A HIDE-AND-SEEK BOOK

Hide-and-Seek Mommy

A LIFT-THE-FLAP BOOK

● BY MARTA ALTÉS

Ready or not, here I come! A hilarious hide-and-seek game between toddlers and their loving mothers, who just need a moment to themselves

Where is Eric's mommy? There she is! Under the table!
Where is Nora's mom? There she is! Behind the big chair!
Where is Edie's ma? There she is! In the cupboard!
Mommies love playing hide-and-seek . . . even though they're not very good at it!

Charming, funny, and incredibly relatable, Hide-and-Seek Mommy is a vibrant peekaboo board book perfect for little seekers and fans of the Karen Katz lift-the-flap books. Featuring different mommies looking to take a breather from their rambunctious little ones, lift the sturdy flaps to reveal where each mommy is hiding. In the final scene, all the mommies have gotten together, and guess who's hiding now?! Young readers will love spotting all the kids' funny hiding places.

With 14 flaps to lift, peer behind a coat or open the cupboard doors to show what Mommy is doing (like enjoying some coffee or getting in some yoga). But not to worry . . . kids love to play hide-and-seek, too! 1, 2, 3 . . . ready or not, here they come!

Marta Altés is the award-winning creator of numerous picture books, including My Grandpa, I Am an Artist!, Five More Minutes, and Little Monkey. While living in Barcelona, she earned a degree in graphic design and then moved to the UK to study for an MA in children's book illustration. Since then, her books have been translated into 34 different languages! My Grandpa (Abrams BYR, 2013) was an Ezra Jack Keats New Illustrator Award Honoree in the US, and I Am an Artist! was long-listed for the Kate Greenaway Medal in the UK. Altés has also won the Read It Again! Award and the Nottingham Children's Book Award, and her first book, No!, was short-listed for the Peoples Book Prize and the Waterstones Picture Book Prize. Altés lives in London.

A BREATHE-ALONG BOOK

Breathe a Rainbow (An Interactive Board Book)

WITH 8 CALMING TEXTURES TO TRACE WITH YOUR FINGER

● BY JULIE KOON

Breathe in . . . and breathe out . . . with this unique, interactive board book that offers mindful breathing exercises and calming textures for children to trace with their fingers as they inhale and exhale

This unique, interactive board book combines textured calming strips and deep-breathing exercises to encourage mindfulness. With inspiring affirmations and a textured calming strip for kids to trace with their fingertips on each spread, this is a wonderful playroom or classroom tool to help lessen anxiety, anger, overstimulation, and many more big emotions little ones may not yet understand how to identify, describe, or regulate.

If you feel stuck in the mud, breathe in and out as you trace the outline of a bright flower's petals. If you feel your worries whirl and swirl, breathe in and out as you trace textured ocean waves. Other shapes include a rainbow, a star, a butterfly's wings, mountain tops, a swirling breeze, and a heart.

Julie Koon is a children's book author and illustrator who loves making sweet and silly books for kids. As a preschool teacher and former school counselor, Koon brings playfulness and heartfelt warmth to each page. She loves helping kids learn positive strategies to cope with big feelings. Koon lives in Massachusetts with her husband, three kids, and two guinea pigs.

SELLING POINTS

MINDFULNESS IS KING: Books about the body–mind connection and calming techniques are a hot topic, as shown by the success of Alphabreaths and Abrams' own Am Yoga.

UNIQUE FORMAT: Calming strips are hugely popular with children and adults alike, and are mostly sold as big stickers, easy to place on desks, phones, and water bottles. Breathing boards are also popular, helping children regulate emotions and master breathing deeply as they trace their fingers along grooved paths. There are no other titles on the market offering breathing boards and calming strips in book form. We're excited to expand our original, novelty board book line with this wonderful title that we think will have major appeal for a wide array of markets!

SERIES POTENTIAL: A second title, focusing on the anxieties surrounding the first day of school, will offer more breathing exercises and delightful, tactile scenes to trace. If this unique format takes off, we have many ideas to expand the series to include seasonal topics, and maybe even licensed characters (trace Captain America's shield to feel brave!).

A POINT-OF-VIEW PICTURE BOOK

Just a Shell . . . or Is It? (A Point-of-View Picture Book)

● WORDS BY BECCA MCMURDIE; PICTURES BY PAOLA ESCOBAR

Author Becca McMurdie and Pura Belpré Honor Award–winning illustrator Paola Escobar explore the natural world with appreciation and empathy in this wildly imaginative, summer–themed picture book

A seashell is just a seashell . . . or is it? To a clam, it's a door. To an octopus, it's a shield. To a young child, it's a treasure! A place to play or a home for critters, the beach can be so many things! And there are so many other exciting things to find hidden in sand dunes and between waves—all it takes is a little shift in perspective.

Perfect for boardwalk strolls, lazy days on beach towels, or in a classroom or a playroom, Just a Shell . . . or Is It? promotes creative thinking and empathy for the world around us—and all of its inhabitants—teaching young readers that nothing in nature is “just” what it is, but so much more.

Becca McMurdie is an elementary school teacher and aunt to three amazing nephews by day. At night, she researches and writes children's books. Her first picture book, Building a Beak: How a Toucan's Rescue Inspired the World, was a NSTA–CBC Best STEM Book Selection. BEARSUIT TURTLE

Bearsuit Turtle Plays a Game

● WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY BOB SHEA

Two friends invent an imaginative new game in this laugh-out-loud story that captures the silliness of playtime, from award-winning author-illustrator Bob Shea

When a bear suit-wearing turtle and his best friend are left to their own devices, the fun and games begin!

Pass the ball, but be careful—the grass is hot lava! As “bearsketball” gets increasingly off-the-wall, the two friends compete to see who can find the biggest stick in the forest, roll down the hill without dropping the ball, and guess the number each one is thinking. Who will be the winner? And what are the rules to this game, anyway?

From Bob Shea, author-illustrator of the popular Dinosaur vs. series and Unicorn Thinks He’s Pretty Great, this charming and hilarious tale is an ode to the joy and freedom of childhood. With true-to-life kid dynamics, offbeat humor, and memorable characters, this picture book companion to Bearsuit Turtle Makes a Friend proves that everyone wins when you’re having fun.

Bob Shea has written and/or illustrated over 20 picture books, including the popular Dinosaur vs. series, Unicorn Thinks He’s Pretty Great, and the Ballet Cat early readers series. His most recent picture book, Chez Bob, received three starred reviews, with Booklist calling it “terrifically funny and surprisingly sweet.” Shea’s characters and animations have appeared on Nick Jr., Playhouse Disney, and PBS Kids.

NEW STAR CHARACTER: Bearsuit Turtle has quickly become an in-house favorite, and book one is poised to make a splash with readers. ENDEARING FRIENDSHIP STORY: Imaginative play leads to silly sports-themed adventures between two new friends.

HILARIOUS READ-ALoud: Shea is known for his kid-perfect sense of humor. This energetic, simple, VERY funny text is perfect fans of Jon Klassen, with a goofier, sweeter sensibility.

But Art Is Awful!

● BY CASSI MCCREIGHT; ILLUSTRATED BY XINDI YAN

A hilarious picture book about an endearing little crank who thinks the museum is absolutely awful . . . or is it actually awesome?

Art can be a lot of things—wondrous, inspiring, transformative . . . but mostly it's boring!

And visiting an art museum? Double boring! Come along with a curmudgeonly young boy—who's more interested in finger painting his cat than “admiring art”—as he's begrudgingly taken to the local museum by his well-meaning mother. Seriously, what's so great about scribbles and squares and dots? OK, sure, that portrait made of cubes is kind of cool. And those sculptures made of clay are pretty awesome . . . Gasp! Maybe he does like art after all?! Well, would that be so awful?

Witty and informative (but never boring!), author Cassi McCreight and Xindi Yan, illustrator of the New York Times–bestselling Busy Betty series, have paired up to create a laugh-out-loud romp all about art appreciation. With nods to famous artists and art movements on every page, and back matter explaining each movement through a kid-friendly voice, young readers will soon find themselves eager to visit their local art museum or make masterpieces of their own.

Cassi McCreight grew up in Fort Worth, Texas, loving her local libraries and museums. She is rather better at writing stories than drawing pictures, so, she decided to make art with words. She writes books for children of all ages that are usually funny and at least slightly educational. Cassi still lives nearby her beloved childhood museums and visits them with her husband and two sons as often as they'll agree to go (and even when they don't!). Xindi Yan grew up in China and LOVED art and art museums. She moved to New York to realize her dream of being a published artist. Yan graduated from Pratt Institute and has worked as an illustrator for the gaming industry and children's media. She has illustrated many picture books, including Reese Witherspoon's Busy Betty series and Grandpa Grumps series by Katrina Moore. Living in Brooklyn, she is so happy to be living her dream drawing every day.

Unbreakable

A JAPANESE AMERICAN FAMILY IN AN AMERICAN INCARCERATION CAMP (A PICTURE BOOK)

● WRITTEN BY MINORU TONAI AND JOLENE GUTIÉRREZ; ILLUSTRATED BY CHRIS SASAKI

A powerful, emotional, and ultimately uplifting picture book about the real-life experience of a Japanese American boy incarcerated during World War II

How can they lock us up when we haven't done anything wrong?

Minoru "Min" Tonai, a young American citizen, and his family must leave everything behind as they are rounded up and unjustly imprisoned following the bombing of Pearl Harbor. Imprisoned on the dusty plains and facing both the pain of displacement and the injustice of being incarcerated by his own country, Min must learn to adapt and to find beauty—and strength—where most wouldn't.

Cowritten by Jolene Gutiérrez and Minoru Tonai, Unbreakable is based on Min's harrowing real-life experiences. Illustrated by acclaimed illustrator Chris Sasaki, this picture book includes extensive back matter such as a timeline, a bibliography, author and illustrator notes, and questions for further discussion.

Cowriter Jolene Gutiérrez is an award-winning teacher-librarian. It was her honor to partner with Minoru Tonai to tell his family's story. Jolene lives in Denver and is the author of many books for young readers, including Too Much! and Mamiachi & Me. Cowriter Minoru "Min" Tonai (1929–2023) was a Japanese American rights activist. He and his family were incarcerated from 1942 to 1945, and for the rest of his life, Min worked to preserve and tell stories about what his family—and so many others—endured during WWII. He was the founder and president of the Amache Historical Society, and board president of the Japanese American Cultural and Community Center. Chris Sasaki is an Emmy and Annie Award-winning animation artist. Along with their work on major motion pictures, they have illustrated several books for young readers, including Home Is a Window, a Notable Social Studies Trade Book for Young People, and Paper Son, winner of the Asian/Pacific American Award for Literature for best picture book. Chris lives in Los Angeles.

SELLING POINTS

FORGOTTEN HISTORY: The incarceration of Japanese Americans during World War II continues to be an overlooked piece of American history in the picture book market. Abrams' own Barbed Wire Baseball, which focuses on incarceration camps, has grossed over 50,000 copies, and Love in The Library (Candlewick, 2022) received four starred reviews. Unbreakable is an important addition to what's already been published for younger children on the subject.

HIT GENRE: Picture book biographies continue to do well on our list and the marketplace, with books such as The People's Painter, Exquisite, and Separate is Never Equal receiving critical acclaim and success.

INCREDIBLE ILLUSTRATOR:

Chris Sasaki is an Emmy Award-winning animation art director, illustrator, and writer whose three previous picture books have all garnered starred reviews and awards.

CREATOR TO WATCH:

Jolene Gutiérrez's star continues to rise. Too Much! (Appleseed) has found a worldwide readership with seven foreign editions, several reprints, and has been included in multiple roundups of top titles focused on mental health for children. Her second Abrams book, Mamiachi & Me (BYR, 2024).

THE LAST DRAGON HOUSE

The Last Dragon House

A NOVEL

● BY LIV MAE MORRIS

A spellbinding middle–grade debut about a magical boarding house for dragons and the unlikely boy destined to save it

When Olly Atwood turns 11, it's time for him to get a job. Every kid his age in Oakridge already has one, mostly at the hazardous silverware factory. Olly wants more for his life than a dangerous job on the factory line, so when the brilliant Dr. Lady Abernathy offers him a high–paying position at a mysterious house outside of town, he accepts. Only after accepting does he find out his job is to care for dragons—from the gentle fairy dragons to the terrifying death wyrm and everything in between. And when Dr. Lady is poisoned, Olly and his new friends find themselves in a race against time (and political conspiracies, and foreboding prophecies, and one very large corgi).

Nine–year–old Jenny Atwood has found a strange scaly creature in the family's garden. When her older brother leaves with a pack of dragons to find an antidote for a dying woman, she knows just where to bring it—the Dragon House. Jenny has always felt different, but it's only after meeting the dragons that she realizes why: She can do magic. Maybe her newfound abilities will be enough to keep Dr. Lady, who's sicker than anyone realized, alive until Olly returns with a cure. Maybe Jenny can do a whole lot more. Maybe Jenny is about to become as powerful and fearsome as any dragon.

Liv Mae Morris is a writer, bookseller, and professional dragon enthusiast. She was a 2022 Lambda Literary Fellow and a recipient of the Susan Kamil Scholarship for Emerging Writers. She grew up in Kentucky and now lives in Boston with her wife, two cats (Bo and Pawl Simon), a husky/chihuahua mix (Diana Wynne Bones), and a frankly irresponsible number of books.

SELLING POINTS

DRAGONS FOREVER: Dragons are a perennial favorite in middle–grade fantasy, and they're having a particularly hot moment with bestsellers such as Impossible Creatures and The Last Dragon on Mars.

Books Good Enough for You

THE STORIED LIFE OF URSULA NORDSTROM, EDITOR OF EXTRAORDINARY CHILDREN'S BOOKS

● BY NANCY HUDGINS

A celebration of the life and work of Ursula Norstrom—the groundbreaking editor of classic children’s books like Charlotte’s Web and Where the Wild Things Are—and a powerful defense of a child’s right to read

Legendary Harper & Row children’s book editor Ursula Nordstrom was a trailblazer. Her books were honest, smart, emotional, and firsts of their kind. And—perhaps because they challenged the status quo—they were often censored or banned. But Nordstrom always fought back.

Books Good Enough for You follows Nordstrom from childhood through her extraordinary career as book editor, literary revolutionary, and advocate. Full of anecdotes about some of Nordstrom’s most famous collaborators, like Maurice Sendak, Margaret Wise Brown, and E. B. White, this biography is a true celebration of collaboration and friendship.

Many of Nordstrom’s books—from to Where the Wild Things Are to Charlotte’s Web—are now considered classics, but back in her day, these stories faced fierce opposition from those who deemed them inappropriate for children. In the face of this criticism, Nordstrom pushed back, building up her authors and proudly defending young readers’ access to literature that reflected their worlds.

Filled with quotes from her eloquent, empathetic, and often sharply humorous editorial letters, Books Good Enough for You is a timely reminder that children deserve fresh, groundbreaking, and deeply human stories.

Nancy Hudgins received her undergraduate degree in history and political science from Boston University and her law degree from the University of Virginia. Now, Hudgins and with her rescue dog, Buddy, are the cofounders of a Little Free Library dedicated to children’s books. When not writing, revising or researching in some far-away archive, Hudgins plays bocce. Like Ursula Nordstrom, she enjoys jigsaw puzzles.

SELLING POINTS

CURRICULUM TIE-IN: Readers studying some of the most famous works Ursula Nordstrom shepherded—like Charlotte’s Web or Harriet the Spy—are sure to find this work about the story behind the book to be a wonderful resource.

CELEBRATING THE CLASSICS: Books Good Enough for You follows Nordstrom as she edits some of our most beloved books for children, including Goodnight Moon, Harold and the Purple Crayon, Where the Wild Things Are, and Charlotte’s Web.

BOOKS ABOUT BOOKS: Books about books are perennial favorites among librarians and booksellers. This informative celebration of Nordstrom’s work highlights her own efforts against book banning, a salient topic for today’s readers.

WHAT WOULD URSULA DO: Nancy Hudgins perfectly combines her extensive research with Nordstrom’s real-life writing tips to create an engaging guide for aspiring writers and editors. Books Good Enough for You is sure to be a stand-out title in the school and library market.

A CHAPTER BOOK

- WRITTEN BY KATIE COTUGNO; ILLUSTRATED BY AMY JINDRA HODGSON

From bestselling author Katie Cotugno and illustrator Amy Jindra Hodgson comes a charming new chapter-book series about a plucky seven-year-old who can see things other people miss, perfect for fans of Ivy & Bean

For two hours every day, seven-year-old Penelope Positano wears an eye patch. Her eye muscles don't quite match, and wearing the patch on her strong eye helps her less-strong eye catch up. And whenever she wears her eye patch, Penelope notices things that other people overlook.

The Positanos are getting a dog, and it's Penelope's job to find the perfect pup for her family. Her mom thinks they should pick the most obedient dog, and her dad wants the dog that likes his music the best, but Penelope's not sure. Her best friend, Gus, said she would know which dog was meant to be hers, but the more Penelope looks, the more she worries that her dog isn't out there.

It's only with the encouragement of her grandma—and the help of her trusty eye patch—that Penelope realizes the perfect dog might be closer than she thinks.

Alert! Alert! The Friend Ship's been hacked! A pack of evil pugs have infected Bobo with a computer virus and taken Astrid and Stella hostage! Unable to rescue his friends alone, Bobo builds a sidekick—Zobo, a friendly new robot with a talent for smashing things—and the two will have to work together to free Astrid and Stella from Pugnacious D and his hungry hounds.

Their daring rescue mission goes awry when the team discovers that the pugs have united with Evil Screenius and Kittywonkus—villains from their past bent on destruction. This terrible trio is bad to the bone, but—with the help of an old friend—Astrid and Stella just might be able to defeat them and escape the doghouse.

In this high-octane Dungeons & Dragons–inspired middle-grade graphic novel, the Lionhart brothers must save their parents and uncover the truth behind their legendary adventuring family!

Adventuring isn't just in the Lionhart family's blood—it's the family business. Grammy and Baba Lionhart were once a famous questing duo—slaying dragons and fighting monsters, they were legends throughout the land.

Now, their daughter, Lenna, has taken over the business, questing under the famous Lionhart name with her husband, Gerard, and their young sons, Alder and Flynt, are desperate to be included!

When their parents go missing after accepting an unusually high-paying job from a mysterious woman, the boys set out to find them, eager to prove they're ready to carry on the family legacy. Nothing can shake a Lionhart, right? But Grammy and Baba know better and swiftly catch up with the boys, who have already gotten themselves in heap of trouble.

Along the journey, Alder and Flynt tackle big challenges and discover new skills, but as they get closer to finding their parents, they also unearth a secret that could tear their family apart and, even worse, bring the Lionhart name to ruin. From Mike Lawrence, creator of the Star Scouts series, comes book 1 in a fast-paced and adventurous middle-grade graphic novel duology sure to appeal to fans of Lightfall, 5 Worlds, and Dungeon Critters.

I Am We

Sometimes we may wonder, how does caring for ourselves help anyone else? But then we realize that the better we feel inside, the more we can be there for others—our friends, families, and communities. We are part of something bigger than ourselves, and when we each turn our goodness and compassion outward, we can create, learn, and love. From the New York Times bestselling team behind the I Am series comes a celebration of caring for ourselves AND others with open hearts and minds. Whether it's listening to a friend, welcoming newcomers with open arms, or standing up against injustice, I Am We shows us what true community looks like—and the amazing things that can happen when we come together.
