ABBY IN BETWEEN

by Megan E. Bryant

From prolific author Megan E. Bryant comes the first book in a young middle-grade series about nine-year-old Abby, a girl trying to grapple with all the chaos that can come from growing up. Everything is changing. Abby's cousin and best friend, Zoe, has moved away, her mom is going back to work, and Abby is stuck in the only after-school activity left—running. Her perspective on the world is changing, too, after an encounter in her community sheds light on the issue of homelessness. On top of everything, changes in Abby's body mean she has to deal with things like deodorant and bras. And without her best friend by her side, she's not sure she can handle it all.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF FRUIT

by Kyle Lukoff

In this funny and hugely heartfelt novel from a Stonewall Award winner, a sixth-grader's life is turned upside down when she learns her dad is trans. When Annabelle Blake meets new student Bailey, they become fast friends. But when her father shares that he and Bailey have something big--and surprising--in common, Annabelle begins to see herself, and her family, in a whole new light. At the same time she starts to realize that her community might not be as welcoming as she had thought. Together Annabelle, Bailey, and their families discover how these categories that seem to mean so much aren't so clear-cut after all.

ZIA ERASES THE WORLD

by Bree Barton

For fans of Crenshaw and When You Trap a Tiger comes the extraordinary tale of a headstrong girl and the magical dictionary she hopes will explain the complicated feelings she can't find the right words for—or erase them altogether. Zia remembers the exact night the Shadoom arrived. One moment she was laughing with friends, and the next a dark shadow had crept into her chest. When Zia's yayia moves in, Zia discovers a family heirloom: a dictionary with a mysterious eraser. When Zia erases words, they disappear from the world around her. But things quickly dissolve into chaos, as the words she erases turn out to be more vital than Zia knew.

SHE PERSISTED IN SCIENCE

by Chelsea Clinton;
illustrated by Alexandra Boiger

A STEM-focused addition to the #1 New York Times bestselling She Persisted series! Throughout history, women have been told that science isn't for them. They've been told that they're not smart enough, or that their brains just aren't able to handle it. In this book, Chelsea Clinton introduces readers to women scientists who didn't listen to those who told them "no" and who used their smarts, their skills and their persistence to discover, invent, create and explain.

OUT OF A JAR

by Deborah Marcero

This highly anticipated follow-up to the critically acclaimed and bestselling picture book In a Jar stars one little bunny dealing with some very big feelings. Llewellyn does not like to feel afraid or sad, angry, lonely, or embarrassed. So he comes up with a brilliant plan: he tucks each of his feelings into jars and hides them away. But when he gets in trouble in class, Llewellyn finds he needs to put away excitement, too. After a while, he walks around not feeling much of anything. And what happens when his emotions refuse to be bottled up any longer?

JUST HELP!

by Sonia Sotomayor;
illustrated by Angela Dominguez

A fun and meaningful story about making the world—and your community—better, one action at a time, that asks the question: Who will you help today? Every night when Sonia goes to bed, Mami asks her the same question: How did you help today? And since Sonia wants to help her community, just like Mami does, she always makes sure she has a good answer. In a story inspired by her own family, and with art by award-winning illustrator Angela Dominguez, Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor takes readers on a journey through a neighborhood where kids and adults all help to build a better world for themselves and their community.

THIS BOOK IS NOT FOR YOU!

by Shannon Hale;
illustrated by Tracy Subisak

From New York Times bestselling and Newbery Honor-winning author Shannon Hale and award-winning illustrator Tracy Subisak, comes a zany picture book that pokes fun at overly gendered notions of “boy books” and “girl books” and celebrates the pleasure of a good book. Stanley’s thrilled for bookmobile day—until the old man refuses to lend him the story he wants, all because it features a girl. But when a dinosaur arrives and successfully demands a book about ponies, Stanley musters the courage to ask for the tale he really wants. And by speaking up, Stanley inspires everyone around him to read more stories outside their experiences.

EVERYTHING WILL BE OKAY

by Anna Dewdney;
illustrated by Judy Schachner

The bestselling creators of Llama Llama and Skippyjon Jones bring warmth and humor to a story with a comforting message we could all use when times are tough: everything will be okay. Nothing is going right for little Bunny today. His sandwich has PB&J instead of cheese. He's lost his kite. Ow! And he's stubbed his toe! But while some days can feel more sad than happy, there's always a bright spot on the horizon. Anna Dewdney and Judy Schachner perfectly blend rhyme, humor, and comfort to show readers the way out of a tough spot—no matter if it's big or small.

DADDY SPEAKS LOVE

by Leah Henderson;
illustrated by E.B. Lewis

A moving tribute to the joy and grounding that fathers bring to their children's lives. What does a daddy do? From day one, this daddy speaks love. He answers a million questions, scares away imaginary monsters, and is honest about how to confront the real ones too. He sets an example for the future, speaking out for equality and justice, while sharing lessons from the past. But most of all, daddies encourage their babies to fight for a better world, with the comfort of knowing their dads are right beside them.

WILD FOR WINNIE

by Laura Marx Fitzgerald;
illustrated by Jenny Lovlie

New student Winnie has sensory processing challenges, but her wonderful teacher knows just how to make sure she's a welcome part of the class. Winnie is the new kid at school, and sometimes she acts kind of wild. Her teacher says to her classmates, "Maybe Winnie feels the world differently than most of us. Why don't we give her world a try?" So when Winnie can't stop monkeying around, the class joins her on the jungle gym. And when she's acting squirrely, they all go nuts on an obstacle course. Soon Winnie's classmates realize that sometimes we all feel the world differently, and that's more than okay.

SOMEWHERE, RIGHT NOW

by Kerry Docherty;
illustrated by Suzie Mason

Debut author Kerry Docherty reminds us that even when we are having a bad day, just imagining that somewhere, right now, something beautiful is happening can bring a feeling of calm. When Alma is experiencing the lows of unexpected disappointment, her mom offers her the wise advice that she might feel better if she closes her eyes and pictures something beautiful. Inspired by the current crisis, this book is a relevant but timeless reminder that somewhere in the world something beautiful is happening. Maybe it's a baby whale being born, or perhaps it's the sun coming out on a cloudy day.

THE STACK

by Vanessa Roeder

From the creator of The Box Turtle comes a clever and stunningly illustrated bedtime story about doing (and building!) whatever it takes to reach for the stars. Luna begins her stack with a single chair. But it's not tall enough. So she adds a stool, then books, and before she knows it, she's thrown a pile of plates, a bathtub, and a whale up there too. And yet the stack still isn't tall enough. Finally, after she flings and slings bigger and wackier things into the stack, she is able to reach into the sky for just what she wants: a star of her own to use as a night-light!

YOU ARE MY FAVORITE COLOR

by Gillian Sze;
illustrated by Nina Mata

A lyrical story of parental love that celebrates and takes pride in the many shades of brown skin. Perfect for fans of I Am Enough, Hey Black Child, Hair Love, and Our Skin. Told through warm and vivid poetry, with sweeping descriptions of what brown skin means—it is the brawny bear whose paws know the ground of its home, the sequoia tree that reaches up and touches the sun, the glossy shell of roasted chestnuts—this is a book that empowers as it embraces, and that reminds young readers that they have shades of color that only they can discover and express.

A FAMILY LOOKS LIKE LOVE

by Kaitlyn Wells;
illustrated by Sawyer Cloud

A heartening picture book about a young pup who looks different from her siblings and ultimately learns that love, rather than how you look, is what makes a family. Sutton Button has always looked different from her family. While her siblings had short, stout legs, Sutton's legs were long like noodles. And while her siblings had scruffy, yellow fur, Sutton was a tricolor puppy with soft fur. But when others don't believe that Sutton and her siblings are actually related, Sutton starts to wonder if she really belongs in her family at all—until she realizes that her and her family are the same in all the most important ways and that love, rather than what you look like, is what makes a family. With heartwarming text and adorable illustrations, A Family Looks Like Love is a story about the enduring power of love and teaches readers that family comes in all shapes and sizes.

THERE'S A LION IN THE FOREST!

by Mônica Carnesi

Everyone knows there are no lions in the forests of South America . . . or are there? Toucan heard it first. It was a deep, growly growl. And that can mean only one thing: THERE'S A LION IN THE FOREST! But how can that be? Everyone knows that lions don't live in tropical forests. But the growls keep coming—and now even Capybara and Coati are anxious, especially when they get a glimpse through the trees of a long, terrifying tail and a thick, menacing mane . . . With a rhythmic text that begs to be read aloud, Mônica Carnesi's clever tale illustrates the importance of not rushing to conclusions.

THE RAINBOW PARADE

by Emily Neilson

A sweet and celebratory story of a girl's first time marching with her two moms at Pride. One day in June, Emily takes the train into the city with her two moms to attend the Rainbow Parade. She loves how all the people marching are extra loud, extra proud, and extra colorful. But when her mama suggests they join the parade, Emily isn't so sure she belongs in the throng. This joyful and affirming picture book about a family's first Pride parade, reminds all readers that sometimes pride takes practice and there's no "one way" to be a part of the LGBTQ+ community.

CATS CAN

by Roseanne Greenfield Thong;
illustrated by Ebony Glenn

A rollicking rhyme that celebrates the playful and mischievous similarities between cats and toddlers! Whether they're stretching and scheming, playing or dreaming, cats love to make mischief, sneak snacks, and cuddle up in a cozy spot, just like . . . kids! Cats Can proves that kittens and kids are more alike than we think. Roseanne Greenfield Thong's rhyming romp is perfectly matched by the vibrant, energetic illustrations of Ebony Glenn in this playful read-aloud.

PATIENCE, PATCHES!

by Christy Mihaly;
illustrated by Sheryl Murray

A sweet-new sibling story, perfect for gifting to expecting parents, big siblings to-be, and dog-loving families everywhere. Patches the puppy is very good at waiting--or at least that's what he thinks. But his patience is put to the test when his two moms arrive home with an unexpected bundle. Is it a new toy? No! It's a new baby. Suddenly, everything Patches wants to do takes a little bit longer. But patience, it turns out, is a lesson worth learning.

ON A RAINY DAY

by Sarah LuAnn Perkins

A sweet story of a father and daughter's cozy day together as they wait for a storm to pass. When rain interrupts their outdoor play, a girl and her father retreat indoors to wait out the storm. As lightning cracks and thunder booms, they each have their own ideas of things they can do together on a rainy day. Told through spare text and bold sound effects, Sarah LuAnn Perkins' unique linocut-like textured illustrations create a fun read-aloud experience for both reader and listener.

ICE CREAM FACE

by Heidi Woodward Sheffield

The Ezra Jack Keats Award-winning creator of Brick by Brick brings to delicious life the anxiety and elation involved in waiting in line to get ice cream. As far as this ice cream-loving kid is concerned, every meal should include ice cream. In any form, in every flavor, he loves it all. But what he doesn’t love is seeing other people with ice cream . . . while he’s still waiting in line for his. That’s when he can get his mad, “no ice cream yet, waiting in a long-line face” until he finally gets his cone, and his mad face melts into something sweet.

WITH LOTS OF LOVE

by Jenny Torres Sanchez;
illustrated by André Ceolin

A beautiful, lyrical story about a girl who moves from her home in Central America to the United States, and everything she leaves behind and longs for—especially her Abuela—as she makes a new life. Rocio has grown up in Central America, but now she and her family are moving to the United States. Rocio does her best to adjust, but there are many things she misses from her old life—Abuela's cooking, pinata creations, warm hugs, and of course, Abuela herself most of all. But Abuela finds a way to send Rocio something special just in time for her birthday.

COUNTING TO BANANAS

by Carrie Tillotson;
illustrated by Estrela Lourenço

A hilarious, mostly rhyming picture book about a banana and narrator who can't quite agree on what their book is about. When a narrator starts filling this story with fruit, Banana can't wait to step into the spotlight. The book is called Counting to Bananas, after all. But as more and more fruits are added to the story, Banana objects. When will it be time for bananas?! With laugh-out-loud text from debut author Carrie Tillotson this is the story of a banana and narrator who have very strong opinions about what should (and should not!) be in this book.

WILD HORSES

by Melissa Marr

Gorgeous photographs and an evocative text sing the praises of a real-life herd of wild horses running free in Arizona, in this ode to the beauty of these glorious creatures. In beautiful poetry and vivid photographs, Melissa Marr shares her feelings of awe while watching a real-life herd of majestic wild horses. When they appear, the wind itself seems to stand still. They are grand in their movements as they do all the things horses do—splash through rivers, care for young, stomp and whinny. It is clear they are not tame, and this is part of their beauty and power. How lucky are we to be able to witness their strength and speed and magnificence!

THE YEAR WE LEARNED TO FLY

by Jacqueline Woodson;
illustrated by Rafael López

Jacqueline Woodson and Rafael López's highly anticipated companion to their #1 New York Times bestseller The Day You Begin illuminates the power in each of us to face challenges with confidence. On a dreary day, siblings heed their grandmother's advice: "Use those beautiful and brilliant minds of yours." And before they know it, their imaginations lift them up and out of their boredom. Then, on a day full of quarrels, it's time for a trip outside their minds again, and they are able to leave their anger behind. Jacqueline Woodson's lyrical text and Rafael Lopez's dazzling art celebrate the extraordinary ability to lift ourselves up and imagine a better world.

THE 1619 PROJECT: BORN ON THE WATER

by Nikole Hannah-Jones and Renée Watson;
illustrated by Nikkolas Smith

The 1619 Project's lyrical picture book in verse chronicles the consequences of slavery and the history of Black resistance in the United States, thoughtfully rendered by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Nikole Hannah-Jones and Newbery honor-winning author Renée Watson. A young student receives a family tree assignment in school, but she can only trace back three generations. Grandma gathers the family, and the student learns that 400 years ago, in 1619, their ancestors were stolen and brought to America by white slave traders. But before that, they had a home, a land, a language. She learns how the people said to be born on the water survived.

LISTEN

by Shannon Stocker;
illustrated by Devon Holzwarth

A gorgeous and empowering picture book biography about Evelyn Glennie, a deaf woman, who became the first full-time solo percussionist in the world. From the moment Evelyn heard her first note, music held her heart. She could play the piano at eight, the clarinet by ten. But soon the nerves in her ears began to degenerate, and Evelyn was told that she could never be a musician. What sounds Evelyn couldn't hear with her ears, though, she could feel, and the music she created as a result was extraordinary. All she had to do was listen in a way that others didn't. And soon, the world was listening too.

HOW YOU CAME TO BE

by Carole Gerber;
illustrated by Sawsan Chalabi

This love letter written from mother to child invites readers to experience a baby's month-by-month development in the womb as compared to familiar fruits and vegetables. A mother lovingly describes the sizes and stages of her baby's month-by-month development inside the womb, and the amazement of experiencing it from the outside. Simple, age-appropriate facts are woven into a tender and lyrical text that celebrates the miracle of a baby. It demystifies and informs readers, while simultaneously appreciating the wonder of it all. A perfect read-aloud for mother and child, or for children whose mothers are pregnant with a younger sibling.

SOLITARY ANIMALS

by Joshua David Stein;
illustrated by Dominique Ramsey

Celebrate the beauty and strength of solitude with this poetic observation of the animal kingdom and those who move through it on their very own. This lyrical, nonfiction text honors animals who live in solitude. Against a backdrop of the specific names of animal groups (a parade of elephants, a tower of giraffes), Stein shines a spotlight on those animals who go through life on their own. Perfect for children who tend to be alone, and their parents...as well as all children, who will be encouraged to respect the “natural” choices of their peers.

KAPAEMAHU

by Hinaleimoana Wong-Kalu, Dean Hamer, and Joe Wilson;
illustrated by Daniel Sousa

An Indigenous legend about how four extraordinary individuals of dual male and female spirit, or Mahu, brought healing arts from Tahiti to Hawaii, based on the Oscar Award-contending short film. In the 15th Century, four Mahu sail from Tahiti to Hawaii and share their gifts of science and healing with the people of Waikiki. The islanders return this gift with a monument in their honor. As time passes, foreigners inhabit the island and the once sacred stones are forgotten until the 1960s. Though the true story of these stones was not fully recovered, the power of the Mahu still calls out to those who pass by them at Waikiki Beach today.
