TOTALLY KOSHER by Chanie Apfelbaum

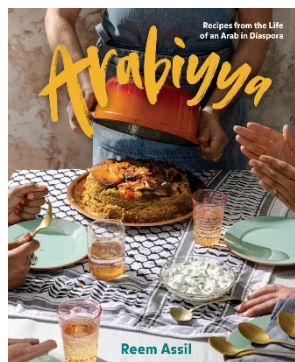

A collection of 120+ modern and exciting kosher recipes, from the founder of the voicey and fun kosher blog Busy in Brooklyn.

After quitting her job to be a stay-at-home mom to her five beautiful children, Chanie channeled her creative energy into her cooking—and hence, her popular blog Busy in Brooklyn was born. Her mission was to make kosher food trendy, accessible, and delicious for Jewish families around the world. What that means is miso in the matzo ball soup and tahini in the pumpkin pie—and her fans absolutely love recreating her recipes and feeling in the know on the latest food trends while keeping kosher kitchens.

Chanie Apfelbaum was born and raised in a kosher home in Brooklyn where she grew up eating traditional Jewish foods. Chanie works as a recipe developer and food photographer. She is the founder and creator of the popular blog Busy in Brooklyn. She is a contributing writer to Mishpacha Magazine's Family Table and the official kosher website. She has been featured in many national publications and media, including The Wall Street Journal, The HuffPost, News12 Brooklyn, The Meredith Vieira Show, Thrillist, and more.

ARABIYYA: Recipes from the Life of an Arab in Diaspora by Reem Assil

This debut cookbook from a rising star chef and activist contains 100 bright, bold recipes influenced by the vibrant flavors and convivial culture of the Arab world, mixed with moving personal essays and a pinch of California cool.

ARABIYYA celebrates the alluring aroma and flavors of Arabic food and the spirit of hospitality with which it is shared. With fresh California ingredients and bold flavors, author Reem Assil takes readers on a journey through flatbreads, dips, full spreads, and snacks, using the food to showcase its own origins and evolution. Alongside the tempting recipes, Reem shares stories of the power of Arab communities to turn hardship into brilliant, nourishing meals. These trials and triumphs are interwoven throughout the book, giving context to the dishes and the ways in which they have been shared beyond just the restaurant.

Reem Assil is a James Beard Award semifinalist and the owner of Reem's California, a bakery with locations in Oakland and San Francisco, and was the opening chef for Dyafa, a Middle Eastern fine-dining restaurant that was awarded a coveted Michelin Bib Gourmand in its first year. She has built her platform at the intersection of food, Arab culture, and social justice.

THE COOK YOU WANT TO BE: Everyday Recipes to Impress
by Andy Baraghani

One of Bon Appétit's favorite talents shows how to define and develop your individual cooking style—and become the cook you want to be—in 120 recipes. Andy Baraghani learned to cook professionally in such vaunted restaurants as Chez Panisse and Estela, but his love for flavor began with the comforting home dishes of his Iranian parents' immigrant household. Baraghani creates wow-factor flavors, beautiful and satisfying meals with minimal fuss, and recasts well-known dishes in utterly delicious ways. With more than 120 sumptuous photographs, 20 instructional essays (such as why salt fish an hour before cooking), and 120 recipes for snacks, eggs, salads, vegetables, grains and legumes, pasta, fish, meat, and desserts, this debut cookbook is a trove of transformative techniques and recipes. Within these pages, you'll discover what kind of cook you want to be—and how to do just that.

Andy Baraghani started his professional cooking career as a teenage intern at Chez Panisse in Berkeley, California. After graduating from New York University, he worked on the line at the acclaimed restaurant Estela in New York City and then as a writer and test kitchen cook at Saveur and Tasting Table. In 2015, he joined Bon Appétit as a senior editor and created a string of recipes that went viral. Baraghani helped launch the publication's Healthyish vertical, contributed to the brand's podcast, and played a role in the exponential audience growth for Bon Appétit's test kitchen videos on YouTube—including hosting his own series, Andy Explores. As the child of parents who emigrated to California from Iran in 1976, Andy grew up knowing that yogurt should always be within arm's reach.

BLUDSO'S BBQ COOKBOOK: A Family Affair in Smoke and Soul
by Kevin Bludso with Noah Galuten

Kevin Bludso was born and raised in Compton, California by a Black Panther supporting mother and a police officer father. To stay out of trouble, he spent his summers in Corsicana, Texas where he was schooled on the art of barbecue and worked long, hot hours on the pits at his granny's legendary BBQ stand.

In this honest and engaging cookbook, Kevin teaches you everything you need to know about BBQ—choosing, seasoning, trimming, and cleaning your pit, how to select your brisket, ribs, and sausages, all the rubs and sauces you could need, plus 90 delicious recipes.

Kevin Bludso is a chef, television personality, and two-time Steve Harvey Neighborhood Award Winner. In 2008, he opened Bludso's BBQ, his small takeout BBQ stand in Compton, California, which since grown into an international empire, with locations in California, Texas, and Australia. He is the judge on the Netflix competition show The American Barbecue Showdown and has appeared on Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives and Bong Appétit, among others.

Noah Galuten is a chef and James Beard Award-nominated cookbook author. He trained under Kevin Bludso and became the chef of Bludso's Bar & Que and Texas BBQ restaurant in Los Angeles. Noah then became the culinary director of the J Howard Restaurant Group, creating the cult-hit smoked potato breakfast burrito at Cofax Coffee. Noah also co-authored ON VEGETABLES with Jeremy Fox.

THE ANCHOR BREWING STORY: America's First Craft Brewery and San Francisco's Original Anchor Steam Beer
by David Burkhart, foreword by Fritz Maytag

The highly illustrated story of America's oldest and most iconic craft brewery, featuring a history of American brewing traditions and clone beer recipes for Anchor's top brews including Anchor Steam and California Lager.

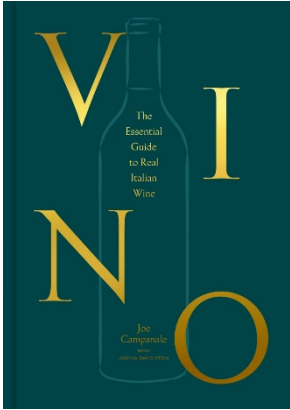

A pioneer in the craft beer movement, Anchor is the unlikely San Francisco microbrewery that inspired a generation of small brewers and created a revolution in beer. After its founding during the Gold Rush, it endured fires that wiped out two locations, the death of an owner who fell from a cable car, and Prohibition—only to find itself facing the mammoth beer corporations of the 1960s and a country dominated by bland, watery, mass-produced lagers.

With authorized clone recipes for four of Anchor's original beers, detailed tasting notes, and never-before-seen images from the brewery's vast archives, THE ANCHOR BREWING STORY is a must for any homebrewer or beer buff.

David Burkhart is the brewery historian at Anchor Brewing, where he has been on staff since 1991. He is the author of award-winning books on the 1906 San Francisco earthquake and San Francisco mixologist Cocktail Boothby.

VINO: The Essential Guide to Real Italian Wine
by Joe Campanale with Joshua David Stein

The Italian wine bible for a new generation that explores the dynamic world of contemporary Italian wine, from a superstar sommelier.

In his debut book VINO, superstar sommelier Joe Campanale tells the thrilling story of the dynamic landscape of Italian wine today: how a new generation of winemakers are embracing the land in every way by eschewing popular international styles, championing long-forgotten native grapes, and adopting sustainable approaches best suited for their local climates. To reexamine what Italian wine is now, and importantly, what it could be, Joe proposes a new rubric of quality based on three overlapping values: native grapes, exceptional terroir, and talented winemakers. He explores the exciting new trends and styles of wine to which this renaissance of artisanal wine has given birth--from pét-nats, orange wines, aged white wines, and more. Joe's epic quest through Italy's twenty regions takes him from the steep hills of Valle d'Aosta to the near-tropical climates of Sicily, and he uncovers and profiles the wonderful wines and producers in each.

Joe Campanale is a sommelier and restaurateur, having opened some of New York City's finest Italian dining destinations, including Dell'anima, L'Artusi, Anfora, Fausto, and, most recently, LaLou. He is also the host of In the Drink, a podcast about wine, and was named 2013's Food & Wine Sommelier of the Year. His restaurants have been featured in The New York Times, New York Magazine, and Saveur, among others.

Joshua David Steian is a writer, illustrator, and contributing editor to Fatherly, the senior editor of Eater, and the editor at large at Tasting Table.

CASTLE ROCK KITCHEN: A Stephen King-Inspired Cookbook
by Theresa Carle-Sanders

CASTLE ROCK KITCHEN is an immersive culinary experience from the mouthwatering to the macabre, transporting Stephen King fans to kitchen tables, diners, and picnic blankets across Maine. Using delicious recipes nestled between pages rich with story excerpts and atmospheric photos of the food peppered throughout his books, and with a foreword written by Stephen King and 80 professionally tested recipes, CASTLE ROCK KITCHEN is a cookbook that will appeal to Stephen King fans of all ages and cooking levels. Dishes are inspired by meals and gatherings from the more than forty novels and stories set in King's Castle Rock multiverse—a darker, more gothic version of the Maine most are familiar with. Using local down home ingredients (fresh seafood, potatoes, cranberries, maple syrup), recipes such as Gramma's Crab Cake Brunch, Moose-Lickit Fish and Chips, Hermits for the Road, and more deliver frightfully good food and drink for the Stephen King fan.

Theresa Carle-Sanders is a professional cook, cookbook author, and avid reader. After two successful literary-themed cookbooks set in the Outlander universe, she continues to create delicious, creative, fictionally-inspired recipes for new fandoms.

SUNDAY BEST: Cooking Up the Weekend Spirit Every Day
by Adrienne Cheatham with Sarah Zorn

Chef Adrienne Cheatham spent her career cooking in some of the country's most prestigious restaurants, from Eric Ripert's Le Bernardin to Marcus Samuelsson's Red Rooster. She went on to become a finalist on Top Chef and founded a popular pop-up series, SundayBest, where she honed her signature style of cooking that combined her African American roots and childhood food memories with her classical training in professional kitchens. Now, inspired by her family's Sunday suppers and their humble dishes made with care and joy, Adrienne presents a heartfelt collection of recipes suffused with deep, familial comfort and featuring smart tweaks influenced by her fine dining background.

Adrienne Cheatham has held senior positions in some of the best kitchens in the country, including serving as executive sous chef at Le Bernardin and executive chef at Red Rooster. She competed on Season 15 of Top Chef, finishing in second place, has been featured as a speaker at Cherry Bombe Jubilee and was the subject of a New York Times documentary series titled Tastemakers. She is the chef and founder of the reliably sold-out SundayBest pop-up dinner series which took place in New York and around the country.

THE VEGAN CHINESE KITCHEN: Recipes and Modern Stories from a Thousand-Year-Old Tradition
by Hannah Che

100+ fresh, plant-based, umami-packed recipes that show the range of traditional and modern Chinese vegan cuisine.

When Hannah Che decided to become a vegan, she was concerned that it would alienate her from the traditions and food that her Chinese family celebrated. But that was before she learned about Zhai cai, or vegetarian cooking, a fascinating subset of Chinese cookery that emphasizes umami-rich ingredients and can be traced back over hundreds, if not a thousand, years to Buddhist temple kitchens.

This book will delight vegans and omnivores alike, inviting you not only to explore a whole new world of flavors and ingredients, but also to create conversations about food, cultural traditions and identity, and wholesome, sustainable cooking.

Hannah Che is a cook, writer, and photographer based in Taipei, Taiwan. Born and raised in Detroit, Michigan, she lived in China for several years with her family and most recently spent a year traveling throughout China and training as a chef at the Guangzhou Vegetarian Culinary School. She is the creator of the blog The Plant-Based Wok.

THE UNTOLD STORY OF UNITED STATES' BARBECUE: The Craft and Legends of the Pit Through the Generations
by Dr. Howard Conyers

The complete illustrated history of Black barbecue in America, from its creation and evolution in the agricultural South to its widespread popularity today, as retraced by the craft's most ardent preservationist.

The descendant of farmers and barbecuing masters, Dr. Howard Conyers is a structural dynamicist at NASA by day and a preserver of barbecue history after hours. In THE UNTOLD STORY OF UNITED STATES' BARBECUE, Dr. Conyers details the real and complete history of barbecue in America, tracing its roots back to the enslaved people who are believed to have brought the practice to the American South to today's Black experts all across the country. Dr. Conyers shares oral histories and photographs from Black whole-animal barbecue cooks from across the South and describes the traditional methods of roasting hogs and other animals over pits in the ground—a practice that dates back well over 400 years. The history of Black barbecue has never before been fully documented by someone born into the craft, who has uncovered and pieced together the fascinating first-person narratives that finally tell the complete cultural story.

Trained as an aerospace engineer at Duke University, Dr. Howard Conyers is a structural dynamicist at NASA by day—but his second passion is researching and documenting the history of African American barbecue, farming, and foodways. He has been featured in the New York Times, Southern Living, Bon Appétit, The Post and Courier, BBQ Beat, and many more publications, and has been a regular speaker at universities, foundations, and events.

DRINK LIGHTLY: A Lighter Take on Serious Cocktails, with 100+ Recipes for Low- and No-Alcohol Drinks
by Natasha David

Explore the lighter side of serious cocktails with 100 recipes for creative low-and no-alcohol drinks from the craft cocktail veteran behind New York City's beloved Nitecap bar.

DRINK LIGHTLY presents a relaxed style of drinking that goes down easy but is soundly rooted in the technical precision of craft cocktails. Light and refreshing, low-alcohol, aperitif-style drinks are charming delights that can elongate an enjoyable afternoon into a spontaneous dinner, then dessert, a walk, and perhaps even a spin under a disco ball. In award-winning bartender Natasha David's experienced hands, the classic aperitif transforms into something more: a blank canvas full of uncharted opportunity. Natasha's approach goes far beyond the formulaic--bitter liqueur plus soda--and takes full advantage of the incredible and vast array of low-proof spirits, liqueurs, and wines, along with flavorful fruit and herbal infusions. Served up with whimsy and a wink, DRINK LIGHTLY will delight novices and professionals alike with its joyful spirit and lighthearted offerings.

Natasha David is an award-winning bartender who has spent time at Maison Premiere, Donna, Dram, and Mayahuel. With the founders of Death & Co, she went on to open and co-own the popular New York City cocktail bar, Nitecap. Her recipes have been featured in various publications including the New York Times, Nylon, Vogue, Time Out, and Food & Wine. Her awards include Zagat's 30 Under 30 and Imbibe's Bartender of the Year.

EVOLUTIONS IN BREAD: Artisan Pan Breads and Dutch-Oven Loaves at Home [A baking book by the author of FLOUR WATER SALT YEAST] by Ken Forkish

In a return to form, EVOLUTIONS IN BREAD picks up where FLOUR WATER SALT YEAST left off. Building upon the rustic loaves Ken demystified making in his firstbook, he nowshows how to use those same methods to craft artisan pan loaves, elevating sandwich bread and breakfast toast to the same standard as rustic bakery loaves. Approachable to the home baker, while still being chock full of expert knowledge, this book covers long-fermented, high hydration doughs; pre-fermented doughs; and sourdough cultures. Forkish dives into the basics of starters before exploring more individualized recipes such as Japanese Milk Bread and Raisin Pecan Pan Loaf. Learn how to get professional, consistent results at home while making better tasting and longer lasting bread. His new starter method also uses less flour, so there's less waste throughout the process. This book will elevate anyone's baking game for pan loaves but also serves as a companion book to his first, giving the home baker everything they need to create any loaf imaginable.

Ken Forkish is the owner of Ken's Artisan Pizza and Ken's Artisan Bakery, which was named one of Gourmet magazine's "Best Restaurants in America." He trained at the San Francisco Baking Institute, the CIA Greystone, Toscana Saporita in Italy, and l'Institut Paul Bocuse in France. He is the bestselling author of THE ELEMENTS OF PIZZA and FLOUR WATER SALT YEAST, which won both a James Beard and IACP award.

FIRST GENERATION: Recipes from My Taiwanese-American Home by Frankie Gaw

In this stunning exploration of identity through food, blogger Frankie Gaw presents 100 recipes, including the dishes that defined his childhood as a first-generation Taiwanese American growing up in the Midwest.

In FIRST GENERATION, Frankie Gaw of the food blog Little Fat Boy presents a tribute to Taiwanese home cooking. With dishes passed down from generations of family, Gaw introduces a deeply personal and essential collection of recipes inspired by his multi-cultural experience, melding the flavors of suburban America with the ingredients and techniques his parents grew up with. In his debut cookbook, Gaw will teach you to master bao, dumplings, scallion pancakes, and so much more through stunning visuals and intimate storytelling about discovering identity and belonging through cooking the food of his heritage.

Frankie Gaw is a food writer, photographer, and designer. He is the blogger behind Little Fat Boy, which won the Saveur Blog of the Year award in 2019 and the IACP Individual Food blog award in 2020.

HALF BAKED HARVEST EVERY DAY: Recipes for Balanced, Flexible, and Feel-Good Meals by Tieghan Gerard

Tieghan's following has exploded since her last cookbook, and her fans are hungry for more of her trademark simple, wholesome decadence. Her third cookbook delivers with 125 all-new recipes for food you can feel good about—this time around, the recipes are just as easy as her last cookbook, HALF BAKED HARVEST SUPER SIMPLE, but they also bring a new, good-for-you feeling to the table.

Tieghan is a pro at creating recipes to light up all your senses. The food here—including Breakfast Tostadas with Cauliflower Chorizo, Giant Twisted Spinach and Artichoke Soft Pretzel, Oven Fried Nashville Hot Chicken, and No Fuss Blackberry Lavender Tart—doesn't just taste good. It's also fun to cook, it makes your whole kitchen smell fantastic, and it looks beautiful. Each recipe is accompanied by Tieghan's stunning photography that brings the food to life and transports you to her cozy kitchen in the snowy Colorado mountains.

Tieghan Gerard is a food photographer, stylist, recipe developer, and cookbook author. Her blog, Half Baked Harvest, features a hearty mix of savory, sweet, healthy, and indulgent recipes. She believes every diet should include a little bit of chocolate because balance is the key to life!

VEGAN MOB: Vegan BBQ and Soul Food
by Toriano Gordon

Discover 50 recipes for mouthwatering, accessible, and plant-based fast food from the cult favorite BBQ joint, Vegan Mob.

Toriano Gordon, the chef behind the vegan soul food eatery in Oakland, shows people that you don't have to compromise on cuisine or flavor to live a vegan lifestyle and that veganizing your favorite dishes does not have to be expensive or difficult. Featuring favorites from the restaurant as well as new recipes, VEGAN MOB takes popular dishes like Brisket, Smackaroni, and Candied Wings, and makes them easily available to home cooks. Toriano's journey into cooking is told through a playful voice, fun photography, and a unique perspective, letting his love of the Bay Area, hip hop, and of course, good-ass food shine through in this rebellious and real homage to his community.

Toriano Gordon is the chef and owner of Vegan Mob, an Oakland vegan soul food and BBQ restaurant. Born and raised in San Francisco, Toriano discovered a love of cooking hanging around his grandfather's restaurants, but spent twenty years recording and performing music before opening his immediately popular eatery. Vegan Mob has been covered in Eater and Food & Wine.

TANYA HOLLAND'S CALIFORNIA SOUL: Recipes from a Culinary Journey West

by Tanya Holland with Dr. Kelley Fanto Deetz

Through more than 80 seasonally inspired recipes, CALIFORNIA SOUL showcases chef Tanya Holland's unique take on modern soul food. Filtered through the rich history of African American migration to California, her recipes integrate the stories and cooking techniques of the southern United States while tracing the multifaceted migration stories of her ancestors and the African American families that shaped modern California soul food. Her inventive cuisine—"rooted in a Black Southern cultural repertoire with a 21st-century sensibility using local, sustainable, chef-driven, seasonal ingredients"—is showcased throughout the book. Through stunning portraiture and stories, Tanya shares 15 Black Californian foodmakers—farmers, wine makers, cattle ranchers, coffee roasters, and other talented food artisans—whose work help defines California soul food. Sidebars unlock the secrets behind key ingredients, techniques and traditions that African Americans brought with them as they left the South for California.

Tanya Holland is the executive chef and owner of Brown SugarKitchen and the executive chef of Town Fare. She is the author of BROWN SUGAR KITCHEN and NEW SOUL COOKING, was the host and soul food expert on the television series Melting Pot, and competed on the fifteenth season of Top Chef. She is the host of Tanya's Kitchen Table on the Oprah Winfrey Network. She holds a Grande Diplôme from La Varenne Ecole de Cuisine, and has served as the president of the prestigious San Francisco chapter of Les Dames d'Escoffier.

MASALA: Recipes from India, the Land of Spices
by Anita Jaisinghani

Award-winning chef Anita Jaisinghani of the Pondicheri restaurant in Houston, Texas shows just how easy, delicious, and healthy Indian food can be in this stunning and accessible debut cookbook. Born and raised in Gujarat, India, Anita's approach to cooking is simple: following the tenants of ancient Ayurveda, food is seasonal, texture and color are celebrated, and spices are used to enhance, not overwhelm. As the star of Indian cuisine, spices are used from morning to night, in simple infusions, such as cinnamon water for a warming start the day, while cilantro and mint add a cooling balance to a fiery grilled corn salad, and cardamom lends an aromatic sweetness to a slice of Chai Pie. MASALA will teach you to think like a true Indian chef, revealing the wisdom and techniques to cooking with fresh whole spices: identifying warming versus cooling, what order they should be cooked, how to temper in hot oil, and so much more.

Anita Jaisinghani is the chef-owner of Pondicheri restaurant in Houston, TX. Her restaurants have been nominated for over 5 James Beard awards, named best new restaurant by Bon Appetit, listed in the top 100 in Gourmet magazine, Travel and Leisure awarded it the best Indian restaurant in the country, and it spent 9 consecutive years at the top of Houston Chronicle's "25 Best Restaurants" list.

FLOUR POWER: The Practice and Pursuit of Baking Sourdough Bread
by Tara Jensen

Tara Jensen, the master bread baker who taught Claire Saffitz and Sean Brock how to make sourdough, introduces new and experienced bakers to approachable techniques and recipes for making sourdough, rye, and desem (hearty wheat) breads. The book is divided into two parts: the workshop and the recipes. In the workshop, bakers learn all about flour, how to knead and fold dough, write a bread formula, and how to troubleshoot starters and doughs. The recipes section is divided into chapters by bread type (sourdough, desem, rye, etc.). Recipes are categorized by difficulty level (beginner/intermediate/advanced) and there's also a helpful "snapshot" offering a start-to-finish quick takeaway of the loaf. Besides stunning photography by Johnny Autry, there are playful illustrations including color wheels, comic strips, and quizzes (What Kind of Baker Are You?).

FLOUR POWER is the bread book that lifts the curtain on the often mysterious and overly intense approach to baking naturally leavened bread, making it a more attainable and enjoyable pursuit for bakers of all levels.

Tara Jensen is the author of A BAKER'S YEAR and has been baking professionally for over twenty years. She worked at Red Hen Baking in Middlesex, Vermont; Farm & Sparrow in Asheville, North Carolina; with Jennifer Lapidus at Carolina Ground, also in Asheville and ran her own bakery, Smoke Signals. Her bread and pies have been featured in publications such as Food & Wine and Bon Appétit and she teaches bread baking workshops in West Virginia, where she lives with her husband and daughter.

LOVE TO EAT: 75 Easy, Craveworthy Recipes for Healthy, Intuitive Eating
 by Nicole Keshishian Modic

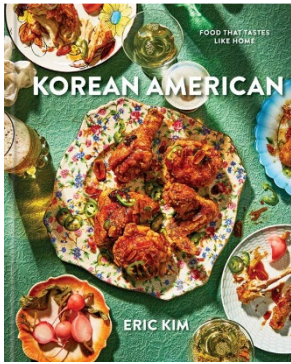

Love your body and yourself with 75 recipes that will leave you satisfied, happy, and confident.

Nicole Modic's lifelong battle with an eating disorder led her to find healing in the most unlikely place—the kitchen—as she turned former binge-foods into healthy but indulgent standards. In LOVE TO EAT, she shares her philosophy on food freedom, her mainstay recipes to feel great inside and out, and advice on how to carry that feel good attitude into other aspects of your life. The feel good food philosophy is centered around food freedom and intuitive eating – two principles that the wellness industry tries to uphold but tends to undermine by labeling food as “good” or “bad” and promoting restrictive, trendy diets. This is not a diet book—instead, LOVE TO EAT aims to shed light on disordered eating through recipes that leave readers feeling good and not craving their next meal. Through a blend of prescriptive how-to's and delicious dishes, Nicole teaches you how to truly love and care about the food you're eating—and yourself. She infuses her Armenian heritage into American classics, as with her Chocolate Chip Tahini Cookies, and focuses on simple, veggie-centric main dishes and family-friendly treats like Basic Cinnamon Banana Bread.

Nicole Keshishian Modic is the force behind the popular Instagram account @kalejunkie. Certified in functional nutrition, she has worked with brands like Whole Foods and has deep roots in the wellness community.

KOREAN AMERICAN: Food That Tastes Like Home
by Eric Kim

Food has always been central to Eric Kim's story, from Friday night Korean barbecue adventures with his family to the hybridized Korean-ish meals for one—like Jalapeno-Marinated Chicken Tacos with Watermelon Quick Kimchi—that he makes in his tiny New York City apartment. In this book, Eric shares 100 recipes alongside insightful, touching stories that not only detail what it means to be Korean American, but how, through food and cooking, a young writer found acceptance, strength, and the confidence to own his story. Playful, poignant, and informative, KOREAN AMERICAN also includes essays ranging from the racist history of Spam to how Eric came out to his mother—all the while teaching readers about Korean mother sauces, the Korean pantry, and the importance of white rice.

Eric Kim is a writer, editor, and recipe developer born and raised in Atlanta, Georgia by Korean immigrants. He worked his way through the literary and culinary world to eventually become a managing editor at Food Network and a senior editor at Food52, where he amassed a devoted readership of his "Table for One" column, which he still contributes to the site. Eric regularly contributes recipes and feature stories to the New York Times and is a contributing editor at Saveur. He is regularly featured in The Washington Post, Bon Appétit, and Food & Wine, as well as Epicurious and The Kitchn. He lives with his rescue pup in New York City.

ITALIAN WINE: A Guide to Modern Wines from the Old World
 by Shelley Lindgren and Kate Leahy

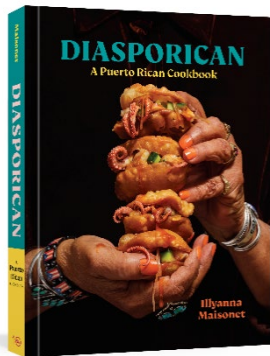

In this comprehensive guide to the “indie-rock” wines of Italy, you’ll discover what modern Italian wine looks like today: the makers shaping the industry, the styles in grape-growing, and the history that paved the path for this current movement. Uncover grapes thought to have gone extinct, such as Coda di Pecora and Pallagrello Bianco.

These are the untold stories of how ancient winemaking techniques and the complex network of mountain ranges, volcanos, and microclimates that make up Italy’s terrain have influenced one of the greatest shifts in modern Italian wine-making. Through the rise of unfamiliar grapes, the advent of the DOC system, a changing climate, and the diversity of the country’s wines, it’s easy to see what makes modern Italian wines so exciting. ITALIAN WINE is an exploration of the best wines of today, and how they came to be.

Shelley Lindgren is the wine director and partner of A16 and SPQR, restaurants which have long been known for championing Italian wines made with lesser-known grapes. She is the author of A16 FOOD + WINE and SPQR: Modern Italian Food and Wine, co-authored by Kate Leahy. Kate Leahy is a San Francisco chef-turned-journalist. She has written ten books, including WINE STYLE and A16 FOOD + WINE, the IACP cookbook of the year. Her work has appeared in publications from CNN’s Parts Unknown to EatingWell.

DIASPORICAN: A Puerto Rican Cookbook
by Illyanna Maisonet

Illyanna Maisonet spent years documenting her family’s Puerto Rican recipes and preserving the island’s disappearing foodways through rigorous, often bilingual research. In DIASPORICAN, she shares over 90 recipes passed down from her nana and mami—classics such as tostones, pernil, and pepper steak, as well as vibrant, lesser-known dishes such as pinchos with BBQ guava sauce, rabbit fricassee with chayote, cauliflower rice arroz con gandules, and flan de queso. In this visual record of Puerto Rican food, ingredients, and techniques, Illyanna traces the island’s flavor traditions to the Taino, Spanish, African—and even American—cultures that created it, with recipes that feature Northern California’s world-class produce. Full of incredible photography shot on location by Erika Rodriguez and food photography by Daniel Liberti, DIASPORICAN reveals how food connects us to history, family, war, migration, resilience, and haven.

Illyanna Maisonet was America’s first Puerto Rican food columnist for a major newspaper (SF Chronicle) and sold out pop-up dinners and lunches across the Bay Area and Sacramento. An IACP award winner for narrative food writing, she has collaborated with José Andrés for Steven Spielberg’s West Side Story wrap party, contributed recipes to Rancho Gordo, authored a crowdfunded cookbooklet, and has written for the LA Times, Saveur, Food52, Food & Wine, Eater SF, Lucky Peach, and more.

MI COCINA: Recipes and Rapture from My Kitchen in Mexico
 by Rick Martinez

Rick Martinez's MI COCINA is a delicious, regional, and stunning exploration of Mexican cooking. Mexico is more than tacos and enchiladas, and with his Mexican heritage combined with his experience at Bon Appétit and Food52, there is no one better qualified than Rick Martinez to introduce home cooks to the diversity of this culinarily rich country. In MI COCINA, Rick travels to each of the seven main regions in Mexico to explore 100 unique dishes. Just like Italy or America, Mexico is a country that expresses its regionality through food, from the golden hominy pozole made with shrimp and smoked jalapenos (Pozole Morita de Camarón) of Jalisco along the Northern Pacific coast to the Yucatan's pork belly tacos with Edam cheese and bitter orange salsa (Tacos de Castacán Con Queso).

Rick's goal is not to simplify or update recipes, but to present them to home cooks as honestly as possible, based on his favorite version of each dish, what he has experienced firsthand, and calling for ingredients that offer easy to source and even common to home kitchens.

Rick Martinez is the host of the Food52 video series "Sweet Heat" and a regular contributor to Bon Appétit magazine and the New York Times. He also hosts live, weekly cooking classes for the Food Network Kitchen. He currently resides in Mazatlán—cooking, eating, and enjoying the Mexican Pacific coast.

UNTITLED MARTHA'S ESSENTIALS
 by Editors of Martha Stewart Living

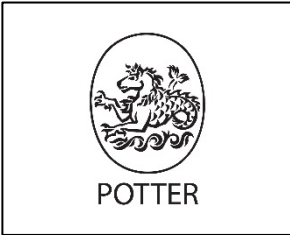

Martha Stewart presents her 100th book, a deeply personal collection of her most valued recipes and the memories behind them. This 100th cookbook will provide longtime fans not only with recipes that will instruct and inspire for years to come, but with stories and remembrances that celebrate Martha's life. Together these recipes reflect storied moments from her legendary life and career, including dishes that she turns to time and time again with family and friends like her mother's infamous pierogies, her father's birthday cake with orange curd filling, and the paella she makes for the luckiest house guests who get to visit her compound in Maine. Behind each dish is a memory Martha shares of who or what inspired it, how her cooking style and favorite foods have evolved through the years, and, as always, her best tips for gathering with the people you love. This is the ultimate collection for any Martha Stewart fan who wants to become more confident in the kitchen and continue to cook—and live—the Martha way.

Martha Stewart is America's most trusted lifestyle expert and teacher and the author of one hundred books on cooking, entertaining, crafts, home keeping, gardening, weddings, and decorating.

THE MAISON PREMIERE ALMANAC: Cocktails, Oysters, Absinthe, and Other Essential Nutrients for the Sensualist and Aesthete
 by Jordan Mackay, Joshua Boissy, Krystof Zizka, and William Elliot

Maison Premiere is one of the country's most popular and influential bars and has been a major player in both the craft cocktail revival and the bar and restaurant renaissance in New York City. Revered for its extravagant cocktails and immersive design, a visit to Maison Premiere is an experience that channels a time when cocktails were not merely a pleasure, but an essential part of daily life in late nineteenth century New York, New Orleans, and Paris. As captivating as the bar itself, the MAISON PREMIERE ALMANAC is both a visual delight—drawing on photography, illustration, and graphic design—and a detailed guide to the rarefied subjects that make Maison Premiere unique, including deep explorations into the art of the cocktail and cutting-edge bartending techniques and equipment. And while packed with curious information and useful knowledge on cocktails and bartending for both enthusiastic beginner bartenders and seasoned cocktail lovers, the Almanac is also a visually arresting objet d'art that will make a perfect addition to any bookshelf.

Joshua Boissy and Krystof Zyska are co-founders and co-owners of Maison Premiere, as well as co-owners of Premier Enterprises, a New York and London-based design and hospitality firm. William Elliot was an opening member of the bar staff of Maison Premiere and is now a partner and co-owner of Premier Enterprises. Jordan Mackay is journalist, writer, and co-author of several award-winning books on wine and food, including SECRETS OF THE SOMMELIERS, THE SOMMELIER'S ATLAS OF TASTE, FRANKLIN BARBECUE, and FRANKLIN STEAK.

FLAVOR+US: Cooking for Everyone
 by Rahanna Bisseret Martinez

A delicious dive into the technical aspects of cooking, including 80 recipes from a multitude of cuisines that allow the whole world to get a seat at the chopping board, stove, and table, from a Top Chef Junior finalist. In this approachable cookbook, Rahanna Bisseret Martinez teaches you how to make food from around the world that respects the earth, workers, and consumers. The book is filled with stories from Rahanna's experiences in her family's Mexican, Haitian, Creole, Californian kitchen; her time competing on Top Chef Junior; and the restaurants where she has worked. Through mouthwatering recipes accompanied by beautiful photography, Rahanna breaks down her techniques for frying, roasting, stir frying, steaming, infusing, pickling, simmering, and tempering. The lessons, tips, and tricks that she has learned since her culinary career launched at age thirteen are made easily accessible for the home cook.

Rahanna Bisseret Martinez began cooking when she was eight years old. In 2018, she was the second-place finisher in Top Chef Junior, which was watched by 56 million viewers. She has interned around the culinary world: at Dominique Ansel Bakery LA, Chez Panisse, Broken Spanish, Gwen LA, Wolfgang Puck at Hotel Bel Air, Emeril's, Compere Lapin, Californios, Reem's, Dyafa, Merchant Roots, Ms. Chi Café, Tartine Bakery, Mister Jiu's, and Ikoyi. Rahanna also caters for companies like Chrysler, NBC, and the Television Critics Association, and contributes recipes to The San Francisco Chronicle, The Today Show, and many others. She is also a contributor to BLACK FOOD. She lives in Oakland, California, with her family.

EVER-GREEN VIETNAMESE: Super-Fresh Recipes, Starring Plants from Land and Sea
by Andrea Nguyen

Although many people think of Vietnamese cooking as beefy pho and meat-filled sandwiches, traditional Vietnamese cooking has always involved a lot of plants and seafood and a little meat. In EVER-GREEN VIETNAMESE, award-winning author Andrea Nguyen shows how cooks in her home country draw on Buddhist traditions and ingrained resourcefulness to showcase a wide array of vegetables and herbs in flavorful, comforting recipes.

Filled with the brilliant advice and exceptional teaching Nguyen is known for, the book offers recipes for flavor-boosting condiments and sauces (including her incredible DIY vegan fish sauce), exciting ways to enjoy tofu, and dozens of vegetable-driven mains and sides, many of which can be customized for vegan diets. Full of cultural contextualization, loads of instruction, and practical cooking tips, EVER-GREEN VIETNAMESE is perfect for those looking to incorporate Vietnamese cooking into their busy, plant-based lives.

Andrea Nguyen is an author, teacher, and consultant based in the San Francisco Bay Area. Born in Vietnam, she came to the United States at the age of six. She has written INTO THE VIETNAMESE KITCHEN, THE BANH MI HANDBOOK, THE PHO COOKBOOK, ASIAN DUMPLINGS, ASIAN TOFU, and VIETNAMESE FOOD ANY DAY. Andrea's food writing has appeared in the Los Angeles Times, Wall Street Journal, Saveur, and Cooking Light.

COOK IT WILD: Sensational Make-Ahead Meals for Camping, the Cabin, and the Great Outdoors by Chris Nuttall-Smith

Enjoy incredible meals in the great outdoors with this savvy, fun camping cookbook of 80 easy-to-make, ridiculously delicious recipes. Food writer and camping aficionado Chris Nuttall-Smith shows readers how to bring the stress-free simplicity of meal-prepped cooking to the great outdoors.

Dividing each recipe by prep location, at home and at camp, his ingenious approach gets most (if not all!) of the cooking done before a trip even begins. Then at camp, many recipes simply have you drop fully-prepped ingredients into a pot or onto a grill, and just like that, you're dining on cumin lamb kebabs with fresh chapatis, the simplest high-summer cherry tomato pasta, or showstopping sweet-tangy ribs. Learn about the best-traveling cheeses, how to chill drinks when you don't have ice, how to pick (and use) a camp stove, and how to make great coffee in the wild! Even if your camping agenda brings you to the wilderness of your own backyard, you'll want to make these recipes for friends and family. With some simple prep and a bit of knowledge, COOK IT WILD proves that cooks and campers of every level can have the most spectacular campfire meals.

Chris Nuttall-Smith is a well-known food writer and critic, as well a Top Chef Canada resident judge. Chris has also served as food editor, chief restaurant critic, and dining columnist at Toronto Life and national food critic for The Globe and Mail. Chris's writing about food and other subjects has appeared in Lucky Peach, Esquire, Toronto Life, enRoute, The Wall Street Journal and New York Magazine. He lives in Toronto with his wife Carol, and son, Cormac.

SHAQ'S FAMILY STYLE: Championship Recipes for Feeding Family and Friends
by Shaquille O'Neal

Basketball hall-of-famer and cultural icon Shaquille O'Neal loves food. A lot. In fact, fans of Inside the NBA are just as likely to hear Shaq and co-host Charles Barkley discussing lunch as analyzing the action in the paint. Shaq's love for food, eating, and family cooking began in his childhood home, where his mom cooked for him and his three siblings. With his own family of five, he carries on the commitment to creating family connection and fun through food.

In SHAQ'S FAMILY STYLE, in his inimitable comedic style, he shares 60 recipes and 100 photographs for bringing family together around the table. From Lil' Shaq's Easy Mac to BBQ Sauce-Braised Chicken Legs with Sweet Potato Bake and Slow Cooker Spicy Jambalaya with Andouille Meatballs, these are meals that busy home cooks can get on the table after the kids' practice or when there's a houseful over to watch a game. Even novices will be able to cook these recipes with confidence the first time--and on replay. When the plates are cleared, it's time for banana pudding (there's always banana pudding!) or one of Shaq's other family-favorite desserts.

Shaquille O'Neal is a retired professional basketball player, four-time NBA champion, NBA and LSU hall of famer, entrepreneur, and cultural icon. Since playing for the Los Angeles Lakers, Orlando Magic, Miami Heat, Phoenix Suns, Cleveland Cavaliers, and Boston Celtics, O'Neal has worked as an NBA sports analyst for Inside the NBA on TNT, starred in the reality shows Shaq's Big Challenge and Shaq Vs, cohosted The Big Shaq Podcast, worked as a spokesperson for Krispy Creme and American Express, served as a board member for Papa John's and Five Guys, released four rap albums, opened Shaq's Big Chicken and Shaquille's restaurants in Los Angeles and Las Vegas, hosted Cook with Shaq on ShopHQ, and launched a line of cooking equipment. He is the father of five.

SWEET ENOUGH: A Baking Book
by Alison Roman

A simple, stylish, and just sweet enough baking book from Alison Roman, bestselling author of DINING IN and NOTHING FANCY.

Simple but sublime, Alison shows you how make sweets with her trademark casualness, like how to turn jam into a dessert (swirled into ice cream, folded into easy cake batter, spread onto a rough pastry dough). Make simple cakes that dirty only one bowl. Keep one crust recipe in your back pocket and turn it into any pie you want. Recipes like Salted Lemon Pie, Hot Buttered Rum Cake, and Toasted Rice Pudding make your sweetest dream come true in an instant. SWEET ENOUGH, is the baking and dessert book for people who think they don't have the time, skill, or precision to bake.

Alison Roman is the host of Home Movies, a series on YouTube, was a columnist for the New York Times Food section, and has held senior positions at Bon Appétit and Buzzfeed Food. The author of DINING IN and NOTHING FANCY, Alison has worked professionally in kitchens such as New York's Momofuku Milk Bar and San Francisco's Quince. A native of Los Angeles, she lives in Brooklyn.

UNTILED DESSERT PERSON 2
by Claire Saffitz

This is Claire Saffitz's follow up to her breakout best selling first cookbook, DESSERT PERSON, with more than 100 of her favorite sweet and simple recipes. As she describes it, "in my first book, everything was baked but not necessarily dessert—in my second book, everything is dessert but not necessarily baked." These recipes combine Claire's trademark pedagogically practical approach with a keen eye to flavor and purpose with a strict mandate of made simple, not simply made.

Claire Saffitz is bestselling author of DESSERT PERSON and host of the cookbook companion YouTube series Dessert Person. After graduating from Harvard University, she received a master's degree in culinary history from McGill in Montreal and then studied pastry in Paris at École Grégoire Ferrandi. She lives in New York City with her husband and two cats.

THE WITCHER COOKBOOK: An Official Guide to the Food of the Continent
by Anita Sarna and Karolina Krupecka

Immerse yourself in the world of The Witcher with 80 mouth-watering and restorative recipes inspired by the games, from hearty tavern fare and fortifying drinks to lavish banquets and feasts with friends. This beautifully photographed cookbook will immerse fans in the fantastical world of The Witcher through thoughtfully imagined, flavorful recipes that are professionally developed so that they can be prepared and enjoyed at home. Recipes organized by region will impart the distinct local flavors a witcher might sample as he travels the countryside in search of monsters to slay and coin to earn.

Dishes are deeply rooted in the Slavic origins of The Witcher's creators, celebrating local and seasonal ingredients and adding unique twists that evoke the fantasy realms of the Northern Kingdoms. Fans of the games will recognize nourishing staples such as the chicken sandwich, herb toasts, boeuf bourguignon, and flamiche, while hearty and wholesome dishes such as pickled forest mushrooms, potato dumplings, sauerkraut stew with plums, and Dandelion's rabbit with rosemary and thyme will restore even the weariest adventurer.

Anita Sarna is the founder of Nerds Kitchen, a blog dedicated to the food of video games. She is a self-taught cook and a game designer at Doji studio in Poznań, Poland.

MODERN CLASSIC COCKTAILS: 60+ Stories and Recipes from the New Golden Age in Drinks
by Robert Simonson

Learn to mix the most popular "modern classic" cocktails from the late 90s through the early 2010s in this collection of 60+ recipes with entertaining background stories from New York Times spirits writer Robert Simonson. One of the greatest dividends of the revival in cocktail culture that began in the 1990s has been the relentless innovation. More new cocktails—and good ones—have been invented in the past thirty years than during any period since the first golden age of cocktails, which roughly lasted from the 1870s until the arrival of Prohibition in 1920. Just as that first bar-world zenith produced a half-century of classic recipes—drinks we still enjoy today, like the Martini, Manhattan, Daiquiri, Tom Collins, Sazerac, and many, many more—this century's eruption of talent over the past two decades has handily delivered its share of drinks that have found favor with arbiters on both sides of the bar. But what actually elevates a modern cocktail into the echelon of a modern classic? Robert Simonson will explore all that and more, with origin stories and recipes for today's modern classic cocktails like the White Negroni, Death Flip, Old Cuban, Paper Plane, the Siesta, and many more.

Robert Simonson writes about cocktails, spirits, bars, and bartenders for the New York Times. He is the author of A PROPER DRINK, THE OLD-FASHIONED, 3-INGREDIENT COCKTAILS, THE MARTINI COCKTAIL, and MEZCAL & TEQUILA COCKTAILS. His writing has appeared in Saveur, Food & Wine, GQ, LuckyPeach, Whisky Advocate, Imbibe, and PUNCH, where he is a contributing editor.

I DREAM OF DINNER (SO YOU DON'T HAVE TO): Low-Effort, High-Reward Recipes
by Ali Slagle

I DREAM OF DINNER (SO YOU DON'T HAVE TO) is the ultimate road map to dinner. With time-pressed cooks, limited ingredients, and maximum joy in mind, Ali's practical and creative recipes are for anyone who's ever stared down that lonely head of romaine in their fridge wondering how to make tonight's dinner different from the night before. Like she does with her popular New York Times recipes, Ali combines readily available, inexpensive vegetables and proteins with diverse pantry staples to create short, to-the-point recipes—each use fewer than eight ingredients, are ready to eat in less than forty-five minutes, and are made with the fewest pans possible. Divided by essential ingredients and approaches, chapters include quick tricks for flexibility so that dinner bends to your life, not the other way around. Ali, a home cook turned recipe developer, guides with a reassuring calm, puckish curiosity, and a desire for everyone, everywhere, to make great food—and fast. Whether in need of calm and comfort, fire and fun, or divine inspiration on yet another Wednesday, I DREAM OF DINNER (SO YOU DON'T HAVE TO) will leave hungry, hurried readers completely satisfied.

Ali Slagle is a recipe developer, stylist, and—most of all—home cook. She's a frequent contributor to the New York Times and Washington Post, where she's published hundreds of low-investment, high-reward recipes. Previously, she cut her teeth on the editorial and creative teams at Food52 and Ten Speed Press. You'll find her in Brooklyn, without a dishwasher, food processor, or stand mixer.

SIMPLY WEST AFRICAN: Easy, Joyful Recipes for Every Kitchen
by Pierre Thiam with Lisa Katayama

This is West African food for every kitchen, a generous, warm welcome to its delicious, irresistible culinary mainstays and rhythms. If you already cook with ingredients like hearty greens, yams, black-eyed peas, and okra, or have enjoyed Southern staples like jambalaya and gumbo, you have tasted the deep culinary influences of this interconnected region that spans Senegal, Ghana, Côte d'Ivoire, Cameroon, Nigeria, and more.

In SIMPLY WEST AFRICAN, celebrated chef and West African cooking authority Pierre Thiam unlocks the region's essential tastes for the everyday home cook. With helpful tips and tricks that teach readers the basics of the cuisine, Pierre shows how easily these flavorful, easy-to-execute dishes can become weeknight staples or the star of your table for weekend gatherings. With this book, you too will fill your kitchen with the comforting, irresistible flavors and beautiful spirit of West Africa.

Chef, restaurateur, and cookbook author Pierre Thiam was raised in Dakar, Senegal. He is the executive chef of the award-winning restaurant Nok by Alara in Lagos, Nigeria and the Signature Chef of the five-star Pullman Hotel in Dakar, Senegal as well as the executive chef and co-owner of Teranga, in New York City. Lisa Katayama is a Toyko-born writer who has been featured in Wired and The New York Times Magazine and is the author of URAWAZA: Secret Everyday Tips and Tricks from Japan.

JUKE JOINTS, JAZZ CLUBS, AND JUICE: A COCKTAIL RECIPE BOOK:
A Celebration of Black Mixology
 by Toni Tipton-Martin

Discover the fascinating, unexplored history of Black mixology and its enduring influence on cocktail and drinking culture through rediscovered recipes, from the James Beard Award–winning author of JUBILEE.

Just as JUBILEE told the delicious story of African Americans’ essential influence on American cuisine, this cookbook presents cocktail recipes that illustrate the history of African American mixology and the individuals behind their creation and lore. Drawing on her expertise and research in historic and rare cookbooks stretching back over a century, Toni Tipton-Martin shows us how these drinks—from historic sources as well as modern interpretations of centuries-old classics—showcase excellence in Black hospitality through the ages. Accompanied by notes from today’s black leaders in the beverage world, this book paints a vivid portrait not only of this history but also of today’s black mixologists, winemakers, distillers, and producers that make up the diverse array of talent in the cocktail community.

Toni Tipton-Martin is a culinary journalist and community activist and the author of the James Beard Award–winning THE JEMIMA CODE. Her collection of more than three hundred African American cookbooks has been exhibited at the James Beard House, and she has twice been invited to the White House to participate in First Lady Michelle Obama’s programs to raise a healthier generation of kids. Tipton-Martin is a founding member of the Southern Foodways Alliance and Foodways Texas. In 2021, she was named the Julia Child Award recipient.

ALL ABOUT COOKIES: A Milk Bar Baking Book
 by Christina Tosi

Christina Tosi—founder of Milk Bar, MasterChef Junior judge, host of the new Netflix show Bake Squad, and inventor of the original Compost Cookie—is back with a mind-blowing collection of new cookie recipes, and inspiration on how to create your own masterpiece. In ALL ABOUT COOKIES, Christina Tosi brings us into a cookie wonderland, with recipes from and inspired by fan favorites at her Milk Bar bakeries and beyond. No cookie form is left unturned, from classic crispies to sandies, sammies, chewies, bars, and even no-bakes. She revamps an old classic into the S’Moreo, takes us on a flavor journey with blueberry-and-corn bars, and blows minds with a jelly-donut cookie sandwich. And all that creativity is meant to rub off: Through over 80 recipes, she shows us how to mix and match ideas, flavors, and textures to make you into a cookie wizard yourself, whether you’re a new baker or a pro.

Christina Tosi is the two-time James Beard Award-winning chef and owner of Milk Bar, with locations in New York City, Toronto, Washington D.C., Boston, Las Vegas, and Los Angeles. She is also a judge on Fox’s MasterChef Junior series and was featured on the hit Netflix docu-series Chef’sTable: Pastry. She is the author of MOMOFUKU MILK BAR, MILK BAR LIFE, ALL ABOUT CAKE, and MILK BAR: KIDS ONLY.

TREJO'S CANTINA
by Danny Trejo

A cantina-style celebration of Mexican food, drink, and Hollywood culture from legendary actor, L.A. restaurateur, and cookbook author Danny Trejo. In TREJO'S CANTINA, Danny shares recipes for snacks and drinks that celebrate his traditions and spirit. He includes helpful tips like how to serve large crowds, how to build a booze-free bar, how to master the tamale, how to mix-and-match salsas, and much more. He reminisces about his upbringing in Los Angeles from barhopping with uncles on Olvera Street to his memories of sneaking into movie theaters to cool off and watching films wide-eyed and inspired. Danny's approach to entertaining is accessible, celebratory, and empowering to cooks of all skill levels. TREJO'S CANTINA, at its heart, is about living to the fullest, and about how no matter what happens, you need to eat well, you need to drink with gratitude, and you need to celebrate life.

Danny Trejo is an American actor and author of TREJO'S TACOS. He has a prolific career in the entertainment industry, starring in dozens of films, including Desperado, Heat, From Dusk Till Dawn, Con Air, Spy Kids, Grindhouse, Star Wars and Machete. A Los Angeles native, Trejo began building his restaurant empire in L.A. in 2016, opening Trejo's Tacos, followed by Trejo's Cantina and Trejo's Coffee & Donuts. He now has nine locations and a food truck.

DANIELLE WALKER'S HEALTHY IN A HURRY: Real Life, Real Food, Real Fast
[A Gluten-Free and Dairy-Free Cookbook]
by Danielle Walker

New York Times bestselling author of the Against All Grain series presents more than 150 quick-and-easy recipes for getting healthy—grain-free, gluten-free, dairy-free—food to the table fast, including no-cook lunches, stir-fries and skillet meals, one-pot and sheet-pan meals, desserts, and more.

In her fifth cookbook, beloved author Danielle Walker proves that healthy cooking is both doable and oh-so-satisfying. In HEALTHY IN A HURRY, Danielle presents more than 150 recipes inspired by her sunny California lifestyle and diverse cuisines from around the world—all tweaked by her capable hand to be free of grain, gluten, and dairy. And if that weren't good enough, all of these recipes are super simple and fast to make, giving busy people with dietary restrictions lots of ways to eat well on a tight schedule—and budget.

Danielle Walker is a New York Times bestselling cookbook author, health advocate, wellness expert, and self-trained chef. After being diagnosed with an autoimmune disease at age 22 and suffering for many years, Danielle found health through dietary and lifestyle changes. Danielle regularly shares her health journey, recipes, and expert tips on TODAY, TheDoctors, E! News, Access Hollywood, Hallmark's Home & Family, and many other nationally syndicated shows. Her work has been featured in People, O Magazine, USA Today, Shape, Women's Health, Parents, Well + Good, and more.

SIMPLE PASTA: Pasta Made Easy, Life Made Better
by Odette Williams

Anyone can make homemade pasta; the process is easy to master and endlessly satisfying. Author Odette Williams focuses on just three basic doughs, followed by instructions for creating shapes with and without a roller. But even if you prefer store-bought pasta, she delivers recipes for seasonal sauces, creating meals meant to be savored with friends.

Discover new favorites like Sautéed Baby Asparagus & Fava with Saffron Spaghetti and Saucy Spicy Sausage & Creamy Mustard Tagliatelle, along with reimagined classics like Cacio e Pepe and Carbonara. Peppered throughout are recipes for side dishes, drinks, and desserts, helping anyone recreate la dolce vita at home. SIMPLE PASTA welcomes you to experience the everyday, simple joy of pasta.

Odette Williams is an Australian expat, baking fanatic, and the author of Simple Cake, which was named one of the best cookbooks of the year by the New York Times. After becoming a mother, Odette realized that she couldn't find any keepsake apron sets for her young children to don when they baked together, so she made some herself. Friends started asking for aprons for their own children, and Odette launched her eponymous brand. Odette Williams products very quickly got picked up by leading retailers, including J. Crew, Anthropologie, ABC Carpet, Le Bon Marche, and Barneys.

FLOWERS AND THEIR MEANINGS: The Secret Language and History of 600 Blooms
by Karen Azoulay

Bring fresh meaning to your houseplants, bouquets, and floral arrangements with this illustrated exploration of the rituals, cultures, and mythology behind 600 blooms, herbs, and trees.

In the Victorian language of flowers, hundreds of blooms were ascribed specific meanings based on mythology, science, foreign language, and ancient history. Page through this botanical encyclopedia to learn each flower's Victorian meaning (blackberry, for example, represents "envy" while ranunculus boldly states, "I am dazzled by your charms"), other common names for the bloom, and read about each flower's cultural history. There is also an index of the flowers grouped by theme, should you want to challenge your local florist with creating a coded message for a loved one.

Karen Azoulay pairs vintage botanical drawings with electric photography, creating a one-of-a-kind flower dictionary with a distinctly mystic feel. FLOWERS AND THEIR MEANINGS is both a beautiful volume and a practical guide to incorporating the language of flowers into your own life.

Karen Azoulay is an interdisciplinary artist and author whose performance and sculptural art explores earth-elements and the female form. Her projects have been featured and reviewed in publications such as the New York Times, New Yorker, Hyperallergic, and Vogue. Recent exhibitions include Semi-Precious, a solo show at Essex Flowers in New York, and Root of the Head at Simone DeSousa Gallery in Detroit.

THINGS YOU CAN DO: How to Fight Climate Change and Reduce Waste
by Eduardo Garcia, Illustrations by Sara Boccaccini Meadows

Award-winning climate journalist Eduardo Garcia offers a deeply researched and user-friendly guide to the things we can do every day to reduce climate change. Based on his popular New York Times column "One Thing You Can Do," this fully illustrated book turns an overwhelming problem into simple actions.

No lectures here—just accessible and inspiring ideas to reduce emissions and waste in our daily lives, with over 350 explanatory illustrations by beloved watercolorist Sara Boccaccini Meadows. In each chapter, Garcia defines the issue, then delivers a wealth of "things you can do" to make a positive impact. Delivering a decisive hit of knowledge with every turn of the page, THINGS YOU CAN DO is the book for people want to do more to save the planet.

Eduardo Garcia, a native of Spain, cut his teeth working as a Reuters correspondent and has reported from over a dozen countries in his more than fifteen years as a journalist. Recently, Eduardo has written dozens of stories giving New York Times' readers advice on how to reduce their carbon footprint.

Sara Boccaccini Meadows is an artist, illustrator, and textile designer living in Brooklyn, NY. She uses watercolor and gouache to create quirky illustrations and has collaborated with many amazing brands, publishers and agencies.

BACKYARD WONDERS: Connect with Nature Wherever You Are
by Kathryn Hunter with Bo Hunter

BACKYARD WONDERS is an illustrated celebration of the vast natural diversity of the world, found by simply stepping outside. This guide to backyard (or front stoop!) nature encourages you to notice every sight, sound, and smell—to lose yourself in the rustle of leaves, the chirping of crickets, the smell of mown grass—as a way of understanding the wonders of our complex, beautiful planet.

BACKYARD WONDERS encourages mindful interaction with our surroundings and embracing the simple joys offered by the great outdoors. Each section opens with a mindfulness prompt like "notice the small things" or "discover patterns," encouraging curiosity about the interactions between bugs or the grandeur of a Monarch butterfly's metamorphosis. Learn about foraging, sacred geometry, moon phases, animal tracks, clouds, weather, and more. As you leaf through BACKYARD WONDERS, you will find your understanding of nature's everyday feats expanding. Let wonder and curiosity bloom as you embark on this illustrated journey through your own backyard.

Kathryn Hunter is a printmaker and mixed media artist in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Since 2003, she has run Blackbird Letterpress, a small letterpress printshop that designs, prints, and assembles handmade notebooks, quirky animal-shaped greeting cards, and products featuring inspiring women. She exhibits her fine artwork in galleries across the US. Her artwork incorporates animals as characters in the folktale tradition, commenting on false prophets, social justice, America's freedom, and the erosion of our environment.

HOW TO BE MORE SHREK: An Ogre's Guide to Life
by NBC Universal

“There’s a lot more to ogres than people think. Ogres are like onions. Onions have layers. Ogres have layers.” – Shrek

An illustrated guide to embracing your inner ogre and living your truth, mud, farts, and all. With bite-sized advice that feels attainable rather than exhausting, HOW TO BE MORE SHREK will teach you how to set boundaries, peel back your layers, learn to love your inner (and outer) ogre, fill your swamp with all the right fairytale creatures, and make your own happily ever after.

Just as Shrek is the anti-fairytale fairytale, this funny little gift book will be the anti-self-help self-help book, so you can have your eyeball jelly on toast and eat it too.

TREES: An Illustrated Celebration
by Kelsey Oseid

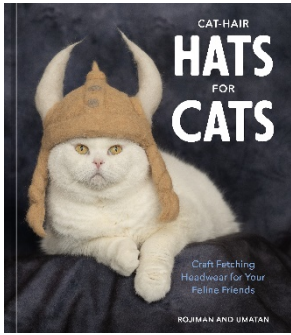

Discover the wonder of trees—one of the most essential life forms on the planet—in this beautifully illustrated, entertaining, and educational guide from acclaimed author and artist Kelsey Oseid.

Trees are fascinating: They live longer than anything else on Earth and can't die of old age. More than half their species exist in a single country—can you guess which one? (Brazil.) They provide oxygens for us to breathe, and each absorbs nearly fifty pounds of carbon dioxide a year. They care for each other by trading water and nutrients through soil fungi and warning one another of drought and disease.

In TREES, celebrated artist and author Kelsey Oseid shows us just how vital trees are to the health and beauty of our planet. The world's most stunning, strange, and noteworthy trees (from dragon's blood to monkey-puzzle) come to life in her playfully detailed style. Full of striking naturalistic art and fun scientific facts, TREES will delight and inspire nature lovers of all ages.

Kelsey Oseid is an illustrator, painter, artist, and amateur naturalist. She has illustrated a variety of children's books and runs an online shop where she sells prints and original pieces of her nature-themed work. She is the author of WHAT WE SEE IN THE STARS, WHALES, and NESTS, EGGS, BIRDS.

Instagram favorites rojiman and umatan provide fully illustrated instructions for constructing more than 25 cat hats, along with basic techniques so you can build your own custom designs, plus tips for brushing your cats, cleaning the hair, photographing your cats, and more! Your cat will be the belle of the ball as they transform into everything from Sherlock Holmes to a ferocious lion or a magical unicorn.

Japanese photographer Rojiman first came up with the idea of making hats out of cat hair when he saw hat-shaped ball of cat fur on the floor. Now, his wife Umatan designs the headgear, they work together to make each hat, and rojiman photographs the hats on their three feline models. The results are showcased on their popular Instagram page @rojiman, and have been featured in British museums, Japanese media, Bored Panda, and on a line of Japanese products including playing cards, washi tape, calendars, stickers, and postcards.

THE NAMEPLATE: Jewelry, Culture, Identity
by Marcel Rosa-Salas and Isabel Flower

Nameplate jewelry is a custom piece that comes in many shapes, styles, and sizes—from minimalist necklaces with a single initial to bejeweled rings with a full name. THE NAMEPLATE is a photographic celebration and deep-dive into the history and cultural significance of nameplate jewelry from the creators of the Documenting the Nameplate project (a wide-reaching research project which collects photographs and stories from people and communities across the country).

Featuring essays and interviews with influential figures, archival art, and a historical exploration into the multifaceted and often overlooked significance of nameplate jewelry, THE NAMEPLATE is a celebration of nameplate jewelry and the people who make, wear, and cherish it.

Marcel Rosa-Salas is an anthropologist and documentary filmmaker from Brooklyn. She researches and lectures on the cultural power that marketing & technology have in shaping our ideas about race, capitalism, and identity at the University of Illinois at Chicago as an assistant professor of marketing. She is the cohost of the Top Rank podcast and co-founder of Documenting the Nameplate.

Isabel Flower is a New York City-based writer and editor. She is an executive editor at Cultured magazine. Her writings on art, style, and cultures of consumption have been published in Artforum, Bookforum, The New Yorker, The Wall Street Journal, Cultured, Grailed, and Kaleidoscope, among others. Flower is the cohost of the Top Rank podcast and cofounder of Documenting the Nameplate.

WEIRD TO EXIST: Simple Comics About Complex Emotions
by Alison Zai

Vibrant yet darkly humorous comics for commiserating over life's deepest concerns, from Instagram artist Alison Zai.

We all know the gut-wrenching pang that comes after accepting a beautiful moment will soon become a distant memory. We all get into cycles where it feels like the failures and disappointments just keep coming. Instagram comics artist Alison Zai presents WEIRD TO EXIST, a collection of 100 comics that depict these universal emotions and existential musings with great accuracy and empathy.

This bright, colorful book is divided into three intrinsic human acts—loving, creating, and existing--and, ultimately, comments on how weird it is to do all of that. Zai's cheery anthropomorphic characters go through the motions of relationships, loneliness, creativity blocks, mental health concerns, social anxiety, and more. These comics voice the overwhelming dread and unpredictable chaos found in all aspects of being alive. With sharp levity and emotional complexity, WEIRD TO EXIST captures the feelings that are not easily communicated but widely felt. This collection features 30 never-before-published comics alongside a selection of beloved fan favorites from Zai's Instagram account.

Alison Zai is a comics artist who has garnered success by sharing her art on Instagram and Tumblr. She lives in Los Angeles where she is expanding her career as an artist.

SAVE THE CAT! WRITES A YOUNG ADULT NOVEL: The Ultimate Guide to Writing a YA Bestseller
by Jessica Brody

An indispensable guide that reveals the 15 essential plot points needed to make any young adult novel a success from the bestselling Save the Cat! story-structure series and the author of SAVE THE CAT! WRITES A NOVEL.

Novelist and author of SAVE THE CAT! WRITES A NOVEL Jessica Brody presents a story-structure guide for anyone who wants to write a young adult novel by applying the famed Save the Cat! screenwriting methodology to the world of YA writing. Revealing the fifteen "beats" (plot points) that comprise a successful story--from the opening image to the finale--this book lays out the Ten Story Genres, focusing on the ones most commonly found in young adult novels (e.g. Rites of Passage, Superhero, Buddy Love) alongside quirky, original insights (Save the Cat; Shard of Glass) to help novelists craft a novel that will captivate and sell.

Jessica Brody is the author of SAVE THE CAT! WRITES A NOVEL and an internationally bestselling author of young adult and women's fiction including BETTER YOU THAN ME, ADDIE BELL'S SHORTCUT TO GROWING UP, BOYS OF SUMMER, and a series for Disney Press based on the hit Disney Channel original movie Descendants. Previously, she worked for MGM Studios as manager of acquisitions and business development, and she currently teaches Save the Cat! workshops to novelists. She lives in Seattle.

BLACK PEOPLE BREATHE: A Mindfulness Guide to Racial Healing
by Zee Clarke

In BLACK PEOPLE BREATHE, mindfulness teacher Zee Clarke draws on her professional expertise and her perspective as a Black woman to offer mindfulness exercises, breathwork practices, and meditative tools centered on healing and survival for Black people in America. Studies show that mindfulness can ease mental health concerns, and having experienced the benefits firsthand, Clarke shares the practices that have been essential to her well-being. Each chapter highlights one of the many systemic challenges that Black people face, offering exercises based on the emotions elicited from these experiences. Whether you're coping with police brutality, racial profiling, microaggressions, or even imposter syndrome, Clarke prescribes practical techniques that will help you process these complex feelings mentally, physically, and emotionally. Beautifully designed with gorgeous, vibrant illustrations, BLACK PEOPLE BREATHE takes an inclusive approach to mindfulness, centering and validating the experiences of the Black community.

Founder of Reclaiming Flow, Zee Clarke leverages her toolkit of meditation, breathwork, yoga, and much more, to teach people of color how mindfulness can improve their well-being at work. She has trained Black employees at leading brands like Facebook and The North Face, and she teaches Black people across the nation who have never meditated before how to use mindfulness tools to heal from microaggressions, racism, and the anxiety, fear, and self-doubt that often can occur as a result.

PERMISSION TO REST

By Ashley Neese

In a culture that constantly tells us to do more of everything, including nothing, PERMISSION TO REST is a passionate cry for a more regulated, resourced, and rested life. Author and wellness expert Ashley Neese combines personal essays, contemplative questions, scientific research, and somatic practices to help readers disrupt the trance of urgency, reflect inward, and rest deeply. Neese invites in readers who are ready to question their beliefs around rest and offers support around the very real challenges of shame, guilt, and discomfort that often arise when we attempt to slow down. Neese builds on the work she does in How to Breathe to present a series of body-focused rest practices. She addresses common roadblocks when beginning a rest practice, the incredible health benefits of prioritizing rest, and a number of holistic resources for developing a sustainable relationship to rest.

PERMISSION TO REST is both a timely manifesto and compassionate call to action. In her signature warm, grounding, and authoritative style, Neese invites each reader to pause, look inward, learn to feel their own rhythms, and value rest as a deeply healing, empowering, and spiritual practice. This book is a radical reminder that we have the power to transform our lives from the inside out.

Ashley Neese holds an MFA from the California College of the Arts and is certified in breathwork, somatic trauma touch, Hatha yoga, and energy medicine. Ashley has practiced breathwork for years and studied with some of the world's leading masters. She works with clients all over the world, including BuzzFeed and WeWork, and has been featured in Elle Japan, Vogue, Well + Good, MindBodyGreen, and the Nourished Journal. She opened the GOOP On Health summit in 2018 and is a regular contributor to the GOOP site. She is also the author of HOW TO BREATHE (September Publishing).

EMILY POST'S ETIQUETTE, 20th EDITION

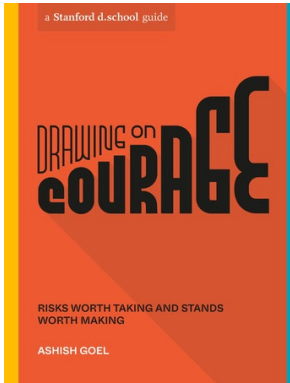

By Lizzie Post and Daniel Post Senning

For the past 100 years, Emily Post has been the definitive source for how to navigate—and enhance—every interaction. In today's multi-ethnic, gender-diverse, and intersectional world, there has never been a greater need for a trusted primer on treating yourself and others with confidence and kindness.

With a thorough resource section featuring charts and summaries, this beautifully and usefully illustrated edition includes focused content and poll statistics that offer the breadth of American perspectives while celebrating the history of etiquette with excerpts from the original 1922 edition. From advice on gender, titles, names, and pronouns to smartphone and social media etiquette in both professional and personal situations, this highly visual, easy-to-use reference will provide everything you need to move through the world with consideration, respect, and honesty.

Lizzie Post is the great-great-granddaughter of Emily Post, author of HIGHER ETIQUETTE and HOW DO I WORK THIS LIFE THING?, as well as a co-author of the 19th and 18th editions of Emily Post's Etiquette. She is co-president of the Emily Post Institute as well as co-host of the Awesome Etiquette podcast. She shares etiquette advice across the country and been interviewed on the Today show, Katie, Fox & Friends, Live with Kelly and Michael, the Gayle King Show, the Wendy Williams Show, Slate, Refinery29, Vanity Fair, NFL Films, the New York Times, Washington Post, and more.

Daniel Post Senning is the great-great grandson of Emily Post and the author of MANNERS IN A DIGITAL WORLD: Dan teaches business etiquette seminars worldwide and co-hosts the Awesome Etiquette podcast with his cousin, Lizzie Post. He has appeared on the Today show, the History Channel, ESPN, and Better TV; contributed to HuffPost; and been interviewed by such publications as the New York Times, Slate, Esquire, GQ, Glamour, Time magazine, the Wall Street Journal, and more.

DRAWING ON COURAGE: Risks Worth Taking and Stands Worth Making
by Ashish Goel and Stanford d.school

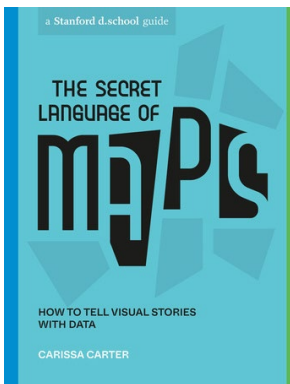

In this book, designer, entrepreneur, and d.school teaching fellow Ashish Goel examines what it takes to be courageous. Using comics to illustrate real-world situations, Goel asks and answers four key questions: Why is it hard to create work in the first place? Why do things fall apart when other people get involved? What does it take to do work that isn't just good, but good? And how do you do work that is your own? Each chapter features a series of tools designed to develop a mindset of fearlessness: Open the Tap to generate new ideas, Seek a Streak to take the all-important first step, Make a Birdbox to focus your attention, and much more.

Ashish Goel is a designer, entrepreneur, and founder of Boca Sparkling Water. A former teaching fellow at the Stanford d.school and key collaborator on the Stanford 2025 project, Ashish has taught classes on media, communication, and data design. He is the former head of design at Zomato (India's larger-scale Yelp!), and has launched and run design divisions for multiple international companies.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. Each year, more than a thousand students from all disciplines attend classes, workshops, and programs to learn how the thinking behind design can enrich their own work and unlock their creative potential.

THE SECRET LANGUAGE OF MAPS: How to Tell Visual Stories with Data
by Carissa Carter and Stanford d.school

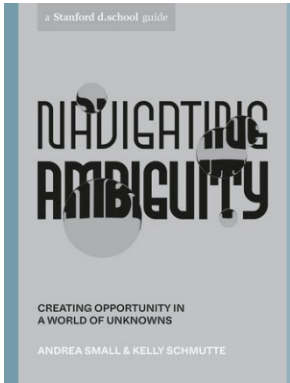

A riveting mystery story about Marion Marlow and the disappearance of one of her old high school friends is woven in between instruction about the different kinds of maps we use to make sense of data and our surroundings. We learn how map design can take different forms to understand information. In this book, designer and d.school professor Carissa Carter examines how maps aren't just birds' eye views of roads and highways, mountains and deserts. Maps are also ways of organizing data. Graphs, diagrams, and timelines are maps. Even stories can be mapped!

Carissa Carter is a designer, geoscientist, and Director of Teaching and Learning at the Stanford d.school. Carissa drives the d.school's pedagogy and teaches courses on the intersection of data and design, design for climate change, maps, and the visual sorting of information. She helped helm the d.school's seminal 2025 future of higher education project and continues to pursue projects at the crossover between design, science, and technology. "I Love Algorithms," Carissa's recent foray into making emerging tech more accessible, won a prestigious Core-77 design award and was also named one of the most innovative designs of 2019 by Fast Company.

NAVIGATING AMBIGUITY: Creating Opportunity in a World of Unknowns
by Andrea Small and Stanford d.school

Any design process is fundamentally limited. It might show the process as a series of steps, in sequence. But we don't always work this way. NAVIGATING AMBIGUITY underscores how the creative process isn't formulaic. Through bolstering a designer's confidence, this book shows how to surrender control through being adaptable, curious, and unbiased as well as resourceful, tenacious, and courageous. Cut white paper sculptures and collage are photographed as illustrations to show ways in which designers can rethink their work of creating without hitting the usual roadblocks that slow down work. The result is a more open and satisfying journey from assignment or idea to finished product.

Andrea Small is an author, educator, experienced strategist, and a teaching fellow at Stanford's d.school. Previously, she was the Director of Product and Portfolio Strategy at Herman Miller and Strategy Lead at Yves Behar's design firm fuseproject. Her vast experience in design strategy includes work with some of the world's most iconic brands including the Nike Foundation, Nivea, GE, Starbucks, Samsung, and more.

DESIGN FOR BELONGING: How to Build Inclusion and Collaboration in Your Communities
by Susie Wise and Stanford d.school

An illustrated guide to using design to create feelings of inclusion in groups of all types and sizes, from Stanford University's world-renowned Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, aka, the d.school. In DESIGN FOR BELONGING, author and educator Susie Wise explains how to use simple levers of design to set the stage for belonging to emerge. Inspiration and stories from leaders and scholars are paired with frameworks, tools, tips, and concrete offerings, providing an opportunity to try on different approaches. By the end of the book, you'll be able to spot where greater belonging is needed and actively shape your world to cultivate it—whether it's a party, a high-stakes meeting, or a new national organization.

Dr. Susie Wise is a designer and teacher with experience in the education, tech, and social sectors. She coaches leaders in innovation practices, equity design, and storytelling for inclusion; is the founder and former director of the K12 Lab Network at the Stanford d.school; and a co-creator of Liberatory Design.

YOU NEED A MANIFESTO

by Charlotte Burgess-Auburn and Stanford d. school

YOU NEED A MANIFESTO instructs you how to create a personal motto that can serve as a compass in work and creative life, helping to set intention and accomplish your goals, from Stanford University's world-renowned Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, aka the d.school. We all need agency, to feel the power and joy of acting in the face of challenge and opportunity. But we also need humility and restraint, to ensure that we guard against hubris and harm. We need trusted and testable navigation tools, to give us confidence in our creative power, and cautiousness in carrying out our work. Instead of looking for answers, what we are all seeking are tools for navigating the increasingly complex, noisy, conflicted culture that we inhabit. A personal manifesto is one of those tools.

Explanations and hands-on design-based exercises are interwoven in the book with vibrant quotes and excerpts from a curated collection of designers, artists, writers, scientists, and social activists.

Charlotte Burgess-Auburn is director of community at the Stanford d.school.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. Each year, more than a thousand students from all disciplines attend classes, workshops, and programs to learn how the thinking behind design can enrich their own work and unlock their creative potential.

CREATIVE HUSTLE: Blaze Your Own Path and Make Work That Matters
by Olatunde Sobomehin, Sam Seidel, and Stanford d. school

In CREATIVE HUSTLE, authors Olatunde Sobomehin and Sam Seidel help you identify and navigate a creative path from your gifts—your combination of unique skills—to your goals, where you get paid to do what you love. You'll learn by unpacking the stories of other creative hustlers, like Bryant Terry, who merged his passions for social justice and African American cuisine to become an award-winning eco-chef and cookbook author, and Khristofer "Squint" Sandifer, who combined his love of photography, storytelling, and people to become a brand builder for many of our cultural icons.

Olatunde Sobomehin is CEO and co-founder of StreetCode Academy, a nonprofit that offers free tech classes to communities of color, and has taught classes at the Stanford Haas Center and the d.school. Sam Seidel is the director of K12 Strategy + Research at the Stanford d.school and the author of Hip Hop Genius: Remixing High School Education. He has taught in the maximum-security unit of a juvenile prison and speaks internationally about education, race, culture, systems, and design. He was a scholar-in-residence at Columbia University and a community fellow at Rhode Island School of Design.

THIS IS A PROTOTYPE: A Designer's Guide to Imagining and Creating Models and Mock-Ups
by Scott Witthoft and Stanford d.school

This thought-provoking guide helps you understand how to use prototyping in your work and creative life to test ideas and learn from your first attempts. This is a guide about becoming better at prototyping by building things and experiences that will help you learn from your attempts, no matter what you're up to. Scott Witthoft includes lists of tools and materials for prototyping, including digital means and physical objects. Also included are prototype experiments with accompanying photographs for the reader to observe large and small scale prototyping in real life.

Scott Witthoft works as an educator, designer, and author. Drawing from his past practice of forensic structural engineering, he incorporates that expertise with current pursuits in space, furniture, and product design—teaching and speaking widely. He is co-author of the book, Make Space—a tool for creating collaborative environments. He has also authored articles for the Conference Board and Harvard Business Review. His work has been featured in The Design Museum and publications such as Fast Company, Architecture and Urbanism, and Metropolis.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. DESIGN FOR EQUITY: Stir Up Change & Challenge the Status Quo
by Lesley-Ann Noel and Stanford d.school

Designing, making, or starting any creative endeavor is like cooking—the real magic happens when we have a deeper understanding of our ingredients and the confidence to add our own twist. If we're going to challenge the status quo and evolve the work of design to include equity and social justice, it's imperative that we feel confident in adding our own flavor to our designs. DESIGN FOR EQUITY gives you tools to tailor your approach to design, taking into account your history, personality, ethics, and goals for a better future. The ten strategies for change in this book are based on equity, identity, justice, and transformation, and use ingredients like anger, joy, and empathy.

Dr. Lesley-Ann Noel focuses on equity, social justice, and the experiences of people who are often excluded from design education, research, and practice. She teaches at North Carolina State University. Formerly, Lesley-Ann was associate director of Design Thinking for Social Impact at Tulane University, and she was a lecturer at Stanford University and the University of the West Indies.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. Each year, more than a thousand students from all disciplines attend classes, workshops, and programs to learn how the thinking behind design can enrich their own work and unlock their creative potential.

EXPERIMENTS IN REFLECTION: How to Reconsider the Past, See the Present, and Shape the Future
by Leticia Britos Cavagnaro and Stanford d.school

Featuring a collection of mindful reflection exercises, EXPERIMENTS IN REFLECTION helps you build concrete skills and shift mindsets as you strengthen your ability to reflect with purpose. After working through a series of thought experiments, author and Stanford professor Leticia Britos Cavagnaro helps you assess and understand your results, while offering additional exercises for follow-up and practice. With thought-provoking collage-style illustrations from artist Gabriela Sánchez, EXPERIMENTS IN REFLECTION helps you tune into your environment, train your intuition, and shape the future you want.

Leticia Britos Cavagnaro co-directs the University Innovation Fellows Program and is an adjunct professor at the Stanford d.school. She has a PhD in developmental biology from Stanford University and is a former member of the Research in Education & Design Lab.

MAKING POSSIBILITIES HAPPEN: How to Transform Ideas into Reality
by Grace Hawthorne and Stanford d.school

We have the opportunity to change lives—both ours and other people's—every single day by turning our dreams into reality. And every single day we get detained by the routine minutiae of our regular tasks. We procrastinate starting that dream business, the healthy meal plan, the phone call to family—or even fail to imagine another, more desirable version of our own future.

Consider MAKING POSSIBILITIES HAPPEN your ultimate possibilities trainer! This illustrated guide will break down the very simple acts that embody the possibilities for our life, family, work, and dreams—seeing possible outcomes, setting clear objectives, starting the journey, showing up, and completing the tasks. While these behaviors are not natural to us, MAKING POSSIBILITIES HAPPEN will show you how your brain is wired and how you can make it work more productively.

Grace Hawthorne is an entrepreneur, artist, author, and educator. She is an adjunct professor at Stanford's d.school, where she teaches courses on creativity and failure and leads a ground-breaking research project on creative capacity building, covered by Scientific America and Wired magazine. Previously, she cofounded ReadyMade, the design magazine that ignited the maker movement.

The Hasso Plattner Institute of Design, known as the Stanford d.school, was founded at Stanford University in 2005. Each year, more than a thousand students from all disciplines attend classes, workshops, and programs to learn how the thinking behind design can enrich their own work and unlock their creative potential.

PLEASE GROW: Lessons on Thriving for Plants (and People)
by Alex Testere

Discover the life lessons plants can teach you—from the importance of putting down roots to leaning on others for support and nourishment—in this charming, illustrated guide.

Any idea, relationship, or project begins with a seed. A seed of creativity, a flicker of hope, an inkling of motivation. In PLEASE GROW, illustrator Alex Testere takes us on a journey through the life of a plant—from planting and nourishing a seed to propagating, protecting, pruning, and beyond—relating the lessons we can learn from the natural world to our everyday lives.

With sweet, vibrant art, ecological sidebars, and a sprinkling of practical plant care tips, PLEASE GROW is a gentle reminder of life's cyclical, ever-blossoming nature. We all have the power to plant our own seeds and harvest our own blooms. So, what are you waiting for?

Alex Testere is a writer, illustrator, and former editor at SAVEUR. His work has also appeared in New York, Food52, Taste, and others. When he's not drawing or writing, he's probably trying out a new recipe, or tending to his ever-growing menagerie of plants. He currently lives with his partner in Woodstock, New York.

THE WORLD OF MAGIC: THE GATHERING: A Visual Companion to the Netflix Animated Series
by Jay Anelli

Discover the world of Netflix's animated Magic: The Gathering series with this visual guide that takes a deeper look into the stories behind the Magic multiverse, featuring series art and behind-the-scenes interviews.

THE WORLD OF MAGIC: THE GATHERING explores the art, lore, and development of the Netflix animated Magic: The Gathering series premiering in Fall 2022. Magic: The Gathering expert Jay Anelli provides an in-depth, comprehensive look at the characters, worlds, powers, creatures, and legends that make up the Magic: The Gathering multiverse. He also brings us behind the scenes into the making of the animated series through exclusive interviews and illustrations from each stage of development, including finished animation stills, development sketches, storyboards, and more. The annotated episode guide highlights essential details and digs deeper into the characters' histories with loremaster's commentary.

THE WORLD OF MAGIC: THE GATHERING is an essential companion to the animated series, which will introduce new fans to Magic and bring existing fans' favorite characters and settings to life in a way they haven't seen before.

Jay Anelli has been bad at playing Magic: The Gathering since 1998. Thankfully, he makes up for it by being passionate about Magic: The Gathering's lore and loves to share that passion with others. He's a consultant for Wizards of the Coast, co-host of The Vorthos Cast, and has written dozens of articles on Magic: The Gathering's extensive lore.

THE BLACK YEARBOOK
by Adraint Bereal

A gripping exploration of the joys, hardships, and truths of Black students through intimate, honest dialogues and stunning photography.

In this second iteration of THE BLACK YEARBOOK, Bereal expands the scope of his original project and visits colleges nationwide, from Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCU) to predominantly white institutions to trade schools and more. Rather than solely dwelling on the monolith of trauma often associated with Black narratives, Bereal is dedicated to using honest dialogue to share stories of true joy and triumph amidst the hardships, prejudices, and internal struggles. Using an exciting and eclectic design approach to accompany the portraits and stories, each individual profile effectively conveys the interviewee's unique voice, tone, and background.

THE BLACK YEARBOOK reframes society's stereotypical perception of higher education by representing and celebrating the wide range of Black experiences on campuses.

Adraint Bereal is a graduate of the University of Texas. His work has been displayed in the George Washington Carver Museum in Austin, and he has been covered by the New York Times, Vice, The Atlantic, CNN, and the Washington Post. He now shoots campaigns for major clients such as Calvin Klein, Outdoor Voices, and AirBnB.

BLACK ARCHIVES: A Photographic Celebration of Black Life
by Renata Cherlise

Through a stunning collection of timeless images, BLACK ARCHIVES tells the powerful, joyful story of Black life and culture, and its dynamic, enduring influence on generations. Capturing both iconic and everyday moments, this nuanced compendium of Black memory and imagination celebrates the milestones of ordinary people throughout the Great Migration, time in military service, changing fashions, spirituality, love, lineage, and more.

Renata Cherlise is a multidisciplinary, research-based visual artist who uses various mediums to explore themes of identity, familial interiors, and cultural practices. Cherlise's work seamlessly bridges her southern upbringing with contemporary methodologies in digital and physical spaces while reimagining notions of the Black experience. Her archival project, Black Archives, has evolved from a photo-based website of visual narratives, into a collaborative platform featuring archival histories and modern-day stories from across the African diaspora.

WOMEN MAKING WAVES: Trailblazing Surfers In and Out of the Water
by Lara Einzig

A visually stunning journey across the world's oceans, featuring soulful surfers living with purpose.

WOMEN MAKING WAVES is a celebration of the sisterhood of surfing, featuring extraordinary women from the United States, Mexico, Australia, Senegal, Japan, France, the Philippines, and beyond. Lara Einzig profiles twenty-six inspiring female surfers from around the globe—from activists to artists—who are breaking new ground on land and finding healing, joy, and community in the water.

There is Maya Gabeira, a Brazilian woman who surfed the biggest wave of anyone in 2020; Bonnie Wright, the British actress, activist, and author; Risa Mara Machuca, who runs a free surfing camp in Mexico for local children; and Zara Noruzi, an Iranian exile who found peace on the water in Australia.

Through candid interviews on the transformational power of surfing, and with immersive photography of beautiful beaches, surf shacks, and favorite breaks, Einzig captures the life-altering strength and resilience that these women discover in the water. WOMEN MAKING WAVES captures the innate, spiritual essence of our connection to the ocean, inviting us all to paddle out.

Lara Einzig is a stylist, creative consultant, author, and surfer. After spending twelve years in London working in fashion marketing for Topshop and as fashion director for Goop, she then moved to Los Angeles where she founded a creative direction consultancy. Lara is on a mission to bring equality to the water and to inspire women around the world to live a life of purpose. Lara lives with her husband and three boys in Venice, California.

CLARK LITTLE: The Art of Waves
 by Clark Little with text by Jamie Brisick, Foreword by Kelly Slater

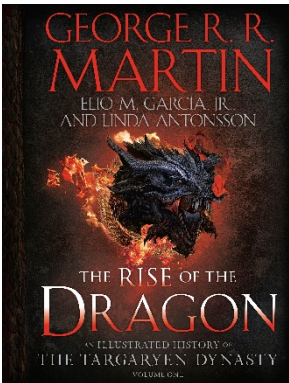

Instagram sensation Clark Little shares his most remarkable photographs from inside the breaking wave, with a foreword by world surfing champion Kelly Slater.

Surfer and photographer Clark Little creates deceptively peaceful pictures of waves by placing himself under the deadly lip as it is about to hit the sand. "Clark's view" is a rare and dangerous perspective of waves from the inside out. Thanks to his uncanny ability to get the perfect shot—and live to share it—Little has garnered a devout audience, been the subject of award-winning documentaries, and become one of the world's most recognizable wave photographers.

CLARK LITTLE: THE ART OF WAVES compiles over 150 of his images, including crystalline breaking waves, the diverse marine life of Hawaii, and mind-blowing aerial photography.

Award-winning photographer Clark Little grew up on the North Shore of Oahu, where he made his name as a pioneer of surfing at the lethal Waimea Bay shorebreak. His wave photography has been exhibited throughout the world, along with appearances on CBS Evening News, Good Morning America, Today Show, Inside Edition, the Discovery Channel, ABC World News Now, and more. He lives on Oahu and can be found at the beach under a detonating wave most days of the week.

Jamie Brisick's books include BECOMING WESTERLY, and HAVE BOARD, WILL TRAVEL. His writings have appeared in The New Yorker, The Surfer's Journal, and The New York Times.

THE RISE OF THE DRAGON: An Illustrated History of the Targaryen Dynasty, Volume 1
 by George R.R. Martin, Elio M. Garcia, and Linda Antonsson

With over 180 all-new illustrations, THE RISE OF THE DRAGON is a lavishly illustrated history of one of the most powerful families in George R. R. Martin's bestselling series A Song of Ice and Fire—the Targaryens. Covering the first half of the Targaryen dynasty, from Aegon the Conqueror through the regency of Aegon III Dragonsbane, THE RISE OF THE DRAGON is the perfect companion to Martin's FIRE & BLOOD as well as the upcoming TV series House of the Dragon. The central characters and conflicts of each reign come to life through stunning visuals—from civil wars and rebellions to enemy plans and factions—in a comprehensive, never-before-told history of one of the most compelling families to ever rule the Seven Kingdoms.

George R. R. Martin sold his first story in 1971 and hasn't stopped. As a writer-producer, he worked on The Twilight Zone, Beauty and the Beast, and various feature films and pilots that were never made. In the mid '90s he returned to prose and began work on A Song of Ice and Fire. He has been in the Seven Kingdoms ever since. He lives with the lovely Parris and their cat.

Elio M. Garcia Jr. and Linda Antonsson founded and run the popular site www.westeros.org, which is the definitive source for all things George R. R. Martin.

THE ART OF FIFTH EDITION (DUNGEONS & DRAGONS): A Visual History of the Fifth Edition of the World's Greatest Roleplaying Game
By Kyle Newman

THE ART OF FIFTH EDITION reveals the incredible story of the game's latest and most successful edition using a combination of interviews, imagery and other creative features. D&D's blockbuster 5th edition has experienced extraordinary growth every year since it was released, and currently boasts more than 13 million players in North America (and growing). THE ART OF FIFTH EDITION will analyze and contextualize the cultural relevance and popularity of the game through these stories and visuals.

D&D fans will get a rich, behind-the-scenes view of the story of the Fifth Edition. On the journey, we will deep dive into the Wizard's core products, exploring their designs, themes, and a wealth of eclectic imagery that has been generated to bring event-level campaigns and sourcebooks to life. Interviews and commentary from key creators who built and sustain the game provide epic insights into the stories and game mechanics, while concept art, sketches, maps, and more celebrate the visual development of the game. This is the most comprehensive collection of Dungeons & Dragons Fifth Edition imagery and commentary ever assembled, making it the ultimate collectible for the game's millions of fans around the world.

Dungeons & Dragons launched the great tradition of roleplaying games in 1974 with an unprecedented mix of adventure and strategy, dice-rolling, and storytelling. Wizards of the Coast continues to honor that tradition, bringing to market a diverse range of D&D game and entertainment experiences and influencing numerous writers, directors, and game designers by tapping into an innate human need to gather with friends and tell an exciting story together.

PROJECT 562: Changing the Way We See Native America
by Matika Wilbur

A photographic and narrative celebration of contemporary Native American life, cultures, and issues by a celebrated Indigenous photographer and storyteller.

In 2012, Matika Wilbur sold everything in her Seattle apartment and set out on a Kickstarter-funded pursuit to visit, engage, and photograph people from what were then 562 federally recognized Native American Tribal Nations in an effort to change how we see Native America. Over the next decade, she traveled six hundred thousand miles across fifty states to meet, interview, and photograph hundreds of Indigenous people. The body of work Wilbur created counteracts the one-dimensional stereotypes of Native people in mainstream media and offers justice to the richness, diversity, and lived experiences of Indian Country.

The culmination of this decade-long art and storytelling endeavor, PROJECT 562 is a peerless, sweeping, and moving love letter to Indigenous Americans, containing hundreds of stunning portraits and compelling personal narratives of contemporary Native people.

Matika Wilbur is a critically acclaimed social documentarian and photographer from the Swinomish and Tulalip peoples of coastal Washington. She co-hosts the All My Relations podcast with Dr. Adrienne Keene as a platform that invites guests to delve into subjects facing Native peoples today. She has offered over 300 keynotes at such places as Harvard, Yale, Berkeley, Google, TED Talks, the National Education Association, and National Geographic Explorer, and is a regular contributor to the New York Times.

WATERSHIP DOWN: The Graphic Novel

by Richard Adams, adapted and illustrated by James Sturm and Joe Sutphin

A beautiful and faithful graphic novel adaptation of Richard Adams's beloved story of a group of rabbits on an epic journey in search of home.

"Every rabbit that stays behind is in great danger. We will welcome any rabbit who joins us."

WATERSHIP DOWN is a classic tale of survival, hope, courage, and friendship that has delighted and inspired readers around the world for fifty years. Masterfully adapted by award-winning author James Sturm and gorgeously illustrated by bestselling artist Joe Sutphin, this spectacular graphic novel will delight old fans and inspire new ones, bringing the joy of WATERSHIP DOWN to the next generation of readers.

Richard Adams, an English veteran of World War II, originally told the story of WATERSHIP DOWN to his two daughters, who insisted he publish it as a book. It became an instant classic, selling over a million copies in both the United Kingdom and the United States and winning both the Carnegie Medal and the Guardian Children's Fiction Prize in 1972. His other books include SHARDIK, MAIA, TALES FROM WATERSHIP DOWN, THE GIRL IN A SWING, and THE PLAGUE DOGS.

James Sturm's graphic novels include OFF SEASON, THE GOLEM'S MIGHTY SWING, and MARKET DAY; he co-authored the popular instructional series for children Adventures in Cartooning with Andrew Arnold and Alexis Frederick-Frost. Winner of two Eisner Awards, Sturm co-founded the Seattle alternative weekly The Stranger and The Center for Cartoon Studies, where he currently serves as director.

Joe Sutphin is an illustrator of books for kids such as Helen Taylor's LITTLE PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, Andrew Peterson's Wingfeather Saga, and the New York Times bestseller WORD OF MOUSE by James Patterson. IT WON'T ALWAYS BE LIKE THIS: A Graphic Memoir
by Malaka Gharib

An intimate graphic memoir about an American girl growing up with her Egyptian father's new family, forging unexpected bonds and navigating adolescence in an unfamiliar country—from the award-winning author of I WAS THEIR AMERICAN DREAM.

Nine-year-old Malaka Gharib arrives in Egypt for her annual summer vacation abroad and assumes it'll be just like every other vacation she's spent at her dad's place in Cairo. But her father shares news that changes everything: He has remarried. Over the next fifteen years, as she visits her father's growing family summer after summer, Malaka must reevaluate her place in his life. All that on top of maintaining her coolness!

IT WON'T ALWAYS BE LIKE THIS is a touching time capsule of Gharib's childhood memories—each summer a fleeting moment in time—and a powerful reflection on identity, relationships, values, family, and what happens when it all collides.

Malaka Gharib is a writer, journalist, and cartoonist. She is the author of I WAS THEIR AMERICAN DREAM: A Graphic Memoir, winner of the 2020 Arab American Book Award and named one of the best books of 2019 by NPR, The Washington Post, Kirkus Reviews and the New York Public Library. By day, she works on NPR's science desk, covering the topic of global health and development. Her comics, zines, and writing have been published in NPR, Catapult, The Seventh Wave Magazine, The Nib, The Believer Magazine, and the New Yorker. She lives in Nashville with her husband, Darren, and her dog, Sheebo.

LION OF JUDAH: A Graphic Novel
by M. Menelik Makhar

An immersive graphic novel detailing Bob Marley's moving personal history and foundation as a musical, cultural, spiritual, and political legend.

LION OF JUDAH is the graphic novel story of Bob Marley's early life and origins as an artist and musical prophet. The book juxtaposes Marley's personal history with stories of H.I.M. Haile Selassie I, the former emperor of Ethiopia and Marley's self-proclaimed "Spiritual Father," and Kwame Nkrumah, the first president of an independent Ghana, the country of Marley's family ancestry. LION OF JUDAH—named for the prominent symbol of the Rastafari movement—weaves together the seminal moments of these three timelines through an anthology-style artistic collaboration of an international all-star team of comic artists including Damien Hill, Massimiliano Veltri, Will Rosado, N. Steven Harris, Christopher "ChrisCross" Williams, and Eric Battle among others.

This full-color, immersive visual reading experience is the untold story of Bob Marley, a comprehensive history of Reggae music, and an insightful examination of music, spirituality, and politics. LION OF JUDAH depicts the enduring lessons of struggles, triumph, and tragedy that connect us all.

M. Menelik Makhar is an acclaimed activist, songwriter/ghostwriter, and musician.

ZOUNDS!: A Shakespearean Card Game for Rhymesters, Rulers, and Star-Crossed Language Lovers by Thomas W. Cushing; Illustrated by Andy Tuohy

Compete for Shakespeare's best-loved plays and characters in a delightful card game that transports players to London's sixteenth-century theatre scene.

Build the most valuable London theater season by collecting characters from thirteen of Shakespeare's best-loved plays. This illustrated card-based party game combines Shakespeare drama and money—it's catnip for theater buffs, language buffs, and book clubs. Collect complete plays with all four of their leading characters. The wild cards can increase or decrease your fortune. If you fill in the missing word in the lines of dialog on the bottom of the cards at the end of the game, whether on your own sets of cards or others', you earn extra points for each correct quote. May the biggest Bard lover win!

Thomas Cushing is a writer, entrepreneur, and professional packager. He is the creator of the card game SHOW ME THE MONET and board game LIZZY LOVES DARCY.

Andy Tuohy is a graphic designer. His posters for the Royal Shakespeare Company were widely acclaimed, and his most recent book is GREAT MODERN ARTISTS A TO Z (Cassell, 2015).

THE DUNGEONS & DRAGONS TAROT DECK: A 78-Card Deck and Guidebook
by Dungeons & Dragons and Adam Lee; Illustrated by Fred Gissubel

Featuring all-new art and a short guide to tarot, this 78-card deck aligns Dungeon & Dragon's iconic characters and creatures with the Major and Minor Arcana.

This officially licensed tarot deck pays homage to the lore of Dungeons and Dragons by pairing its characters with the Major and Minor Arcana of tarot, including Volothamp Geddarm as The Fool, Mordenkainen as The Magician, and Ioun as the The High Priestess. The deck also includes a booklet with tips for using the cards to add dynamic twists to your D&D game play--making this the ultimate gift for dungeons masters, players, and fans of RPGs.

Dungeons & Dragons launched the great tradition of roleplaying games in 1974 with an unprecedented mix of adventure and strategy, dice-rolling, and storytelling. Wizards of the Coast continues to honor that tradition, bringing to market a diverse range of D&D game and entertainment experiences and influencing numerous writers, directors, and game designers by tapping into an innate human need to gather with friends and tell an exciting story together.

Fred Gissubel is a professional illustrator and designer from Pennsylvania.

Adam Lee is a world builder, writer, explorer, and game designer. Formerly at Wizards of the Coast, he now creates stories and worlds for his own IP development company, Mysterious Alchemy.

PAPERCUTS: A Party Game for the Rude and Well-Read
by Electric Literature

Show off your page-turning prowess and bust out your best book-themed jokes with this raucous party game full of literary laughs from the wordsmiths at the indie nonprofit Electric Literature.

PAPERCUTS is what Kurt Vonnegut, James Baldwin, and Virginia Woolf would play if they were alive, locked in a room together, and forced to play a card game. This party game for bibliophiles and pop culture fanatics follows an intuitive and popular game format, similar to Apples to Apples: the dealer lays down a Question card and each player must fill in the blank with one of the five Answer cards in their hand. What ensues is an endless loop of hilarious literary jokes and gut-busting gameplay.

This edition of Electric Literature's game boasts 100 question cards and 200 answer cards in a luxe, portable package. Toss it in a tote or bring it to your next party for countless chapters of enjoyment.

Electric Literature is an independent nonprofit dedicated to making literature more exciting, relevant, and inclusive. In addition to the essays, criticism, and literary news on their digital platforms, Electric Lit publishes two acclaimed literary magazines, Recommended Reading and The Commuter. Work published by Electric Literature and our literary magazines has been recognized by Best American Short Stories, Essays, Poetry, and Comics, the Pushcart Prize, Best Canadian Short Stories, and The Best of the Small Presses.

THE GAME OF REAL LIFE: Be Mindful. Solve Conflicts. Gain Points. Live Better.
by Jesse Finkelstein

A one-of-a-kind card game rooted in Dialectical Behavior Therapy, which uses mindfulness to teach emotional problem-solving and interpersonal skills—plus a 96-page pocket guide to DBT.

Be mindful. Solve conflicts. Live better. A fun and accessible way to learn how to cope effectively, THE GAME OF REAL LIFE is based on the principles of DBT, which incorporates mindfulness with therapeutic life skills to combat anxiety, promote active listening, and prevent burnout. But you don't have to go to therapy to play. How does it work?

The game includes a 96-page pocket guide with instructions for gameplay and further information on all of DBT's life-changing skills, from self-validation and self-soothing to identifying emotions and coping ahead for stressful situations. By discussing real-life situations with friends and learning from others, you'll master the skills for staying present, regulating emotions, improving relationships, and, ultimately, increasing your happiness.

Jesse Finkelstein is an illustrator and doctoral student in clinical psychology. He is currently pursuing his doctorate at the Rutgers University Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology. His research interests include Dialectical Behavior Therapy and the dissemination of therapeutic interventions, especially for sexual and gender minorities.

FRUITS: A Farm-to-Table Card Game for 2 to 5 Players
by Jo Firestone and Josh Knapp

A collaboration from Punderdome cocreator Jo Firestone and former Tonight Show games producer Josh Knapp, this fast-paced card game provides two to five players with bunches of fun! FRUITS is no ordinary card game. This juicy twist on fast-paced favorites like Uno and Gin Rummy is chock-full of cheerful claymation art and surprising disruptors to keep you on your toes.

Players will encounter ten types of personality-packed Fruits cards of varying point values and must harvest "bunches" of three or more to earn points. Along the way, action cards will come into play, either multiplying players' successes or thwarting their efforts to gather the most fruit. Gameplay continues until one lucky fruit collector accumulates a thousand points and wins the game!

Jo Firestone is a Brooklyn-based comedian and writer and the cocreator of Punderdome. Jo was named one of Brooklyn Magazine's "30 Under 30" and a Comedy Central "Comic to Watch." She is a regular contributor to The Chris Gethard Show on Fusion, and her radio show, Dr. Gameshow, can be heard on independent podcast and radio show production network Maximum Fun.

Josh Knapp worked on The Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon as both the games coordinator and games producer. He is a cocreator of That's My Jam, a comedy variety series with Fallon and longtime Tonight Show producer Jim Juvonen.

NOTHING TO SEE HERE: An Outrageous Storytelling Game for Adults
by Yuxin Gao, Rachel Li, and Mary Georgescu

NOTHING TO SEE HERE is the hilariously naughty party game you've been missing—use your cards to come up with a "believable" story to explain your way out of any number of outrageously compromising positions.

What would you say if you, a florist, got caught half-naked behind the curtains holding a cucumber? Or if you, an electrician, are found under the bed, covered in oil, and bound with fluffy handcuffs?

In this raunchy, sex-positive card game, each round has one dealer and two to seven additional players. The dealer comes home to discover a host of random characters in all sorts of shocking positions that lead them to believe their partner is cheating! The players start each round with an identity, location, and physical state card and have to come up with a narrative to explain themselves and not get caught in the act. For an extra layer of fun, the dealer and other players give players item cards that they have to seamlessly weave into their story. Good luck explaining that massage oil and feather tickler!

Yuxin Gao, Rachel Li, and Mary Georgescu are graduates of the NYU game center and founders of Eat Melon Studio. In the summer of 2020, they were selected for the NYU Game Center Incubator and are the winners of the prestigious Bigglesworth Family Foundation Grant. NOTHING TO SEE HERE, developed in cooperation with designers Wenjing Ma, Jin Wu, and Dannan Wen, was showcased at Indiecade, Boston Fig, and Connecticut Fig.

RESILIENCE JOURNAL: 365 Days to Balance and Peace of Mind
 by Sandra E. Johnson, LMSW

A beautiful guided journal with 365 days of thought-provoking quotes and prompts to help you reflect on the past, examine the present, and work towards a more resilient future

Everyone yearns to become more resilient. We all experience setbacks and problems on an individual level, and the state of the world doesn't provide overarching reassurance. But resilience is much more than the ability to bounce back from a single catastrophe. You need to work at it, to strengthen it as you would a muscle in your body.

This journal starts you on this path with an initial self-assessment using fifteen statements such as "I cope well with change." Then, through completing the wide range of daily interactive prompts and exercises, you will discover ways to not only cope with difficulties but grow stronger from them. At the end of the journal there's another self-assessment quiz. Fill it out to find that your self-knowledge, compassion, patience, and resilience has increased quantifiably.

Sandra E. Johnson, MSW, is a licensed clinical social worker who has been practicing for over 30 years. She has taught meditation and other stress reduction techniques to individual patients, social workers, counselors, and therapists. She has written for the Washington Post, and was selected to be a monthly guest op-ed writer for The State, South Carolina's most widely read newspaper, for which she covered topics ranging from education reform to race relations. Ms. Johnson is the author of STANDING ON HOLY GROUND: A Triumph over Hate Crime in the Deep South (St. Martin's Press, 2002) and a novel: FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING (Texas Review Press, 2016) which was nominated for a Pen Faulkner Award. Her most recent book is THE MIND-BODY PEACE JOURNAL: 366 Mindful Prompts for Serenity and Clarity (Sterling Publishing, 2019).

THE QUESTIONS HIP-HOP TRIVIA
 by Sean Kantrowitz

Casual listeners and die-hard purists, test your hip-hop knowledge in this 300-card trivia spinoff from the live game show, THE QUESTIONS HIP-HOP TRIVIA—just in time for hip-hop's 50th birthday!

Which Judd Apatow film stars Eminem as himself? Which Broadway Musical was sampled by Jay-Z in his 1998 hit 'Hard Knock Life'? Prove your Hip-Hop trivia mastery in this game written and developed by Grammy-nominated music and film/TV producer Sean Kantrowitz. Hip-hop is the music that has soundtracked contemporary American pop culture like no other. From the stories behind classic songs and albums to the ways in which rappers, DJs, producers, and media figures have interwoven themselves into the films, TV shows, commercials, live events, and headlines of pop culture, THE QUESTIONS HIP-HOP TRIVIA covers it all.

As the host and primary writer of THE QUESTIONS, Sean Kantrowitz is a certified hip hop brainiac. Sean occupies both music and media spaces—in addition to writing for Okayplayer and Underground Hip Hop, he is a Grammy-nominated musician and music producer.

THE ANTIRACIST DECK: 100 Meaningful Conversations on Power, Equity, and Justice
by Ibram X. Kendi

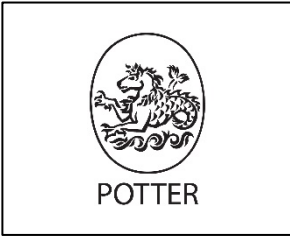

Engage, learn, and inspire with this deck of 100 conversation starters. Ibram X. Kendi has raised our awareness of the importance of persistent, dedicated antiracist work. Being antiracist is an everyday commitment; in order to build a more equitable and just society, we must be diligent, making antiracist choices at every turn. Meaningful change can start at the micro-level; these conversation starters will help you along the way.

When did you first become aware of racism? When did you first become aware of your race? Where does racism exist? What does "resistance" mean to you? Why is talking about race important? Why now?

Whether you choose to ponder these questions alone or with family, friends, or community groups, the 100 cards in THE ANTIRACIST DECK will help you lead discussions on race, racism, antiracism, and intersectional topics like class, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, power, and more.

THE PHANTOMWISE TAROT: A 78-Card Deck and Guidebook by Erin Morgenstern

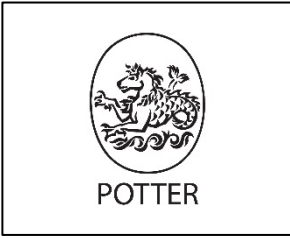

A fantastical 78-card tarot deck and guidebook hand-painted by the award-winning author of the spellbinding bestseller THE NIGHT CIRCUS... Welcome to THE PHANTOMWISE TAROT.

This black-and-white world is a little bit circusy, a little bit Wonderland, and a little bit nocturnal phantasia of its own invention. It is a mix of myth and fairy tale, where each individual you meet may be an illusion, reflection, or distortion. When Erin Morgenstern was working on her international bestseller THE NIGHT CIRCUS, she began a creative exercise to better understand the complexities of the tarot. This painted series captures the themes of each of the 78 cards in a traditional tarot deck with equal parts whimsy and mystery. Archetypal figures like The Fool, The Hierophant, and The Lovers emerge from dark skies and swirling clouds. The ravens may not be what they seem. The cats know more than they’ll ever tell. The accompanying guidebook offers interpretations of the cards and suggested spreads for tarot readings for beginners and expert readers alike. These cards have waited patiently for over a decade to find their way into the world. Please welcome them into yours.

Erin Morgenstern is the New York Times bestselling author of THE NIGHT CIRCUS (one of Time magazine’s 100 Best Fantasy Books of All Time) and THE STARLESS SEA. Her books have won Alex, Locus, and Dragon Awards and have been published in dozens of languages. She has a degree in theater from Smith College and lives in Massachusetts.

THE PASTA TAROT: A 78-Card Deck for Delicious Divination
 by Jeff Petriello and Rob Truglia; Illustrated by Lindsay Mound

Rooted in the authors' queer Italian-American identities, THE PASTA TAROT and accompanying pamphlet offer readers a contemporary, playful take on tarot.

The Major Arcana is bursting with pop culture references, renderings of chosen family, drag queens, and iconic divas. And don't get us started on the suits! The cards of the Minor Arcana are split up by pasta shape:

- The suit of Wands is represented by Corta, or short pasta
- The suit of Cups is represented by Ripiena, or stuffed pasta
- The suit of Swords is represented by Lunga, or long pasta
- The suit of Pentacles is represented by Minuta, or tiny pasta

Pull cards to divine pasta dishes for your next dinner party. Share an introspective reading with a close friend or pull a daily card to give you an intention for the day. No matter how you use THE PASTA TAROT, mamma mia, this deck has it all!

Jeff Petriello has been reading tarot since he was a teen witch in New Jersey in the early 2000s. He currently works as a game designer, consultant, and producer, and he teaches game design at NYU’s Tisch School of the Arts in Brooklyn.

Rob Truglia is a pasta oracle, queer organizer, and brand marketer living in Brooklyn, New York.

Lindsay Mound is an illustrator and designer working in New Mexico.

COLOR ME QUEER: The LGBTQ+ Coloring and Activity Book
 by Potter Gift; Illustrated by Ash Khullar

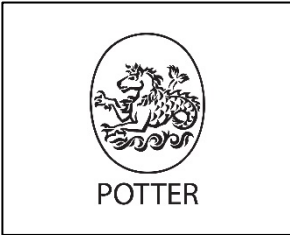

A coloring and activity book for adults, COLOR ME QUEER is both a look at LGBTQIA+ history and a tongue-in-cheek love letter to the queer community.

Filled with art by award-winning illustrator Anshika Khullar, the pages of this book capture historic moments as well as the dailiness of modern queer life.

Color in a timeline of LGBTQIA+ history to learn about early activists, underground gay culture, and queer icons like Lorraine Hansberry, Sylvia Rivera, and Harvey Milk. Complete a fill-in-the-blank dating profile, cut out and dress up two queer cuties in paper doll form, match prominent LGBTQIA+ authors to their seminal works of literature, decorate a gay wedding cake, color and tear out your own protest signs, and celebrate queer community, art, music, and humor with every inch of this book!

Potter Gift, an imprint of the Random House Group, is a high-end gift and stationery line, specializing in beautifully designed and packaged guided journals, note cards, postcards, and other paper-based novelty products.

Anshika Khullar is an illustrator based in Southampton, England, whose bold and vibrant work aims to showcase the ordinary as beautiful. SIBLEY BACKYARD BIRDING FLASHCARDS, REVISED AND UPDATED: 100
Common Birds of Eastern and Western North America
by David Allen Sibley

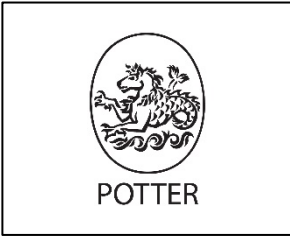

This new edition of David Allen Sibley's popular flashcard deck is a perfect knowledge builder and outdoor companion for birders from beginner to expert. The original version included 100 flashcards including species found in mainly in Eastern and Western regions, and those found across North America. The updated package offers vibrant new art, text and range maps drawn from SIBLEY BIRDS OF NORTH AMERICA SECOND EDITION. The 100 birds selected have been updated to include more sea birds. The full color paintings, range maps, and descriptive text are drawn from SIBLEY BIRDS OF NORTH AMERICA SECOND EDITION.

The face of each card shows two images of the bird-either male/female, juvenile/adult, or summer/winter depending on the degree of differentiation, with key identifying characteristics called out. The other side shows the bird’s popular name, Latin name, physical data, song, habitat, and a map showing migratory patterns. Take them on a country walk or camping trip, or just flash them at home--there's no better way to learn your birds.

David Allen Sibley is the author and illustrator of the series of successful guides to nature that bear his name, including THE SIBLEY GUIDE TO BIRDS. He has contributed to Smithsonian, Science, The Wilson Journal of Ornithology, Birding, BirdWatching, North American Birds, and The New York Times. He is a recipient of the Roger Tory Peterson Award for Promoting the Cause of Birding from the American Birding Association and the Linnaean Society of New York’s Eisenmann Medal. He lives and birds in Massachusetts.

SIBLEY BACKYARD BIRDING TRIVIA: A Game for Every Bird Lover by David Allen Sibley

True or false: Many dinosaurs (the ancestors of modern birds) had feathers. If you answered "true" you just won a point playing this ultimate ornithology trivia game.

The 400 questions (200 easier and 200 harder) from the bestselling author and ornithologist David Allen Sibley will test your bird knowledge over five rich categories including: Bird Identification, Bird Anatomy and Physiology, Bird Names, Bird Behavior, and Birds in Culture.

Each card offers two questions in a category; one easier, one hard. Players can choose which one they want to answer; the easy question is worth one point, while the hard one is worth two. If you answer the easier one correctly, you can move on to the harder one. Some of the questions about identification are illustrated with Sibley's vibrant bird portraits drawn from his authoritative work: THE SIBLEY GUIDE TO BIRDS SECOND EDITION. You can play in teams, one-on one, or just test your knowledge alone by pulling random cards. No matter how you play, everybody wins as they learn hundreds of fascinating facts about birds.

David Allen Sibley is the author and illustrator of the series of successful guides to nature that bear his name, including THE SIBLEY GUIDE TO BIRDS. He has contributed to Smithsonian, Science, The Wilson Journal of Ornithology, Birding, BirdWatching, North American Birds, and The New York Times. THE TREE OF IMAGINATION: A Wild and Wonderful 3-D Puzzle: 38 Pieces by Bob Staake

Alexander Calder meets Dr. Seuss with this brilliant standalone 3D puzzle—an intricate and dazzling balancing act with 38 colorful shapes that combine to form an exotic, abstract tree, plus countless bonus configurations—designed by renowned illustrator Bob Staake.

The thirty-eight brightly colored die-cut pieces (called pARTz) fit together to form an astonishing standing sculptural art piece. You can also build countless simpler sculptures using fewer pARTz. One side of the 18x24-inch poster enclosed with the puzzle shows a dinosaur, a giraffe, a bird, and a plane as examples. The other side provides step-by-step instructions for building the Tree. This is an eye- and hand-engaging activity that will provide hundreds of hours of creative fun for puzzle lovers, art lovers, and tinkerers of all ages.

Bob Staake is the author and illustrator of more than seventy books, including THE RED LEMON, named one of the ten best illustrated books of the year by the New York Times. Bob has illustrated many covers for The New Yorker, including "Reflection," commemorating the election of Barack Obama, which Time named the best cover of the year and remains The New Yorker's most popular cover of all time. Perhaps even more famously, his maternal grandfather invented the crinkle-cut French fry!

THE HISTORY OF THE COMPUTER: People, Inventions, and Machines that Changed Our World
by Rachel Ignotofsky

A strikingly illustrated overview of the computing machines that have changed our world—from the abacus to the iPhone—by the New York Times bestselling author and illustrator of WOMEN IN SCIENCE. Computers make our lives easier in so many ways—they help us do our work, get directions, check the weather, exercise, shop, and understand what's happening around the world. But who created them, and why? How have they transformed the way we interact with our surroundings and each other? Packed with accessible information, fun facts, and discussion starters, this charmingly illustrated book takes you from the ancient world to the modern day, focusing on important inventions from the earliest known counting systems (such as the South American Quipa) to the sophisticated algorithms behind AI, space travel, and wearable tech. THE HISTORY OF THE COMPUTER also profiles key, sometimes overlooked players and creators, and illuminates their goals and intentions and the impact of their inventions on our everyday lives.

Rachel Ignotofsky is a New York Times bestselling author, illustrator, and designer. She graduated from Tyler School of Art's graphic design program and formerly worked as a senior designer and illustrator at Hallmark Greetings. Rachel and her work have been featured in The New York Times, Los Angeles Times, Scientific American, Science Friday, Brain Pickings, and more. THE (YOUNG) ANTIRACIST'S WORKBOOK: Questions for Changemakers
by Ibram X. Kendi

Kids 12 and up can reflect on their understanding of race and discover ways to work toward a better future in this prompted journal from Ibram X. Kendi. Antiracism is not a destination but a journey—one that takes deliberate, consistent work. Ibram X. Kendi's concept of antiracism has reenergized and reshaped the conversation about racial justice in America and pointed us toward new ways of thinking about ourselves and our society. Young people must be included in these conversations around race, which is why Dr. Kendi has created THE (YOUNG) ANTIRACIST'S WORKBOOK. Whether or not you've read HOW TO BE A (YOUNG) ANTIRACIST (forthcoming from Penguin Young Readers in September 2022), this paperback workbook offers the opportunity to reflect on your personal commitment to antiracism—serving as both a safe space and a log of your journey toward a better future.

Ibram X. Kendi is a #1 New York Times bestselling author, professor of history and international studies, and the Director of the Boston University Center for Antiracist Research. He is an Ideas columnist at The Atlantic, and a correspondent with CBS News. He is the author of several books including STAMPED FROM THE BEGINNING: The Definitive History of Racist Ideas in America, which won National Book Award for Nonfiction, ANTIRACIST BABY, and the #1 New York Times bestsellers HOW TO BE AN ANTIRACIST and STAMPED: Racism, Antiracism, and You, co-authored with Jason Reynolds.

by Wee Society

An immersive, interactive journal that encourages children to help our planet, packed with kid-friendly silliness, parent-approved wit, and Wee Society's signature stylish art.

This journal provides a creative way for kids to learn about the environment and determine how they can change it for the better. Along with fun stickers, CHANGE is filled with prompts--both semi-silly and super serious--that help kids to be more aware of the world around them and develop good practices for living a more environmentally friendly life.

Wee Society is an award-winning creative studio that believes you're never too young to develop an eye for design. They aim to spark kids' imaginations, leading to big bright explosions of creativity. And they're pretty sure uncontrollable giggles make the world better. With this in mind, Wee Society has created kids' apps (available in the App Store), books, art prints, toys, and still-secret stuff. Their work has been honored by the Parents' Choice Foundation, Webby Awards, and other nice folks.

JOIE: A Parisian's Guide to Celebrating the Good Life by Ajiri Aki

A joyful, aspirational, and approachable guide to living the Parisian way, from fashion maven and founder of the French lifestyle brand Madame de la Maison.

The French are known for celebrating the little things in life, and it didn't take long for Nigerian American Ajiri Aki to fully embrace the picturesque lifestyle of a Parisian. In this beautifully photographed volume of everything French, she shares everything she's learned as an expat. From hosting a perfect apéro (happy hour) to becoming a leisure-loving flâneur in your own town, JOIE shows you how to find and celebrate joie de vivre. With gorgeous photographs of Paris's diverse landscape of food, people, culture, and architecture, JOIE will make you eager to book your next trip to the City of Lights.

Ajiri Aki is the co-author of WHERE'S KARL? and has worked as a stylist and on fashion exhibitions for the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Museum of the City of New York. After moving to Paris, Ajiri started her successful design business, Madame de la Maison, a rental company and online boutique. Ajiri currently lives in Paris, France, with her husband and two children.

RIGHT AT HOME: Designing Your Space so That It Takes Care of You by Bobby Berk

Queer Eye design expert Bobby Berk presents an interior design guide that emphasizes self-care to help you find your own taste so you can optimize the function of every room and feel happier at home.

Gone are the days of designing homes just for showing them off to others. The functionality of a home has changed drastically with the onset of COVID-19 and the massive increased time spent inside. Today, the home represents our ultimate safe space and needs to be able to host our most intimate conversations—so setting it up for comfort, style, and authenticity is essential to your self-care. In RIGHT AT HOME, Bobby shows you how your home can support your mental well-being and look good to boot.

RIGHT AT HOME shows us that changing the design of your space can aid mental wellness, and how we can achieve a new sense of happiness within the home. With highly visual home tours and Bobby's stories behind the designs (including Queer Eye fan favorites!) and gorgeous photographs of beautifully styled rooms, this is the definitive guide to designing your own home.

Bobby Berk is the interior designer for the hit Netflix show Queer Eye, with his own self-titled design company specializing in hip, minimalist urban luxury designs.

THE COMIC BOOK LESSON: A Graphic Novel That Shows You How to Make Comics
 By Mark Crilley

Acclaimed illustrator and graphic novelist Mark Crilley returns with a new approach to learning the essential elements of making comics. Using the same comics-style art instruction as in THE DRAWING LESSON, THE COMIC BOOK LESSON follows the story of Emily, an enthusiastic young comics fan and aspiring creator who has a story she needs to tell.

On her quest to turn her story into a comic book, Emily meets three mentors: Trudy, a high school student working on comics of her own; Madeline, a newly-published manga artist; and Sophie, a professional graphic novelist. THE COMIC BOOK LESSON blends these teaching moments into a sweet, funny, and poignant story that reveals why Emily is so driven to create her comic book. Each lesson builds off the previous information and skills presented, and the sequential art format provides the perfect vehicle for step-by-step instruction. Crilley also includes practice exercises to help readers develop their own comic book skills.

Mark Crilley is the author of the Eisner-nominated THE DRAWING LESSON, MASTERING MANGA, MASTERING MANGA 2, THE REALISM CHALLENGE, and MANGA ART, as well as several manga novels, including the Akiko, Miki Falls, Billy Klick, and Brody's Ghost series. Since being selected for Entertainment Weekly's "It List," Crilley has published nearly twenty books and developed a massive YouTube following for his drawing demonstration videos. His books have been featured in USA Today, the New York Daily News, and Disney Adventures magazine, as well as on CNN Headline News.

Publishers of THE DRAWING LESSON: Brazil: Trinitas; Korean: Viz&Biz; Russian: MIF; Simplified Chinese: Ginko; Spanish: El Drac

OLD BRAND NEW: A Guide to Decorating with Intention
 by Dabito

Blogger, photographer, artist, tastemaker, and passionate vintage hunter Dabito is beloved on social media for his creative use of color, space, and maximalist design style. OLD BRAND NEW offers readers actionable advice to layer your space with meaning through unique decor, whether you're signing your first lease or outfitting a dorm room. Illustrated with photographs of Dabito's many designed spaces around the country as well as spaces and travel that serve as his inspiration, each chapter is supplemented with how-to guides for weekend-friendly projects large and small, from hanging a gallery wall to redoing your bookshelves, to choosing plants for your space, to designing your dream outdoor patio space in a single weekend. There is also a deeply personal angle to the book, as Dabito draws on his family's immigrant experiences to discuss the challenges he's faced finding a sense of security through design of his personal surroundings. Through his love of design, color, and inspiration, Dabito offers a much-needed insight to the value of home to millennials and the meaning of family in his many home design projects.

Dabito is a blogger, photographer, and passionate vintage hunter. His studio Old Brand New has been around since 2010 and has been recognized by Domino, Better Homes and Gardens, and Architectural Digest. LEI ALOHA: Sharing the Flowers, Leis, and Spirit of Hawai'i
 by Meleana Estes with Jennifer Fiedler

Brimming with vibrant photos of Hawai'i's most famous flower garlands: the lei, lush tropical gardens, and dreamy island settings, LEI ALOHA tells the story of the flowers, craftsmanship, and community of lei culture, offering a window to this beautiful world where life is a little slower, flowers are abundant, and personal connections run deep. Author and local style icon Meleana Estes continues the legacy of her native Hawai'ian grandmother, who was well known for her intricate and stunning leis and the warmth with which she shared them. Each chapter tells the story of a grouping of flowers and leis, such as plumerias for a sweet gathering of neighborhood keiki (kids), elegant strands of white and yellow ginger for a candlelight-lit poi supper party, or striking haku leis made for hula performances.

Stylist and lei expert Meleana Estes learned to make leis from her native Hawai'ian grandmother. Today her leis are in demand for fashion shows, photo shoots, workshops, and social media collaborations, and are inspiring a new generation of lei makers and flower shops. She is the founder of the Meleana lifestyle brand and her work has been featured in Coastal Living, French Elle, Vogue Japan, Garance Dore, CNN, and the BBC. Co-writer Jennifer Fiedler is the author of THE ESSENTIAL BAR BOOK, which was featured in the New York Times and the Boston Globe, among others. She is a co-author of BROOKLYN BEER SHOP'S BEER MAKING BOOK, contributor to the Wildsam Hawai'i edition, and a former editor at Wine Spectator magazine. She lives in Haleiwa, Hawai'i.

APHROCHIC: Celebrating the Legacy of the Black Family Home
By Jeanine Hays and Bryan K. Mason

A powerful, visually stunning celebration of Black homeownership, featuring inspiring homes and family histories of notable Black Americans—including chef Alexander Smalls and actor Danielle Brooks.

In their new book, Jeanine Hays and Bryan Mason explore the Black family home and its role as haven, heirloom, and cornerstone of Black culture and life. Sixteen gorgeous house tours invite you into the intimate spaces of actors and musicians, the creative studios of artists and curators, the “boss” offices of entrepreneurs and executives, and homes filled with pieces handed down from generations past. Woven throughout, urgent explorations of the roots of the Black homeownership gap shed light on the obstacles many Black Americans still face today. Showcasing the amazing diversity of the Black experience through striking art- and heirloom-filled interiors; stories of family and community; and histories exploring the obstacles Black homeowners have faced for generations, this groundbreaking book honors the journey, recognizes the struggle, and celebrates the joy.

Jeanine Hays and Bryan Mason are the authors of REMIX: Decorating with Culture, Objects and Soul. Their media and design brand AphroChic celebrates African Diaspora cultures through their lifestyle magazine, podcast, and product lines available through Perigold and 1st Dibs. The couple resides in upstate New York in their lovingly named “AphroFarmhouse.”

WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE: Rare Tropical Houseplants to Collect, Grow, and Love
by Enid Offolter

*“A visually stunning book with great information for rare plant collectors.”—
Morgan Doane and Erin Harding, authors of How to Raise a Plant and *Make It Love You Back

If you're bored with the same old entry-level houseplants and long for something new, up your game with Enid Offolter. Called "the Houseplant Queen" by the New York Times, Offolter and her company, NSE Tropicals, are celebrities within the rare plant community, with thousands of obsessed Instagram followers and plants that sell in heated auctions for hundreds of dollars. In WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE, Offolter shows you how to grow and propagate some of these extraordinary botanicals on your own.

From the king anthurium with its deeply pleated leaves, to velvety Columbian beauties known to make collectors drop to their knees, to plants with big, hot-pink, heart-shaped leaves or bizarre corkscrew-shaped flower spikes, these amazing aroids bring a lush, tropical, jungle aesthetic to your home that will make you the envy of all. If you're ready for something more interesting than the ubiquitous spider plants and peace lilies, WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE is full of tips, professional advice, behind-the-scenes stories from fellow plant collectors, and the inspiration you need to grow plants that make a statement.

Enid Offolter is owner and founder of NSE Tropicals plant nursery, which boasts one of the largest personal collections of aroids in the United States. Two-time president of the International Aroid Society, Offolter travels the world to find unique and unusual plants. She gives countless presentations to plant societies and garden clubs and has been profiled in the New York Times and on Bloom & Grow Radio podcast, VICE TV, and the Plant One on Me YouTube channel.

by Bryan Peterson

Street photography enables us to experience the world through a new lens. In UNDERSTANDING STREET PHOTOGRAPHY, readers will learn the techniques behind images taken around the globe, from the vibrant streets of Varanasi, India, to the crowded walkways of the Charles Bridge in Prague, and so many other corners of the world. In this master class, street photography is defined as images that convey evidence of human interaction, whether that's a striking cityscape, an image of rush-hour foot traffic, the remains of a half-eaten sandwich, or a pedestrian portrait. Along the way, Peterson shares 120 "mini diaries": the story behind each image; the thought process; the arrangement of the composition; the psychology of the colors; and the lens, aperture, shutter speed, and ISO for readers to replicate his work.

Professional and aspiring photographers alike will learn how to produce posed and candid compositions, capture light and movement, and work with shadows, weather, and architecture, and hone your craft. Through lessons, exercises, and anecdotes, Peterson shares his best tips for capturing the unpredictable world of urban life in motion.

Bryan Peterson is a professional photographer, internationally known instructor, and founder of the Bryan Peterson School of Photography. He is also the best-selling author of UNDERSTANDING EXPOSURE, LEARNING TO SEE CREATIVELY, UNDERSTANDING SHUTTER SPEED, UNDERSTANDING CLOSE-UP PHOTOGRAPHY, UNDERSTANDING DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY, BEYOND PORTRAITURE, and, most recently, BRYAN PETERSON'S PHOTOGRAPHY SCHOOL. His trademark use of color and strong, graphic composition have garnered him many photographic awards, including the New York Art Director's Gold Award and honors from Communication Arts and Print magazines.

EVERYDAY WATERCOLOR SKETCHBOOK: Prompts and Inspiration
by Jenna Rainey

Strengthen your watercolor skills with this inspirational sketchbook from Jenna Rainey, the bestselling author of EVERYDAY WATERCOLOR.

Part of the joy of painting with watercolor is that the medium necessitates play. Experimentation and practice lead to discovery and mastery. This sketchbook from bestselling author Jenna Rainey is your portable playground—whatever your experience level.

A letter of encouragement from Jenna, tips on choosing pigments and brushes, and a list of prompts for sketching and painting will help get the creative juices flowing. Also included are ten QR codes linked to Jenna's most popular YouTube tutorials for painting flowers, trees, leaves, cats, and creating unique patterns and color palettes.

Forty sheets of premium Italian watercolor paper are mostly blank, with a few pieces of Jenna's art sprinkled throughout to inspire you. Artists are encouraged to explore their style, play with color, practice brush techniques, and paint everyday objects throughout the pages of this delightful sketchbook.

Jenna Rainey is an artist, self-taught designer, and author of EVERYDAY WATERCOLOR and EVERYDAY WATERCOLOR FLOWERS. As a surface pattern designer, her work has been seen on products in stores like Staples, Target, Office Depot, and more. Rainey specializes in watercolor, calligraphy, and other hand-drawn designs. She shares her talent and teaches the world how to paint on her YouTube channel, at her in-person workshops, and through her books.

A SWEET FLORAL LIFE: Romantic Arrangements for Fresh and Sugar Flowers
by Natasja Sadi with Sarah Owens

A guide to creating dreamy, classically romantic fresh flower arrangements as well as exquisite, lifelike sugar flowers which enable you to include any kind of flower—regardless of season or availability—in your arrangements. Rising Instagram star Natasja Sadi's accessible yet luxe style draws on her Suriname ancestry along with the rich floral traditions of her adopted Dutch home. Her floral arrangements have a sumptuous, old-world look straight out of a classical painting but the secret is that they often contain a surprise twist: handmade sugar flowers (traditionally used in cake decorating) that are indistinguishable from real ones and last forever. In A SWEET FLORAL LIFE, Sadi guides you through the creative process of flower arranging and developing a personal style, along with tutorials for fresh seasonal arrangements, floral-based entertaining, and how to photograph flowers. Finally, she provides steps for sculpting sugar flowers, a versatile medium with limitless possibilities. Sugar flowers can be used in fresh floral arrangements, displayed on their own, or used to adorn cakes for weddings, anniversaries, or parties. Capture the romance, set the mood, and be swept away by gorgeous and inspiring floral art with A SWEET FLORAL LIFE.

Natasja Sadi is a celebrated floral artist who composes fresh flower arrangements and sculpts exquisite sugar flowers from her home atelier in Amsterdam. Her celebration cakes are lifelike resemblances of floral beauty and are some of the most sought after in Europe. She and her flowers have been featured in magazines such as Elle Decor, Victoria magazine, Flower Magazine, and Dutch Vogue and Harper's Bazaar. She teaches floral design and the secrets of sugar flower artistry in Europe, Asia, South Africa, and North America.

HOME THERAPY: Interior Design for Increasing Happiness, Boosting Confidence, and Creating a Sense of Calm: An Interior Design Book
by Anita Yokota

Therapy meets home design in this holistic, beautifully photographed guide to incorporating self-care and mental wellness into all your living spaces.

Our surroundings are more than just a reflection of our personal style. The right lighting, furniture arrangement, and paint colors have a direct effect on our well-being. Whether you're looking for better work/life balance or design solutions for your family, licensed therapist turned interior designer Anita Yokota walks you through her signature method for setting up your home to boost your mind, body, and spirit.

Feeling confident when you step out the door starts in your home, with intentionally designed spaces. With HOME THERAPY, instead of basing decorating decisions on trends and fads, you'll be able to create thoughtful, personalized interiors that support your lifestyle and sustain your happiness.

Anita Yokota is a licensed family and marriage therapist turned interior designer who develops intentional designs that emphasize wellness from the inside out. Domino named Anita's site the Best New Design Blog and her work has been featured in MyDomaine, Glitter Guide, Lonny, and many others.
