Imprint Descriptions

Clarkson Potter was founded in 1959 and is home to a community of award-winning and bestselling chefs, cooks, designers, artists, and writers—visionaries who seek to entertain, engage, and teach. Our diverse list is at once commercial and literary and includes cookbooks, illustrated gift books, and a growing line of paper products, such as journals, postcards, stationery, and games. Potter authors include Ina Garten, Martha Stewart, Giada De Laurentiis, Bobby Flay, David Chang, Chrissy Teigen, Trisha Yearwood, Gina Homolka, and Alexa Hampton, and other leading brands .

Ten Speed Press is based in California and spent decades as an independent publisher before becoming part of the Crown Publishing Group in 2009. Known for creating beautiful illustrated books with innovative design and award-winning content, Ten Speed actively seeks out new and established authors who are authorities and tastemakers in the world of food, drink, pop culture, graphic novels, illustration, design, reference, gardening, and health. In food and drink, we publish such luminaries as Yotam Ottolenghi, Aaron Franklin, Heidi Swanson, Danielle Walker, David Lebovitz, Deborah Madison, Robert Simonson, and the editors of Food52. Our bestselling titles include Jerusalem, Franklin Barbecue, and Food52 Genius Recipes. Other acclaimed Ten Speed titles include the breakout New York Times-best seller Women in Science, the classic business and life guide What Color Is Your Parachute?, and the groundbreaking self-help book The Life-Changing Magic of Tidying Up.

Watson-Guption was founded in 1937 and is now an imprint of Ten Speed Press. It has a storied legacy of publishing hard-working and influential illustrated art books. We seek out respected authorities who instruct and inspire artists in a wide range of art, craft, design, and photography subjects. Our list spans both fine art and practical art instruction in traditional disciplines such as drawing, painting, sculpture, and printmaking, with standout authors like Juliette Aristides, Burne Hogarth, and Rudy de Reyna. We also publish books focused on artistic pursuits such as craft, graphic design, comics, cartooning, and manga, authored by such authorities as House Industries, Stan Lee, Mark Crilley, Camilla D’Errico, and Chris Hart.

Lorena Jones Books, an imprint of Ten Speed Press, was founded in 2015 and is committed to publishing the best talent in highly creative and enduring ways. We publish illustrated and non-illustrated books in the areas of cooking, work life, and health. The list features cookbooks for committed and style-conscious cooks who enjoy reading about food as culture; publications include Tartine All Day and Cheers to The Publican. Titles on work life and career, including The Million-Dollar, One-Person Business, resonate with independent-minded professionals who are interested in new ideas and career development. The health publishing, such as the upcoming How Healing Works, appeals to consumers who embrace self-care ideas that are based on leading researchers’ new findings and recommendations.

Vice Media is quickly becoming the go-to resource for millennials, and their food channel, Munchies, is a fan favorite among in-the-know food connoisseurs. Munchies has 5 million unique monthly visitors, more than 1 million YouTube subscribers, and their audience is growing by about 30% every month. The Vice site overall has more than 100 million unique monthly visitors and both Vice and Munchies have an impressive international following with translated sites in several countries.

MUNCHIES the book is based on the popular show Chef's Night Out and provides an insider look at how top chefs like Anthony Bourdain, Dominique Crenn, David Chang, Danny Bowien, Wylie Dufresne, Inaki Aizpitarte, and Enrique Olivera really eat and drink at two in the morning when the customers have gone home, the kitchen is technically closed, and they are entertaining just their closest friends.

With chapters like "Drinks" (i.e., how to get your night started), "Things with Tortillas," "Hardcore" (which includes pizzas, nachos, poutines, and more), and "Morning After" (classy and trashy dishes for the bleary-eyed next day), MUNCHIES features more than 65 recipes to satisfy any late-night craving and plenty of drinks to keep the party going. With zany illustrations by Justin Hager and edgy photography by Brayden Olson, Munchies will be a must-have cookbook for fans of Thug Kitchen and Cravings by Chrissy Teigen.

Sold to Sphere (UK/BritComm)

JJ GOODE is an award-winning cookbook author who has coauthored books by April Bloomfield, Andy Ricker, Dale Talde, and Masaharu Morimoto.

HELEN HOLLYMAN is the editor-in-chief of MUNCHIES, the world's first global Millennial food website and digital media video channel from VICE Media.

Based on the hugely popular Instagram account (more than 500k followers and growing, 50% from outside the US and 17% from the UK/British Commonwealth), Am I There Yet? is a witty, starkly honest, and absolutely on-point book of essays and illustrations on the realities of growing up and finding yourself.

Organized by universal themes of becoming an adult—loss, adventure, ambition—Am I There Yet? incorporates on-trend themes such as feminism, self-awareness, and finding meaning. Rather than presenting advice that's been heard before, Mari shares lessons she's learned from personal experience ranging from the benefits of traveling solo, the importance of creating personal space that is comforting and restorative, and the knowledge that being vulnerable about heartache and grief is the only way to move through it. Through never-before-seen essays and spreads of her signature illustrations, 90% of which are brand new, Mari offers a relatable perspective from someone whose been there.

A funny, fact-driven, and comprehensive illustrated field guide to feminist living from the inside out by the hosts of the hugely popular podcast Stuff Mom Never Told You, which has 800k monthly YouTube streams, more than 200k subscribers, and over 500k social media followers across platforms.

Approximately 10% of their listeners are based in the UK and British Commonwealth.

Combining the feminist issues slant of Lean In and Bad Feminist with the humor and relatability of Why Not Me? and Adulthood, Unladylike is a comprehensive guide to how to be a feminist—and an informed, strong woman—in today's world, related in the authors' trademark humorous and candid style.

Unladylike covers both the history and larger political context of the issues that women face in our patriarchal culture as well as the personal implications of what that means for today's woke young women.

CRISTEN CONGER is a senior staff writer and host for HowStuffWorks.com and co-creator of the hit podcast Stuff Mom Never Told You. She is a contributing writer for Refinery29, and her writing has appeared on Jezebel, Huffington Post Women, MSNBC, and ABC News. CAROLINE ERVIN is a podcast host and editor at HowStuffWorks.com. Since stepping into her role as co-host of Stuff Mom Never Told You, she's applied her journalism background to researching and speaking on issues of sexuality, health, history, and pop culture—all through the lens of feminism and gender. Rad Girls Can is a bold and brave collection of stories and art about inspiring and accomplished girls who have made positive impacts on the world before the age of twenty.

You might know the stories of Malala Yousafzai, Anne Frank, Jazz Jennings, and Joan of Arc, but have you heard about The Radical Monarchs, a social justice scouting troop for girls of color; or nine-year-old Ugandan chess champion Phiona Mutesi; or Trisha Prabhu, the thirteen-year-old creator of an anti-cyberbullying app?

In Rad Girls Can, readers learn about a diverse group of girls doing amazing things, whether excelling in male-dominated sports like boxing, rock climbing, or skateboarding; speaking out against injustice and discrimination; expressing themselves through dance, writing, and music; or advocating for girls around the world. Each profile is paired with the dynamic paper-cut art that made the authors' first two books, Rad Women Worldwide (60k copies in print) and Rad American Women A-Z (City Lights, 2015), New York Times best sellers.

KATE SCHATZ is a feminist writer, activist, and educator. She is the cofounder of Solidarity Sundays, a network of feminist activist groups. The illustrator, MIRIAM KLEIN STAHL, is an artist, educator, and activist.

The rise of million-dollar, one-person businesses in the past five years is one of the biggest trends in employment today. Elaine Pofeldt first wrote about this shift in a viral piece on Forbes.com, now with more than 300k page views.

In The Million-Dollar, One-Person Business, Pofeldt outlines the pathways to joining this new movement, synthesizing the advice from dozens of business owners who've done it. She details how a single individual can achieve a six-figure income after taxes while maintaining the lifestyle they want by utilizing the new tools of automation and making the most of today's transformed work environment.

In the aspirational vein of The 4-Hour Workweek and hardworking style of other startup instructionals, such as The $100 Startup and The Lean Startup, this book will appeal to all those who seek a great work life and a great lifestyle.

ELAINE POFELDT writes a monthly column on million-dollar, one-person businesses for Forbes.com and is a contributing editor to Crain's New York Business. Formerly, she was the senior editor of Fortune Small Business magazine. Elaine's work has been published in Money, Fortune, Good Housekeeping, More, and on Medium and CNBC.com, among others. She earned her BA in English at Yale and is the mother of four children.

Luke Barr, author of the New York Times bestselling Provence, 1970, transports readers to turn-of-the-century London to discover how celebrated hotelier César Ritz and famed chef Auguste Escoffier joined forces at the Savoy Hotel to spawn the modern luxury hotel and restaurant, where women and American Jews mingled with British high society, signaling a new social order and the rise of the middle class.

With a fantastic cast—that includes the ambitious César Ritz; his young wife, Marie; and a disciplined Auguste Escoffier interacting with the infamous Oscar Wilde, legendary actress Sarah Bernhardt, the fashionable Prince of Wales and heir to the throne (future King of England), a Vanderbilt heiress who marries into English royalty, and others—the narrative reads like a well-crafted novel.

LUKE BARR is the author of the New York Times bestselling Provence, 1970. Raised in the San Francisco Bay Area and Switzerland, Barr attended Harvard and spent many years as the features editor at Travel + Leisure magazine. He lives in Brooklyn with his wife and their two daughters.
