

KT LITERARY LONDON 2026 BOOK FAIR HOTLIST

ANATOMY OF A BETRAYAL by Grace D. Li

Tiny Reparations Books; May 25, 2027

A new novel from the New York Times and #1 Sunday Times bestselling author of Portrait Of A Thief:

Two Stanford graduate students—and longtime academic rivals—find themselves on opposite sides of an FBI investigation when one is accused of spying for the Chinese government, and the other is recruited as an informant to catch her, inspired by the true story of the persecution of Chinese-American scientists.

THE INEVITABLE UNDOING OF ZAHARA DOUGLASS by Leslye Penelope

Redhook; August 11, 2026

After watching her twin sister get hustled into a stranger's car and disappear, a young woman finds that no one, including her own family, remembers her sister's existence. More than five years later, she finally discovers proof that her sister was real, and starts to investigate her family's shadowed past.

THERE'S SOMETHING FISHY ABOUT MY BOYFRIEND by Gloria Duke

Sourcebooks Casablanca; May 12, 2026

A beachy rom-com in the spirit of Splash: a woman reluctantly running the family bed & breakfast invites a handsome stranger to help out in the off season in exchange for room and board, only to find out he's a merman stranded in her world.

A KILLER FOR CHRISTMAS by Kim Harrington

Crooked Lane Books; September 22, 2026

A cozy rom-com in which a newly single social media manager moves to her beloved childhood vacation destination of Christmasville, Maine for a fresh start, but the picture-perfect charm is threatened by a series of murders.

The adult debut from the author of middle grade and young adult mysteries and thrillers, including The Dead And Buried, Clarity, and Revenge Of The Red Club, and member of the Mystery Writers of America, Sisters in Crime, and the International Thriller Writers.

New Deal: another cozy holiday town mystery...coming Fall 2027!

See all of our available titles on our full Spring Rights Guide:

