Feed the Planet

A PHOTOGRAPHIC JOURNEY TO THE WORLD'S FOOD

● PHOTOGRAPHS BY GEORGE STEINMETZ; TEXT BY JOEL K. BOURNE JR.; FOREWORD BY MICHAEL POLLAN

Acclaimed photographer George Steinmetz documents the awesome global effort that puts food on our tables and transforms the surface of the Earth

Do you know where your food comes from? To find out, photographer George Steinmetz spent a decade traveling to more than 36 countries, 24 US states, and 5 oceans documenting global food systems. In striking aerial images, he captures the massive scale of 21st-century agriculture that has sculpted 40 percent of the Earth's landmass. He explores the farming of staples like wheat and rice, the cultivation of vegetables and fruits, fishing and aquaculture, and meat production, showing us both traditional farming in diverse cultures and vast agribusinesses that fuel international trade. From Kansas wheat fields to a shrimp cocktail's origins in India to cattle stations in Australia larger than some countries, Steinmetz tracks the foods on the world's tables back to land and sea, field and factory.

With text by veteran environmental journalist Joel K. Bourne Jr., Feed the Planet brings the impact of visual images, accompanied by clear explanations and accurate information, to one of humanity's deepest needs, greatest pleasures, and most pressing challenges: Bringing nutritious and sustainably produced food to the Earth's growing population.

George Steinmetz is an award-winning documentary photographer whose large-scale projects on pressing global issues have been published in National Geographic magazine, the New York Times, and many other leading publications. His books for Abrams include The Human Planet (2020), New York Air (2015), Desert Air (2012), Empty Quarter (2009), and African Air (2008). He lives in New Jersey with his wife, journalist Lisa Bannon. Joel K. Bourne Jr. is an award-winning environmental journalist and the author of The End of Plenty: The Race to Feed a Crowded World (2015). He is a former Senior Editor for the Environment at National Geographic magazine, where he remains a frequent contributor covering agriculture, energy, and environmental issues around the globe. He lives with his family in Wilmington, North Carolina. Michael Pollan is the author, most recently, of This Is Your Mind on Plants (2021) and How to Change Your Mind (2018). His Omnivore's Dilemma (2006) forever changed the way readers thought about food. He lives in Berkeley.

A visually captivating history of the evolution of Glamour magazine and the brand's legendary 85 years at the forefront of female empowerment

For more than 80 years, Glamour has been the preeminent women's empowerment brand in America. But until now, no one has told the extraordinary story of its origins, the famous names who helped shape the magazine into the global powerhouse it is today, and Glamour's many historic firsts. Glamour was the first American fashion magazine to feature a Black cover star, the first to present Gloria Steinem's writing, and the first to feature groundbreaking reporting on reproductive rights. Chronicled visually and narratively through historic and modern-day Glamour covers, stunning photographs, editorial features, and never-before-seen correspondence from the Condé Nast archives, Glamour: An Extraordinary History will chart the evolution of the magazine from its inception just months before World War II began in 1939 (Glamour was the only magazine created by Condé Nast himself) to today as an unparalleled testament to trailblazing women.

Glamour is one of the biggest women's brands in the world, reaching an all-time high of over 37 million people a month. Glamour believes in the power of women being themselves and stands with women as they do their own thing: honestly, authentically, and awesomely. Glamour is the ultimate authority for the next generation of change-makers.

Gandolfini

JIM, TONY, AND THE LIFE OF A LEGEND

● BY JASON BAILEY

A deeply reported, perceptive, and celebratory biography of beloved actor James Gandolfini from a prominent critic and film historian

More than a decade after his sudden passing, James Gandolfini still exerts a powerful pull on television and film enthusiasts around the world. His charismatic portrayal of complex, flawed, but always human men illuminated the contradictions in all of us, as well as our potential for grace, and the power of love and family.

In Gandolfini, critic and historian Jason Bailey traces the twinned stories of the man and the unforgettable roles he played. Gandolfini's roots were working class, raised in northern New Jersey as the son of Italian immigrants, and acting was something he loved for a long time before he could see it as a career. It wasn't until he was well into his bohemian twenties that he dedicated himself to a life on the stage and screen. Bailey traces his rise, from bit parts to character roles he enlivened with menace and vulnerability, to Tony Soprano, the breakout role that would make him a legend, and onto a post-Sopranos career in which he continued to challenge himself and his audience.

Based on extensive research and original reporting, including interviews with friends and collaborators, Gandolfini is a detailed and nuanced appraisal of an enduring artist.

Jason Bailey is a film critic, historian, and the author of five previous books, including Richard Pryor: American Id and Fun City Cinema: New York City and the Movies that Made It. His work has appeared in the New York Times, Vanity Fair, Vulture, Bloomberg, Rolling Stone, Time, Slate, and more. He lives in the Bronx with his wife and two daughters.

The Wes Anderson Collection: Asteroid City

- WRITTEN BY MATT ZOLLER SEITZ; ILLUSTRATED BY MAX DALTON; FOREWORD BY DAVID BORDWELL

The official behind-the-scenes companion to "Asteroid City" and the latest volume in the bestselling Wes Anderson Collection series

"ASTEROID CITY"—the eleventh feature film from Academy Award–winning director WES ANDERSON—follows a group of teen geniuses and their families as they attend the 1955 Junior Stargazers convention in the eponymous dusty hamlet. The events of the film, a representation of a fictional play, also titled Asteroid City, unfold in a parallel narrative to a televised broadcast of the creation of a theatrical production. As the lines between reality and theater blur, the audience is treated to stunning technicolor vistas and stark black and white sets, all while the promise of an extraterrestrial visit hangs overhead.

In The Wes Anderson Collection: "Asteroid City", the latest one–volume entry in The Wes Anderson Collection, cultural critic and New York Times bestselling author Matt Zoller Seitz presents the complete story behind the film's conception via interviews with Wes Anderson and Jason Schwartzman and illuminating behind–the–scenes photos, ephemera, storyboards, models, miniatures, and artwork. Contributions from Tom Hanks, Jeffrey Wright, Bryan Cranston, Rupert Friend, Hope Davis, Stephen Park, and the Junior Stargazers themselves provide reflections on the film's production and insight into the intricately layered characters.

Matt Zoller Seitz is the editor in chief of RogerEbert.com; the TV critic for New York magazine; the author of The Wes Anderson Collection, The Wes Anderson Collection: The Grand Budapest Hotel, The Oliver Stone Experience, and Mad Men Carousel; and the coauthor of The Sopranos Sessions.

Wes Anderson is an Academy Award–winning writer and director of Bottle Rocket, Rushmore, The Royal Tenenbaums, The Life Aquatic with Steve Zissou, The Darjeeling Limited, Fantastic Mr. Fox, Moonrise Kingdom, The Grand Budapest Hotel, Isle of Dogs, The French Dispatch, "Asteroid City", The Wonderful World of Henry Sugar and Three More, and the upcoming The Phoenician Scheme.

Nora Ephron at the Movies

A VISUAL CELEBRATION OF THE WRITER AND DIRECTOR BEHIND WHEN HARRY MET SALLY, YOU'VE GOT MAIL, SLEEPLESS IN SEATTLE, AND MORE

● BY ILANA KAPLAN; FOREWORD BY JASON DIAMOND

The first illustrated monograph on writer, journalist, and director Nora Ephron, the visionary behind When Harry Met Sally, Sleepless in Seattle, and You've Got Mail

With her singular voice, Nora Ephron flourished as a dominant force in the entertainment industry, focusing on the idiosyncrasies of romance that were universally relatable. The women in her stories paralleled reality—the veil was lifted, the glossy sheen removed. Her protagonists share an unwavering sense of humor about life's mishaps, and they never take themselves too seriously—like Julie trying to master the art of cooking lobsters in Julie & Julia, Sally's theatrical fake orgasm in Katz's deli in When Harry Met Sally, or Rachel perfecting a key kime pie only to throw it in her cheating husband's face in Heartburn.

Through her keenly self-aware humor and semi-autobiographical stories, Ephron left behind a groundbreaking legacy as a beloved journalist, essayist, screenwriter, author, producer, director, and feminist who delivered stories of resilience embedded in sharp wit and upper-crust landscapes. Through that lens, she became emblematic of rom-coms, shifting and redefining conversations around the complexities of relationships and the women who have them. Nora Ephron at the Movies offers an unfiltered look at Ephron as a champion of the rom-com and as a feminist Hollywood trailblazer. It explores her life and work by pairing detailed criticism with exclusive interviews with Ephron's key collaborators, including Andie MacDowell and Jenn Kaytin Robinson, to add color and nuance to her life and legacy.

Ilana Kaplan is a freelance writer and culture editor. She has worked for publications including PEOPLE, Alternative Press, The Independent and PAPER. Her work has been published in the New York Times, New York magazine, the Los Angeles Times, Rolling Stone, NPR, GQ, Vanity Fair, Vogue, Pitchfork, Variety, and Billboard. She lives in Brooklyn, New York.

David Cronenberg: Clinical Trials

● WRITTEN BY VIOLET LUCCA; ILLUSTRATED BY LITTLE WHITE LIES

An illustrated monograph on the work of legendary writer/director David Cronenberg, master of body horror and cinematic provocateur behind films such as The Fly, Scanners, Naked Lunch, Eastern Promises, and Crimes of the Future

David Cronenberg's films have long enjoyed a cult following, pushing the boundaries of taste, blending high art with horror, and straddling the commercial and the cutting-edge. Here, the reader will be presented with the familiar and unfamiliar aspects of iconic films such as Videodrome, The Fly, Naked Lunch, and Crash. Though dividing the book into two halves suggests a binary, the Jungian-inspired chapters within each will emphasize that this work—and the world itself—is perpetually shifting. The reader will progress through these different stages (of Jungian individuation and therapy) and see how the recurrent narrative, cultural, and visual themes loop back and intersect with one another. Rather than a straightforward narrative about a filmmaker, this book will be a dreamlike exploration of all that is Cronenbergian. Featuring a foreword by Oscar-nominated actor Viggo Mortensen, it also includes interviews with composer Howard Shore, production designer Carol Spier, cinematographer Peter Suschitzky, and producer and playwright/screenwriter Jeremy Thomas.

Violet Lucca's writing has appeared in the New York Times, Art in America, Criterion Current, Sight and Sound, the Village Voice, Bust, Reverse Shot, and elsewhere. She served as Vice President of Digital at Harper's Magazine and Digital Producer at Film Comment, where she hosted each of their podcasts. She lives in Brooklyn, but not in an annoying way.

SELLING POINTS

GENRE FILMMAKER: David Cronenberg: Clinical Trials marks Abrams's first foray into body horror, a subgenre with a dedicated and fervent fanbase.

SUCCESSFUL PARTNERSHIP: Abrams and Little White Lies have partnered on five director monographs and are excited to be profiling a horror icon for the first time.

UPCOMING FILM: Cronenberg's follow-up to the Palme d'Or-nominated Crimes of the Future, The Shrouds, was set to film in 2023, so his name will be in the film zeitgeist and circulating in cult circles for the foreseeable future.

LOST: Back to the Island

THE COMPLETE CRITICAL COMPANION TO THE CLASSIC TV SERIES

● BY EMILY ST. JAMES AND NOEL MURRAY

A comprehensive and critical companion to the blockbuster TV show LOST, revisiting its core themes, lore, and impact on culture

Before it premiered in the fall of 2004, LOST looked doomed to be an expensive, disastrous plane crash of a TV show. Instead, LOST was a massive hit, debuting with the biggest audience for a new drama on ABC in over a decade, reaching heights of over 23 million viewers at its peak, and holding on to a hefty fan-base for its entire six-season run. The elements that made the series seem like a boondoggle proved, instead, to be a big part of its appeal. Audiences loved the exotic island setting, became invested in the morally compromised characters, and feverishly tried to unravel the show's many mysteries.

In LOST: Back to the Island, TV critics and veteran LOST recappers Emily St. James and Noel Murray revisit what made the show such a success and an object of enduring cultural obsession. Through essays, episode summaries, and cultural analysis, they take us back to the island and examine LOST's lasting impact—and its complicated, sometimes controversial legacy—with a clear-eyed and lively investigation.

For fans of one of the most successful and highly discussed shows in recent memory, LOST: Back to the Island is both a delightful time capsule and a rousing work of entertainment criticism.

Emily St. James is a writer and cultural critic, currently writing on the TV series Yellowjackets. During her journalism career, she served as the critic-at-large for Vox and the first TV editor of the A.V. Club. Her work has also appeared in the New York Times, Vanity Fair, and Vulture. She is the co-author of Monsters of the Week: The Complete Critical Companion to The X-Files. Her debut novel, Woodworking, arrives in early 2025. She lives in Los Angeles. Noel Murray has been a freelance pop culture critic and reporter for over thirty years and was a key contributor to the influential websites The A.V. Club and The Dissolve. His writing about TV, movies, music, comics, and more has appeared in the New York Times, the Los Angeles Times, Vulture, Entertainment Weekly, and Rolling Stone. From a beloved San Francisco culinary landmark, a showstopper cookbook that honors a family legacy and celebrates ingredient-driven, multi-regional Chinese cooking in America

Since it opened in 1988, House of Nanking has been a popular spot for countless tourists, honeymooners, celebrities, and everyday San Franciscans who have lined up—for decades—for their legendary Shanghai and Chinese American dishes. Family Thai

BRINGING THE FLAVORS OF THAILAND HOME

● BY ARNOLD MYINT WITH KAT THOMPSON

Arnold Myint, the James Beard–nominee and chef of the Thai restaurant International Market in Nashville, shares how to make the Thai food he grew up with in a cookbook that is approachable yet packs a punch of flavor

Arnold Myint's parents, Thai and Burmese immigrants, opened Nashville's International Market & Restaurant in 1975—a rarity in Tennessee, where Asian cuisine hadn't quite expanded beyond Americanized Chinese takeout. They were determined to introduce Americans to the fiery, bold, fragrant Thai flavors that had always brought them comfort, and a taste of Thailand was exactly what Nashville needed.

Almost 45 years later, after attending culinary school in New York City and working with Jean–Georges Vongerichten, Arnold owns and runs International Market, serving the comforting recipes of his mother while riffing on others to add his own Thai–Southern flair. Now, Arnold is expanding his teachings with a vibrantly illustrated and designed cookbook, and breaking down an often–intimidating cuisine into accessible building blocks for every home cook, from pantry staples to essential skills.

Arnold also shares what he likes to cook at home and adaptations of Thai cuisine inspired by Nashville and his travels. From there, he takes us into the vibrant and colorful world of Thai street food, noodle dishes, his own creations, and his mother's classic recipes that fans of International Market & Restaurant have been begging for.

When Thais greet each other, instead of how are you?, they ask, Kin lao yang? or have you eaten? Feeding people is how Patti and Win Myint—and now Arnold—show their love, not just for their family but for everyone within reach. In Family Thai, Arnold shares his boldly flavorful food and welcoming, heartfelt approach with home cooks everywhere.

Arnold Myint is a Nashville–based, James Beard Award–nominated chef, recipe developer, media personality, mixologist, and more. Even with his experiences like competing on season 7 of Top Chef and season 11 of Food Network Star, and his studies at the Institute of Culinary Education, his real training began at his parent's International Market & Restaurant, which remains a mainstay of Nashville's culinary scene under his leadership.

French at Heart

RECIPES THAT BRING FRANCE HOME

● BY MARJORIE TAYLOR AND KENDALL SMITH FRANCHINI WITH JESS THOMSON

From the founders of the Cook's Atelier, a wildly popular cooking school in Burgundy, France, comes a cookbook about living well the French way

When mother–daughter duo Kendall Smith Franchini and Marjorie Taylor moved to Beaune in Burgundy, France, to open their now–incredibly popular cooking school the Cook's Atelier, they learned that choosing to appreciate tiny moments, like they saw the French do, really opened their hearts. To them, being French at heart doesn't mean you have to speak French or live in France; it means slowing down to enjoy the little details of every day. Whether that's preparing a meal for your family and taking the time to enjoy it together or taking an extra moment to set the table with fresh flowers, curating your own joy is worth your time, and this cookbook offers plenty of ideas to adopt this particularly French habit.

French at Heart shows how to create simple, joyous family meals around your own table, in whatever place you call home. These are classic recipes that will make you fall in love with France: things like Salade Niçoise, Duck Confit, and Tarte Tatin. They are simple recipes, what Taylor and Smith Franchini often cook for their family after a long day, and reflect their take on familiar French favorites. They offer ways to adapt, improve, or simplify the classics, plus plenty of additional advice on how to serve a memorable cheese or charcuterie board, how to curate a French–inspired pantry, and more. Cooking is about more than just the food, and while French at Heart has more than 100 go–to recipes, it is a cookbook for anyone who wants to discover those little details that make our time around the table even more special.

Marjorie Taylor and Kendall Smith Franchini are the mother–daughter duo and cofounders of the Cook's Atelier, a French cooking school, culinary boutique, and wine shop in Beaune, France. This international culinary destination in the heart of French wine country has been featured in many publications, including Travel + Leisure, Fodor's, Food & Wine, Condé Nast Traveler, and more.

Their second book is more approachable in size and price point, and offers an intimate look at everyday cooking, what the authors make at home after a long day at their cooking school.

SOCIAL MEDIA GROWTH: The Cook's Atelier brand platform and social media platform has grown from approximately 6,500 to 104,000+ avid Instagram followers while their culinary programs now gross over 1 million euros per year.

The Essentials

THE ART OF INTERIOR DESIGN

● BY CAITLIN FLEMMING AND JULIE GOEBEL

The Essentials breaks down the factors behind all the (overwhelming!) decisions that go into beautiful home design—lighting, hardware, textiles, window treatments, floor plans, art, furniture, palettes, patterns, and surfaces—making it an essential reference that every design enthusiast should have in their back pocket.

Interior designer Caitlin Flemming always gets asked how “the rules” of professional design can be applied to any home—how to pick a paint color and get better lighting, how to mix patterns, where to hang art and curtains, and many more. While there’s no one way to design a space, there is a teachable art to creating a harmonious home.

In The Essentials, Flemming and Goebel mine all the knowledge they’ve amassed from decades designing and styling homes and antiquing and traveling the world. They also ask some of the most talented designers in the world to contribute advice as well.

Organized in three parts, the first section of the book discusses the tacit knowledge that seasoned designers have and how to translate it without being a trained professional. The second, meatiest section of the book lays out the technical essentials for thoughtful home design, covering subjects such as lighting, hardware, furniture, and more. And finally, the third section shows how all the individual elements and details combine to make a room, illustrated through tours of the homes of nine designers.

It takes hard work and years of practice to develop and train an eye for design. This book shortcuts the process by sharing easily teachable techniques and breaking down the factors behind the many decisions that go into beautiful home design. The Essentials is an indispensable reference for every design enthusiast.

Caitlin Flemming and Julie Goebel are the coauthors of Travel Home and Sense of Place. Flemming is an interior designer, stylist, and founder of the style and interior design blog Sacramento Street. Her design work can be found in the San Francisco Chronicle, Better Homes & Gardens, and Romantic Homes. Goebel is the founder of Travelers Conservation Foundation. Forever Paris

GREEN SPACES & SUSTAINABLE LIVING IN THE CITY OF LIGHT

● BY MICHEL ARNAUD

Photographer Michel Arnaud spotlights the green spaces and sustainable architecture in Paris

Paris is changing. There is a new attitude of green and sustainable ideals that are permeating the City of Lights everywhere you go. In many ways, Paris has had the qualities of a “green city” for a long time. Existing architecture has been adapted and reused for centuries. Paris has always been a walkable city, and its public gardens are well known. However, over the years, pollutants have made their impact—a gray haze from car exhaust hovering over the city. Today, officials, businesses, and residents are making changes to help turn Paris green and prepare for a sustainable future. Bike lanes are replacing roadways. Food entrepreneurs are creating urban farms on the city’s famous rooftops.

Bestselling design author Phoebe Howard presents a collection of homes for all who love the seashore and dream of living by its side

Phoebe Howard is an expert at creating homes that reflect the elegance and appeal of oceanfront living. With every project, Howard is always seeking to connect interior and outdoor spaces, and to encourage alfresco entertaining. Each house in this collection, from dreamy beach retreats to cool coastal getaways, has a distinctive design that is meant not just to be lived in, but to be enjoyed by the families who call it home and by the friends and welcome guests who can't resist a visit.

Phoebe Howard opened her first store, Mrs. Howard, in Jacksonville, Florida, 20 years ago and now has stores in Georgia and North Carolina. Designing Boxes

● STOWE, DOUGLAS

Box-making expert Doug Stowe is back with a new spin on the classic box-making book

Box-making expert Doug Stowe is back with a new spin on the classic box-making book. With an eye toward thoughtful design, this book walks the reader through the thought process involved in creating beautiful and functional boxes.

Designing Boxes offers many more design opportunities than would be possible in a book that attempts to be a “projects book.” The artisan who knows the basics of box making and is ready to expand their repertoire will find this approach appealing. This book speaks to the woodworker who wants to develop plans of their own to meet their unique needs, express their own personalities, and gain confidence in their design skills.

Designing Boxes is a bridge between how-to and why-to. Doug guides the reader through an exploration of the materials used in box making, the relationship between the material and the craftsman, how the tools and their relationship to the maker affect design, the growth of technique as it relates to the processes of design, and principles and elements of design storytelling.

Doug Stowe began his woodworking career in 1976. He has founded and taught at several Schools for woodworkers and continues to teach woodworking grades 1–12 at the Clear Spring School, to work daily in his own shop, and to travel around teaching adult woodworking classes for schools and clubs.

He has published 90 articles in various woodworking magazines and educational journals and has written 13 books on woodworking techniques.

He lives near Eureka Springs, Arkansas, with his wife, Jean.

Building an Affordable House 2nd Edition

TRADE SECRETS TO HIGH-VALUE, LOW-COST CONSTRUCTION

● BY FERNANDO PAGES RUIZ

While building trends may change, one thing does not: the need to build quality homes at affordable prices. And in today's building market, sustainability is an important part of building homes that last so homeowners can keep long-term costs down. Building an Affordable House, 2nd edition helps readers do that with insight from the people who work in the field every day.

Building expert Fernando Pages–Ruiz knows that from a homebuilder's perspective, competitive, affordable housing represents a basic business plan that blends curb appeal, useful floor space and a low price tag to guarantee quick sales. It is a blueprint that takes the speculation out of spec building and provides the builder with an elusive commodity in the construction industry: peace of mind. Plus, keeping sustainability at the forefront of building decisions isn't simply good for the environment—it's good for the homeowner's bottom line.

Building an Affordable House, 2nd edition provides an updated sensibility to the building decisions every homeowner must make in today's challenging construction environment, whether they are building a brand–new house or renovating one they love.

This update (long overdue after 17 years) includes

- all new code information
- techniques that honor sustainable building practices
- cost–saving methods that are safe and effective

This book reveals the secrets of building better for less and developing your own cost–cutting approach that balances marketability, quality, and price.

Born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, Fernando Pagés Ruiz immigrated to the United States in 1970 and became a US citizen in 1984. Over a 30–career in construction, he has become a dedicated proponent of building innovation in low cost housing. Pagés Ruiz speaks, writes and consults internationally on how to build high–quality, affordable and energy–efficient homes. A builder with 30 years of experience and an expert on how to cut costs and keep quality when building or remodeling, Pagés Ruiz is the author of two books published by the Taunton Press: Building an Affordable House: A high–value, low–cost approach to building (2005) and Affordable Remodel: How to get custom results on any budget (2007). As a builder, his projects have numerous award, including the 2008 "Green Building Single Family House of the Year" and the 2007 "Workforce Housing Award" from the National Association of Home Builders. In 2006, the Department of Housing and Urban Development's PATH project chose him to build America's first PATH Concept Home, a home that is affordable to purchase and to maintain, while meeting the criteria of LEED for Homes, ENERGY STAR, MASCO Environments for Living, and the NAHB's Green Building certifications.

Doll Couture

CREATING CUSTOM CLOTHES FEATURING THE STORY OF LOLA

● BY KENNETH D. KING

Couturier to the stars and famed designer Kenneth D. King brings his Belle Epoque sensibilities to the world of custom doll clothing construction in Doll Couture. Inspired by his viral social media stories of Crazy Bella and her high-fashion friends, Doll Couture showcases King's one-of-a-kind designs for clothes that fit 11–1/2 inch fashion dolls.

Doll fashion has a long history within the tableau of clothing construction as the first way many people who sew started their sewing journeys. What sewing-crazy kid doesn't remember creating outfits for a favorite doll? Doll clothing was the entry point for so many, and it remains a craft that speaks to the intricacies of detail work that go into all clothing construction.

The recently renewed interest in doll culture, nostalgic focus on collectibles, and renewed interest in the fiber arts make this the perfect time to step into this space. Guided by King, an expert in couture sewing who threads the needle between the mechanics of garment construction and the visual feast of rich fabrics and design, Doll Couture will be a one-of-a-kind project that both delights and inspires.

Kenneth D. King is a contributing editor at Threads Magazine, couture fashion designer, author and popular professor at The Fashion Institute of Technology in New York City. He specializes in custom evening wear and his designs appear in the permanent collections of leading museums, including the Victoria and Albert Museum in London, renowned for its art and design collections.

Modern Motherhood

CELEBRATING QUIET MOMENTS OF LOVE AND CARE

● BY RILEY SHEEHEY

A beautiful illustrated collection of art and musings that highlight the simple joys of caregiving from artist and social media star Riley Sheehey

Multimedia artist Riley Sheehey brings together a collection of 100 illustrations of the quiet, often unobserved moments of caregiving. These aren't milestones we tend to capture in photos like the first steps or first words of a child. Instead, these illustrations capture the spontaneous joy of a dance party in the kitchen, the poignancy of reading a bedtime story, the adventure of building a pillow fort in the living room, and the tenderness of bandaging a cut knee. Originally inspired by Delft tiles, the 400+ year old blue-and-white pottery from the Netherlands, she started sharing her illustrations on her Instagram account, where her work resonated with thousands of mothers, nannies, teachers, and anyone who has experienced the joys of caregiving. Simple, spare captions allow space for the reader to reflect on their own memories or anticipate experiences to come with their loved ones, making it the perfect gift book for every occasion.

Riley Sheehey is a watercolor and multimedia artist and textile designer. Before becoming an artist full-time in 2017, she taught elementary school art and developed a love for whimsical styles and playful details. Her artwork reflects this childlike view of the world with fun color palettes and an attention to detail that evokes a viewer's curiosity. She is inspired by nostalgia, children's literature, and everyday life. Sheehey lives in Falls Church, Virginia, with her husband, daughter, and dog.

HOW I LOST MY VISION AND FOUND MY VOICE

● BY MOLLY BURKE

From social media star and disability activist Molly Burke, a vulnerable and witty memoir on navigating the challenges of being a legally blind woman in an ableist world

When Molly Burke was four years old, she was diagnosed with retinitis pigmentosa, a rare degenerative eye disease that causes gradual and complete blindness, forcing Burke to conceptualize the world differently. Growing up disabled didn't stop her from playing sports, speaking publicly, or becoming a rock-climbing instructor, but it was other people's narrow perceptions of her that held her back. Today, Burke is a speaker, content creator, model, author, and advocate whose mission is to help foster community for anyone feeling isolated, misrepresented, or misunderstood. Unseen is Burke's story in her own words and an inspiration to those who have been stigmatized or are feeling alone in their struggles to speak out.

Burke chronicles her journey as a disabled woman, business owner, and entertainer, illuminating not only what her experiences have taught her, but also what she wishes the world understood about her world and the world of others in the blind community. Part memoir, part rallying cry for better representation, Unseen recounts Burke's life and experiences fighting against the expectations society set for her as a blind woman, and in doing so, helps readers find their voice, strength, and inner purpose.

Molly Burke is a legally blind public speaker, content creator, model, author, and advocate who began her public speaking journey at the age of five to raise awareness for disabled people everywhere. After overcoming harsh bullying and feelings of isolation during her teenage years, Burke decided to bring a voice to underrepresented communities by speaking at places like the United Nations and the World Economic Forum in Davos. She then took to social media, creating content that would make others feel less scared about their own disabilities, less alone, and more educated on ways to create inclusive spaces. With her personality and content, she has amassed over five million followers across platforms, and has worked with brands such as Aerie, Samsung, Bose, Starbucks, Delta, Disney, Dove, Microsoft, Tommy Hilfiger, Estée Lauder, and Crocs. Burke has been featured in media ranging from the Wall Street Journal, People, Paper, Forbes, Adweek, and Allure—where she was added to the inaugural A List—to The Daily Show with Trevor Noah and The Today Show. Burke is based in Los Angeles.

She has modeled for Dove, Aerie by American Eagle, and Tommy Hilfiger Adaptive during LA Fashion Week, and has worked for brands such as Estée Lauder, No7, Too Faced, Samsung, Google, Microsoft, and Amazon.

INSPIRATIONAL STORY: After losing the majority of her vision by age 14, Burke faced harsh bullying and struggled with her mental health for many years. Friends with Words

ADVENTURES IN LANGUAGELAND

● BY MARTHA BARNETTE

With warmth, a popular radio and podcast host shares her love of language, weaving together linguistic history, regional phrases, the hidden poetry in etymologies, new words, and stories from her life and time on the air

Praise for Friends with Words

"Blessed are they who have met Martha Barnette in person or listened to her on the radio, for they shall hear the sound of her inimitable voice in every line of this richly satisfying book. Barnette luxuriates, she absolutely wallows in words, and her enthusiasm for language is infectious. This opsimath found herself in dialogue with the author: 'Thank you, Martha! Now I know why the word refectory is so delicious!' 'My dad cursed the first time he negotiated a jughandle turn.' 'Doesn't lacuna come from worms?' She takes us into the studio and on the road, revealing trade secrets and sprinkling in just enough personal history to whet the appetite. Bravissima! Chef's kiss! A delight from intro to epilogue!" —Mary Norris, New York Times bestselling author of Between You & Me: Confessions of a Comma Queen

Martha Barnette has spent two decades as the co-host of A Way with Words, lauded by Mary Norris in The New Yorker as "a virtual treasure house" and "'Car Talk' for Lexiphiles." Over that time, she's developed a keen sense of what fascinates people about language. They are curious about etymology and revel in slang, are surprised by regional vocabulary and celebrate linguistic diversity. Idioms both puzzle and delight word lovers, and they are eager to share family neologisms and that weird phrase Grandma always used to say.

In Friends with Words, Barnette weaves together all these strands in a clear, informative, highly entertaining exploration of language. Chock-full of anecdotes, humorous asides, new words, trivia, and other lexicological delights, Friends with Words also tells Barnette's story—from her Appalachian roots through her study of Ancient Greek, and on to the making of a beloved and enduring show. Friends with Words is an expert, good-humored, joyful book.

Martha Barnette is a longtime journalist, dynamic public speaker, and co-host of the popular radio show and podcast A Way with Words. She holds an undergraduate degree in English from Vassar College, did graduate work in classical languages at the University of Kentucky, and studied Spanish in Costa Rica. Barnette is the author of A Garden of Words, Ladyfingers & Nun's Tummies, and Dog Days & Dandelions. She lives in San Diego, California.

Wards of the State

THE LONG SHADOW OF AMERICAN FOSTER CARE

● BY CLAUDIA ROWE

Told through the stories of eight former foster youth, a jolting exploration of a broken system from an award-winning journalist

By the time Maryanne was 19 years old, she was on trial for murder. After having been in and out of the foster homes for nearly a decade, she was trafficked, assaulted, and ultimately pointed a gun at her assailant—and pulled the trigger. She fled, but with no family and no real friends, it didn't take long for the police to catch up with her. However, in court, the defense blamed not the traffickers, nor Maryanne, but the state itself—or rather, the foster care system, which turns the state into the parent of hundreds of thousands of children. The state of Washington didn't listen, but Claudia Rowe did.

Wards of the State by journalist and author Claudia Rowe widens an eye-opening case from a true-crime lens to an exploration of the foster care-to-prison pipeline. The system is broken—hundreds of thousands of children every year leave America's $30 billion dollar foster care system and enter its prisons, where in some cases, 75 percent of inmates are former foster kids. Through the stories of eight former foster kids, Rowe illustrates exactly where, when, and how the system is failing the children that it parents. With accounts from psychologists to advocates to court room judges to the former foster children themselves, Wards of the State paves a road to reform by pulling back the curtain on the heartbreaking realities faced by children in a system that fails its most vulnerable youth.

Claudia Rowe has been writing about the hallways where kids and government clash for 25 years. Her reporting on racially skewed school discipline for The Seattle Times helped to change education laws in Washington State, and her coverage of Latino youth gangs was nominated for a Pulitzer Prize. Claudia has also written for the New York Times and Mother Jones. She was recently hired as a columnist focused on foster care, juvenile justice, and public education at the online news site Crosscut, where her work is seen by nearly 1 million viewers a month. She received the Washington State Book Award for her true crime memoir The Spider and the Fly, and published the successful Amazon Original Story Time Out in 2018.

SELLING POINTS

MASSIVE SOCIAL ISSUE: This is no small issue in our nation—on any given day, more than 400,000 children are in foster care, costing the state billions of dollars. Wards of the State exposes the often-overlooked and troubling realities of the foster care system and its prominent contribution to disturbingly high rates of homelessness and incarceration in children and young adults.

HUGE AUDIENCE: Readers of other acclaimed social justice books like An American Summer: Love and Death in Chicago and Fire in the Ashes: Twenty-Five Years Among the Poorest Children will gravitate toward the exploration of justice and redemption in Wards of the State and will also attract broader audiences that work or have interest in family court, criminal justice systems, social work, and more.

PERFECT AUTHOR: Claudia Rowe's background in investigative journalism, coupled with her experience reporting on the intersection of government policies and the lives of marginalized youth, positions her as the ideal author to tackle the complex issues surrounding foster care and the prison system with depth and empathy.

The Balance

MY YEARS COACHING SIMONE BILES

- BY AIMEE BOORMAN WITH STEVE COOPER; FOREWORD BY SIMONE BILES

From legendary gymnast Simone Biles's longtime coach, an insider's look at the making of a champion

MY YEARS COACHING SIMONE BILES

AIMEE BOORMAN
WITH STEVE COOPER

FOREWORD BY
SIMONE BILES

With a Foreword by Simone Biles

Simone Biles is one of the greatest athletes of all time. She's won six all-around world championships and seven Olympic medals (four gold). Five gymnastics moves are named after her, she received the Presidential Medal of Freedom (the youngest recipient ever), and at an age when most elite gymnasts have retired, Biles is not just still competing—she's dominating. She's expected to be in Paris this summer and could easily bring home more Olympic gold. She's having so much fun these days that LA 2028 is not out of the question.

But when coach Aimee Borman met her at a gym in Texas, Simone was just a seven-year-old kid. An exceptionally athletically gifted one, to be sure, but not yet great. That would take time, care, love, and balance. The Balance is coach Boorman's inside account of the growth of a transcendent athlete and the tumultuous events—from the dictatorial coaching of Martha Karolyi to the sexual abuse by Larry Nassar—that upended the lives of many girls, including Biles. Boorman helped shape Biles, both pushing her and holding her back, protecting both her mental and physical health. "She's like a second mom to me," writes Biles, and Boorman was the National Team coach in 2016, where the US—and Biles—brought home all-around gold.

The Balance combines unprecedented insider perspective on a legend, newsworthy details on gymnastics history, and compelling lessons on coaching, leadership, and development.

Aimee Boorman, a Chicago native, is a decorated and globally respected gymnastics coach, whose career included 12 years coaching the sport's all-time greatest, Simone Biles. Boorman was named USA Gymnastics Coach of the Year four times (2013–2016) and US Olympic Committee Coach of the Year (2016). She was head coach of the US Women's Gymnastics Team at the Rio Olympic Games and coached for the Dutch Gymnastics Federation at the European Championship, the Tokyo Olympic Games, and the World Artistic Gymnastics Championships in Japan in 2021. Boorman holds a bachelor of science in management and a master of sport from USA Gymnastics, and is actively representing the United States as a FIG Brevet judge. She is also a cofounder of Global Impact Gymnastics Alliance. She has three sons—Jamie, Chris, and Ben—with her husband, James Boorman, whom she has been married to for 25 years. Steve Cooper is a journalist with over two decades of writing, reporting, and editing experience, covering marriage, business, technology, entrepreneurship, and gymnastics, which he has also covered as a photographer. He is the coauthor of Life is Short, Don't Wait to Dance with former UCLA Gymnastics head coach Valerie Kondos Field, and is COO of GymCastic, the largest gymnastics podcast in the world.

SELLING POINTS

UNIQUE PERSPECTIVE: Biles is one of the most famous and celebrated athletes in the world—especially in 2024, when she's set to dominate at the Paris Olympics—but no one knows her like Aimee Boorman, who was her coach from age seven. This is the story of the making of a coach and her champion.

MAJOR NAME SUPPORT: In addition to the foreword by Biles, and support on publication, Boorman can count on stars Gabby Douglas, Laurie Hernandez, Madison Kocian, Aly Raisman, and others to champion the book. Their combined social media following is over 23 million.

INSPIRING AND INSTRUCTIVE: Boorman offers valuable lessons on leadership and development, on how to make greatness possible while finding balance and keeping things in perspective.

Women Money Power

THE RISE AND FALL OF ECONOMIC EQUALITY

● BY JOSIE COX

From an experienced financial journalist, the story of how women have fought for financial freedom, and the social and political hurdles that have kept them from equality

For centuries, women were denied equal access to money and the freedom and power that came with it. They were restricted from owning property or transacting in real estate. Even well into the 20th century, women could not take out their own loans or own bank accounts without their husband's permission. They could be fired for getting married or pregnant, and if they still had a job, they could be kept from certain roles, restricted from working longer hours, and paid less than men for equal work.

It was a raw deal, and women weren't happy with it. So they pushed back. In Women Money Power, financial journalist Josie Cox tells the story of women's fight for financial freedom. This is an inspirational account of brave pioneers who took on social mores and the law, including the "Rosies" who filled industrial jobs vacated by men and helped win WWII, the heiress whose fortune helped create the birth control pill, the brassy investor who broke into the boys' club of the New York Stock Exchange, and the namesake of landmark equal pay legislation who refused to accept discrimination.

But as any woman can tell you, the battle for equality—for money and power—is far from over. Cox delves deep into the challenges women face today and the culture and systems that hold them back. This is a fascinating narrative account of progress, women's lives, and the work still to be done.

Josie Cox is a journalist, editor, and broadcaster with a particular interest in business, workplace culture, and equality. She has an extensive professional network and experience working for a broad range of media outlets in Germany, Switzerland, the UK, and the US, including Reuters, The Wall Street Journal, and The Independent, where she served as business editor. As a freelancer, her work has appeared in The Guardian, Fortune, Forbes, The Times and Sunday Times of London, and other publications. She has appeared as a commentator on CNN, Fox News, Al Jazeera, and Sky News, and is a regular guest on the BBC. Cox was a fully funded 2020/2021 Knight-Bagehot Fellow at Columbia Journalism School. She has an MBA from Columbia Business School and is also an associate instructor within the Strategic Communications program at Columbia's School of Professional Studies. She lives in New York City.

Ibis

A NOVEL

● BY JUSTIN HAYNES

This bold, witty, magical new voice in fiction weaves a cross-generational Caribbean story of migration, superstition, and a search for family

A bold, witty, and magical cross-generational Caribbean story about migration, superstition, and a refugee's search for her family.

There is bad luck in New Felicity. The people of the small coastal village have taken in Milagros, an 11-year-old Venezuelan refugee, just as Trinidad's government has begun cracking down on undocumented migrants—and now an American journalist has come to town asking questions. New Felicity's superstitious fishermen fear the worst, certain they've brought bad luck on the village by killing a local witch who had herself murdered two villagers the year before. The town has been plagued since her death by alarming visits from her supernatural mother, as well as by a mysterious profusion of scarlet ibis birds. Now, skittish that the reporter's story will bring down the wrath of the ministry of national security, the fishermen take things into their own hands. From there, we go backward and forward in time—from the town's early days, when it was the site of a sugar plantation, to Milagros's adulthood as she searches for her mother across the Americas. In between, through the voices of a chorus of narrators, we glimpse moments from various villagers' lives, each one setting into motion events that will reverberate outwards across the novel and shape Milagros's fate.

With kinetic, absorbing language and a powerful sense of voice, Ibis meditates on the bond between mothers and daughters, both highlighting the migrant crisis that troubles the contemporary world and offering a moving exploration of how to square where we come from with who we become.

Justin Haynes is a novelist and short story writer who was born in Port of Spain, Trinidad and Tobago, and raised just outside of it. He later moved to Brooklyn, NY. He has degrees from St. Francis College, the University of Notre Dame, and Vanderbilt University. Justin has been awarded various fiction residencies and fellowships, including from the Fine Arts Work Center, the Carl Djerassi Fellowship at the University of Wisconsin, the Vermont Studio Center, the Nicholas Jenkins Barnett fiction fellowship at Emory University, Art Omi, and at the Tin House Summer Workshop. His writing has been published in a variety of literary magazines and journals, including Caribbean Quarterly, SX Salon Small Axe Project, and Pree. Justin lives in Atlanta and teaches English and creative writing at Oglethorpe University.

Daughters of Chaos

A NOVEL

● BY JEN FAWKES

A spellbinding story about a renowned Nashville brothel during the Civil War, a centuries-old secret society, and the earth-shaking power of women—charged with suspense, mystery, and sapphic romance

Three-time O. Henry Prize-winning author Kevin Brockmeier calls Daughters of Chaos “a beautiful spinning knife of a story that whirls back through the 1800s, the 1500s, the 4th century BC, and the age of myth to slice out an image of the pain and the power that women have inherited from antiquity.”

The year is 1862, and the United States Civil War is in full force. After a harrowing tragedy at home, 19-year-old Sylvie Swift finds herself living in a brothel in Nashville, the Union headquarters, a river city overflowing with soldiers, commanders, politicians, and powerful men—and powerful women. Targeted by a Union colonel and trained to be a spy against suspected Confederate secret societies, Sylvie suddenly finds herself neck-deep in an underground world she never expected: Also at work in Nashville is a centuries-old feminist cult populated by the women Sylvie thought she knew, including Hannah, a revolutionary with whom Sylvie falls headfirst into a heart-wrenching romance. She soon becomes entwined in the lives of the Daughters of Chaos, steadfast in their centuries-long mission to confront and eradicate the injustices enacted by the men who think they're in charge.

Inspired both by Aristophanes' Lysistrata and by the true story of Nashville's attempt to ban its “public women” during wartime, Daughters of Chaos journeys through Ancient Greece, the Renaissance, and American history as Sylvie navigates the complex mythology of this secret world of women against the backdrop of a transformative American war.

Jen Fawkes's debut book, Mannequin and Wife (LSU Press) was a 2020 Shirley Jackson Award Nominee, won two 2020 Foreword INDIES (Gold in Short Stories), and was named one of Largehearted Boy's Favorite Short Story Collections of 2020. Her second book, Tales the Devil Told Me (Press 53), won the 2021 Foreword INDIES silver medal in Short Stories and is a current finalist for the 2022 World Fantasy Award for Best Collection. Her work has appeared in One Story, Lit Hub, Crazyhorse, The Iowa Review, Best Small Fictions 2020, and many others, and has won numerous fiction prizes, from The Pinch, Salamander, Washington Square Review, and others. The recipient of the 2021 Porter Fund Literary Prize, she lives in Little Rock, Arkansas, with her husband and two cats named Tessio and Clemenza.

SELLING POINTS

AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR: Jen Fawkes is a Porter Fund Literary Prize recipient whose first two books of short stories are a Shirley Jackson Award Nominee, a current finalist for the 2022 World Fantasy Award, and Foreword INDIES Gold and Silver Medal winners.

GREAT CONNECTIONS: Fawkes has a modest-but-highly-engaged social media following, including fixtures of literary Twitter such as Matt Bell (30,000) and Amber Sparks (54,000), who enthusiastically and immediately shared news of her book deal. Fawkes has close ties across the literary world, including to 30-plus publications and five universities.

FEMINIST RETELLING: Daughters of Chaos offers a new twist on the evergreen categories of feminist mythology and history retellings. Inspired by Aristophanes' ancient Greek comedy, Lysistrata, Fawkes's novel is a rollicking feminist and anti-war tale set during the American Civil War.

UNTOLD UNDERBELLY OF

HISTORY: Fawkes was inspired to write this novel, which includes real historical events and figures, after reading a Smithsonian magazine article about a little-known Civil War event: When Nashville rounded up the city's prostitutes and attempted to banish them. Fawkes could find no record of the women's experiences. Perfect for an essay or interview near publication.
