. Most recently he received two stars from the New York Times as the chef at the critically acclaimed Standard Grill in New York City.

BUILD FOR TOMORROW: *Embrace Change, Adapt Fast, and Future-Proof Your Career and Life

by Jason Feifer

A guide to adapting quickly in the face of change and using the power of reinvention to your advantage from the editor-in-chief of Entrepreneur magazine and host of the Build for Tomorrow podcast.

Drawing lessons from humankind's history of innovation as well the greatest entrepreneurs of today, Jason Feifer looks at how change happens—in business, society, and our own lives, and offers tangible takeaways on how we can become more resilient, forward-thinking, and optimistic about the future.

We are in a time of great change. It can be an exciting time—one that offers new opportunities for both consumers and entrepreneurs, warp-speed innovation, a shift in culture, and even a rethinking of laws. But many will miss out on these benefits because they feel threatened by them. They willingly remain left behind, because they're held captive to the most natural of human instincts: They fear change.

In BUILD FOR TOMORROW Feifer aims to counter that fear, and to arm us with a new, powerful way of shifting our mindset so we can:

- Innovate in the margins
- Find safety in risk
- Ask uncomfortable questions
- Treat failure as data
- Ignore competitors
- Learn from disruption (i.e. lessons from working through the pandemic)

Jason Feifer is editor in chief of Entrepreneur magazine. With intimate access to the world's greatest and most influential change-makers, he has spent years studying how change happens and how the most successful people have adapted. He is also the host of the popular podcast Pessimists Archive, a deeply researched show that explores the history of our resistance to change.

HWPO: *Hard Work Pays Off

by Mat Fraser with Spenser Mestel

The definitive guide to building peak strength, endurance, and speed, from the five-time CrossFit Games champion and Fittest Man on Earth.

"Mat Fraser isn't just the first and only 5-time 'Fittest Man on Earth' . . . he has cemented his status in many people's minds as the greatest CrossFit athlete in history."—Rogue Fitness

"The LeBron James of CrossFit."—TMZ Sports

Mat Fraser gained the title of Fittest Man on Earth by winning the CrossFit Games five times. He is recognized for his sheer dedication to the training program he designed for himself. A student of engineering, Fraser has optimized his body like a machine. For six years, every single decision he made was weighed against the question: "Will this help me win?" If the answer was no, he didn't do it. If it would give him even the slightest edge or advantage, he would—no matter the cost. Fraser became a master of identifying his weaknesses and then seeking out training methods to improve them, and he's idolized in the fitness community for his relentless pursuit of peak performance. It's not hard to see why he achieved so much success—but "how" is a different question.

Throughout his career, Fraser has been highly guarded about his specific training techniques (after all, sharing them wouldn't help him win the CrossFit Games). But now Fraser has retired from competition, and for the first time, he's opening up about his path to the podium. HWPO reveals the workouts, training hacks, eating plans, and mental strategies that have helped make him a champion. It's an incredible resource of elite training strategies, illustrated workouts, and motivational stories, and it's a glimpse into the mind of one of the world's greatest athletes. No matter your level of fitness, no matter if you've never attempted CrossFit before, this book is your total training manual.

Mathew Fraser earned the title of Fittest Man on Earth at the 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, and 2020 CrossFit Games. He has since retired from competition to spend more time with friends and family and lives in Cookville, Tennessee, with his fiancée, Sammy Moniz.

THE GALVESTON DIET

by Dr. Mary Claire Haver

From Mary Claire Haver, M.D., a practicing OB/GYN who has helped more than 65,000 women lose stubborn weight through this scientifically-backed plan and her online coaching, comes THE GALVESTON DIET, a 360 degree eating and lifestyle program that combines intermittent fasting, anti-inflammatory nutrition, and refocused fuel sources tailored to the needs of women 35+ as they transition through all hormonal life stages.

Dr. Mary Claire Haver is a wife, mom, physician, and entrepreneur who has devoted her adult life to women's health. As a board-certified OB/GYN in Texas, Dr. Haver has delivered thousands of babies, completed thousands of well-woman exams, counseled patients, taught residents, and did everything an academic professor and OB/GYN could do. As her patient population aged, Dr. Haver was overwhelmed with the number of complaints and concerns her patients had with weight gain while going through menopause. It wasn't until she, too, experienced the changes of menopause and mid-life weight gain that she realized this advice doesn't work and ultimately led to her creating and developing a new program, The Galveston Diet.

SEEN, HEARD, AND PAID: *The New Work Rules for the Marginalized

by Alan Henry

The real tools for career success and work satisfaction for anyone feeling undermined or marginalized at their job, from a productivity expert and editor at Wired magazine.

For over twenty years Alan Henry has written about using technology and productivity techniques to work and live better for places such as Lifehacker, the New York Times, and currently Wired magazine. But he found that as a Black man he didn't have access to some of the more powerful ways to hack your job—like only checking email once a day or blocking out time on your calendar to do deep work. In fact, he found that even when he was hired at The New York Times and landed a prestigious title there were moments when he was still overlooked and excluded from the most interesting and career boosting work. This led him to first explore these struggles in a Times piece titled "Productivity Without Privilege." And in SEEN, HEARD, AND PAID he goes even deeper, interviewing many experts across fields to come up with powerful new work rules for anyone who feels marginalized (and the tools to overcome them), including:

- Even "Positive" Stereotypes Have Negative Impact (Microaggressions)
- Only Spend Time on Work That Gets You Attention (Being Seen)
- Office Housework Will Never Get You Ahead (Getting the Glamour Work)
- Figure Out Your Unique Contribution (Being a Superstar)
- Be a Problem Solver, Not a Problem Complainer (Managing Up)
- Don't Fall for Productivity Porn (Prioritizing Your Work)
- Set and Protect Your Boundaries (Working Remotely)
- Data is Power and Power is Money (Getting Paid)
- Your Job Is Not Your Friend (Knowing When to Go)

In SEEN, HEARD, AND PAID, Alan Henry shares the new work rules that may finally allow people of color, women, and LGBTQ+ folks to have the same access as those with privilege to career advancement and rewarding work.

MEDITATION FOR REAL PEOPLE

by Vishen Lakhiani

The bestselling author of THE BUDDHA AND THE BADASS credits his success to a condensed, hyper-efficient, magic-making, joy-creating, productivity-inducing, goal-smashing mega meditation: the 6 Phase Meditation. Simply put, Vishen hacked meditation. He pulled from thousands of years of psycho-spiritual wisdom, cherry-picked the best bits, translated it all into plain English, and put it into a logical, 15-minute practice.

And the timing is just right because we've never needed meditation so badly than right now. Enter the 6 Phase Meditation. One of the healthy side effects of this particular meditation is increased focus and reduced anxiety. The 6 Phase will actively change your brain chemistry. The main aim of the 6 Phase is to move us from overwhelm to overwellness—Vishen's word for an optimum level of balance in all aspects of your life. Overwellness smashes through the paradigm that your state of mind is dependent on your external circumstances. It's the next level in personal satisfaction. No matter what you've got going on—remote work, home-schooling your kids, cooking dinner, not being able to get away—it doesn't matter. Because you can handle it—scrap that—you can thrive in all that adversity. MEDITATION FOR REAL PEOPLE walks you through how to build your own unique practice showing how to feel blissful no matter what life throws at you.

MINDREADER: *Find Out What People Really Think, What They Really Want, and Who They Really Are

by David J. Lieberman

Learn to read people in every situation—in person or on a screen—by a longtime consultant to the FBI, CIA, and NSA, and the New York Times bestselling author of NEVER BE LIED TO AGAIN.

Is the guy across the negotiation table bluffing? Is your mechanic stretching the truth? What about your teenager? Whether you're engaged in a casual conversation or a high-stakes negotiation, it's critical to be able to discern emotions, sincerity, and the subtext of a situation. But with so much interaction happening on screens or via email and texts, we are losing the ability to tune into each other's expressions, postures, and verbal cues. And since most people are savvy about the basics of controlling their body language, it's become increasingly hard to discern someone's true thoughts or intentions.

Drawing on the very latest research in psycholinguistics—the vital cues embedded in spoken and written speech patterns—MINDREADER delivers proven, applicable methods for real life situations, including:

- Learning to detect the messaging behind passive and indirect language, personal or impersonal descriptions, and the levels of detail someone is willing to share.
- Quickly determining whether someone's account of any incident or experience is truth or fiction.
- Finding out whether anyone you meet is actually easy going or are hiding a different personality.

David J. Lieberman, Ph.D., is the author of twelve books, including two New York Times bestsellers. Dr. Lieberman has trained personnel in every branch of the U.S. military, the FBI, CIA and the NSA, and his instructional video is mandatory viewing for psychological operations (PSYOPS) graduates. He teaches the psychological protocol of self-mastery to government negotiators, mental health professionals, and Fortune 100 executives, and has appeared as a guest on more than 300 television and radio programs.

We're all trapped in a convenience-based and wasteful cycle, but Tara McKenna offers an alternative: an approach to reducing waste for a more sustainable and ethical life that emphasizes progress over perfection. This isn't about fitting all of your waste into a mason jar or going zero waste overnight. For real, long-lasting change and new habits to form, McKenna guides you through a year of reducing waste, month by month, with focuses ranging from decluttering and developing a capsule wardrobe to revamping your kitchen, pantry, and bathroom—slowly!—to cut off your supply of single-use plastic and invest in home goods that'll last for decades. Ultimately, it's about changing your mindset to one of conscious consumption—a mindset that, coincidentally, will be good for your wallet in the long term.

With relatable stories, compassion, and a practical approach, DON'T BE TRASHY will show you how in this ultimate guide to going zero waste(ish).

Tara McKenna launched The Zero Waste Collective on Earth Day 2018 after working as an environmental planner and witnessing overflow trash intermingling with fish and coral in southeast Asia. This online community offers simple strategies to live a sustainable and ethical life through reducing waste and aims to inspire and empower people from all walks of life. McKenna has partnered with brands such as A&W Canada, Converse, and Corona Canada. Author Site: thezerowastecollective.com

TOXIC SUPERFOODS: *How Oxalate Overload Is Making You Sick—and How to Feel Better by Sally Norton

Sally Norton overturns conventional wisdom in this eye-opening guide to healing from the toxin lurking within certain leafy greens, sweet potatoes, turmeric, almonds, and other commonly touted "superfoods."

Have you been following the advice of clean-eating experts in the hope of feeling better or losing weight, only to find your stomach hurting, joints aching, energy flagging, or autoimmune condition flaring up? The foods that come to mind when you think "healthy eating"—spinach, sweet potatoes, turmeric, chia seeds, berries, and almonds—are all high in oxalates, chemical toxins produced by plants that build up in the body over time and lead to a range of issues. If you eat a plant-heavy, keto, or gluten-free diet—or if you've simply added trendy "health" foods like chia pudding or celery juice to your daily routine or swapped almond flour for wheat—your efforts at health may be backfiring, creating a new cascade of ailments to manage. To put it plainly: Your spinach smoothie might be making you sick. But there's good news. You can safely reverse your load of oxalates and discover vibrant health.

After suffering for decades from chronic joint inflammation and other problems, Sally Norton, MPH, discovered that the culprits—oxalates—were hiding within her healthy, organic vegetarian diet. She now works with clients to safely reverse their oxalate load and shares their surprising stories in this book. Oxalates most famously cause kidney stones, but they are also behind gut problems, chronic pain, joint pain, inflammation, autoimmune conditions, mineral deficiency, sleep disorders, osteoporosis, fatigue, and brain fog. Modern diets tend to be overloaded with oxalates, and Norton believes that most of us would enjoy better lifelong health with less oxalate in our food. Shining light on what might be nothing short of a hidden and mounting epidemic, TOXIC SUPERFOODS offers solutions where none have existed before, showing how to identify whether you have a problem and offering a research-backed plan with key supplementation for safely reversing your oxalate load.

Sally Norton, MPH, is a health and nutrition educator. She received her bachelor's degree in nutritional science from Cornell University and her master's degree in public health from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

YOU OWE YOU: *Discover Your Power, Your Purpose, and Your Why
by Eric Thomas

The story of a man who, once homeless on the streets of Detroit, became the A-list athlete's secret weapon, the average American's personal coach, and one of the world's top motivational speakers. Eric Thomas's life is a case study in the double consciousness of the Black American experience, and a blueprint for what it takes to move beyond a legacy of oppression, renew inner hope, and forge a new American Dream. But it's also a guide for anyone hoping to understand how to break through the boundaries of their own personal narrative. Guided by a voice that today resonates with millions, we follow Thomas as he looks back on the first half of his life, examining what it took to achieve unparalleled success in an unorthodox profession.

Invoking the great orators and scholars of Black history—Frederick Douglass, Harriett Tubman, W.E.B. Dubois, Langston Hughes, Malcolm X, Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Maya Angelou—Thomas plants his flag firmly within the lineage of Black thought leaders who sought to shift not only perception, but history itself. With an introduction by NBA All-Star, Chris Paul, this is a raw, gripping memoir about a man taking his future into his own hands to shape a new path for himself—and a new generation of Americans.

Born in Chicago and raised in Detroit, Eric Thomas is a top motivational speaker who has been profiled by GQ, ESPN, and Sports Illustrated. He has worked with corporate teams at Nike, Under Armour, AT&T, Quicken Loans, Procter & Gamble, UPS, and more. BEAUTIFUL AND TERRIBLE THINGS: *Reflections on Faith, Vocation, and Finding Your Way in the World

by Amy Butler

From the first female senior minister at New York's historic Riverside Church, a deeply personal memoir about the nature of faith, the inevitability of doubt, and the importance of radical love in facing all the beautiful and terrible things that happen in our lives.

How does a young, single, and divorced Baptist mother of three come to find herself leading from one of the most prominent pulpits in America? In BEAUTIFUL AND TERRIBLE THINGS, Amy Butler works her way toward an answer, probing the depths of her pastoral and personal life and exploring her views on scripture, society, and family. Pastor Amy grew up in a conservative Evangelical family in the diverse culture of the Hawaiian Islands. As she realized she was more inclined to be a pastor than to marry one, she began an unlikely journey, breaking one stained-glass ceiling after another—first in seminary, then in increasingly high-profile ministry positions in New Orleans, Washington, DC, and New York. Along the way, she weathered rigidly unwelcoming congregations and enormous trials: church conflict, the death of a child, an unexpected divorce. Despite it all, her experiences of radical love and healing empowered Amy to lead others through the brightest and darkest moments of their lives. Inspiring, candid, funny, and achingly true, Amy's literary reflections sketch her path through the thickets of doubt and despair to a durable, profound, and beautiful faith of her own.

Rev. Dr. Amy Butler holds degrees from Baylor University, the International Baptist Theological Seminary, and Wesley Theological Seminary. She served as senior minister at Riverside Church for five years, and now serves on the advisory council of leadership education at Duke University. Dr. Butler lives in Manhattan with her three children.

UNTITLED*by Jerrod Carmichael

A boundary-breaking young black comedian's new take on JFK's PROFILES IN COURAGE with ten portraits—all giants of the last 50 years of American culture—that have added an edge to the American identity, for better or (far) worse.

Jerrod Carmichael's career has been fueled by his charming presence combined with a nihilistic, dark, but remarkably thoughtful sense of humor. He's known to take jokes about some of the toughest topics further than most would dare with a style that reveals as much about his audience as it does about how his mind works. These profiles have the same draw of that inviting voice and shocking edge. He tells us why Michael Jackson must have been the strongest man to ever live to survive 50 years of his life, and why The Rock is the most odious example of a human being turned into a brand. Other profiles include OJ Simpson, Jay-Z, Hurricane Katrina, Bill Cosby, Elon Musk, Quentin Tarantino, Norman Lear, Eddie Murphy, and Malcolm X. Along the way, he relates hilarious personal stories and even delves into thorny conspiracy theories, like the faked moon landing, earnestly investigating both sides to show what they reveal about the people who believe them (himself included). Carmichael's subjects represent a wide swath of contemporary culture, and, like his best jokes, they hold an unforgiving mirror up to the society that made them.

Jerrod Carmichael was the creator, writer, producer, and star of three seasons of his semi-autobiographical sitcom, The Carmichael Show on NBC, which was known for its fearlessness in approaching issues of race and identity in America. After moving to LA from his native North Carolina in 2008, his meteoric rise has also already included three HBO comedy specials, Love at the Store, 8, and Home Videos, as well as appearances alongside Zac Efron and Seth Rogen in Neighbors and Neighbors 2. He directed and produced the upcoming film On the Count of Three, which he will also star in alongside Christopher Abbott and Tiffany Haddish.

INFLUENCE IS YOUR SUPERPOWER: The Science of Winning Hearts, Sparking Change, and Making Good Things Happen

by Zoë Chance

By one of Yale Business School's most popular professors and based on her most-popular B-school elective, "Mastering Influence and Persuasion," this book unpacks the anatomy of influence, makes us aware of our own capacity for it, and shows us how to wield it confidently to both get good (for ourselves) and do good for others. It is research-based but full of colorful anecdotes from her class and the real world, giving it broad application for leaders and negotiators at every level: salespeople, fundraisers, parents, and coaches; c-suite veterans and millennial strivers alike. It's the 21st century take on Dale Carnegie's HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE meets Adam Grant's GIVE AND TAKE and Dan Ariely's PREDICTABLY IRRATIONAL (incidentally, the author is his protégé).

Considered a media and mission-communicating darling for Yale and oozing with charisma herself, Zoë Chance rejects the idea that "influence" is a dirty word—and shows each of us why and how to embrace it as a way to get ahead and change the world. She speaks 50 times+ a year to corporations, business schools, and idea festivals (often internationally), and is in the process of creating a Yale-funded Coursera MOOC based on the concepts in this book. Her research has also been published widely in academic journals. In 2017, Thinkers50 named her one of the world's top up-and-coming management thinkers. ### Factories and Faith

by Leslie T. Chang

Through meticulous reporting, Chang will explore why one of the most progressive countries in the region has one of the lowest rates of female labor participation in the world and will take readers inside the emotions, dreams, and disappointments of ordinary women in the Middle East, tracing the trajectory of their lives over time.

Leslie T. Chang is a Chinese-American journalist and the author of Factory Girls: From Village to City in a Changing China. A former China correspondent for the Wall Street Journal, she has been described as "an insightful interpreter of a society in flux."

CLAM DOWN

by Anelise Chen

Anelise Chen is one of the National Book Foundation's "5 Under 35" honorees for 2019, a list released annually during the foundation's run-up to the prestigious National Book Awards that recognizes "five fiction writers under the age of 35 whose debut work promises to leave a lasting impression on the literary landscape." CLAM DOWN, her new work, is an inventive and empathetic memoir of loss and transformation. It follows the author as she embarks on a quest toward self-illumination in the aftermath of a sudden divorce. Anelise becomes obsessed with mollusks and their adaptive strategies for survival. She investigates the lives of people who have "clammed down" in response to trauma, from Georgia O'Keefe and Agnes Martin to members of her own family. She researches mollusks and hermit crabs in the natural world, and their struggle to survive in our increasingly toxic environment. Woven together, these stories of resilience create an intimate self-portrait of a woman who has outgrown simple survival, and must finally learn how to emerge from her shell.

THE IMPOSSIBLE CITY: A Hong Kong Memoir

by Karen Cheung

An insider's account of Hong Kong and its people--from its tenacious counterculture and robust underground music scene, to its unique history of youth-led protest--that explores what it means to survive in a city of broken promises.

Drawing richly from her own experience, as well as countless interviews with the artists, protestors, students, and writers who have made Hong Kong their home, journalist Karen Cheung gives us an insider's view of this remarkable city, making the case along the way that we should look to Hong Kong as a warning sign for what lies ahead for other global democracies.

Coming of age in the wake of Hong Kong's reunification with China in 1997, Cheung sheds a personal light on Hong Kong's unique history of protest, its robust underground music scene, and its struggles with global generational issues like the lack of mental health care and affordable housing.

Weaving together memoir, cultural criticism, and reportage, The Impossible City transcends borders to chart the parallel journeys of both a young woman and a city as they navigate the various, sometimes contradictory, paths of becoming independent and coming into one's own.

Karen Cheung is a writer and journalist from Hong Kong. Her writing has appeared in The New York Times, Foreign Policy, The Rumpus, The Offing, and others. She was formerly a reporter at Hong Kong Free Press, and has worked for the Asia Art Archive, ArtAsiaPacific, and Still / Loud, an indie magazine about music and culture in Hong Kong.

UNTITLED NONFICTION

by Ta-Nehisi Coates

"Though the essays are about a particular period, Coates's themes reflect broader social and political phenomena. It's this timeless timeliness—reminiscent of the work of George Orwell and James Baldwin—that makes Coates worth reading again and again."—Publishers Weekly (starred review) on WE WERE EIGHT YEARS IN POWER

"I've been wondering who might fill the intellectual void that plagued me after James Baldwin died. Clearly it is Ta-Nehisi Coates. The language of Between the World and Me, like Coates's journey, is visceral, eloquent, and beautifully redemptive. And its examination of the hazards and hopes of black male life is as profound as it is revelatory. This is required reading."—Toni Morrison on BETWEEN THE WORLD AND ME

by Christian Cooper

A memoir by long-time birder and social activist, Christian Cooper.

Reflecting on a life lived at the intersections of race and queerness, of what Cooper describes as “nerdiness and birdiness,” BETTER LIVING THROUGH BIRDING explores the lifetime of experience that prepared Cooper for his now-infamous encounter with racist White aggression in Central Park, on the very day that the police killing of George Floyd in Minneapolis sent the country over the edge, spurring protests in the streets and inspiring calls for change—calls that echoed all around the world. Equal parts memoir, travelogue, and call to action, BETTER LIVING THROUGH BIRDING weaves together the strands of one man’s remarkable life during a fateful moment in the history of his country. Cooper tells story of learning to claim and defend space for himself and others like him, through and alongside the beautiful life of birds and what they can teach us about looking up and sticking together — if only we would learn to stop, and really listen.

From his days as a writer for Marvel Comics, where Cooper was a pioneer for the LGBTQ community and embraced the Blerd (black nerd) within him, to life-changing expeditions through Africa, Australia, and the Himalayas, BETTER LIVING THROUGH BIRDING exults in the pleasures of a life lived in pursuit of the natural world, amid the stark realities of a life lived as a Black man in America today.

Christian Cooper is an American science writer and editor as well as a comics writer and editor. He is based in New York City.

CALIFORNIA SOUL

by Keith Corbin

A memoir about 5 pivotal moments in the life of an ex-con turned chef and culinary trailblazer.

At age 13, Keith Corbin was learning his first trade and discovering his singular genius—cooking cocaine. That talent led Keith on a remarkable, often harrowing journey—from cooking drugs and becoming a power player in the most violent gang culture in the country, then through a decade in maximum-security prisons and on into the struggle to make a life after prison, in the civilian world. Keith is now a chef of growing renown with a lauded restaurant in Los Angeles and a business relationship with Whole Foods, but his success is shaded by the constant knowledge that his past is always present and that America's inequities press in from all sides.

More than just a morality tale, redemption story, or straightforward chef memoir—Keith Corbin highlights five pivotal moments across his youth, his time served in jail, and his success as a chef, exploring the complexity and nuance of his life as a Black man in America.

Keith Corbin is the executive chef of Alta Adams in West Los Angeles. He hopes to display his personalized style of soul food, using California ingredients. He has worked alongside Daniel Patterson, a San Francisco chef who's earned accolades and recognition for his Bay Area restaurants.

I REGRET I'LL BE ABLE TO ATTEND

by Jessica Craig-Martin

An irresistibly juicy memoir by the photographer-cum-chronicler of New York City's elite, Jessica Craig-Martin, who for over 15 years has chronicled New York City's beau monde society gatherings in images that reveal the darkness and discomfort behind the glamorous façade.

As it turns out, Jessica's visual talent for observing and documenting human behavior and society is matched equally by her talents as a writer. In her memoir, she turns the lens on herself, and recounts a latchkey bohemian childhood in the 1970s as the precocious offspring of two free spirited artists between London and New York's SoHo (before that neighborhood even had its name). Her account is both a vivid social and cultural history of '70s and '80s bohemia as well as a touching story of a clever but self-doubting young woman trying to find her place in the world. From selling seafood to Jean Michel Basquiat, to working for Anna Wintour as an assistant at British Vogue, Jessica recreates an era of innocence and debauchery in a tone that is both nostalgic and jaundiced, barbed but always deeply human.

Jessica Craig-Martin's work is in the permanent collections of The Guggenheim, The Whitney, The New Museum, The Saatchi Collection, among many others. Her visual reportage and fashion stories have been featured in Vanity Fair, The New York Times Magazine, Harper's Bazaar, and Vogue, among many others.

GIRLS THAT NEVER DIE*by Safia Elhillo

Intimate poems that explore feminine shame and violence and imagine what liberation from these threats might look like, from award-winning author of THE JANUARY CHILDREN.

In her much anticipated sophomore collection, award-winning poet Safia Elhillo reinvents the epic to explore Muslim girlhood and shame, the dangers of being a woman, and the myriad violences enacted and imagined against women's bodies. Drawing from her own life and family histories, as well as cultural myths and news stories about honor killings and genital mutilation, she interlaces the everyday traumas of growing up a girl under patriarchy with magical realist imaginings of rebellion, autonomy, and power.

Elhillo writes a new world: women escape their stonings by birds that carry the rocks away; slain girls grow into two, like the hydra of lore, sprouting too numerous to ever be eradicated; circles of women are deemed holy, protected. Ultimately, Girls That Never Die is about wrestling ourselves from the threats of violence that constrain our lives, and instead looking to freedom and questioning:
[what if i will not die]
[what will govern me then]

Sudanese by way of D.C., Safia Elhillo is the author of THE JANUARY CHILDREN and HOME IS NOT A COUNTRY, and co-editor of the anthology Halal If You Hear Me. Winner of the Sillerman First Book Prize for African Poets, an Arab American Book Award, and the Brunel International African Poetry Prize, she is also the recipient of a Cave Canem Fellowship and a Ruth Lilly and Dorothy Sargent Rosenberg Fellowship from The Poetry Foundation. Her work has appeared in POETRY Magazine, Callaloo, and The Academy of American Poets' Poem-a-day series, among others. Currently a Wallace Stegner Fellow at Stanford University, she lives in Oakland, California.

WE ARE DUTERTE will be built around a series of stories informed by the history of the Philippines and the policies handed down by the President. Evangelista will bind these stories together by her own narrative as a reporter discovering how lightly liberal ideals are rooted in her people.

Patricia Evangelista is a Manila-born and based trauma journalist specializing in disaster, conflict and development issues. ## NERO

by Anthony Everitt

Everyone knows the Roman emperor Nero: he was labelled cruel, vain, sexually voracious; he committed that most sacred of taboos, matricide; he set fire to his own capital. Yet there is a mystery: for a long time after his deposition and suicide, flowers were laid anonymously on his grave, and impostors surfaced and caused trouble for the authorities. Strangely, as it would seem, this monster was loved. Through a close examination of Nero's life, and the society and culture into which he was born, Anthony Everitt reveals an emperor of deep contradictions: one who did some truly terrible things during his rule but who also secured notable diplomatic triumphs; a ruler who was also a devoted champion of arts and culture, especially music, and who was riddled throughout his life by a deep unease and sense of guilt.

Anthony Everitt, a former visiting professor in the visual and performing arts at Nottingham Trent University, has written extensively on European culture and is the author of CICERO (2002), AUGUSTUS (2006), HADRIAN AND THE TRIUMPH OF ROME (2009), THE RISE OF ROME (2012), THE RISE OF ATHENS (2016), and ALEXANDER THE GREAT (2019). He has served as secretary general of the Arts Council for Great Britain. Everitt lives near England's first recorded town, Colchester, which was founded by the Romans.

LET THERE BE LIGHT: *The Real Story of Creation

by Liana Finck

In this ambitious and transcendent graphic novel, cartoonist Liana Finck turns her keen eye to none other than the Old Testament, reimagining the story of Genesis with a God as a woman, Abraham as a resident of New York City, and Rebekah as a robot, among many other delightful twists. In Finck's retelling, the millennia-old stories of Adam and Eve, Abraham and Isaac, and Jacob and Esau haunt the pages like familiar but partially forgotten nursery rhymes--transmuted by time but still deeply resonant. With her trademark insightfulness, wry humor, and supple, moving visual style, Finck accentuates the latent sweetness and timeless wisdom of the original text, infusing it with wit and whimsy while retaining every ounce of its spiritual heft.

LET THERE BE LIGHT is a testament to the fact that old stories can live forever, whether as ancient scripture or as a series of profound and enchanting cartoons. The Book of Genesis is about some of the most fundamental questions that we can ask, pertinent across the millennia: What does it mean to be human? What is the purpose of our lives? How do we treat one another? The stories that attempt to answer these questions are an immediate link with the people who first told them. Unable to fathom the holiness and preciousness of that notion, or put it into words, Finck set out to depict it. The result is a true story of creation, rendered by one of our most innovative creators.

Liana Finck is a regular contributor to The New Yorker, The Awl, and Catapult. She is a recipient of a Fulbright Fellowship, a New York Foundation for the Arts Fellowship, and a Six Points Fellowship for Emerging Jewish Artists. She has had artist residencies with MacDowell, Yaddo, the Lower Manhattan Cultural Center, and Tablet Magazine. Her first book, the graphic novel A BINTEL BRIEF, was published in 2014 by Ecco/HarperCollins. She is also the author of the graphic memoir PASSING FOR HUMAN (2018) and one previous collection of cartoons, EXCUSE ME (September 2019).

THE EMERGENCY: *A Year of Healing and Heartbreak in a Chicago ER

by Thomas Fisher

From a renowned emergency room doctor and healthcare policy expert, the riveting story of a year in the life of an emergency room on the South Side of Chicago during a pandemic—and a powerful argument that American healthcare is designed to sacrifice the lives of the most vulnerable.

Thomas Fisher was born and raised on the South Side of Chicago and even as a kid understood how close death could feel—he came from a family of pioneering doctors who believed in staying in the community, but growing up on those streets he saw just how vulnerable black bodies could be.

This is the story of a dramatic year in the life of the Chicago ER—a year of an unprecedented pandemic and a ferocious epidemic of homicides—interwoven with the primer in healthcare one doctor wishes he could give his patients. The book alternates between chapters that take us into the life-and-death scenes of the emergency room and letters Dr. Fisher wishes he could write to his patients explaining to them how they ended up in the ER. Embedded within this dramatic tutorial is an argument about how we've failed to take care of each other—and how, even in a broken system, we sometimes succeed.

Thomas Fisher is a board-certified emergency medicine physician at The University of Chicago. He advises startups, venture capital firms, and government agencies through Headwaters Consulting LLC. Fisher served as a 2010-11 White House Fellow, and as the special assistant to Secretary Kathleen Sebelius, he worked on ACA regulations and the HHS Action Plan for Reducing Racial and Ethnic Health Disparities. Fisher continues to deliver care at The UChicago Medical Center, where he serves the same South Side community where he was raised. Fisher holds a BA from Dartmouth College, an MPH from Harvard, and an MD from UChicago.

JUSTICE ON THE BRINK: *The Death of Ruth Bader Ginsburg, the Rise of Amy Coney Barrett, and Twelve Months that Transformed the Supreme Court
by Linda Greenhouse

A brilliant, sharply written chronicle of a year like no other in Supreme Court, or American, history, by The New York Times's Pulitzer Prize-winning columnist.

"This landmark new book gives us an invaluable perspective on the Supreme Court in democracy's hour of maximum danger."—Jon Meacham

At the end of the Supreme Court's 2019-2020 term, it felt like the center might hold. The fear that the Court would lurch irrevocably to the radical right didn't come to pass when the justices released surprisingly moderate opinions on cases involving abortion rights, LGBTQ rights, and how local governments could handle the pandemic, all shepherded by John Roberts.

By the end of the 2020-2021 term, everything will have changed. The Court's right-wing supermajority will have completed its first term, cementing Donald Trump's legacy on American jurisprudence. From the death of Ruth Bader Ginsburg and the rise of Amy Coney Barrett, from the pandemic to the election, from the post-election legal challenges and the storming of the Capitol across the street, the Supreme Court has been at the center and central to some of the biggest events in the past year.

Throughout JUSTICE ON THE BRINK, Greenhouse explains and contextualizes the court's actions, giving us unique insight into the justices and their beliefs. Ultimately, Greenhouse asks a fundamental and chilling question relevant to all of us: is this still John Roberts's Supreme Court, or does the Court now belong to Donald Trump?

Linda Greenhouse has reported on and written about the Supreme Court for The New York Times for more than four decades, earning numerous accolades including a Pulitzer Prize. She currently writes a biweekly column on the Court and is a fellow at Yale Law School.

The dramatic story of this unprecedented fight to save the soul of American capitalism and the battle to regulate Wall Street – a story with profound lessons for today – is the heart of this book by New York Times bestselling award-winning financial journalist Diana B. Henriques.

Henriques begins with the stock market crash of 1929 that brought Wall Street to its knees, and the key figures that shaped the events and decisions afterward that irrevocably shaped the current financial landscape. TAMING THE STREET features a larger-than-life cast of historical figures, including then-Governor and later-President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who took center stage as the man who made the case for regulating the cutthroat world of Wall Street, which culminated in the passage of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, thereby allowing for the creation of the Securities and Exchange Commission; future Associate Justice to the Supreme Court William O. Douglas; Richard Whitney (aka “The Prince of Wall Street” and avid defender of the old guard), vice president of the New York Stock Exchange; even a young and opportunistic Joseph Kennedy. And while the SEC’s importance has diminished, Henriques argues that the story behind its creation is a hopeful one, one that provides an inspiring example about what an enlightened government once did, and could do again, to level the playing field for the American dream.

Diana Henriques is the author of A FIRST-CLASS CATASTROPHE: The Road to Black Monday, the Worst Day in Wall Street History (Holt, 2017), THE WIZARD OF LIES: Bernie Madoff and the Death of Trust (Times Books, 2011), and three other books on business history. She was a staff writer for the New York Times from 1989 to 2012 and has been a contributing writer since then. ### FUNNY BUSINESS: The Legendary Life and Political Satire of Art Buchwald by Michael Hill

A revealing biography of legendary political humorist Art Buchwald and the famous Washington figures he knew and wrote about in his must-read Washington Post columns, from JFK to the Clinton years, featuring never-before-published photos, documents, and interviews.

Before Stephen Colbert, Jon Stewart, Trevor Noah, and “Doonesbury,” there was Art Buchwald. For more than fifty years, from 1950 to 2006, his Pulitzer Prize-winning column of political satire and biting wit made him one of the most widely read American humorists and a popular player in the Washington of Ethel and Ted Kennedy, Ben Bradlee, and Katharine Graham. Dean Acheson, former U.S. Secretary of State, called Buchwald the “greatest satirist in the English language since Pope and Swift.”

FUNNY BUSINESS shows how Art Buchwald became an American original. He satirized political scoundrels, lampooned the powerful and the pompous, and “worshipped the quicksand” that ten different Presidents of the United States walked on, as Buchwald said. The key to Buchwald’s style of humor was to “treat light subjects seriously and serious subjects lightly,” he once said. Through this book, Buchwald’s brilliant gift for humor and satire will once again bring readers a comedic respite from the troublesome times in which we live.

Michael Hill is a historical researcher who has assisted such authors as David McCullough, Jon Meacham, Sebastian Junger, Nathaniel Philbrick, Evan Thomas, Michael Korda, Senator John McCain, Sally Bedell Smith, James Bradley, Susan Eisenhower, Michael Beschloss, and Caroline Kennedy. He won an Emmy Award for his work as a co-producer on Ken Burns’s PBS series Civil War. He also served as a historical consultant on the HBO miniseries John Adams, produced by Tom Hanks and based on David McCullough’s Pulitzer Prize-winning book, and the the ABC miniseries Challenger. A graduate of the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University, Hill also served as a press assistant to former Vice President Walter F. Mondale.

PURSUING JUSTICE

In this provocative memoir, Barack Obama's history-making attorney general and close confidant reveals the story of his life, from a childhood haunted by explosive family secrets to his years in the White House—with revelations about the war on terror, the financial crisis, and mass incarceration.

PURSUING JUSTICE takes us through Holder's own rich and fascinating life before he met Barack Obama, and gives us a dramatic inside look at the historic and controversial events that defined the Obama administration. Holder also addresses his own experiences on the ground and in the homes of grieving parents in places like Ferguson, Missouri, and his aggressive pursuit of civil rights cases and the battles to expand voting rights, LGBTQ rights, and the rights of undocumented immigrants. More than a rich and inspiring personal narrative or an inside account of a historic Administration, this is a thoughtful and provocative book that boldly dramatizes the history, limitations, and possibilities of American justice in our time.

THE TEARS OF A MAN FLOW INWARD: Growing Up in the Civil War in Burundi by Pacifique Irankunda

A prize-winning young author tells the moving story of growing up during Burundi's civil war in a powerful memoir hailed as "a jewel of a book" -- Margaret MacMillan

In this beautiful, haunting work of narrative nonfiction, Pacifique Irankunda, a young protégé of Pulitzer Prize-winning author Tracy Kidder, revives and continues the lost storytelling tradition of his native Burundi, in tales that move back and forth between his homeland and America.

As a little boy, Paci lived through the 13-year-long civil war in Burundi that upended his home and family. From his own memories and those of his family, he tells this story of surviving the devastating ethnic divisions and violence in a country that once had a rich and beautiful culture of belief and traditions, destroyed by the aftermath of a history of colonialism. Torn between nostalgia for the past and the impulse for change, Paci grapples at the end of this book with the existential question: When a country has descended into great darkness, how do you find the light?

Pacifique Irankunda was born in Burundi, a small country in east Africa, between Rwanda, Tanzania, and the Congo. He came to America at the age of 19 as a scholarship student at Deerfield Academy, through the auspices of his brother and of Tracy Kidder. His first published work, "Playing at Violence," appeared in the American Scholar and won a 2015 Pushcart Prize. He graduated from Williams College in 2013 with a degree in psychology and political science. He lives in Brooklyn.

ADRIATIC: A Concert of Civilizations at the End of the Modern Age

by Robert D. Kaplan

A vital exploration of the fascinating, historically volatile region around the Adriatic Sea—from a celebrated expert on geopolitics and bestselling author of BALKAN GHOSTS and THE REVENGE OF GEOGRAPHY.

The Adriatic Sea has always been a crossroads in trade, culture, and ideas, and today it is the site of a fraught refugee crisis. Robert D. Kaplan undertakes a journey through the countries lining the Adriatic Sea to reveal much more to the region than news stories let on, to engage in an urgent and self-critical study of Europe. With a cross-pollination of history, literature, and contemporary conversation, Kaplan demonstrates how Europe is distilled within the geography of the Adriatic, an often-overlooked region rich with answers and insights about the fate of the continent. In his clear-eyed analysis, the stark truth emerges that the age of populism is merely an epiphenomenon—a swan song for the age of nationalism itself—and that the future of Europe lies in a different direction entirely.

Robert D. Kaplan is a senior advisor at the Eurasia Group, a senior fellow at the Center for New American Security, and a contributing editor at The Atlantic. He has previously served as chief geopolitical analyst at Stratfor, a visiting professor at the U.S. Naval Academy, and as a member of the Pentagon's Defense Policy Board. In 2011 and 2012, Foreign Policy named Kaplan among the world's "100 Top Global Thinkers." He is the author of numerous books on foreign affairs and travel translated into many languages, among them THE REVENGE OF GEOGRAPHY, EARNING THE ROCKIES, and THE RETURN OF MARCO POLO'S WORLD (2012, 2017, and 2018, respectively).

HOW TO RAISE AN ANTIRACIST

by Ibram X. Kendi

HOW TO RAISE AN ANTIRACIST is the book that every parent, caregiver, and teacher needs to raise the next generation of antiracist thinkers. The tragedies and reckonings around racism that have rocked the country have created a specific crisis for parents and other caregivers: how do we talk to our children about it? How do we raise our children to avoid the mistakes of the present and past? While we do the work of dismantling racist behaviors in ourselves and the world around us, how do we raise our children to be antiracists from birth?

These are the questions Ibram Kendi found himself confronting as he anticipated the birth of his first child—like most parents or parents-to-be, his first reflex was to avoid talking about racism to his child, which he feared would stain her innocence and steal away her joy. But research and experience changed his mind: he realized that antiracism has to be taught and modeled as early as possible—not just to armor them against the racism that still haunts our world, but to remind parents and caregivers to build a more just future for us all.

Following the model of his bestselling HOW TO BE AN ANTIRACIST, Kendi combines vital scholarship with a compelling personal narrative of his own journey as a parent to create a work whose advice is grounded in research and relatable real-world experience. The chapters follow the stages of child development and don't just help parents to raise antiracists, but also to create an antiracist world for them to grow into.

Ibram X. Kendi is a New York Times bestselling author and the founding director of the Antiracist Research and Policy Center at American University. A professor of history and international relations and a frequent public speaker, Kendi is a columnist at The Atlantic. He is the author of New York Times bestseller HOW TO BE AN ANTIRACIST (August 2019), STAMPED FROM THE BEGINNING: The Definitive History of Racist Ideas in America (Bold Type Books, 2016), which won the National Book Award for Nonfiction, and THE BLACK CAMPUS MOVEMENT (Palgrave Macmillan, 2012), which won the W.E.B. Du Bois Book Prize. His next book, BONES OF INEQUALITY—an urgent and compelling narrative history of racist policies in America, tracing the origins of racial inequality from slavery through mass incarceration and beyond—is set to publish in February 2024.

THE POPE AT WAR: The Secret History of Pius XII, Hitler, and Mussolini by David I. Kertzer

In this new book, the Pulitzer-winning author of THE POPE AND MUSSOLINI (2015) tackles the controversial question of Pope Pius XII's behavior in the Second World War.

This is the story of Italy as Mussolini drags the country into a war that would prove catastrophic, and a pope who is cast to the world as a figure of deep moral conviction but makes horrific moral compromises while prioritizing the interests of the Church above all. It's about Mussolini as he catapults from dreams of unheard-of glory to the most ignominious of ends, threatening to drag the Church down with him. This is a history that remains cloudy, not least because it was in the interests of all those countries with Catholic populations to claim that the pope was on their side. Drawing from deep archival research, Kertzer will cut through all of the myths and disinformation that has surrounded this dramatic history to reveal what actually took place. This book promises to generate international debate.

David Kertzer is the Paul Dupee, Jr. University Professor of Social Science and professor of anthropology and Italian studies at Brown University. He is the author of twelve books, including THE POPE AND MUSSOLINI, winner of the Pulitzer Prize, and THE KIDNAPPING OF EDGARDO MORTARA, a National Book Award finalist now being adapted for TV by Stephen Spielberg and Tony Kushner. ### AN EDUCATION IN THE WORLD

by Dr. Jim Yong Kim

Former President of the World Bank Group, renowned physician, and anthropologist Dr. Jim Yong Kim was the first World Bank leader without a professional background in the political or financial sectors. Drawing on his personal experience tackling health issues in developing countries—during which Kim watched movements and systems of government fail to establish social structures that embody their grandest ambitions—AN EDUCATION IN THE WORLD uses Kim's life story as a platform for discussing his goals to end extreme poverty and curtail global income inequality. It's a tall order for a Korean-American kid, raised first in Seoul, then in Dallas, Texas and finally in Muscatine, Iowa.

Dr. Jim Yong Kim was the 12th President of the World Bank Group before stepping down in February 2019 and is currently a partner at Global Infrastructure Partners. A global health leader, he was formerly the chair of the Department of Global Health and Social Medicine at Harvard Medical School and cofounder and executive director of Partners in Health before serving as the President of Dartmouth College from 2009 to 2012. ### UNTITLED MEMOIR by Meek Mill

The platinum-selling recording artist and activist tells the dramatic story of his life—on the street and in the system—in a stunningly honest and meditative memoir that challenges everything you thought you knew about justice in America.

Meek Mill has lived two lives. One is the life of a platinum-selling recording artist. Meek has recorded with everyone from Mariah Carey to Jay-Z to Drake and his solo albums have opened at the top of the Billboard charts. He started from the bottom—his father was murdered in an attempted robbery when Meek was five; his mother hustled to get money to raise him and his sister - but climbing through the ranks of Philly's competitive world of battle rappers, Meek eventually found international fame.

The other life is as a young man who has spent the bulk of his life in America's broken criminal justice system. As a nineteen-year-old, Meek was convicted on controversial gun and drug charges, and from that point on lived in the Kafkaesque world of incarceration, probation, and parole. For ten years after he completed his sentence, Meek's freedom was determined by one whimsical, possibly corrupt judge and arbitrary acts of law enforcement. But in 2019, Meek finally got justice: He was released from prison for the latest arbitrary parole violation and his initial case was reopened by Philadelphia's reform-minded DA, who recognized the irregularities in the original trial. Meek was finally free.

In this book, Meek will tell the story of his two lives. Not just as someone whose talent for words would make him a star, but as a kid who was always in the crosshairs of a system he didn't understand, where class and race converge to create a permanent criminal class in this country, a situation exacerbated and reinforced by a broken system of criminal justice. It is both a gritty narrative of life in South Philly and the story of how art liberated one life, a handbook to the rules of the street, the rules that Meek didn't learn till it was too late, but that, through his activism, he's pushing to transform.

Robert Rihmeek Williams, known professionally as Meek Mill, is an American rapper, singer, songwriter, and activist. Born and raised in Philadelphia, he embarked on his music career as a battle rapper, and later formed a short-lived rap group, The Bloodhoundz.

BRACE FOR IMPACT: A Memoir

by Gabe Montesanti

"BRACE FOR IMPACT is a universal story of healing and triumph, made all the more beautiful, wild, and free by Gabe Montesanti's fierce love for roller derby and her team, who become her family. Our world urgently needs brave, bold voices like Gabe's, the voices of those who are figuring out how to feel, find acceptance, and become who they were to meant to be."

—Abby Wambach, Olympian, activist, and author of the #1 New York Times bestseller Wolfpack

A young queer woman's redemptive story about fighting to find physical and emotional safety—things she's never known due to her traumatic upbringing in a working class, Catholic, conservative Midwestern family—in the zany, misfit-filled, sometimes brutal, always big-hearted world of roller derby. With a yearning to fully inhabit and take ownership of her body for the first time in her life, ex-collegiate athlete Gabe Montesanti joins Arch Rival Roller Derby in St. Louis. She attempts to leave the baggage of her upbringing behind, falling in love with the roughness of the sport and the way it embraces people who are both literally and figuratively scarred. She revels in the queer-friendly environment, the tattoos, glitter, and toughness of her teammates, choosing the derby name Joan of Spark after the fierce and independent Joan of Arc.

Then Gabe suffers a catastrophic injury. While every derby league celebrates campiness to varying degrees, the derby community values toughness above all—even when that toughness teeters into masochism. In the aftermath of her accident, it becomes impossible to ignore how the physicality of roller derby mirrors the emotional violence of her chaotic childhood. Gabe's arduous physical recovery is matched only by the painful process of beginning to heal her emotional wounds. Things come to a head during a family visit that forces Gabe to reckon with her past. Ultimately, she must decide if she can be Joan of Spark off the track, too—skating into a bolder, truer future.

Gabe Montesanti is a queer, Midwestern, roller derby player. She earned her BA in mathematics and studio art from Kalamazoo College and her MFA in Creative Nonfiction from Washington University in St. Louis. She serves as a mentor for the PEN Prison Writing Program, teaches creative writing at the Missouri Eastern Correctional Center, and has had work published in Belt Magazine, Brevity, The Offing, and Boulevard Magazine. She skates for Arch Rival Roller Derby in St. Louis under the name Joan of Spark.

THE 1619 PROJECT: A New Origin Story

Edited by Nikole Hannah-Jones and the staff of The New York Times

"[A] groundbreaking compendium . . . These bracing and urgent works, by multidisciplinary visionaries ranging from Barry Jenkins to Jesmyn Ward, build on the existing scholarship of THE 1619 PROJECT, exploring how the nation's original sin continues to shape everything from our music to our food to our democracy. This collection is an extraordinary update to an ongoing project of vital truth-telling." —

Esquire, Best Books of Fall 2021

Random House has acquired a multi-book series based on The New York Times Magazine's acclaimed and groundbreaking special issue, "The 1619 Project." One World Publisher Chris Jackson will publish the core project, which will be a boldly expanded version of the special issue, including new and expanded essays, fiction, and poetry from a variety of noted contributors.

The magazine project on which the book series is based was published in August 2019, on the four hundredth anniversary of the moment that a ship called the White Lion arrived in Virginia carrying 20 to 30 enslaved Africans, the first to be brought to the English colonies that would become the United States. Their arrival marked the beginning of the system of American slavery on which the country was built. The 1619 Project documented the many ways that the legacy of this brutal institution remains with us today.

Spearheaded by Nikole Hannah-Jones, with stunning contributions from numerous black authors, essayists, poets, playwrights, scholars, and novelists, the project explored the many aspects of contemporary American life that are rooted in this history, and the many ways that black resistance to slavery and racism has been a force for progress and equality for all Americans.

In addition to the One World hardcover, Random House Children's Books will publish four 1619 PROJECT books for young readers—one young adult, one middle-grade, and two picture books—under the Delacorte Press and Crown Books for Young Readers imprints. The Random House Clarkson Potter imprint will publish a special 1619 PROJECT Illustrated edition; while the Ten Speed Press imprint will publish the graphic novelization of the core project.

The creative team at The New York Times editing the book series will be the same group behind the original initiative: award-winning New York Times journalist Nikole Hannah-Jones; Jake Silverstein, editor in chief of The New York Times Magazine; Ilena Silverman, the magazine's features editor; and Caitlin Roper, the magazine's special projects editor.

Amy Ellis Nutt traces the history of mental health treatment in the United States, adopting a similar approach to what Siddhartha Mukherjee did so well for cancer in THE EMPEROR OF ALL MALADIES. By bringing to life the discoveries, characters, and trends of the past two centuries, with an emphasis on the past 60 years and the advent of psychiatric drugs, Nutt shows that despite our increased knowledge about the brain, we still don't know what causes mental illness. What we think of as "progress" in mental health treatment has largely been the result of accidents of history, money, cultural moments and outsized personalities. Nutt argues against an overreliance on medication and advocates an emphasis on community, psychotherapy, and mindfulness.

Amy Ellis Nutt is an expert when it comes to this story: mental health and brain science is her beat at The Washington Post. She won the Pulitzer Prize in Feature Writing in 2011 and is the author of BECOMING NICOLE (2015), and co-author of the New York Times bestseller THE TEENAGE BRAIN EXPLAINED (Harper, 2015). She was a Niemen Fellow in Journalism at Harvard and Ferris Professor of Journalism at Princeton, and an instructor at the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism.

EMPRESS OF THE NILE: *The Woman Archaeologist Who Helped Save the Treasures of the Louvre from the Nazis and the Temples of Ancient Egypt from Extinction by Lynne Olson

This is the dramatic story of Christiane Desroches Noblecourt, a Frenchwoman who was fascinated by Ancient Egypt from a young age. Having broken glass ceilings by studying and later working at the Louvre, during WWII she helped save the museum's treasures and worked in the Resistance. Her crowning achievement, however, was her success in Egypt, where she was the first woman to lead an archeological dig. She saved twenty-four of the country's most important temples (the Metropolitan Museum's Temple of Dendur being one of them) by relocating them, stone by ancient stone, before they were submerged forever during the building of the Aswan Dam. Like Olson's bestselling MADAME FOURCADE'S SECRET WAR, EMPRESS OF THE NILE tells the dramatic story of a woman whose bravery and determination make inspiring and exciting reading.

DEAD MAN WALKING (Graphic Novel)

by Sister Helen Prejean; Illustrated by Catherine Anyango Grünwald

A graphic adaptation of the gut-wrenching story that inspired a film, a stage play, an opera, and a musical album. In 1982, Sister Helen Prejean became the spiritual advisor to Patrick Sonnier, the convicted killer of two teenagers who was sentenced to die in the electric chair of Louisiana's Angola State Prison. In the months before Sonnier's death, the Roman Catholic nun came to know a man who was as terrified as he had once been terrifying. She also came to know the families of the victims and the men whose job it was to execute—men who often harbored doubts about the rightness of what they were doing.

Out of that dreadful intimacy comes a profoundly moving spiritual journey through our system of capital punishment. Here Sister Helen confronts both the plight of the condemned and the rage of the bereaved, the fears of a society shattered by violence and the Christian imperative of love. On its original publication in 1993, DEAD MAN WALKING emerged as an unprecedented look at the human consequences of the death penalty.

Helen Prejean, C. S. J., is a writer, lecturer, and community organizer who was born in Baton Rouge and has lived and worked in Louisiana all her life. She is also the author of The Death of Innocents: An Eyewitness Account of Wrongful Executions. She has lectured extensively on the subject of capital punishment and has appeared on 60 Minutes, NBC's Today Show, NPR's Weekend Edition and Fresh Air, PBS's Frontline, and more. She has received honorary degrees from colleges and universities across the United States.

Catherine Anyango Grünwald is a Swedish/Kenyan artist who lives and works in Sweden, having moved from London where she taught for ten years at the Royal College of Art. She is now a senior lecturer at Konstfack University in Stockholm. In 2010, her graphic novel adaptation of Joseph Conrad's HEART OF DARKNESS was awarded the Observer's Graphic Novel of the Month and has been translated into seven languages. Current projects examine the emotional manifestations of crime and guilt upon public and private space.

JUST ANOTHER DAY AT RIKERS: *An Oral History of the System by Graham Rayman and Reuven Blau

An intimate, groundbreaking oral history of the largest jail system in the United States, told through the stories of the prisoners and guards whose lives have been shaped irreparably by it.

Prize-winning journalists Graham Rayman and Reuven Blau have spent years interviewing every kind of person whom Rikers has touched, from inmates and guards to judges and mayors, with stories spanning from the 1970s to the present day. The stories that emerge paint a brutal portrait of violence, despair, and profound injustice in one of the biggest institutions of America's justice system.

These stories continue from the first day on--stories of despair, brutality, resilience, and hope, told by the people who were irrevocably scarred by the island over the course of decades. As calls to close jails are growing louder across the country, JUST ANOTHER DAY AT RIKERS is a resounding lesson about the human consequences of the prison industrial complex.

Graham Rayman has covered a wide range of beats since 1993 with an emphasis on law enforcement and criminal justice issues for New York Newsday, Newsday, the Village Voice and the New York Daily News. In the course of that work, his articles have been acknowledged as helping move the ball on changes to the criminal justice system. He is the author of THE NYPD TAPES (St. Martin's, 2013). Reuven Blau has been a journalist for 18 years, starting his career at the family-owned Chief-Leader covering the correction unions and the city's civil service system. He also worked as an investigative reporter for the New York Post and the New York Daily News for close to a decade. At the tabloids, he covered developments at Rikers closely and is known as the dean of the jail beat.

THE CROWD GOES WILD: *How to Love Sports Without Losing Your Soul by William C. Rhoden

From the bestselling author and award-winning New York Times sports columnist, a timely consideration of a debate that has unsettled millions of sports fans: In the age of performance-enhancing drugs, concussion scandals, increasing on- and off-the-field violence, and other controversies, is it possible to square our consciences with the sports we love? Is it possible to be an ethical sports fan?

We turn to sports for heroes, escapism, and inspiration, but lately the sports pages have offered one distressing story after another: performance-enhancing drugs in baseball, the concussion crisis in football, and extreme acts of off-the-field violence across the board. On top of that, the sports world continues to struggle with issues of racism and sexism, corrupt college and youth leagues, and cruelty to animals. William Rhoden has been covering these issues for thirty years as a columnist at the New York Times and in THE CROWD GOES WILD, he walks fans through them one by one, combining incisive analysis with rich storytelling and fresh reporting from his own investigations. In the end, he offers a thought-provoking and brutally honest assessment on how the games we love fit with the values we cherish — and whether the world of sports can yet be redeemed.

William C. Rhoden has been a sportswriter for the New York Times since 1983 and has written the "Sports of the Times" column since 1990. He also served as a consultant for ESPN's Sports Century series and is a regular guest on its show The Sports Reporters. In 1996 Rhoden won a Peabody Award for Broadcasting as writer of the HBO documentary Journey of the African-American Athlete. A graduate of Morgan State University in Baltimore, he lives in New York City's Harlem. His previous book, Forty Million Dollar Slaves, was a New York Times bestseller.

OUTDOOR KIDS IN AN INSIDE WORLD: *Getting Your Family Out of the House and Radically Engaged with Nature
by Steven Rinella

An indispensable guide to raising tough, curious, and competent kids who feel at home in the outdoors, from the New York Times bestselling author and host of the TV series and podcast MeatEater.

The average American spends ninety percent of their time indoors, and children are no exception. Today, kids can spend up to seven hours per day looking at screens.

Not only does this phenomenon have consequences for our kids' physical and mental health, it calls into question their ability to understand and engage with anything beyond the manmade world. We can teach climate change in school and instill our anxieties about the future in our children, but until more humans make meaningful contact with nature, the welfare our planet is in jeopardy.

Thankfully, with the right mindset and instruction, families can find beauty, meaning, and connection in a life lived outdoors. OUTDOOR KIDS IN AN INSIDE WORLD offers practical advice for getting your kids radically engaged with nature in a muddy, thrilling, hands-on way. Living an outdoor lifestyle fosters in kids an insatiable curiosity about the world around them, a sense of confidence and self-sufficiency, and, most important, a lifelong sense of stewardship of the natural world. This book helps families connect with nature—and each other—as a joyful part of everyday life. Throughout, Rinella shares the wisdom he has garnered as a father whose family has lived amid the biggest cities and wildest corners of America.

Steven Rinella is an outdoorsman, writer, wild foods enthusiast, and television and podcast personality who is a passionate advocate for conservation and the protection of public lands. The host of the television show and podcast MeatEater, his most recent book is the New York Times bestseller THE MEATEATER GUIDE TO WILDERNESS SKILLS AND SURVIVAL. His writing has appeared in many publications, including Outside, Field & Stream, and The New Yorker. Rinella lives in Bozeman, Montana, with his wife and their three kids. We've also signed up a book for July 2023, CATCH A CRAYFISH, COUNT THE STARS, as well as an UNTITLED COOKBOOK (December 2023) and UNTITLED ATLAS (December 2024).

CAMPFIRE STORIES

by Steven Rinella

A reunion with friends and epic outdoor adventurers around a campfire in book form, filled with their wildest true stories of survival, grit, perseverance, and teamwork in the great outdoors, from the host of the wildly popular television show and podcast MeatEater.

Steven Rinella has become an international authority on fishing, hunting, and fish and game cooking techniques, as well as an avid conservationist who is deeply committed to fostering a culture of outdoorsmanship steeped in respect for nature and the protection of public lands. In CAMPFIRE STORIES, he draws on his wealth of experience in the wilderness to both entertain and inform his audience of outdoor enthusiasts. Whether they're set in urban forests or atop remote Alaskan peaks, the stories are rich with lessons on how to stay safe in nature. The familiarity of the conversations conjures the feeling of sitting around a campfire with friends and listening to their stories.

To gather these stories, Rinella sits down with friends and members of the MeatEater team to reminisce about their adventures in the natural world, from fighting grizzly bears to surviving a run-in with one of the world's deadliest fish. With humor and heart, Rinella and his crew describe how they survived encounters with weather, wildlife, and even the occasional run-in with criminal cartels in stories that seem almost too crazy to be true... but they are.

UNTITLED by Darren Walker

An urgent and inspiring American story, about social progress and its enemies, from the President of the Ford Foundation. Before Walker came to lead one of the most important philanthropies in the world, he was a poor African-American kid in southeast Texas, raised by a single mother. "In a shack," as he says. Equal parts will and educational opportunities got him to law school at the University of Texas, and from there into banking - UBS, Credit Suisse. And then he did something that no one does. Once he made enough money to buy his mother a house and make himself comfortable, he said, Okay, that's enough, and decided to give away money and fight for social change - to preserve the path for others that he himself had forged.

This is part memoir of an extraordinary American life, part urgent manifesto at a perilous moment, just as social progress in America is under threat on all fronts, and the opportunities and social investments that transformed Darren Walker's life are under attack and in retreat. His story is a cautionary tale of what is at risk if we abandon social progress, as Washington is presently doing, in deference to a politics of retrenchment, nativism, and hostility. With power and purpose, Walker offers up his own story as a demonstration effect for what the Civil Rights movement and progressive twentieth century has been able to achieve, and what we can gain by fighting for change.

Darren Walker is president of the Ford Foundation, an international social justice philanthropy with a $14 billion endowment and $600 million in annual grant making. Before joining Ford, Walker was vice president at the Rockefeller Foundation. Walker co-chairs New York City's Commission on City Art, Monuments, and Markers and serves on the Commission on the Future of Rikers Island Correctional Institution and the UN International Labor Organization Commission on the Future of Work. He also serves on the boards of Carnegie Hall, the High Line, and the Committee to Protect Journalists. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the recipient of thirteen honorary degrees and university awards, including the W.E.B. Du Bois Medal from Harvard University.
