RUSS & DAUGHTERS: 100 Years of Appetizing by Niki Russ Federman and Josh Russ Tupper (Flatiron Books, September 9, 2025)

National Bestseller

Russ & Daughters is many things. It's one of the very few centenarian culinary institutions left in the city. It's an inspiring story of the American Dream and the strength of family. It's more New York than Central Park, the Empire State Building, and Jerry Seinfeld combined. And, somehow, a hundred years on, it's still cool enough to pull celebrity collabs and make best-of lists. But, importantly, it's also something else: a living, breathing, time-traveling encyclopedia of appetizing. Behind that famous counter, amid the delicate piles of nova and silvery herring, is the source code for our current national Loxaissance. Niki Russ Federman and Josh Russ Tupper, the fourth-generation proprietors of the only remaining appetizing shop on the Lower East Side of the original 40 that once existed, want to share that source code, for the first time, in a cookbook.

UMMA: A Korean Mom's Kitchen Wisdom and 100 Family Recipes by Sarah Ahn (America's Test Kitchen, April 1, 2025).

Learn Korean cooking alongside social media star Sarah Ahn as her umma passes down 100+ family recipes and decades' worth of kitchen wisdom.

Sarah Ahn's viral food videos of her and her mom have captivated millions of viewers with their behind-the-scenes look at Korean cooking and multigenerational home life. This collaboration is now a must-have cookbook blending the emotional intimacy of Crying in H Mart with practical culinary advice from Nam Soon's lifetime of kitchen experience. The recipes are framed by mother-daughter conversations that are funny, profound, and universally relatable—plus all the food is backed by the recipe-testing power of America's Test Kitchen.

DORIE'S ANYTIME CAKES by Dorie Greenspan (HarperCollins, October 21, 2025) (See Dorie's backlist on pgs 10, 23 & 24)

DORIE'S ANYTIME CAKES will have six chapters and more than 100 recipes, two-thirds of them sweet, and one-third savory. Greenspan has found new grain combinations that transform the flavor and texture of cakes. She plays with syrups, soaks and French cloud cakes - which are based on mousse and "baked" in the refrigerator- as well as other no-bake cakes. As always, she's tucking surprises into her cake, creating new shapes, playing around with spices and finding new ingredients to fold into a batter – a subtle way to bring the unexpected to a cake that looks familiar. Wait until you taste what Japanese yuzu kosho – a citrus and chili paste – can do to tomatoes.

LA FRONTERA: Authentic Recipes from Both Sides of the Border and the Unexpected Stories Behind Them by Pati Jinich (Harvest, Sept. 2026)

"Border." Today the word sounds so foreboding, final. It evokes fear. Pati Jinich prefers the Spanish name, "la frontera," suggesting a space for evolving possibilities, not just the end of one place, but the beginning of another. In LA FRONTERA, Pati Jinich tells the story of the friendly, unpretentious, and surprising food on both sides of the US-Mexico border. From mariachi breakfast tacos to chile con queso with brisket, the approximately 125 recipes in this book are the best of both worlds, drawn from four American states and five Mexican sister states.

CAFFE PANNA by Hallie Meyer (Simon Element, Spring 2027)

Founder of Caffe Panna, Hallie Meyer's Panna, an authoritative, definitive, and lavishly photographed cookbook that will include 300 recipes for the ice creams, sorbets, swirls, ripples, mixins, crunches, affogatos, and sundaes that make Meyer's shop a destination for the finest and most whimsical treats, and, that will, along the way, teach the reader the fundamentals of flavor combinations and inspire the infinite matrices for which Meyer is famous.

GENTLE FOODS by Christina Chaey (Simon Element, January 2027)

GENTLE FOODS will be a cookbook of approximately 100 recipes by former Senior Editor at Bon Appétit, Christina Chaey, that embodies the spirit of that phrase. It will include everything from Korean dishes to lentil and potato salad to strawberry galette.

NO 1 BEST INDIAN COOKBOOK IN THE WORLD by Meherwan Irani and Jamie Feldmar (PRH/Ten Speed, Sep 1, 2026) [Translation only; excludes UK]

James Beard Award–winning chef Meherwan Irani is here to tell you that Indian street food is the best food on the planet—and that with more than 100 of his recipes you can have it at home any time you want.

Entering Meherwan Irani's restaurants feels like walking into a party—and opening his cookbook is no different. With warmth, affection, and a bit of swagger, Irani makes a compelling, delicious case for adding Indian food to your weekly rotation, providing you with clear instruction on how to build layers of flavor and texture, putting beloved favorites like bhel puri, vada pav, kathi rolls, and more within your grasp.

In the No. 1 Best Indian Cookbook in the World, Irani takes you through the depths of this (liberally defined) subgenre of Indian cuisine that's filled with delicious snacks, flavorful sandwiches, and curries and chutneys galore. He covers classics like pakoras and chaats as well as stews from roadside cantinas and Chinese-Indian stir fries. With more than 100 recipes for sandwiches, chaats, fried goodies, and more, you'll quickly see why this is the No. 1 Best Indian Cookbook in the World.

COMFORT FOOD CANON by Katie Button (PRH / Knopf, Fall 2026) [Translation only; excludes UK]

Katie's second book has been developed to be the antithesis of a restaurant book. Katie will demonstrate how simple alterations can drastically elevate a classic American dish—like adding tangy preserved lemon to a bundt cake, rich chorizo to a lentil stew, or modifying deviled eggs with punchy Manzanilla olives. THE COMFORT FOOD CANON will feature over 110 new recipes such as Pork Milanese with Salsa Verde and Basque-Style Ginger Cheesecake. Sprinkled throughout the book will be a feature cleverly titled "On the Button" that will supply readers with delicious recipe variations, as well as insightful sidebars on techniques and ingredients.

UNAPOLOGETIC INDIAN by Roni Mazumdar and Chintan Pandaya (Clarkson Potter, March 2027) ms. delivery 2026. [Translation and Indian subcontinental rights only; excludes UK and rest of Commonwealth]

Chintan Pandya won the James Beard Award for best chef in New York in 2022. It was the latest accolade heaped upon the team behind Unapologetic Foods. In a few short years, Roni Mazumdar and Chintan have, through their restaurants, changed the perception of Indian food. Starting with Adda Indian Canteen, first opened in August of 2018, they have opened a series of restaurants in NYC. Dhamaka was named the #1 New Restaurant by the NYT in 2021. Semma followed that and Rowdy Rooster opened in February 2022. Each place is distinct with a personality and a cuisine that represents their philosophy of bringing accessible food from India and their collective pasts to the palates of New Yorkers. Each new venture has been celebrated for its authenticity, and there are many more places to come. In a collaboration with Chandra Ram (senior digital food editor on Food & Wine and a James Beard nominee), Roni and Chintan's debut cookbook promises to continue the venture.

HER COOKBOOK by Amanda Shulman (PRH/Knopf, Spring 2027) ms. delivery June 2026

A cookbook containing approximately 100-125 recipes by Amanda Shulman, the owner of Her Place Supper Club in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, about cooking meals for the people you love.

PARTY LIKE A SOUTHERNER by Garden & Gun (Flatiron, Fall 2028) ms. available August 2027

A new title by the editors and contributors at Garden & Gun. Overseen by Editor-in-Chief David DiBenedetto, this will be a spirited and wide-ranging guide to how to entertain like a Southerner. Consisting of twelve chapters, each centered around a different occasion, PARTY LIKE A SOUTHERNER will include fifty original recipes, signature cocktails, decor tips, and playlists to match the mood. You'll learn how to shuck oysters for New Year's in typical Lowcountry fashion, prepare an après-dove-hunt buffet, and stir up three kinds of Juleps for the Kentucky Derby. If you've ever been stumped on how to make stunning (and wilt-proof) floral arrangements or worried about your finger-food etiquette, this book's got you covered there, too. Along the way, there will be invaluable partying tips from some of the brightest Southern hosts of our time, like Alexander Smalls, Charlotte Moss, Pardis Stitt, Rebecca Gardener, and more.

DINNER PLANS: FOOD FOR YOUR TABLE, ANY NIGHT OF THE WEEK by Kendra Vaculin (S&S/Simon Element, Spring 2027) ms. delivery Spring 2026

Kendra Vaculin is the former food editor at Bon Appetit, where she created recipes that get dinner on the table across digital (with her series Speedy Does It), print (with her section Dinner Is Served), and video. In her debut cookbook, she'll share her tips for coming up with dinner plans for every night of the week. Dinner Plans will feature 100 recipes, divided between Low Key Nights and High Key Nights, with smaller sections for Salads + Sides + Snacks, and Desserts. The Low Key Nights recipes, about 40% of the book, will serve 4, be whole-meal, 45 minute-or-less foolproof dinners, like Blistered Shishitos and Crispy Pork, Sheet Pan Chicken with Fennel and Salami, or Quick Beef Stew with Mushrooms and Farro. The High Key Night recipes, about 20% of the book, will serve 6 or more, take only a tad longer, and are meant to be the star of any gathering, with dishes like Grilled Skirt Steak Saam, Ratatouille with Couscous and Burrata, or Party Congee. The Sides + Salads + Snacks can be mixed-and-matched to supplement any recipe in the book, and the Desserts will range from an emergency 11 PM cookie to the sweet finale to a chic dinner party.

A SWEET YEAR: Jewish Celebrations and Festive Recipes for Kids and Their Families by Joan Nathan (Knopf Cooks, November 2024)
The “queen of American Jewish cooking” (Houston Chronicle) revises her children’s classic for a new generation.

In Jewish tradition, holidays are a time for family and feasting, and for Joan Nathan, nothing embodies the holiday spirit more than cooking delicious festive favorites with friends and loved ones. When her own children were young, Nathan published the first version of this book, which covers nine Jewish holidays and includes step-by-step instructions for kids and their families to prepare accessible feasts.

Now she updates a beloved go-to resource for her grandchildren’s generation and adds a heaping helping of new recipes. Included are dishes old and new, traditional and novel, and mouthwatering recipes that everyone will enjoy, from Moroccan Apricot Chicken and Chicken Schnitzel Tenders to Mushroom Kreplach Dumplings and Veggie Quiche.

KALAYA’S SOUTHERN THAI KITCHEN by Chutatip Suntarnon and Natalie Jesionka (Clarkson Potter, November 2024)
Bring the bold, spicy, beautiful world of Southern Thai cooking to your kitchen through recipes and stories from the James Beard Award–winning chef of Kalaya, in Philadelphia.

Growing up in the tropical region of Southern Thailand, Nok Suntaranon helped her mother pound the fresh curry pastes she would sell at their local market. But decades later, after making a life in the United States, she returned home and saw that the food had become watered-down—sweeter and more geared toward a tourist’s palate. Her life mission became clear: to preserve the flavors of Southern Thai food as she remembers them and to show American home cooks how delicious, intricately flavored, and doable Thai cooking is.

This is the cuisine of her homeland, both balanced and fiery, rustic or refined. From peppery fish sauce-garlic Hat Yai fried chicken to an extra-fresh, extra-herbal green curry to a celebratory turmeric sticky rice with savory coconut shrimp topping, this is Thai food as you’ve probably never seen it.

With easy-to-follow instructions, beginner-friendly tips, suggested recipe pairings, and stunning on-location photography, Kalaya’s Southern Thai Kitchen allows all cooks to bring a piece of Thailand into their kitchens.

ZAHAV HOME: Cooking for Friends & Family by Michael Solomonov and Steve Cook (Harvest/HarperCollins, September 2024)

The next cookbook from James Beard award-winning duo Mike Solomonov and Steve Cook. This time around, the two chefs will travel outside of the Middle East, focusing on the food of the Jewish diaspora. Featured recipes are Jewish classics reinvented: from taco filling inspired by veal schnitzel, to “everything bagel” flavored Tuna crudo. With at least 125 new recipes and stories, Zahav At Home, will show home cooks How To Build A Meal. After all, the food chef Solomonov cooks in his restaurant was born in home kitchens all over the Middle East, Europe, and North Africa. At Zahav, culinary savvy is applied to heighten the impact of the ingredients and flavors. With more tricks up their sleeve and seven years of new experiences, experimentation, and exciting ingredients, Solomonov and Cook bring a new, polished menu of techniques and ideas for home cooks. Aiming to help readers to discover—and own, and really use—a still unfamiliar list of ingredients, spices, herbs, and grains, Zahav At Home provides a fresh, approachable take on Israeli home favorites.

BAKING IN THE AMERICAN SOUTH by Anne Byrn (Harper Horizon, September 2024)

Many books have been written about the art that is Southern cooking. However, few cookbooks have been published that focus specifically on Southern baking and no one has tackled Southern baking in the past, present, and future in a way that allows the cook to fully appreciate the deep, distinct story of Southern baking and be able to bake the recipes in a kitchen today. No one, that is, until Anne Byrn.

In Southern Baking, Anne Byrn surveys 13 Southern states—Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas—looking at the places, the people, the products, and the culture of the moment that influenced what people baked then and continue to bake today. She tells the story of the South through 250 recipes, paying homage to African-American women and the seismic contributions they have made to the art of Southern baking, home cooks and how they’ve kept traditions alive by baking family recipes each year for holidays and celebrations, and the pastry chefs who have thoughtfully reimaged how the South bakes. Byrn’s new book will immortalize timeless Southern baking, giving a unique perspective on the facets that have contributed to making Southern baking what it is today.

AMRIKAN: 125 Recipes from the Indian American Diaspora by Khushbu Shah (W.W. Norton, June 2024)

Amrikan: 125 Recipes From The Indian American Diaspora is the story of Indian food in America, with Shah serving as its energetic translator. When it comes to cooking in the diaspora, the key is adaptation. Amrikan’s dishes break this concept down in four ways: Indian recipes modified with American ingredients, American foods adapted for the Indian palate, dishes born directly out of the diaspora, and classic, beloved Indian dishes in America. In many ways, the story of Indian food in America is the story of Shah’s family, and adapting Indian foods and sharing them is her way of holding onto her identity in the diaspora. Shah’s recipes will completely reshape readers’ thinking around Indian food, and she invites them to join her on a journey beyond butter chicken (though she has a stellar recipe for butter chicken, too!).

MY LIFE IN RECIPES: Food, Family, and Memories by Joan Nathan (Doubleday, April 9, 2024)

Joan Nathan has spent nearly five decades compiling the world's best Jewish recipes into cookbooks that warm the soul. After looking outward at centuries of Jewish cooking from Jewish communities all over the world, Nathan is finally turning inwards: she is looking at her own history and that of her family to share the recipes that have made her who she is.

My Life In Recipes takes us on a journey through Nathan's past, present and future. It begins with her ancestry, walking us through the recipes that were staples in her ancestors' lives in Germany, Poland, and Slovakia, with classic Jewish recipes like farfel and roast chicken and matzo ball soup. She then brings us into her childhood in Larchmont and Providence, detailing the recipes that she grew up with in her more immediate family, such as her grandmother's beef stew. She takes us through high school and her first trip to France, the foods she ate as a student at University of Michigan, the recipes that defined her newlywed life and early motherhood experiences, and more. By the end of this cookbook, we are granted with not only wonderful recipes to incorporate into our own lives, but a window into Nathan's own world. As with all of Nathan's work, My Life In Recipes is sure to be a cookbook that ripples through Jewish communities and beyond.

CURED: Cooking with Ferments, Pickles, Preserves & More by Steve McHugh with Paula Forbes (PRH/Ten Speed, March 26, 2024) ms available

Boost the flavor of any meal with this definitive guide on cooking with pickles, jams, preserves, sauces, and more—whether you make them from scratch or use store-bought ingredients—featuring 150+ recipes for everything from quick weeknight meals to Sunday suppers.

The secret to six-time James Beard Award finalist Steve McHugh's success comes down to one word: curing. To cure something is to transform it, allowing it to emerge as something new. Steve himself was transformed after battling lymphoma when he was just thirty-three; he came through that experience wanting to prolong moments of joy in everyday life. That philosophy extends to how he approaches food and cooking, sourcing the best ingredients when they are at their peak and then curing them to enjoy later. He intensifies their flavors, changing them into charcuterie, pickles, mustards, and more, making his seasonal favorites available year-round. And with Cured, you can have access to this arsenal of flavor as well, whether it's making your own preserves from scratch or using store-bought ingredients in your daily cooking.

An invaluable guide, Cured explains both how to easily preserve foods and why you should embrace this popular technique in your own home.

FORAGED AND GROWN: Healing, Magical Recipes for Every Season
by Tara Lanich-LaBrie (Countryman Press/W.W. Norton, March 5, 2024)
100 plant-inspired recipes to reconnect you with your body and the natural world.

With exciting recipes that incorporate highly nutritious plants and herbs into delicious and gorgeous cookies, pastries and candies that are also completely free of gluten, dairy, and refined-sugar, Tara Lanich-LaBrie takes you into the vibrant world of seasonal and foraged foods from your local terroir. Originally spurred by her own health issues, Tara sought to eliminate common allergens from her diet but she still craved delicious food, especially flavorful baked goods with satisfying textures. Soon she was stirring stinging nettles into donut batter, whisking rose petal powder into a rich buttercream for a French macaron, and adding sweet violets and wild plum blossoms into a smooth delicious flan.

Foraged and Grown is a culinary journey through the seasons with recipes that highlight herbal ingredients and share their use in various historic folk traditions. Including a detailed plant guide, seasonal organization, and key ingredient swaps to make all recipes accessible, this is the perfect cookbook for anyone curious about the natural world, cooking with more plants, or eating with the seasons. <https://themedicinecircle.com/book>

VEG FORWARD: Super-Delicious Recipes that Put Produce at the Center of Your Plate by Susan Spungen (Harper Horizon, May 30, 2023)

A walk around the farmer's market is often how Susan Spungen comes up with her most inspired dishes. First, she sees one ingredient that sparks an idea, and then she starts layering with what she sees before her using not just flavors, but colors too, to create dishes that are beautiful, delicious and wholesome. One of the key words of shopping at the farmer's market is "seasonal": fruits and vegetables have seasons, and those seasons are reflected in what is available at a farmer's market, since all of the produce is fresh from the farms at which they are grown. Spending so much time at home during the pandemic made Spungen more in tune with seasonality and resourcefulness than she was before, and it is this concept that she wishes to impart to her readers.

Taste For All Seasons is an inspirational resource for those with CSA shares, a backyard garden, good local farm stands, or anyone who likes to shop at their local farmer's market. It is an ideal book for anyone who wants to get more fresh produce into their diets and onto their table, but in new and delicious ways. It is filled with ideas for how to use different produce items in simple ways to bring out their best, how to prep and store, and recipes that feature vegetables prominently, letting them take center stage, as well as slightly more complex but still approachable recipes. Spungen's new cookbook will inspire her readers to cook more intentionally, thinking about how to incorporate fresh produce throughout the seasons and transforming our relationships to food and, by extension, the earth itself.

DELECTABLE: Sweet and Savory Baking by Claudia Fleming (Ballantine, October 2022)

In Claudia's first cookbook, a culinary classic, she shared recipes from the menus at Gramercy Tavern that introduced home cooks to her sophisticated, classically inspired seasonal desserts and pastries and established a standard in pastry kitchens across the country. Now Claudia is offering a new collection of recipes all developed and tweaked in her own small kitchen. Baking at home, Claudia brings her characteristic style and skilled approach to every sweet and treat, along with an ease with culinary history, and a growing connection to her own family traditions. A mix of classic favorites and new explorations, including her first foray into savory recipes for savory baking, each delicious dish is the work of a master in her prime.

Claudia's knowledge and facility, refined over a storied career in pastry, mark these more casual, desserts and savory bites. Her thoughtful essays on subject ranging from working with yeast to a professional's approach to frosting a layer cake, reflect her intention to share all she knows. Making simple preparations truly delicious is a challenge Claudia Fleming has always embraced. With Delectable, she continues to set the standard for pastry chefs and home bakers alike.

LISTEN TO YOUR VEGETABLES: Italian-Inspired Recipes for Every Season by Sarah Grueneberg with Kate Heddings (Harvest/HarperCollins, October 2022);

From Michelin star– and James Beard Foundation Award–winning chef/owner of Monteverde Restaurant in Chicago, Sarah Grueneberg, a vegetable focused cookbook of more than 180 Italian-inspired recipes.

James Beard Award–winning and Top Chef finalist chef Sarah Grueneberg has a secret to share: fruits and vegetables are singing loudly around you, begging you to take them home and try something new. Are you listening? Some are asking to be put in salads, yes. But what does this asparagus want you to do with it? What does it like to be paired with?

In this incredible exploration of seasonal produce, Sarah offers insights, techniques, and recipes to truly get the best out of your vegetables—how and when to shop for, cook, season, and seamlessly incorporate potatoes, squash, beans, greens, mushrooms, peppers, and more. Each of the 15 chapters focuses on a vegetable (or fruit, depending on your definition) so they can take center stage, plus one devoted entirely to pastas, drawing on Sarah's long love affair with Italian cooking and the methods that she uses at her renowned restaurant, Monteverde. This elemental cookbook celebrating seasonal produce offers more than 180 impressive yet surprisingly achievable recipes.

You'll also find indispensable tips and techniques, under the heading "Get It Get It"—an expression Sarah uses in her kitchen when things are coming together perfect. With Listen to Your Vegetables, even the most carnivorous will be inspired to elevate their vegetable game.

THE HERBIVOROUS BUTCHER COOKBOOK by Aubry and Kale Walch (Chronicle, August 2022) [Translation only; excludes UK.] (<https://www.theherbivorousbutcher.com>)

Health, animal welfare, or for environmental preservation, vegetarianism and veganism are surging in popularity worldwide. This surge in popularity has opened up a market for vegan and vegetarian restaurants including “The Herbivorous Butcher,” founded in Minneapolis, Minnesota U.S.A in 2013 by a sister-brother duo. The food for sale at the Herbivorous Butcher seems typical of that of any butcher shop - summer sausage, meatballs, salami, chicken, and cheese to top it off - but there’s one small difference: there is not a bit of meat or dairy in the entire store.

In their first cookbook, they will share 75 of their customers’ and family’s favorite recipes. They have 136K followers on Instagram (@theherbivorousb) and 88K followers on Facebook (@theherbivorousbutcher).

I AM FROM HERE: Stories and Recipes from a Southern Chef by Vishwesh Bhatt (W.W. Norton & Company, August 2022) [Translation only; excludes UK]

A Vishwesh Bhatt dish conjures an evolving American South. Peanut Masala–Stuffed Baby Eggplant alongside fried okra, tossed in tangy chaat masala. Collard-Wrapped Catfish with a spicy Peanut Pesto. These much-loved dishes are stars on the menu at Snackbar in Oxford, Mississippi, where Bhatt has been the executive chef since 2009, earning him Best Chef: South (2019 James Beard Awards) and induction into the Fellowship of Southern Farmers, Artisans, and Chefs in 2022. His food draws from his Indian heritage and is unpretentious, inventive, and incredibly delicious.

Writing for the home cook, Bhatt includes recipes for making your own spice mixes, including a versatile chaat masala. A mix-and-match meal-planning guide will help you pair dishes for different occasions. And every ingredient is within reach even if you’re cooking far away from the warmth of Mississippi. This cookbook thoughtfully, and persuasively, expands notions of what it means to be, and cook like, a Southerner today.

LEARNING KOREAN: Recipes for Home Cooking by Peter Serpico with Andrew Lazor (W.W. Norton, May 2022) [Translation only; excludes UK]);

A “wildly inventive” (Food & Wine) James Beard Award–winning chef interprets one of Asia’s greatest cuisines for the everyday eater.

The best Korean food is Korean home cooking. The cornerstones of every meal are kimchi and white rice, and once you unlock that perfect marriage of flavor, the universe of wholesome, vegetable-centric cooking will inspire healthy eating, every day. In this insightful and endearing cookbook, new flavors, techniques, and ways to enjoy one of the world’s greatest cuisines are revealed by chef and father Peter Serpico.

TREASURES OF THE MEXICAN TABLE: Classic Recipes, Local Secrets by Pati Jinich (Houghton Mifflin, November 2021)
New York Times bestseller

The “buoyant and brainy Mexican cooking authority” (New York Times) and star of the three-time James Beard Award-winning PBS series Pati’s Mexican Table brings together more than 150 iconic dishes that define the country’s cuisine

Although many of us can rattle off our favorite authentic Mexican dishes, we might be hard pressed to name more than ten. Which is preposterous, given that Mexico has a rich culinary history stretching back thousands of years. For the last decade, Pati Jinich has sought out the culinary treasures of her home country, from birria, to salsa macha, to coyotas, to carne asada. Many of these dishes are local specialties, heirlooms passed down through generations, unknown outside of their original regions. Others have become national sensations. Each recipe is a classic. Each one comes with a story told in Pati’s warm, relatable style. And each has been tested in Pati’s American kitchen to ensure it is the best of its kind. Together, these essential recipes paint a vivid picture of the richness of Mexico. <https://patijinich.com/about/>

BAKING WITH DORIE: Salty, Sweet and Simple by Dorie Greenspan (Houghton Mifflin, Oct 2021) (See Dorie’s backlist p. 23 & 24) ms available

The beloved James Beard Award winning and NYT bestselling author turns her attention to savory baking with 150 baking recipes will range from muffins and cookies to flatbreads and pizzas, all written with Dorie’s signature charm and attention to detail.

Say “Dorie Greenspan” and think baking. The renowned author of thirteen cookbooks and winner of five James Beard and two IACP awards offers a collection that celebrates the sweet, the savory, and the simple. Every recipe is signature Dorie: easy—beginners can ace every technique in this book—and accessible, made with everyday ingredients. Are there surprises? Of course! You’ll find ingenious twists like Berry Biscuits. Footlong cheese sticks made with cream puff dough. Apple pie with browned butter spiced like warm mulled cider. A s’mores ice cream cake with velvety chocolate sauce, salty peanuts, and toasted marshmallows. It’s a book of simple yet sophisticated baking. The chapters are classic: Breakfast Stuff • Cakes • Cookies • Pies, Tarts, Cobblers and Crisps • Two Perfect Little Pastries • Salty Side Up. The recipes are unexpected. And there are “Sweethearts” throughout, mini collections of Dorie’s all-time favorites. Don’t miss the meringue Little Marvels or the Double-Decker Caramel Cake. Like all of Dorie’s recipes, they lend themselves to being remade, refashioned, and riffed on.

NATURALLY, DELICIOUS DINNERS by Danny Seo (Gibbs-Smith, September 2021) [Translation only; excludes UK]

Sheet Cake will be your go-to for birthday cakes, housewarming sweets, just-because treats, and dessert for every occasion (special or otherwise) with tried-and-true options like Tiramisu, Chocolate Mousse, and Boston Cream and fun, new flavors such as Salty Pretzel Caramel Cake, Fluffernutter, and Chai

Mango. With endless options for variation and customization with flavors and frostings, Sheet Cake will be your new favorite resource to find a cake you're guaranteed to love.

SHEET CAKE will appeal to bakers who decided to (or are longing to) Marie Kondo their various pans in favor of one that will do it all. With mix-and-match cake/filling/frosting/etc. options, it offers recipes that are completely customizable, including in final size and shape (round, rectangular, etc.), with ingredients and instructions given simultaneously in US and metric measurements.

THE NOM WAH COOKBOOK: Recipes and Stories from 100 Years at New York City's Iconic Dim Sum Restaurant by Wilson Tang with Joshua David Stein (Ecco; October 2020) <https://nomwah.com/>
For the last 100 years, Nom Wah Tea Parlor has been slinging some of the world's greatest dim sum from New York's Chinatown. Now owner Wilson Tang tells the story of how the restaurant came to be—and how to prepare their legendary dishes in your own home.

Nom Wah Tea Parlor isn't simply the story of dumplings, though there are many folds to it. It isn't the story of bao, though there is much filling. It's not just the story of dim sum, although there are scores and scores of recipes. It's the story of a community of Chinese immigrants who struggled, flourished, cooked, and ate with abandon in New York City. (Who now struggle, flourish, cook, and eat with abandon in New York City.) It's a journey that begins in Toishan, runs through

Hong Kong, and ends up tucked into the corner of a street once called The Bloody Angle.

In this book, Nom Wah's owner, Wilson Tang, takes us into the hardworking kitchen of Nom Wah and emerges with 75 easy-to-make recipes: from bao to vegetables, noodles to desserts, cakes, rice rolls, chef's specials, dumplings, and more.

We're also introduced to characters like Mei Lum, the fifth-generation owner of porcelain shop Wing on Wo, and Joanne Kwong, the lawyer-turned-owner of Pearl River Mart. He paints a portrait of what Chinatown in New York City is in 2020. As Wilson, who quit a job in finance to take over the once-ailing family business, struggles with the dilemma of immigrant children—to jettison tradition or to cling to it—he also points to a new way: to savor tradition while moving forward. A book for har gow lovers and rice roll junkies, The Nom Wah Cookbook portrays a culture at a crossroads.

PIE CAMP: The Skills You Need to Make Any Pie You Want by Kate McDermott (Countryman Press, October 2020) [Translation only, Excludes UK].

The techniques and inspiration you need to achieve “pie confidence” at home.

Readers fell in love with Kate McDermott and her story-filled cookbook, Art of the Pie. In this new book, McDermott takes her teaching to the next level. Here, she's focused more on technique: how to decorate pastry with braided crusts, troubleshoot a custard that won't set, create beautiful layered pies, and perfectly thicken your fruit filling. Once you have the foundations down, it's time to mix and match crusts, fillings, and toppings. The dozen “master” recipes—from flaky to tender to cookie crumb crusts, and fruit to cream to chiffon pies—will become part of every pie maker's repertoire and will open the door for bakers everywhere to conjure pies with self-assurance. There are gluten-free crust options for every pie, including Apple Ginger Maple Bourbon, Raspberry Peach Sunset Chiffon, Double Chocolate Banana... plus recipes for easy homemade ice cream and pie-lets for one or two. Gorgeous color photography by Andrew Scrivani brings Pie Camp to vivid life. Over 100 color photographs

CHASING FLAVOR: Techniques and Recipes to Cook Fearlessly by Dan Kluger and Nick Fauchald (Houghton Mifflin, October 2020).

In his debut cookbook, James Beard Award-winning chef Dan Kluger shares 190 recipes to help home cooks master flavor and technique.

Dan Kluger, a chef celebrated for his simple yet flavorful food, knows there's more to mastering cooking than just following directions. So with each of the innovative, elegant recipes in his debut cookbook, he includes a valuable lesson that applies beyond the tasty dish. For example, master the art of mixing raw and cooked versions of the same ingredient while preparing a Sugar Snap Pea Salad with Manchego Vinaigrette.

From homemade pantry items to vegetable mains, meats, and grains, this book is not just sophisticated recipes but a master class of lessons for more flexibility and innovation in the kitchen.

Dan Kluger is the chef/owner of Loring Place in the heart of Greenwich Village, New York City. Before that, he opened ABC Kitchen as its Executive Chef and won the 2011 James Beard Award for Best New Restaurant, and Food &

Wine Best New Chef of 2012. <https://www.dankluger.com/>

XI'AN FAMOUS FOODS by Jason Wang with Jessica Chou (Abrams Books, October 2020).

 We control Chinese language rights; Abrams controls world EXCEPT Chinese language rights in China and Taiwan*

The long-awaited cookbook from an iconic New York restaurant, revealing never-before-published recipes

Since its humble opening in 2005, Xi'an Famous Foods has expanded from one stall in Flushing to 14 locations in Manhattan, Brooklyn, and Queens. ALTERNATIVE ALCHEMY: Recipes and Mindful Baking with CBD, Herbs, and Adaptogens by Jamie Hall (Prestel, September 2020)

A gorgeously illustrated collection of delicious and nutritious CBD-infused recipes that will satisfy your soul as well as your appetite.

The benefits of CBD are becoming increasingly clear, with new products showing up every day on supermarket and pharmacy shelves. Consuming CBD with food, especially healthy fats, can enhance the body's power to absorb and take advantage of CBD's healing powers. In this elegant and mouthwatering cookbook, Jamie Hall offers dozens of recipes that incorporate CBD, adaptogens, herbs, and other natural additives into tasty treats that simultaneously offer therapeutic relief. Hall first started experimenting with CBD baking when she experienced postpartum depression. She found that small amounts, when combined with nutritious food, considerably improved her mood and reduced her anxiety. Created for today's health-conscious consumer and suited for cooks of every level, these mostly vegan, gluten-free, and refined-sugar-free recipes adapt well to CBD's flavor profile and temperature tolerance. There are tonics, lattes, and smoothies; pancakes, muffins, and bars; cookies, cakes, and pies; sauces, soups, and dressings. Hall also teaches you how to make your own nut and oat milks and butters--building blocks that will help you create your own signature dishes. Gorgeous, color saturated photographs coupled with Hall's breezy, upbeat tone offer an unbeatable combination--food that looks good, tastes good, and makes you feel even better.

JAMIE HALL is the founder of Alternative Alchemy, a California-based baked goods company specializing in vegan, gluten-free, and free-of-refined-sugar treats. She lives in Los Angeles.

VEGENAISE: The Cookbook by Bob Goldberg (Countryman Press, July 2020); <https://followyourheart.com> [Translation only; Excludes UK]
 Welcome to Vegenaïse, a game changer in the plant-based kitchen. This healthier, vegan alternative to mayonnaise is a cult favorite—even carnivores love the stuff. In addition to being a delicious spread, this versatile ingredient can be used to make salads, dips, sandwiches, breads, cakes, and more. Gwyneth Paltrow “basically can’t live without Vegenaïse.” The Vegenaïse Cookbook features nostalgic, tuck-in food that is mouth wateringly delicious. The recipes are carefully curated and tested, and they use readily available ingredients. Many are inspired by the offerings at Follow Your Heart, the natural foods restaurant that author Bob Goldberg and friends opened in 1970. This is a cookbook without pretense or judgment. It’s family-friendly, crowd-friendly, dietary-friendly food for a whole new generation that has taken the animal righteousness out of vegan and eats this way because it’s darn good food.

DRINKING WITH CHICKENS: Garden to Glass Cocktailing by Kate Richards (Running Press, April 2020). [Excludes UK; translation only.]

It's drinks, it's chickens: It's the cocktail book you didn't know you needed!

To add some extra happy to your happy hour, invite a chicken and pour yourself a drink. Author Kate Richards serves up cocktails made for Instagram with the spoils of her Southern California garden, chicken friends by her side. Enjoy any (or all) of the 60+ deliciously drinkable garden-to-glass beverages, such as:

- Lilac Apricot Rum Sour
- Meyer Lemon + Rosemary Old Fashioned
- Rhubarb Rose Cobbler
- Blackberry Sage Spritz
- Cantaloupe Mint Rum Punch

Cocktails are arranged seasonally, and are 100% accessible for those of us without perpetually sunny backyard gardens at our disposal. Drinking with Chickens will quickly become a boozy favorite, perfect for gifting or for hoarding all for yourself. You don't need chickens to enjoy these drinks or the colorful photos, but be careful, because you may even find yourself aspiring to be, as Kate is, a home chixologist overrun by gorgeous, loud, early-rising egg-laying ladies, and in need of a very strong drink.

Kate Richards is a professional blogger, drinker, and freelance writer currently channeling her creative cocktailing skills into DrinkingwithChickens.com. Her work has also been featured at Liquor.com, TheFeedFeed.com, BHG.com, HGTV.com, and ApartmentTherapy.com, and in Country Living Magazine. She was nominated for a Shorty Award in the Food & Drink category, and took home the Savuer Magazine 2017 Blog Awards Reader's Choice win for Best Drinks Blog. She lives and drinks (with her chickens) in Los Angeles, California. <https://www.drinkingwithchickens.com/> @drinkingwithchicke

HOW TO DRESS AN EGG: Surprising and Simple Ways to Cook Dinner by Ned Baldwin and Peter Kaminsky (Houghton Mifflin, April 2020:

Learn to cook one thing exceptionally well and you open the door to a multitude of possibilities, with no need for special equipment or fussy techniques. That's the premise of this book.

Ned Baldwin, a home cook who taught himself to be an excellent chef, sees no reason why anyone else can't do the same. By showcasing one ingredient per method, Baldwin introduces all the skills a cook will ever need to prepare endless pleasurable meals. Get a big, beefy hit from a hanger steak by cooking it in the oven; master salad-making with leafy greens; grill fillets of sea bass for crispy skin and moist flesh; roast an explosively juicy chicken (the secret is to cook it on the floor of the oven); bake leeks to soft perfection; and more.

Each dish is elaborated on in different ways to expand the technique into unlikely, inventive recipes that are jumping-off points for endless creativity.

Ned Baldwin earned an MA in sculpture from Yale and pursued a career in the visual arts and building, but the art and science of cooking fascinated him. He apprenticed with Alain Ducasse and Jean-Georges Vongerichten, and also worked with Tom Colicchio at Craft, before becoming Prune's chef de cuisine. He is the owner of Houseman (the name means "house man's food") in New York City, where he lives. He is a fisherman, hiker, cyclist, traveler, and an eater. Peter Kaminsky has written seventeen cookbooks, including Seven Fires with Francis Mallmann. He lives in New York City.

NUT BUTTER: Over 50 Clean and Simple Recipes to Fuel a Healthy Lifestyle by the co-founders of Ground Up, Carolyn Cesario and Julie Sullivan (Andrews McMeel, September 2019).

NUT BUTTER is a guide for those looking to make their own nut butters, as well as to incorporate more nut butter into your life in a healthy way. After making countless nut butters over the years, from some major hits (Cinnamon Snickerdoodle was a happy accident) to some, well...odder, concoctions (don't ever make balsamic nut butter!), Julie and Carolyn share their wisdom so that you can make the perfect nut butter at home, too. All recipes will be peanut-free, gluten-free, dairy-free and refined sugar-free ... but they're so delicious that you wouldn't even know it! You'll come away with the tools and know-how to make your own nut butters, as well as some helpful tips and recipes on how to use nut butters in your everyday cooking. But more than that, you'll feel less intimidated to start preparing healthy and delicious food. Food that fuels your body and makes you feel great!

THE SALTWATER TABLE: Recipes from the Coastal South by Whitney Otawka (Abrams Books, October 2019).

A culinary travel fantasy, celebrating the food of the Southeastern coast

Whitney Otawka is the award-winning chef of Greyfield, a celebrated Carnegie-built inn located on Cumberland Island, Georgia—a magical and remote barrier island that has been left undeveloped as a National Seashore. Cumberland Island and the exceptional local ingredients to be found there are Otawka’s muse, inspiring her to celebrate the beloved food found along the Southeast coast. Offering a modern perspective on southern flavors with a strong emphasis on vegetables and fresh ingredients, the book contains 125 approachable and flavorful recipes, such as summer tomatoes topped with crispy okra, flakey buttermilk biscuits with ginger-spiked jam, and sweet Atlantic shrimp poached with beer, citrus, and bay leaves. This beautifully photographed book also shows us how to enjoy iconic southern meals, everything from an oyster roast, to a fish fry, to a Low Country boil. The Saltwater Table transports readers to the mysterious, lush Cumberland Island, allowing us to recreate a taste of this vibrant world in our own kitchens.

As Hartwood does for Tulum, and Gjelina does for Venice, THE SALTWATER TABLE will transport readers to the mysterious, lush world of Whitney’s Cumberland Island. And, through her recipes that mingle Southern coastal cuisine with Southern California, it will allow them to linger there for a while in their own kitchens.

Blurb from Jacques Pepin: "It has been my privilege to enjoy Whitney's food several times on Cumberland Island. Her knowledge of food, plus her creativity and passion, make her an excellent cook, and I'm sure cooks could learn a lot from her about preparing the freshest superior local products like the ones she uses on Cumberland Island."

-Jacques Pepin

POILÂNE: Baking from Dawn to Dusk by Apollonia Poilâne (Rux Martin Books/Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, October 2019) Foreword by Alice Waters.

Her first publication in the US, third-generation baker at the legendary French bakery Apollonia Poilane’s POILANE: BAKING FROM DAWN TO DUSK will tell the story of her family heritage, convey the Poilâne bread philosophy, and impart techniques for baking better bread at home through 88 recipes. Following the hours of a baker’s day, the book will be divided into three sections: the first, in which Apollonia will share her family’s bread tradition and iconic loaves; the second, which will speak to how her strong baking heritage has encouraged her to innovate through cooking with bread; and the last, which will look to the bread of the future, sharing Poilâne’s exploration of making bread with different grains from rice, to millet, to sorghum. Since the first bakery location on St. Germain-des-Prez was opened in 1932 by Apollonia’s grandfather, the Poilâne name has been synonymous with bread perfection. Their sourdough loaf is considered by many to be the best bread in the world.

With devotees who include Ina Garten, Martha Stewart, Dorie Greenspan, Alice Waters, David Lebovitz, Clotilde Dussoulier and Nikiko Masumoto, Poilâne ships more than 200,000 of their famous loaves to bread lovers in over twenty countries. Under Apollonia’s leadership, Poilâne has expanded its reach even farther, with three bakeries in Paris, two in London, and one in Antwerp.

COOK LIKE A LOCAL: Flavors That Can Change How You Cook and See the World: A Cookbook by Chris Shepherd and Kaitlyn Goalen (Clarkson Potter; Sept. 2019)

The James Beard Award–winning chef of Underbelly Hospitality, a champion of Houston’s diverse immigrant cooks—Vietnamese, Korean, Mexican, Indian, and more—shows you how to work with their flavors and cultures with respect and creativity.

Houston’s culinary reputation as a steakhouse town was put to rest by Chris Shepherd, the Robb Report’s Best Chef of the Year. A cook with insatiable curiosity, he’s trained not just in fine-dining restaurants but in Houston’s Korean grocery stores, Vietnamese noodle shops, Indian kitchens, and Chinese mom-and-pops. His food, incorporating elements of all these cuisines, tells the story of the city, and country, in which he lives. An advocate, not an appropriator, he asks his diners to go and visit the restaurants that have inspired him, and in this book he brings us along to meet, learn from, and cook with the people who have taught him.

The recipes include signatures from his restaurant—favorites such as braised goat with Korean rice dumplings, or fried vegetables with caramelized fish sauce. The lessons go deeper than recipes: the book is about how to understand the pantries of different cuisines, how to taste and use these flavors in your own cooking. Organized around key ingredients like soy, dry spices, or chiles, the chapters function as master classes in using these seasonings to bring new flavors into your cooking and new life to flavors you already knew. But even beyond flavors and techniques, the book is about a bigger story: how Chris, a son of Oklahoma who looks like a football coach, came to be “adopted” by these immigrant cooks and families, how he learned to connect and share and truly cross cultures with a sense of generosity and respect, and how we can all learn to make not just better cooking, but a better community, one meal at a time.

ELEVEN MADISON PARK: The Next Chapter by Daniel Humm and Will Guidara (Ten Speed; October 2017; single volume edition Sept. 2019) [Translation only; excludes UK]

From New York's three-Michelin-starred restaurant Eleven Madison Park comes a deluxe, signed, two-volume collection of more than 100 recipes and food photographs (vol. 1), and more than 100 stories and watercolors (vol. 2), celebrating chef Daniel Humm and restaurateur Will Guidara's transformation of the restaurant into one of the world's top dining destinations. Winning the chefs' choice award in 2015 by a worldwide jury of his peers, Daniel Humm and his business partner, Will Guidara, have made an indelible mark on the global dining scene with their award-winning restaurants Eleven Madison Park and The NoMad. In their latest impressive contribution to high-end cookbooks, Humm and Guidara reflect on the last eleven years at Eleven Madison Park, the period in which this singular team garnered a slew of accolades, including four stars from the New York Times, three Michelin stars, seven James Beard Foundation awards, and the number three slot on the World's 50 Best Restaurants list. In two highly appointed volumes, the authors share more than 100 recipes, stunning photographs, lush watercolor illustrations, and—for the very first time—personal stories from Chef Humm describing his unparalleled culinary journey and inspiration. Each edition is hand signed by the authors.

An updated single-volume collection of more than 80 recipes, stories, food photographs, and watercolor paintings will be published in Sept 2019.

THE NOMAD COOKBOOK by Daniel Humm and Will Guidara, with Leo Robitschek, (Ten Speed Press, October 2015). [Translation only; excludes UK rights]

A uniquely packaged cookbook and cocktail book from the proprietors of the wildly popular restaurant and bar at The NoMad Hotel. Daniel Humm and Will Guidara run two of New York's most pioneering restaurants: Eleven Madison Park and The NoMad. Their team is known for perfectly executed, innovative cooking, and creating extraordinary, genre-defying dining experiences. The NoMad Cookbook translates the unparalleled and often surprising food and drink of the award-winning restaurant into book form. What appears to be a traditional cookbook is, in fact, two books in one: upon opening, readers discover a smaller cocktail recipe book hidden in the back. The result is a wonderfully unexpected collection of both food and drink recipes, with the striking photography and impeccable style for which the authors are known.

Daniel Humm and Will Guidara are the proprietors of the three-Michelin starred Eleven Madison Park, nominated in 2016 for a James Beard Award for Outstanding Service, and operate the restaurant and bars at The NoMad Hotel in Manhattan. Leo Robitschek is an award-winning mixologist and bar manager at The NoMad, which won a James Beard Award for Outstanding Bar Program in 2014.

An illustrated collection of nearly 300 cocktail recipes from the award-winning NoMad Bar, with locations in New York, Los Angeles, and Las Vegas.

Originally published as a separate book packaged inside The NoMad Cookbook, this revised and stand-alone edition of The NoMad Cocktail Book features more than 100 brand-new recipes (for a total of more than 300 recipes), a service manual explaining the art of drink-making according to the NoMad, and 30 new full-color cocktail illustrations (for a total of more than 80 color and black-and-white illustrations). Organized by type of beverage from aperitifs and classics to light, dark, and soft cocktails and syrups/infusions, this comprehensive guide shares the secrets of bar director Leo Robitschek's award-winning cocktail program. The NoMad Bar celebrates classically focused cocktails, while delving into new arenas such as festive, large-format drinks and a selection of reserve cocktails crafted with rare spirits.

INGREDIENTI: Marcella's Guide to the Market by Victor Hazan (Scribner, July 2016)

The renowned and beloved cookbook writer Marcella Hazan changed how Americans cook Italian food, and was responsible for bringing Italian cuisine into the homes of many. Over 20 years ago recipes from her cookbooks The Classic Italian Cook Book and More Classic Italian Cooking were revolutionary, but today they are classic family favorites. Marcella passed away in 2013; here her husband Victor shares more of Marcella's lessons in her guide to the market. INGREDIENTI is a cook's guide that takes a practical cook's view of the products in the market, judging ingredients in relation to the dishes for which they are intended. The author will follow the reader into the kitchen, and give advice on the storage of fresh products, describe techniques of cleaning, preparation and cooking methods that will heighten the flavors and textures of the vegetables, or meat, or fish, or pasta that the user of the guide has brought home. Marcella's legacy and lessons will continue to reach cooks and tables around the world.

 ISRAELI SOUL: Easy, Essential, Delicious by Mike Solomonov and Steven Cook (Houghton Mifflin, October 2018)

For their first major book since the trailblazing Zahav, Michael Solomonov and Steven Cook go straight to the food of the people—the great dishes that are the soul of Israeli cuisine. Usually served from tiny eateries, hole-in-the-wall restaurants, or market stalls, these specialties have passed from father to son or mother to daughter for generations. To find the best versions, the authors scoured bustling cities like Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, and Haifa, and sleepy towns on mountaintops. They visited bakeries, juice carts, beaches, even weddings. Their finds include meals in the hand like falafel and pita; juicy, grilled and roasted spice-rubbed meats; stuffed vegetables; a wealth of chopped vegetable salads; a three-minute fluffy hummus with more than two dozen toppings; pastries, ice creams, and shakes. Solomonov has perfected and adapted every recipe for the home kitchen. Each chapter weaves history with contemporary portrayals of the food. Striking photographs capture all its flavor and vitality, while step-by-step how-tos and closeups of finished dishes make everything simple and accessible.

FEDERAL DONUTS: The (Partially) True Spectacular Story by Mike Solomonov, Steven Cook, and Dorothy Kalins. (Houghton Mifflin, September 2017).

The FEDERAL DONUTS book is a delightful dive into contemporary donut culture. It celebrates the enthusiasm and goodwill people across the country have for these little 3-minute cakes. It plays to the fierce loyalty of donut aficionados everywhere, and builds on the growing awareness of the Federal Donuts brand as it expands to other states. The look of the book is as charming as its contents: lively stories, photographs, diagrams, illustrations, cartoons, archival images, drawings, lists, schematics, and even a few recipes will enliven the pages. The package itself will surprise and delight: it'll be a pet book.

KING SOLOMON'S TABLE by Joan Nathan, Knopf (April 2017) [Spanish Translation rights not available.]

Nathan explores the current adaptation of traditional, meaningful Jewish recipes for today's international, socially conscious modern cooks. The current emphasis on do-it-yourself pickling, smoking, baking and braising and seasonal and local ingredients is transforming Jewish recipes in a delicious way. Nathan will explore the Jewish culinary diaspora, examining shifting food traditions in Tel Aviv, the Southern Indian city of Kochi, and Italy. Joan Nathan's Jewish Cooking in America won the James Beard Award and the IACP/ Julia Child Cookbook of the Year Award. She has won the James Beard Foundation's Who's Who in American Food and Beverage award, the Silver Spoon Award from Food Arts magazine, an honorary degree from the Spertus Institute of Jewish Culture in Chicago, and the Golda Award from the American Jewish Congress.

THE SWEET SPOT: Dialing Back Sugar and Amping Up Flavor by Bill Yosses and Peter Kaminsky (Crown, October 2017)

If you are expecting a classic Cookies, Pies, Cakes kind of organization, prepare to be otherwise seduced. This book is organized the way people in the real world think about desserts. To be sure the classic categories are here, but so are some of the serendipitous aspects of desserts that make them fun and let the imagination have free reign. Maybe you want a lemony flavor, whether it's a cake, a sauce, a meringue, or a candy bar. Well, for the person intent on the pursuit of pucker there is a Lemonissimo Section. Perhaps you want something light as a cloud, whether the flavor is chocolate, or lemon, or raspberry. For that craving, for example we have included an Airy section with a Chocolate Foam that has the aroma, but not the hefty calories, of an old-time milk shake. Stated most succinctly, the idea behind this book is that in order to enjoy pleasure-giving desserts that finish off a great meal you can dodge the orthodoxies of Paleo-eaters and Sugar Busters without redlining your calorie count or loosening your belt. Just use the best ingredients with the best, often most simple technique and, critically, serve smaller portions. It turns out, you can have your cake and eat it too.

DORIE'S COOKIES by Dorie Greenspan (Houghton Mifflin, October 2016)

Over the course of her baking career, Dorie Greenspan has created more than 300 cookie recipes. To merit her “three purple stars of approval,” every cookie had to be so special that it begged to be made again and again. Cookies for every taste and occasion are here. There are company treats like Portofignos, with chocolate dough and port-soaked figs, and lunch-box Blueberry Buttermilk Pie Bars. They Might Be Breakfast Cookies are packed with goodies – raisin, dried apples, dried cranberries, and oats – while Almond Crackle Cookies have just three ingredients. There are dozens of choices for the Christmas cookie swaps, including Little Rascals (German jam sandwich cookies with walnuts), Italian Saucissons (chocolate log cookies studded with dried fruit), and Snowy-Topped Brownie Drops.

EVERYDAY DORIE: The Way I Cook by Dorie Greenspan (Houghton Mifflin, October 2018)

To the hundreds of thousands who follow her on Twitter, Instagram, and Facebook, Dorie Greenspan’s food is powerfully cookable, and her recipes instant classics. In Everyday Dorie, she invites readers into her kitchen to savor the dishes that she makes all the time, from Miso-Glazed Salmon to Lemon Goop. What makes a “Dorie recipe”? Each one has a small surprise that makes it special. The dishes are practical, made with common ingredients from the supermarket, farmers’ market, or pantry. They are easygoing, providing swaps and substitutions. They invite mixing and matching. Many can be served as dinner, or as a side dish, or as an appetizer, or hot, cold, or room temperature. And every single one is like a best friend in the kitchen, full of Dorie’s infectious love of cooking and her trademark hand-holding directions.

Dorie Greenspan cooks what she calls “elbows-on-the-table food” to do what she wants all food to do: make people happy and comfortable, keeping people at the table enjoying conversation while having another hunk of cheese, a last cookie, or one more sip of wine. With 125 new recipes from the James Beard Foundation Award winner and author of Around My French Table, Dorie Greenspan will catalog everything from pre-dinner nibbles and snacks through dessert.

The New York Times called her “a culinary guru,” but to millions of home cooks, Dorie Greenspan is something more: a good friend in the kitchen. Here, Dorie returns to her first love, baking, sharing three decades of her own favorite recipes as well as the secrets she learned in the kitchens of the world’s great chefs.

ART OF THE PIE by Kate McDermott. (W.W. Norton, October 2016)
[Translation only; excludes UK]

Pie-making should be simple and fun. In this James Beard and IACP nominated book, Kate McDermott teaches this while making pies with thousands of people across the country at her Pie Camps. Her confidence comes through in every recipe, and will inspire readers to don an apron, grab a rolling pin, and get cooking. (The stunning photographs in this book won't hurt either.) Over the years, McDermott developed more than a dozen crusts, half of which are gluten-free, and in this bestselling book she gives detailed instructions for making, rolling, and baking crusts. A pie needs filling, too, and she does not neglect a single detail when describing her ingredients, methods, and tricks for making the filling and finishing off the pie. Art of the Pie is more than a cookbook. Kate's rules extend well beyond pie baking: keep everything chilled, respect the boundaries, and remember to vent. Kate McDermott is an award-winning self-taught home baker who has taught pie-making workshops to thousands across the United States. McDermott, her Art of the Pie camps, and her pies have been featured in USA Today, The New York Times, Real Simple, Saveur, and on NPR, among other media outlets. For more on Kate go to <http://artofthepie.com/>.

HOME COOKING WITH KATE McDERMOTT by Kate McDermott
(Countryman Press, October 2018) [Translation Only, Excludes UK]

Satisfying, mainly one-dish meals from the James Beard and IACP nominated author of ART OF THE PIE. When she isn't making pie, Kate McDermott has people to feed. From roasted chicken and veggies for Sunday supper to batches of hearty soup to reheat when there's no time to cook, this practical cookbook focuses on staple "Americana" recipes for people who aren't looking for a part-time job in the kitchen. Using ingredients that can be found in any supermarket and techniques that every home cook needs, McDermott shares tasty and repeatable meals for friends and family. Like those in ART OF THE PIE, these recipes are accompanied by moving stories—from anecdotes of single motherhood to building a home in the foothills of the Olympic mountains. Andrew Scrivani's stunning photographs appear throughout.

GROW. COOK. EAT: A Food Lover's Guide to Vegetable Gardening, Including 50 Recipes, Plus Harvesting and Storage Tips by Willi Galloway (Sasquatch Books; 2012)

From sinking a seed into the soil through to sitting down to enjoy a meal made with vegetables and fruits harvested right outside your back door, this gorgeous kitchen gardening book is filled with practical, useful information for both novices and seasoned gardeners alike. Grow Cook Eat will inspire people who already buy fresh, seasonal, local, organic food to grow the food they love to eat. For those who already have experience getting their hands dirty in the garden, this handbook will help them refine their gardening skills and cultivate gourmet quality food. The book also fills in the blanks that exist between growing food in the garden and using it in the kitchen with guides to 50 of the best-loved, tastiest vegetables, herbs, and small fruits. The guides give readers easy-to-follow planting and growing information, specific instructions for harvesting all the edible parts of the plant, advice on storing food in a way that maximizes flavor, basic preparation techniques, and recipes. The recipes at the end of each guide help readers explore the foods they grow and demonstrate how to use unusual foods, like radish greens, garlic scapes, and green coriander seeds.

THE SCIENCE OF GOOD COOKING: Master 50 Simple Concepts to Enjoy a Lifetime of Success in the Kitchen by the Editors of America's Test Kitchen and Guy Crosby (Cook's Illustrated, 2012)

Unlock a lifetime of successful cooking with this groundbreaking new volume from the editors of Cook's Illustrated, the magazine that put food science on the map. Organized around 50 core principles our test cooks use to develop foolproof recipes, The Science of Good Cooking is a radical new approach to teaching the fundamentals of the kitchen. Fifty unique experiments from the test kitchen bring the science to life, and more than 400 landmark Cook's Illustrated recipes illustrate each of the basic principles at work. These experiments range from simple to playful to innovative - showing you why you should fold (versus stir) batter for chewy brownies, why you whip egg whites with sugar, and why the simple addition of salt can make meat juicy. A lifetime of experience isn't the prerequisite for becoming a good cook; knowledge is. Think of this as an owner's manual for your kitchen.
